758. Licence restrictions and conditions: matron and lodgings.

A person (who may be a man or a woman) approved by the licensing authority<sup>1</sup> (a 'matron') must be in charge of the child<sup>2</sup> at all times during the period beginning with the first and ending with the last performance<sup>3</sup> or, as the case may be, occasion to which the licence<sup>4</sup> relates except while the child is in the charge of a parent<sup>5</sup> or teacher<sup>6</sup>. The licensing authority must not approve a matron unless it is satisfied that the person is suitable and competent to exercise proper care and control of a child of the age and sex of the child in question and that the person will not be prevented from carrying out duties towards the child by other activities or duties towards other children<sup>7</sup>. Without prejudice to the foregoing, the licensing authority must not approve a matron if the person is to be in charge of more than 11 other children during the time when the person would be in charge of the child in question if approval were given<sup>8</sup>, nor may the licensing authority approve as matron the private teacher of the child in question if the person is to be in charge of more than two other children during the time when the person would be in charge of the child if approval were given<sup>9</sup>. A matron will have the care and control of the child with a view to securing his health, comfort, kind treatment and moral welfare<sup>10</sup>. Where a child suffers any injury or illness while in the charge of a matron or teacher, the holder of the licence must ensure that the parent of the child named in the application form and the local authority<sup>11</sup> are notified immediately of such injury or illness<sup>12</sup>.

Where by reason of taking part in a performance or activity<sup>13</sup> to which a licence relates a child has to live elsewhere than at the place where he would otherwise live, that child must live only in premises which have been approved by the local authority as suitable for occupation by him<sup>14</sup>. The local authority's approval may be subject to any of the following conditions:

- 1407 (1) transport for the child from the said premises to the place of performance or rehearsal or, as the case may be, to the place where the activity to which the licence relates is to take place, is provided<sup>15</sup>;
- 1408 (2) suitable arrangements are made for meals for the child<sup>16</sup>;
- 1409 (3) any other condition conducive to the welfare of the child in connection with the premises in which the child will live<sup>17</sup>.

759. Licence restrictions and conditions: performances and rehearsals.

A child<sup>1</sup> must not take part in a performance<sup>2</sup>, rehearsal<sup>3</sup> or activity<sup>4</sup> for which a licence<sup>5</sup> is required unless the place where he is to perform, rehearse or take part in any such activity has been approved by the local authority<sup>6</sup>. The local authority must not approve the place of performance, rehearsal or activity unless it is satisfied that, having regard to the age of the child and the nature, time and duration of the performance, rehearsal or activity<sup>7</sup>:

- 1410 (1) suitable arrangements have been made for meals for the child, for the child to dress for the performance, rehearsal or activity, and for the child's rest and recreation, when not taking part in a performance, rehearsal or activity<sup>8</sup>;
- 1411 (2) the place is provided with suitable and sufficient sanitary conveniences and washing facilities<sup>9</sup>; and
- 1412 (3) the child will be adequately protected against inclement weather<sup>10</sup>, and its approval may be given subject to such conditions as it considers necessary<sup>11</sup>.

Arrangements for a child who has attained the age of five years to dress for a performance, rehearsal or activity is not to be deemed to be suitable unless the child can dress only with children of his own sex<sup>12</sup>.

The holder of the licence must ensure that suitable arrangements (having regard to the child's age) are made for the child to get to his home or other destination after the last performance or rehearsal or the conclusion of any activity on any day<sup>13</sup>.

A child who takes part in performances (other than performances in a circus) or rehearsals on the maximum permitted number of days in a week<sup>14</sup> for a period of eight consecutive weeks, must not take part in any performance or rehearsal or be employed in any other form of employment during the 14 days next ensuing<sup>15</sup>. This does not apply if the number of days specified in the licence on which the child may perform is less than 60<sup>16</sup>.

760. Licence restrictions and conditions: further medical examinations, earnings and employment.

Where a licence<sup>1</sup> specifies the dates of performances<sup>2</sup> and these fall on days<sup>3</sup> in four consecutive weeks<sup>4</sup> or more, or where a licence specifies the period in which performances may take place and such period is one month or more, the holder of the licence must ensure that the child<sup>5</sup> is medically examined<sup>6</sup> within 48 hours after the end of each such period of four weeks or each month, as the case may be, in order to ascertain whether he is fit to take part in any further performances for which the licence has been granted and whether his health will suffer by reason of taking part in such performances<sup>7</sup>. The holder of the licence must obtain from the person making the medical examination a report stating whether in his opinion the child is fit to take part in any further performances for which the licence has been granted and whether his health will suffer by reason of taking part in such performances<sup>8</sup>. If the report states that the child is not fit or that his health would suffer as aforesaid, he must not take part in any further performance until the person making the medical examination has certified that the child is fit to take part and that his health will not suffer thereby<sup>9</sup>.

Where the licensing authority thinks fit, it may grant a licence subject to a condition<sup>10</sup> requiring the holder of the licence to ensure that the sums earned by the child in respect of whom the licence is granted in taking part in a performance or activity to which the licence relates, or such part of those sums as may be required by the condition, is to be dealt with in a manner approved by the licensing authority<sup>11</sup>.

On the day, or on the day immediately following the day, on which a child takes part in a performance, he must not be employed in any other form of employment<sup>12</sup>. On the day on which a child takes part in a performance for which a licence has been granted, he must not take part in a performance for which a licence is not required<sup>13</sup>.

With regard to broadcast and recorded performances<sup>1</sup>, a child<sup>2</sup> who has attained the age of nine years must not be present at a place of performance or rehearsal<sup>3</sup> for more than nine and a half hours a day<sup>4</sup>; or before seven in the morning or after seven in the evening<sup>5</sup>. However, where the holder of the licence<sup>6</sup> is the British Broadcasting Corporation, a programme contractor<sup>7</sup>, or a body supplying programmes to such a programme contractor<sup>8</sup>, a child who has attained the age of 13 years may<sup>9</sup> be present in any week<sup>10</sup> at a place of performance or rehearsal either between the hours of seven in the morning and seven in the evening or between the hours of ten in the morning and ten in the evening<sup>11</sup>:

if he is not present at a place of performance or rehearsal on any other day in that week and has not been present at a place of performance or rehearsal after seven in the evening on more than 20 days during the preceding 12 months<sup>15</sup>.

Such a child may also be present on one day in any week at a place of performance or rehearsal for not more than 12 hours either between the hours of seven in the morning and seven in the evening or between the hours of ten in the morning and ten in the evening, provided that<sup>16</sup>:

- 1416 (a) he is not present at the place of performance or rehearsal for more than four hours on any other day in that week<sup>17</sup>;

A child who has attained the age of nine years must not take part in a performance or rehearsal on any day for a continuous period of more than one hour without an interval for rest, or for a total period of more than four hours<sup>21</sup>. Nor may he be present at a place of performance or rehearsal:

- 1420 (i) for more than four consecutive hours without there being two or more intervals of which one must be for the purpose of a meal and must be of not less

Notwithstanding the provisions with regard to broadcast or recorded performances for which a licence is required<sup>1</sup>, where the local authority<sup>2</sup> is satisfied that a scene must be recorded out of doors and after the latest permitted hour<sup>3</sup>, it may permit a child<sup>4</sup> to take part in a performance<sup>5</sup> after the last permitted hour, but it must only permit the child to take part in a performance after midnight and before the earliest permitted hour<sup>6</sup> if it is satisfied that it is impracticable for the recording of the performance to be completed before midnight<sup>7</sup>. Where the local authority permits a child to take part in a performance after the latest permitted hour, the following restrictions and conditions apply:

- 1424 (1) the number of hours during which the child takes part in a performance after the latest permitted hour must be included in computing the maximum number of hours during which he may take part in a performance or rehearsal on any one day<sup>8</sup>;
- 1425 (2) the child must not take part in any other performance or rehearsal until not less than 16 hours have elapsed since the end of his part in the performance<sup>9</sup>;
- 1426 (3) where the child takes part in a performance after the latest permitted hour on two successive days, the local authority must not permit him to take part in any further performance after the latest permitted hour during the seven days immediately following the said two days<sup>10</sup>.

The matron<sup>1</sup> in charge of a child<sup>2</sup> may allow that child to take part in a performance for a period not exceeding 30 minutes immediately following the latest permitted hour<sup>3</sup> if the total number of hours during which the child takes part in a performance<sup>4</sup>, including the said period of 30 minutes, does not exceed the maximum number of permitted hours<sup>5</sup> and it appears to the matron that the welfare of the child will not be prejudiced<sup>6</sup>, and that the conditions necessitating the child taking part in a performance after the latest permitted hour arose in circumstances outside the control of the holder of the licence<sup>7</sup>.

If a child takes part in a performance after the latest permitted hour, the holder of the licence must ensure that the matron notifies the local authority<sup>8</sup> not later than the day<sup>9</sup> immediately following the day on which that child takes part in the performance<sup>10</sup>.

The matron in charge of a child may allow one of the intervals to be set aside for the purposes of meals<sup>11</sup> to be reduced where the child is taking part in a performance or rehearsal out of doors, provided that the duration of that interval is not less than 30 minutes, and the maximum number of hours during which he may take part in a performance or rehearsal<sup>12</sup> is not exceeded<sup>13</sup>.

769. Refusal, variation and revocation of licences.

Where a local authority<sup>1</sup> refuses an application for a licence<sup>2</sup> it must state its grounds for doing so in writing to the applicant<sup>3</sup>, who may appeal to a magistrates' court against the refusal and against any condition subject to which the licence is granted, not being a condition which the local authority is required to impose<sup>4</sup>.

On the holder's application a licence may be varied by the authority by whom it was granted or by any local authority for the area in which any activity to which it relates takes place<sup>5</sup>.

The licensing authority and any local authority for the area in which any activity to which the licence relates takes place may vary or revoke the licence if any condition subject to which it was granted is not observed or it is not satisfied as to certain matters<sup>6</sup>, but, before doing so, it must give to the licence holder such notice, if any, of its intention as is practicable<sup>7</sup>.

Where a local authority varies or revokes a licence which was granted by, or relates to an activity in the area of, another local authority, it must inform that other authority<sup>8</sup>. A local authority proposing to vary or revoke a licence granted by another local authority must, if practicable, consult that other authority<sup>9</sup>.

Where a local authority revokes or (otherwise than on the licence holder's application) varies a licence, it must state its grounds for doing so in writing to the licence holder, and he may appeal to a magistrates' court against the revocation or variation, and against any condition subject to which any approval is given, not being a condition which the local authority is required to impose<sup>10</sup>.

774. Training for dangerous performances.

No child<sup>1</sup> under the age of 12 may be trained to take part in performances of a dangerous nature<sup>2</sup>, and no child who has attained that age may be so trained except under and in accordance with the terms of a licence<sup>3</sup>. Every person who causes or procures or, being a parent<sup>4</sup> or guardian<sup>5</sup>, allows<sup>6</sup> a person to be trained in contravention of these provisions is liable on summary conviction to a fine<sup>7</sup>.

A local authority<sup>8</sup> may grant a licence for a child who has attained the age of 12 to be trained to take part in performances of a dangerous nature<sup>9</sup>. A licence must specify the place or places at which the person is to be trained and must embody such conditions as in the authority's opinion are necessary for his protection, but an authority may not refuse a licence if it is satisfied that the person is fit and willing to be trained and that proper provision has been made to secure his health and kind treatment<sup>10</sup>.

A licence may be revoked or varied by the authority which granted it if any of the conditions embodied therein are not complied with or if it appears to the authority that the person to whom the licence relates is no longer fit and willing to be trained or that proper provision is no longer being made to secure his health and kind treatment<sup>11</sup>.

Where an authority refuses an application for a licence or revokes or varies a licence it must state its grounds for doing so in writing to the applicant or holder, who may appeal to a magistrates' court against the refusal, revocation or variation<sup>12</sup>.

Local authority officers and constables have certain powers of entry in respect of places where training for dangerous performances takes place in pursuance of a licence<sup>13</sup>.

(ii) Employment in Entertainment Abroad

776. Children going abroad to perform.

It is unlawful for any person to allow<sup>1</sup> any child<sup>2</sup> for whom he has responsibility, or for any person to cause or procure any child, to go abroad<sup>3</sup>:

1430 (1) for the purpose of singing, playing, performing or being exhibited<sup>4</sup> for profit; or

1431 (2) for the purpose of taking part in a sport, or working as a model, where payment in respect of his doing so, other than for defraying expenses, is made to him or to another person, unless a licence has been granted for him to go abroad for that purpose<sup>5</sup>.

This restriction does not apply, however, if the child is only temporarily resident in the United Kingdom<sup>6</sup>.

1 See para 773 note 6 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'child' see para 743 note 1 ante.

3 'Abroad' means outside Great Britain and Ireland: Children and Young Persons Act 1933 s 30(1) (renumbered by the Employment Act 1989 s 10(2), Sch 3 Pt III para 8). This definition, and the provision to which it relates (see the text and note 5 infra), are derived from the Children (Employment Abroad) Act 1913 s 1, which referred to 'go out of the United Kingdom' (whereas the current provisions refer to 'go abroad'). In 1913, the United Kingdom comprised Great Britain and Ireland. The current provisions form part of a consolidating Act; quaere whether 'Ireland' for these purposes includes both Northern Ireland and the Republic of Ireland.

For the meaning of 'Great Britain' see para 102 note 7 ante. For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' generally see para 102 note 7 ante.

4 'Singing, playing, performing or being exhibited' includes taking part in any such performance as is mentioned in the Children and Young Persons Act 1963 s 37(2)(c) or (d) (as amended) (see para 751 ante): s 42(1).

777. Licences.

A justice of the peace may grant a licence in the prescribed form<sup>1</sup>, subject to such restrictions and conditions as he thinks fit, for a child<sup>2</sup> who has attained the age of 14 to go abroad<sup>3</sup> for any specified purpose<sup>4</sup>. A licence may also be granted, in relation to the purpose of singing, playing, performing or being exhibited<sup>5</sup> for profit, in respect of a person notwithstanding that he is under the age of 14, if<sup>6</sup>:

- 1432 (1) the engagement which he is to fulfil is for acting and the application for the licence is accompanied by a declaration that the part cannot be taken except by a person of about his age<sup>7</sup>; or
- 1433 (2) the engagement is for dancing in a ballet which does not form part of an entertainment of which anything other than ballet or opera also forms part and the application is accompanied by such a declaration<sup>8</sup>; or
- 1434 (3) the engagement is for taking part in a performance the nature of which is wholly or mainly musical or which consists only of opera and ballet and the nature of his part in the performance is wholly or mainly musical<sup>9</sup>.

Before granting a licence, the justice must be satisfied<sup>10</sup>:

- 1435 (a) that the application for it is made by or with the consent of the parent<sup>11</sup> or guardian<sup>12</sup> of the child<sup>13</sup>;
- 1436 (b) that the child is going abroad to fulfil a particular engagement<sup>14</sup>;
- 1437 (c) that he is fit for the purpose and that proper provision has been made to secure his health, kind treatment and adequate supervision while abroad, and his return from abroad at the expiration or revocation of the licence<sup>15</sup>; and
- 1438 (d) that there has been furnished to the child a copy of the contract of employment or other document showing the terms and conditions of employment drawn up in a language understood by him<sup>16</sup>.

The applicant must give notice of an intended application for a licence and a copy of the contract of employment or other document showing the terms and conditions of employment to the chief officer of police<sup>17</sup> for the district where the child resides at least seven days before the application<sup>18</sup>. The chief officer of police must send that copy to a justice of the peace and may make a written report on the case to him or may appear, or instruct some person to appear, before him and show cause why the licence should not be granted<sup>19</sup>.

769-777 Refusal, variation and revocation of licences ... Licences

Certain functions under provisions mentioned in these paragraphs are 'relevant functions' for the purposes of the Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 4, Sch 3: see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 733.

Halsbury's Laws of England/CHILDREN AND YOUNG PERSONS (VOLUME 5(3) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 1-742; VOLUME 5(4) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 743-1433)/9. EMPLOYMENT OF CHILDREN/ (3) EMPLOYMENT IN ENTERTAINMENT/(ii) Employment in Entertainment Abroad/778. Renewal, variation and revocation of licences.

778. Renewal, variation and revocation of licences.

A licence to go abroad to take part in entertainments may not be granted<sup>1</sup> for a period exceeding three months, but may be renewed from time to time for a like period if the justice of the peace<sup>2</sup> is satisfied by the report of a British consular officer or other trustworthy person that the conditions of the licence are being complied with<sup>3</sup>, and is satisfied that the application for renewal is made by or with the consent of the parent<sup>4</sup> or guardian<sup>5</sup> of the child<sup>6</sup>. A justice of the peace may vary a licence<sup>7</sup> or may at any time revoke a licence for any cause which in his discretion he considers sufficient<sup>8</sup>.

Upon any application for the grant, renewal or variation of a licence, the justice must, unless he is satisfied that the circumstances render it unnecessary, require the applicant to give such security as the justice thinks fit, either by recognisance (with or without sureties) or otherwise, for the observance of the restrictions and conditions of the licence or of the licence as varied<sup>9</sup>.

Prescribed particulars<sup>10</sup> must be sent by the justice to the Secretary of State for transmission to the proper consular officer for registration, and for the performance of such other duties in relation to them as the Secretary of State may direct<sup>11</sup>.

9 Ibid s 25(6) (amended by the Children (Protection at Work) Regulations 1998, SI 1998/276, reg 5(d)). The recognisance may be enforced in like manner as a recognisance for the doing of some matter or thing required to be done in a proceeding before a relevant court is enforceable: Children and Young Persons Act 1933 s 25(6) (amended by the Courts Act 2003 s 109(1), Sch 8 para 73(1), (2)). The 'relevant court' means, in relation to England and Wales, a magistrates' court: Children and Young Persons Act 1933 s 25(11) (added by the Courts Act 2003 Sch 8 para 73(1), (2)). See also note 8 supra.

10 The particulars are:

445 (1) the names and addresses of the child, the applicant, and the child's parent (Children (Performances) Regulations 1968, SI 1968/1728, reg 41B, Sch 4 Pt II paras 1, 3, 4 (reg 41B, Sch 4 added by SI 1998/1678));

446 (2) the date and place of birth and nationality of the child (Children (Performances) Regulations 1968, SI 1968/1728, Sch 4 para 2 (as so added));

- 447 (3) particulars of the engagement including where and for how long the child is to participate (Sch 4 Pt II para 5 (as so added));
- 448 (4) a copy of the contract of employment or other document showing the terms and conditions of the engagement (Sch 4 Pt II para 6 (as so added)); and
- 449 (5) a copy of the licence (Sch 4 Pt II para 7 (as so added)).

11 Children and Young Persons Act 1933 s 25(8) (amended by the Children (Protection at Work) Regulations 1998, SI 1998/276, reg 5(d)). As to the Secretary of State, and the transfer of certain functions, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, to the Welsh Ministers, see para 155 ante.

Halsbury's Laws of England/CHILDREN AND YOUNG PERSONS (VOLUME 5(3) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 1-742; VOLUME 5(4) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 743-1433)/9. EMPLOYMENT OF CHILDREN/ (3) EMPLOYMENT IN ENTERTAINMENT/(ii) Employment in Entertainment Abroad/779. Offences in relation to children working abroad.

779. Offences in relation to children working abroad.

Any person who acts in contravention of the provisions governing children going abroad to take part in entertainments<sup>1</sup> is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a penalty<sup>2</sup>. If any person procures a child<sup>3</sup> so to go abroad<sup>4</sup> by means of any false pretence or false representation, he is liable on conviction on indictment to imprisonment<sup>5</sup>. Where it is proved that the defendant caused, procured or allowed a child to go abroad and that that child, while abroad:

- 1439 (1) has been singing, playing, performing or being exhibited<sup>6</sup> for profit; or
- 1440 (2) has taken part in a sport, or worked as a model, in circumstances where payment in respect of his doing so, other than for defraying expenses, was made to him or another person, the defendant is presumed to have caused, procured or allowed him to go abroad for that purpose unless the contrary is proved<sup>7</sup>. Even where the contrary is proved, the court may order the defendant to take such steps as it directs to secure the return of the child in question to the United Kingdom<sup>8</sup> or to enter into a recognisance to make provision to secure his health, kind treatment and adequate supervision while abroad and his return to the United Kingdom after such period as the court may think fit<sup>9</sup>.

Proceedings in respect of any offence or to enforce any recognisance under these provisions may be instituted at any time within three months from the first discovery by the person taking the proceedings of the commission of the offence or the non-observance of the restrictions and conditions contained in the licence or, if at the expiration of that period the prospective defendant is outside the United Kingdom, at any time within six months after his return to the United Kingdom<sup>10</sup>.

In any such proceedings, a report by a British consular officer and any deposition made on oath before him and authenticated by his signature respecting the observance or non-observance of any of the conditions or restrictions contained in a licence is, upon proof that the officer or deponent cannot be found in the United Kingdom, admissible in evidence without proof of the signature or official character of the person appearing to have signed such report or deposition<sup>11</sup>.

(1) INTRODUCTION

780. The legal framework.

Removal of children from the jurisdiction of the English courts has long given rise to problems, but the scale of the problems has been magnified by the development of fast and affordable international transport and also to some extent by a decrease in the formalities required in crossing many international frontiers. The United Kingdom is party to two international Conventions which seek to provide remedies in cases of removal of children from one state to another, which are given effect by the Child Abduction and Custody Act 1985<sup>1</sup>. The Family Law Act 1986 is concerned to prevent conflicts of jurisdiction in cases where children are removed within the United Kingdom, and provides a machinery for reciprocal registration and enforcement<sup>2</sup>.

In addition, all countries within the European Union (except Denmark) are now subject to Regulations which contain provisions on jurisdiction, and for the recognition and enforcement of judgments<sup>3</sup>.

The wrongful removal of children from those entitled to control of them may be a criminal offence under the Child Abduction Act 1984<sup>4</sup>, or may constitute the offence of kidnapping<sup>5</sup> or false imprisonment<sup>6</sup> at common law.

(i) Offences under the Child Abduction Act 1984

781. Abduction of a child.

A person connected with a child<sup>1</sup> under the age of 16 commits an offence if he takes<sup>2</sup> or sends<sup>3</sup> the child out of the United Kingdom<sup>4</sup> without the appropriate consent<sup>5</sup>. However, a person does not commit such an offence by doing anything without the appropriate consent if<sup>6</sup>:

- 1441 (1) he does it in the belief that the other person has consented or would consent if he was aware of all the relevant circumstances<sup>7</sup>; or
- 1442 (2) he has taken all reasonable steps to communicate with the other person but has been unable to do so<sup>8</sup>; or
- 1443 (3) the other person has unreasonably refused to consent<sup>9</sup>.

Nor does a person commit such an offence by taking or sending a child out of the United Kingdom without obtaining the appropriate consent if:

- 1444 (a) he is a person in whose favour there is a residence order in force with respect to the child, and he takes or sends him out of the United Kingdom for a period of less than one month<sup>10</sup>; or
- 1445 (b) he is a special guardian of the child and he takes or sends the child out of the United Kingdom for a period of less than three months<sup>11</sup>.

A person guilty of such an offence is liable to a penalty<sup>12</sup>.

1 A person is 'connected with a child' if:

- 450 (1) he is a parent of the child (Child Abduction Act 1984 s 1(2)(a) (s 1(2)-(4) substituted, and s 1(4A) added, by the Children Act 1989 s 108(4), Sch 12 para 37(2)); or
- 451 (2) in the case of a child whose parents were not married to each other at the time of his birth, there are reasonable grounds for believing that he is the father of the child (Child Abduction Act 1984 s 1(2)(b) (as so substituted)); or
- 452 (3) he is a guardian of a child (s 1(2)(c) (as so substituted)); or
- 453 (4) he is a special guardian of the child (s 1(2)(ca) (s 1(2) as so substituted; and s 1(2)(ca) added by the Adoption and Children Act 2002 s 139(1), Sch 3 para 42(1), (2)); or
- 454 (5) he is a person in whose favour a residence order is in force with respect to the child (Child Abduction Act 1984 s 1(2)(d) (as so substituted)); or
- 455 (6) he has custody of the child (s 1(2)(e) (as so substituted)).

References to a child's parents and to a child whose parents were (or were not) married to each other at the time of his birth are to be construed in accordance with the Family Law Reform Act 1987 s 1 (as amended) (which extends their meaning: see para 125 ante); Child Abduction Act 1984 s 3(d) (added by the Children Act 1989 s 108(4), Sch 12 para 39). As to guardianship see para 144 ante. As to residence orders see para 262 ante. As to special guardianship see paras 151-154 ante.

2 For these purposes, a person is regarded as taking a child if he causes or induces the child to accompany him or any other person or causes the child to be taken: Child Abduction Act 1984 s 3(a). See further CRIMINAL LAW, EVIDENCE AND PROCEDURE vol 11(1) (2006 Reissue) para 137.

3 For these purposes, a person is regarded as sending a child if he causes the child to be sent: ibid s 3(b) (amended by the Children Act 1989 s 108(4), (7), Sch 12 para 39, Sch 15).

4 For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see para 102 note 7 ante.

5 Child Abduction Act 1984 s 1(1). Section 1(1) has effect subject to the provisions of the Schedule (as amended) in relation to a child who is in the care of a local authority, detained in a place of safety, remanded to local authority accommodation or the subject of proceedings or an order relating to adoption (see paras 782-784 post; and CRIMINAL LAW, EVIDENCE AND PROCEDURE vol 11(1) (2006 Reissue) paras 138-141): s 1(8) (amended by the Children Act 1989 s 108(4), Sch 12 para 37). A person is to be regarded as removing a child if he is the effective, although not necessarily the sole, cause of the child's removal: R v A (child abduction) [2000] 2 All ER 177, [2000] 1 WLR 1879, CA.

The 'appropriate consent' in relation to a child means:

456 (1) the consent of each of the following:

1. (a) the child's mother (Child Abduction Act 1984 s 1(3)(a)(i) (as substituted: see note 1 supra));

2. (b) the child's father, if he has parental responsibility for him (s 1(3)(a)(ii) (as so substituted));

3. (c) any guardian of the child (s 1(3)(a)(iii) (as so substituted));

4. (d) any special guardian of the child (s 1(3)(a)(iia) (s 1(3) as so substituted; and s 1(3)(a)(iia) added by the Adoption and Children Act 2002 s 139(1), Sch 3 para 42(1), (3));

5. (e) any person in whose favour a residence order is in force with respect to the child (Child Abduction Act 1984 s 1(3)(a)(iv) (as so substituted));

6. (f) any person who has custody of the child (s 1(3)(a)(v) (as so substituted));

457 (2) the leave of the court granted under or by virtue of any provision of the Children Act 1989 Pt II (ss 8-16) (as amended) (see para 247 et seq ante) (Child Abduction Act 1984 s 1(3)(b) (as so substituted));

458 (3) if any person has custody of the child, the leave of the court which awarded custody to him (s 1(3)(c) (as so substituted)).

For the meaning of 'parental responsibility' see para 134 ante; definition applied by s 1(7)(a) (s 1(7) substituted by the Children Act 1989 s 108(4), Sch 12 para 37). For the meaning of 'guardian of a child' see para 144 note 5 ante; definition applied by the Child Abduction Act 1984 s 1(7)(a) (as so substituted). For the meaning of 'residence order' see para 262 ante; definition applied by s 1(7)(a) (as so substituted). For the meaning of 'special guardian' of a child see para 151 ante; definition applied by s 1(7)(a) (as so substituted; and amended by the Adoption and Children Act 2002 s 139(1), Sch 3 para 42(1), (6)).

A person is treated as having custody of a child if there is in force an order of a court in the United Kingdom awarding him (whether solely or jointly with another person) custody, legal custody, or care and control of the child: Child Abduction Act 1984 s 1(7)(b) (as so substituted).

As to the abduction of a child in the care of a local authority see para 782 post. As to the abduction of a child who is detained in a place of safety see para 783 post. As to the abduction of a child who is the subject of adoption see para 784 post. As to the abduction of a child by persons other than the parent see para 785 post.

As to penalties and prosecutions see also CRIMINAL LAW, EVIDENCE AND PROCEDURE vol 11(1) (2006 Reissue) para 142.

6 Ibid s 1(5). Where, in proceedings for an offence under s 1 (as amended), there is sufficient evidence to raise an issue as to the application of s 1(5), it is for the prosecution to prove that s 1(5) does not apply: s 1(6).

7 Ibid s 1(5)(a).

8 Ibid s 1(5)(b).

9 Ibid s 1(5)(c). Section 1(5)(c) does not apply if:

459 (1) the person who refused to consent is a person:

7. (a) in whose favour there is a residence order in force with respect to a child (s 1(5A)(a)(i) (s 1(5A) added by the Children Act 1989 s 108(4), Sch 12 para 37(3); and the Child Abduction Act 1984 s 1(5A)(a)(i) amended by the Adoption and Children Act 2002 s 139(1), (3), Sch 3 para 42(1), (5), Sch 5));

8. (b) who is a special guardian of the child (Child Abduction Act 1984 s 1(5A)(a)(ia) (s 1(5A) as so added; and s 1(5A)(a)(ia) added by the Adoption and Children Act 2002 s 139(1), Sch 3 para 42(1), (5)); or

9. (c) who has custody of the child (Child Abduction Act 1984 s 1(5A)(a)(ii) (as so added));

10

460 (2) the person taking or sending the child out of the United Kingdom is, by so acting, in breach of an order made by a court in the United Kingdom (s 1(5A)(b) (as so added)).

10 Ibid s 1(4)(a) (s 1(4)(a), (b) substituted by the Adoption and Children Act 2002 s 139(1), Sch 3 para 42(1), (4)). The Child Abduction Act 1984 s 1(4)(a) (as substituted) does not apply if the person taking or sending the child out of the United Kingdom does so in breach of an order under the Children Act 1989 Pt II (ss 8-16A) (as amended) (see para 247 et seq ante): Child Abduction Act 1984 s 1(4A) (added by the Children Act 1989 s 108(4), Sch 12 para 37).

11 Child Abduction Act 1984 s 1(4)(b) (as substituted: see note 10 supra). Section 1(4)(b) (as substituted) does not apply if the person taking or sending the child out of the United Kingdom does so in breach of an order under the Children Act 1989 Pt II (as amended) (see para 247 et seq ante): Child Abduction Act 1984 s 1(4A) (added by the Children Act 1989 s 108(4), Sch 12 para 37).

12 Child Abduction Act 1984 s 4(1). A person guilty of such an offence is liable: (1) on summary conviction, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months or to a fine not exceeding the statutory maximum or to both such imprisonment and fine (s 4(1)(a) (amended by the Statute Law (Repeals) Act 1993)); and (2) on conviction on indictment, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years (Child Abduction Act 1984 s 4(1)(b)). As to the statutory maximum see para 109 note 23 ante.

No prosecution for an offence under s 1 (as amended) may be instituted except by or with the consent of the Director of Public Prosecutions: s 4(2). As to the Director of Public Prosecutions see CRIMINAL LAW, EVIDENCE AND PROCEDURE vol 11(3) (2006 Reissue) para 1066.

785. Abduction of a child by persons other than the parent etc.

A person who is not:

- 1461 (1) where the father and mother of the child in question were married to each other at the time of his birth, the child's father or mother<sup>1</sup>;
- 1462 (2) where the father and mother of the child in question were not married to each other at the time of his birth, the child's mother<sup>2</sup>; or
- 1463 (3) the guardian of the child<sup>3</sup>, the special guardian of the child<sup>4</sup>, a person who has custody of the child<sup>5</sup>, or a person in whose favour a residence order<sup>6</sup> has been made in respect of the child<sup>7</sup>, commits an offence if, without lawful authority or reasonable excuse, he takes or detains<sup>8</sup> a child under the age of 16 so as to remove him from the lawful control of the person having such control, or so as to keep him out of the lawful control of any person entitled to lawful control<sup>9</sup>.

In proceedings against any person for such an offence, it is a defence for that person to prove:

- 1464 (a) where the father and mother of the child in question were not married to each other at the time of his birth, that he is the child's father or that, at the time of the alleged offence, he believed on reasonable grounds that he was the child's father<sup>10</sup>; or
- 1465 (b) that, at the time of the alleged offence, he believed that the child had attained the age of 16<sup>11</sup>.

A person guilty of such an offence is liable to a penalty<sup>12</sup>.

(ii) Other Offences

786. Kidnapping.

The common law offence of kidnapping is committed where one person is taken or carried away by another, by force or fraud, without the consent of the person so taken or carried away and without lawful excuse<sup>1</sup>. The offence can be committed by anyone against a child, including a parent of the child in the absence of the child's consent<sup>2</sup>. However, if an offence of kidnapping is committed against a child under the age of 16 by a person connected with the child<sup>3</sup> no prosecution may be instituted for that offence without the consent of the Director of Public Prosecutions<sup>4</sup>. Further, the conduct of kidnapping parents who snatch their own children should be dealt with as a contempt of court rather than by a criminal prosecution and the latter procedure should only be used in exceptional cases where the conduct of the parent was so bad that an ordinary right-thinking person would regard it as criminal<sup>5</sup>. Nevertheless, the existence of the relevant offences as arrestable offences may be of significance since the police have the power to arrest anyone who they reasonably suspect to be committing an arrestable offence<sup>6</sup>. On conviction on indictment, the court may impose a fine or a term of imprisonment or both<sup>7</sup>.

(3) CHILD ABDUCTION WITHIN THE EUROPEAN UNION MEMBER STATES (OTHER THAN DENMARK)

788. Introduction.

If a child under the age of 16 has been brought from or taken to certain countries, which are signatories of the Hague Convention<sup>1</sup> or the European Convention<sup>2</sup>, proceedings may be taken pursuant to those Conventions under the Child Abduction and Custody Act 1985<sup>3</sup>. With effect from 1 March 2001, further provisions were made under the Brussels II Regulation, as between member states of the European Union (except for Denmark), with respect to judgments relating to parental responsibility for the children of both spouses involved in divorce, nullity or separation proceedings<sup>4</sup>. With effect from 1 March 2005, the Brussels II Regulation was replaced by the Brussels IIR Regulation<sup>5</sup>, concerning jurisdiction and the recognition and enforcement of judgments in matrimonial matters and in matters of parental responsibility<sup>6</sup>. The Brussels IIR Regulation applies to all judgments relating to parental responsibility and not simply those in respect of children to both spouses involved in matrimonial proceedings (that is, it includes step-children and children of unmarried parents). The Regulations are directly effective, so that domestic legislation has to be read alongside the Regulations. With respect to the European Convention, for judgments made after 1 March 2001, the Brussels II Regulation has precedence<sup>7</sup> and for those made after 1 March 2005, the Brussels IIR Regulation has precedence<sup>8</sup>. With respect to the Hague Convention, for judgments made after 1 March 2005, the Brussels IIR Regulation has precedence<sup>9</sup>.

Provisions dealing with child abduction within the different United Kingdom jurisdictions are contained within the Family Law Act 1986<sup>10</sup>. Those provisions are also subject to the Brussels Regulations<sup>11</sup>. There are detailed transitional provisions relating to recognition and enforcement<sup>12</sup>.

1    Ie the Convention on the Civil Aspects of International Child Abduction (Hague, 25 October 1980; TS 66 (1986); Cm 33). See paras 805-817 post.

2    Ie the European Convention on Recognition and Enforcement of Decisions Concerning Custody of Children and on the Restoration of Custody of Children (Luxembourg, 20 May 1980; TS 35 (1987); Cm 191). See paras 818-826 post.

3    Child Abduction and Custody Act 1985 ss 1(1), 12(1). See para 799 post.

4    Ie EC Council Regulation 1347/2000 (OJ L160, 30.6.2000, pp 19-36) on the jurisdiction and the recognition and enforcement of judgments in matrimonial matters and in matters of parental responsibility for children of both spouses. Denmark opted out of the Regulation and accordingly for these purposes member state means all member states with the exception of Denmark: art 1(3).

5    Ie EC Council Regulation 2201/2003 (OJ L338, 23.12.2003, pp 1-29) on the jurisdiction and the recognition and enforcement of judgments in matrimonial matters and in matters of parental responsibility. As to proposed amendments to this Regulation introducing rules concerning applicable law in matrimonial matters and enabling a choice of jurisdiction in proceedings relating to divorce and legal separation see the Proposal for Council Regulation COM (2006) 399. It is intended that the amendments will have effect from 1 March 2008. However, the United Kingdom government has opted out of the proposed amending Regulation.

6 EC Council Regulation 2201/2003 (OJ L338, 23.12.2003, pp 1-29) applies whatever the nature of the court or tribunal, in civil matters relating to the attribution, exercise, delegation, restriction or termination of parental responsibility: art 1(1)(b). The matters referred to in art 1(1)(b) may, in particular, deal with:

- 461 (1) rights of custody and rights of access (art 1(2)(a));
- 462 (2) guardianship, curatorship and similar institutions (art 1(2)(b));
- 463 (3) the designation and functions of any person or body having charge of the child's person or property, representing or assisting the child (art 1(2)(c));
- 464 (4) the placement of the child in a foster family or in institutional care (art 1(2)(d));
- 465 (5) measures for the protection of the child relating to the administration, conservation or disposal of the child's property (art 1(2)(d)).

However, EC Council Regulation 2201/2003 (OJ L338, 23.12.2003, pp 1-29) does not apply to:

- 466 (a) the establishment or contesting of a parent-child relationship (art 1(3)(a));
- 467 (b) decisions on adoption, measures preparatory to adoption, or the annulment or revocation of adoption (art 1(3)(b));
- 468 (c) the name and forenames of the child (art 1(3)(c));
- 469 (d) emancipation (art 1(3)(d));
- 470 (e) maintenance obligations (art 1(3)(e));
- 471 (f) trusts or succession (art 1(3)(f));
- 472 (g) measures taken as a result of criminal offences committed by children (art 1(3)(g)).

For the purposes of EC Council Regulation 2201/2003 (OJ L338, 23.12.2003, pp 1-29), 'parental responsibility' means all rights and duties relating to the person or the property of a child which are given to a natural or legal person by judgment, by operation of law or by an agreement having legal effect, and includes rights of custody and rights of access: art 2(7). 'Rights of custody' includes right and duties relating to the care of the person of a child, and in particular the right to determine the child's place of residence: art 2(9). 'Rights of access' includes in particular the right to take the child to a place other than his habitual residence for a limited period of time: art 2(10).

12 Any existing proceedings prior to 1 March 2005 will continue to be governed by EC Council Regulation 2201/2003 (OJ L338, 23.12.2003, pp 1-29), which contains detailed transitional provisions: see art 64.

In addition to applications issued after 1 March 2005, the following categories are also covered by EC Council Regulation 2201/2003 (OJ L338, 23.12.2003, pp 1-29):

- 473 (1) judgments given on or after 1 March 2005 in proceedings instituted before then but after EC Council Regulation 1347/2000 (OJ L160, 30.06.2000, pp 19-36) entered into force (EC Council Regulation 2201/2003 (OJ L338, 23.12.2003, pp 1-29) art 64(2));
- 474 (2) judgments given before 1 March 2005 in proceedings instituted after EC Council Regulation 1347/2000 (OJ L160, 30.06.2000, pp 19-36) entered into force in cases falling under the scope of that Regulation (EC Council Regulation 2201/2003 (OJ L338, 23.12.2003, pp 1-29) art 64(3));
- 475 (3) judgments given before 1 March 2005 but after EC Council Regulation 1347/2000 (OJ L160, 30.06.2000, pp 19-36) came into force, in proceedings instituted before that Regulation came into force in cases falling under the scope of that Regulation (EC Council Regulation 2201/2003 (OJ L338, 23.12.2003, pp 1-29) art 64(4)).

EC Council Regulation 1347/2000 (OJ L160, 30.06.2000, pp 19-36) entered into force in the case of the 'old' member states (except Denmark) on 1 March 2001, and for 'new' member states (ie the Czech Republic, Cyprus, Estonia, Hungary, Latvia, Lithuania, Malta, Poland, Slovenia and Slovakia) on 1 May 2004. In the case of judgments given before 1 March 2005, the judgments must fall within the scope of EC Council Regulation 1347/2000 (OJ L160, 30.06.2000, pp 19-36), ie they must relate to parental responsibility for the children of both spouses on the occasion of matrimonial proceedings between the parents: see arts 22, 46.

788 Introduction

NOTE 6--Case C-435/06, cited, reported at [2008] 1 FLR 490, ECJ.

Halsbury's Laws of England/CHILDREN AND YOUNG PERSONS (VOLUME 5(3) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 1-742; VOLUME 5(4) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 743-1433)/10. CHILD ABDUCTION/(3) CHILD ABDUCTION WITHIN THE EUROPEAN UNION MEMBER STATES (OTHER THAN DENMARK)/789. Jurisdiction: in general.

789. Jurisdiction: in general.

However, different provisions may apply<sup>5</sup>:

- 1466 (1) where a child has lawfully moved to another member state<sup>6</sup>;
- 1467 (2) in cases of child abduction<sup>7</sup>;
- 1468 (3) in applications for divorce, legal separation or marriage annulment<sup>8</sup>;
- 1469 (4) where a child's habitual residence cannot be established and jurisdiction cannot be determined on the basis of head (3) above<sup>9</sup>.

Where no court of a member state has jurisdiction pursuant to the above provisions<sup>10</sup>, jurisdiction is determined, in each member state, by the laws of that state<sup>11</sup>. Where a court of a member state is seised of a case over which it has no jurisdiction<sup>12</sup> and over which a court of another member state has jurisdiction, it must declare of its own motion that it has no jurisdiction<sup>13</sup>.

Where proceedings relating to parental responsibility relating to the same child and involving the same cause of action are brought before courts of different member states, the court second seised must of its own motion stay its proceedings until such time as the jurisdiction of the court first seised is established<sup>14</sup>. Where the jurisdiction of the court first seised is established, the court second seised must decline jurisdiction in favour of that court<sup>15</sup>.

In urgent cases, these provisions<sup>16</sup> do not prevent the courts of a member state from taking such provisional, including protective, measures in respect of persons in that state as may be available under the law of that member state, even if the court of another member state has jurisdiction<sup>17</sup> as to the substance of the matter<sup>18</sup>. The measures made accordingly cease to apply when the court of the member state having jurisdiction as to the substance of the matter has taken the measures it considers appropriate<sup>19</sup>.

- 476 (1) at the time when the document instituting the proceedings or an equivalent document is lodged with the court, provided that the applicant has not subsequently failed to take the steps he was required to take to have service effected on the respondent (art 16(1)(a));
- 477 (2) if the document has to be served before being lodged with the court, at the time when it is received by the authority responsible for service, provided that the applicant has not subsequently failed to take the steps he was required to take to have the document lodged with the court (art 16(1)(b)).

UPDATE

789 Jurisdiction: in general

NOTE 4--As to the approach of the court when considering the application of EC Council Regulation 2201/2003 art 8(1) to the situation in which a child has a permanent residence in one member state but is staying in another member state, see Case C-523/07 Family proceedings concerning A [2010] Fam 42, [2009] All ER (D) 286 (Jun), ECJ.

Halsbury's Laws of England/CHILDREN AND YOUNG PERSONS (VOLUME 5(3) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 1-742; VOLUME 5(4) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 743-1433)/10. CHILD ABDUCTION/(3) CHILD ABDUCTION WITHIN THE EUROPEAN UNION MEMBER STATES (OTHER THAN DENMARK)/790. Jurisdiction: where a child has lawfully moved.

790. Jurisdiction: where a child has lawfully moved.

Where a child moves lawfully from one member state<sup>1</sup> to another and acquires a new habitual residence<sup>2</sup> there, the courts of the member state of the child's former habitual residence must, by way of exception to the general rule<sup>3</sup>, retain jurisdiction during a three month period following the move for the purpose of modifying a judgment on access rights<sup>4</sup> issued in the member state before the child moved, where the holder of the access rights pursuant to the judgment on access rights continues to have his habitual residence in the member state of the child's former habitual residence<sup>5</sup>.

However, this does not apply if the holder of the access rights has accepted the jurisdiction of the courts of the member state of the child's new habitual residence by participating in the proceedings before those courts without contesting their jurisdiction<sup>6</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'member state' see para 788 note 4 ante.

791. Jurisdiction: wrongful removal.

In a case of wrongful removal or retention<sup>1</sup> of a child, the courts of the member state where the child was habitually resident immediately before the wrongful removal or retention retain their jurisdiction until the child has acquired a habitual residence in another member state and:

- 1470 (1) each person, institution or other body having rights of custody has acquiesced in the removal or retention<sup>2</sup>; or
  - 1471 (2) the child has resided in that other member state for a period of at least one year after the person, institution or other body having rights of custody has had or should have had knowledge of the whereabouts of the child and the child is settled in his new environment and at least one of the following conditions is met<sup>3</sup>:
- .19
- 8. (a) within one year after the holder of rights of custody has had or should have had knowledge of the whereabouts of the child, no request for return has been lodged before the competent authorities of the member state where the child has been removed or is being retained<sup>4</sup>;
  - 9. (b) a request for return lodged by the holder or rights of custody has been withdrawn and no new request has been lodged within the time limit set in head (a) above<sup>5</sup>;
  - 10. (c) a case before the court in the member state where the child was habitually resident immediately before the wrongful removal or retention has been closed<sup>6</sup> following another court being seised of it<sup>7</sup>;
  - 11. (d) a judgment on custody that does not entail the return of the child has been issued by the courts of the member state where the child was habitually resident immediately before the wrongful removal or retention<sup>8</sup>.

1 'Wrongful removal or retention' means a child's removal or retention where:

478 (1) it is in breach of custody acquired by judgment or by operation of law or by an agreement having legal effect under the law of the member state where the child was habitually resident immediately before the removal or retention (EC Council Regulation 2201/2003 (OJ L338, 23.12.2003, pp 1-29) on the jurisdiction and the recognition and enforcement of judgments in matrimonial matters and in matters of parental responsibility (the 'Brussels IIR Regulation'), art 2(11)(a)); and

479 (2) provided that, at the time of the removal or retention, the rights of custody were actually exercised, either jointly or alone, or would have been so exercised but for the removal or retention (art 2(11)(b)).

Custody is considered to be exercised jointly when, pursuant to a decision or by operation of law, one holder of parental responsibility cannot decide on the child's place of residence without the consent of another holder of parental responsibility: art 2(11)(b). 'Holder of parental responsibility' means any person having parental responsibility over a child: art 2(11). For the meaning of 'parental responsibility' see para 788 note 6 ante. CHILD ABDUCTION/(3) CHILD ABDUCTION WITHIN THE EUROPEAN UNION MEMBER STATES (OTHER THAN DENMARK)/792. Jurisdiction: divorce, legal separation and marriage annulment.

792. Jurisdiction: divorce, legal separation and marriage annulment.

The courts of a member state<sup>1</sup> exercising jurisdiction on an application for divorce, legal separation or marriage annulment<sup>2</sup> have jurisdiction in any matter relating to parental responsibility<sup>3</sup> connected with that application where:

- 1472 (1) at least one of the spouses has parental responsibility in relation to the child<sup>4</sup>; and
- 1473 (2) the jurisdiction of the courts has been accepted expressly or otherwise in an unequivocal manner by the spouses and by the holders of parental responsibility<sup>5</sup> at the time the court is seised, and is in the superior interests of the child<sup>6</sup>.

This jurisdiction ceases as soon as:

- 1474 (a) the judgment allowing or refusing the application for divorce, legal separation or marriage annulment has become final<sup>7</sup>;
- 1475 (b) in those cases where proceedings in relation to parental responsibility are still pending on the date referred to in head (a) above, a judgment in those proceedings has become final<sup>8</sup>;
- 1476 (c) the proceedings referred to in heads (a) and (b) above have come to an end for another reason<sup>9</sup>.

The courts of a member state also have jurisdiction in relation to parental responsibility in proceedings other than those referred to in heads (1) and (2) above where:

- 1477 (i) the child has a substantial connection with that member state, in particular by virtue of the fact that one of the holders of parental responsibility is habitually resident in that member state or that the child is a national of that member state<sup>10</sup>; and
- 1478 (ii) the jurisdiction of the courts has been accepted expressly or otherwise in an unequivocal manner by all the parties to the proceedings at the time the court is seised, and is in the best interests of the child<sup>11</sup>.

Where the child has his habitual residence in the territory of a third state which is not a contracting party to the Hague Convention<sup>12</sup>, jurisdiction under these provisions<sup>13</sup> is deemed to be in the child's interest, in particular if it is found impossible to hold proceedings in the third state in question<sup>14</sup>. Where a child's habitual residence cannot be established and jurisdiction cannot be determined in accordance with these provisions<sup>15</sup>, the courts of the member state where the child is present have jurisdiction<sup>16</sup>. This also applies to refugee children or children internationally displaced because of disturbances occurring in their country<sup>17</sup>.

2 In matters relating to divorce, legal separation or marriage annulment, jurisdiction lies with the courts of the member state:

480 (1) in whose territory: (a) the spouses are habitually resident; or (b) the spouses were last habitually resident, in so far as one of them still resides there; or (c) the respondent is habitually resident; or (d) in the event of a joint application, either of the spouses is habitually resident; or (e) the applicant is habitually resident if he resided there for at least a year immediately before the application was made; or (f) the applicant is habitually resident if he resided there for at least six months immediately before the application was made and is either a national of the member state in question or, in the case of the United Kingdom and Ireland, has his domicile there (EC Council Regulation 2201/2003 (OJ L338, 23.12.2003, pp 1-29) on the jurisdiction and the recognition and enforcement of judgments in matrimonial matters and in matters of parental responsibility (the 'Brussels IIR Regulation'), art 3(1)(a));

481 (2) of the nationality of both spouses or, in the case of the United Kingdom and Ireland, of the domicile of both spouses (art 3(1)(b)).

'Domicile' has the same meaning as it has under the legal systems of the United Kingdom and Ireland: art 3(2). See CONFLICT OF LAWS vol 8(3) (Reissue) para 53.

793. Jurisdiction: transfer to a better court.

Exceptionally<sup>1</sup>, the courts of a member state having jurisdiction as to the substance of the matter, if they consider that a court of another member state<sup>2</sup> with which the child has a particular connection<sup>3</sup> would be better placed to hear the case, or a specific part thereof, and where this in the best interests of the child, may:

- 1479 (1) stay the case or part thereof in question and invite the parties to introduce a request before the court of that other member state in accordance with the rules and time limits<sup>4</sup>; or
- 1480 (2) request a court of another member state to assume jurisdiction<sup>5</sup> in accordance with the rules and time limits<sup>6</sup>.

Such a transfer can be made on the application of a party, of the court's own motion or upon the application of a court of another member state with which the child has a particular connection<sup>7</sup>. If the transfer is made of the court's own motion or by application of a court of another member state, the transfer must be accepted by at least one of the parties<sup>8</sup>.

1 EC Council Regulation 2201/2003 (OJ L338, 23.12.2003, pp 1-29) on the jurisdiction and the recognition and enforcement of judgments in matrimonial matters and in matters of parental responsibility (the 'Brussels IIR Regulation'), art 15(1). See further Re EC (child abduction: stayed proceedings) [2006] EWCA Civ 1115, [2007] 1 FLR 57, [2006] Fam Law 918 ('it will indeed be a truly exceptional case [to] invoke art 15': at [18] per Thorpe LJ). As to the application of a party for transfer of proceedings to a court of another member state see the Family Proceedings Rules 1991, SI 1991/1247, r 7.53 (added by SI 2005/264; and amended by SI 2005/2922). As to the application by a court of a member state for transfer of proceedings see the Family Proceedings Rules 1991, SI 1991/1247, r 7.54 (added by SI 2005/264).

2 For the meaning of 'member state' see para 788 note 4 ante.

3 A child is considered to have a particular connection to a member state if that member state:

- 482 (1) has become the habitual residence of the child after the court was seised (EC Council Regulation 2201/2003 (OJ L338, 23.12.2003, pp 1-29) art 15(3)(a));
- 483 (2) is the former habitual residence of the child (art 15(3)(b));
- 484 (3) is the place of the child's nationality (art 15(3)(c));
- 485 (4) is the habitual residence of a holder of parental responsibility (art 15(3)(d)); or
- 486 (5) is the place where property of the child is located and the case concerns measures for the protection of the child, relating to the administration, conservation or disposal of this property (art 15(3)(e)).

As to when a court is deemed to be seised see para 789 note 4 ante. For the meaning of 'holder of parental responsibility' see para 791 note 1 ante. For the meaning of 'parental responsibility' see para 788 note 6 ante.

4 Ibid art 15(1)(a).

5 The court of the member state having jurisdiction as to the substance of the matter must set a time limit by which the courts of that other member state must be seised in accordance with ibid art 15(1): art 15(4). If the courts are not seised by that time, the court which has been seised is to continue to exercise jurisdiction in accordance with arts 8-14 (see paras 789-793 supra): art 15(4).

6 Ibid art 15(1)(b).

7 Ibid art 15(2). The courts of that other member state may, where due to the specific circumstances of the case this is the best interests of the child, accept jurisdiction within six weeks of their seisure in accordance with art 15(1)(a) or (b): art 15(5). In this case, the court first seised must decline jurisdiction: art 15(5). Otherwise, the court first seised must continue to exercise jurisdiction in accordance with arts 8-14 (see paras 789-793 supra): art 15(5).

8 Ibid art 15(2).

794. Recognition.

A judgment given in a member state<sup>1</sup> is recognised in the other member states without any special procedure being required<sup>2</sup>. There are very limited exceptions to this rule, namely:

- 1481 (1) if such recognition is manifestly contrary to the public policy of the member state in which recognition is being sought, taking into account the best interests of the child<sup>3</sup>;
- 1482 (2) if it was given, except in case of urgency, without the child having been given an opportunity to be heard, in violation of fundamental principles of procedure of the member state in which recognition is sought<sup>4</sup>;
- 1483 (3) where it was given in default of appearance if the person in default was not served with the relevant documents instituting proceedings or with an equivalent document in sufficient time and in such a way as to enable that person to arrange for his defence unless it is determined that such person has accepted the judgment unequivocally<sup>5</sup>;
- 1484 (4) on the request of any person claiming that the judgment infringes his parental responsibility<sup>6</sup>, if it was given without such person having been given an opportunity to be heard<sup>7</sup>;
- 1485 (5) if it is irreconcilable with a later judgment relating to parental responsibility given in the member state in which recognition is being sought<sup>8</sup>;
- 1486 (6) if it is irreconcilable with a later judgment relating to parental responsibility given in another member state or in the non-member state of the habitual residence<sup>9</sup> of the child provided that the later judgment fulfils the conditions necessary for its recognition in the member state in which recognition is sought<sup>10</sup>; or
- 1487 (7) if the procedure for a proposed placement of a child in institutional care or with a foster family in another member state<sup>11</sup> has not been complied with<sup>12</sup>.

Any interested party can apply for a judgment to be or not to be recognised<sup>13</sup>.

The jurisdiction of the court of the member state of origin<sup>14</sup> may not be reviewed<sup>15</sup>. Under no circumstances may a judgment be reviewed as to its substance<sup>16</sup>.

In a case dealing with the analogous provision under EC Council Regulation 44/2001 (OJ L12, 16.1.2001, pp 1-23) on the jurisdiction and the recognition of judgments in civil and commercial matters (the 'Brussels II Regulation'), the European Court of Justice construed this defence very narrowly: see Case C-432/93 Societe d'Informatique Service Realisation

795. Enforcement.

A judgment on the exercise of parental responsibility<sup>1</sup> in respect of a child made in one member state<sup>2</sup> which is enforceable in that member state and has been served must be enforced in another member state when, on the application of any interested party, it can be declared enforceable there<sup>3</sup>. However, in the United Kingdom, such a judgment may be enforced in England and Wales, in Scotland or in Northern Ireland only when, on the application of any interested party, it has been registered for enforcement in that part of the United Kingdom<sup>4</sup>.

The procedure for seeking registration and for the enforcement of such orders in England and Wales is governed by the Family Proceedings Rules<sup>5</sup>. Applications must be made to the Family Division in the High Court<sup>6</sup> and must be filed at the principal registry<sup>7</sup>. Applications can be made for and declarations given of partial enforcement<sup>8</sup>. Applicants who, in the member state of origin<sup>9</sup>, benefited from complete or partial legal aid are entitled to benefit from the most favourable legal aid provided by the law of the member state addressed<sup>10</sup>. Applicants may also be assisted by central authorities<sup>11</sup>. Parties may appeal against any decision on an enforcement application<sup>12</sup>.

At no point during the enforcement process can a court review a decision as to its substance<sup>13</sup>. The application may only be refused for one of a limited number of reasons<sup>14</sup>:

- 1488 (1) if such recognition is manifestly contrary to the public policy of the member state in which recognition is being sought, taking into account the best interests of the child<sup>15</sup>;
- 1489 (2) if it was given, except in case of urgency, without the child having been given an opportunity to be heard<sup>16</sup>;
- 1490 (3) where it was given in default of appearance, if the person in default was not served with the relevant documents instituting proceedings in sufficient time and in such a way as to enable that person to arrange for his defence, unless it is determined that such person has accepted the judgment unequivocally<sup>17</sup>;
- 1491 (4) on the request of any person claiming that the judgment infringes his parental responsibility, if it was given without such person having been given an opportunity to be heard<sup>18</sup>;
- 1492 (5) if it is irreconcilable with a later judgment relating to parental responsibility given in the member state in which recognition is being sought<sup>19</sup>;
- 1493 (6) if it is irreconcilable with a later judgment relating to parental responsibility given in another member state or in the non-member state of the habitual residence of the child provided that the later judgment fulfils the conditions necessary for its recognition in the member state in which recognition is sought<sup>20</sup>; or
- 1494 (7) if the procedure for a proposed placement of a child in institutional care or with a foster family in another member state<sup>21</sup> has not been complied with<sup>22</sup>.

These are the only grounds for refusing enforcement. There is no variation power, although the court does have limited discretion to 'phase in' the foreign order<sup>23</sup>.

In exercising the enforcement powers, the child's welfare is not the paramount or even the primary consideration<sup>24</sup>.

Where a party wishes to enforce an order made in England and Wales in another member state, applications for a certified copy of the judgment sought to be enforced must be made to the court that made the order<sup>25</sup>. Applications should be made on a witness statement or an affidavit without notice being served on any other party<sup>26</sup>.

UPDATE

795 Enforcement

NOTE 3--See Case C-195/08P Rinau v Rinau [2009] 2 WLR 972, [2008] 3 FCR 370, ECJ (enforceability of decision potentially tainted by procedural impropriety).

796. Access rights.

A decision on rights of access<sup>1</sup> issued in one member state<sup>2</sup> is directly recognised and enforceable in another member state if it is accompanied by a certificate<sup>3</sup>. The judge of origin may only issue a certificate (in a standard form<sup>4</sup>) where all parties, including the child (unless it was considered inappropriate having regard to his age or degree of maturity), have been given the opportunity to be heard<sup>5</sup>. In the case of a judgment given in default, the person defaulting must have been served with the document instituting proceedings in due time to arrange for his defence or, if not, it is nevertheless established that he accepted the decision unequivocally<sup>6</sup>. Where the rights of access involve a cross-border situation at the time of delivery of the judgment, the certificate must be issued ex officio when the judgment becomes enforceable, even if only provisionally<sup>7</sup>. If the situation subsequently acquires a cross-border character, the certificate must be issued at the request of one of the parties<sup>8</sup>. It is not possible to appeal against the issuing of a certificate<sup>9</sup>, although it is possible to seek rectification in cases of error<sup>10</sup>.

The Brussels IIR Regulation<sup>11</sup> supersedes the European Convention<sup>12</sup> as between member states<sup>13</sup>. For cases where there is an access order in favour of a particular party, applications can be made under the Brussels IIR Regulation and under the Hague Convention<sup>14</sup> to seek the help of central authorities<sup>15</sup>. For cases involving rights of access not based on a court order, applications must still be made under the Hague Convention<sup>16</sup>. The courts of the member state of enforcement may make practical arrangements for organising the exercise of rights of access, if the necessary arrangements have not or have not sufficiently been made in the judgment delivered by the courts of the member state having jurisdiction as to the substance of the matter and provided the essential elements of the judgment are respected<sup>17</sup>. Such practical arrangements cease to apply pursuant to a later judgment by the courts of the member state having jurisdiction as to the substance of the matter<sup>18</sup>.

797. Central authorities.

Each member state<sup>1</sup> must designate one or more central authorities to assist with the application of the Brussels IIR Regulation<sup>2</sup> and must specify the geographical or functional jurisdiction of each<sup>3</sup>. In the United Kingdom, the central authorities which were established under the Hague Convention<sup>4</sup> also act as the authorities for the Brussels IIR Regulation. The central authorities must communicate information on national laws and procedures and take measures to improve the application of the Brussels IIR Regulation and to strengthen their co-operation<sup>5</sup>. The European Judicial Network in civil and commercial matters<sup>6</sup> must be used, it being intended that there should be regular meetings to facilitate good practice<sup>7</sup>. Upon the request from a central authority of another member state or from a holder of parental responsibility, the central authorities must co-operate on specific cases to achieve the purposes of the Brussels IIR Regulation<sup>8</sup>. They must take all appropriate steps to collect and exchange information on the situation of the child, on any procedures under way or on decisions taken concerning the child, provide information and assistance to holders of parental responsibility seeking the recognition and enforcement of decisions on their territory, in particular concerning rights of access and the return of the child, and facilitate communications between courts<sup>9</sup>. They must also facilitate agreement between holders of parental responsibility through mediation or other means and facilitate cross-border co-operation to this end<sup>10</sup>. Any holder of parental responsibility may submit to the central authority of the member state of his habitual residence<sup>11</sup> or to the central authority of the member state where the child is habitually resident or present a request for assistance<sup>12</sup>. The assistance provided by the central authorities is free of charge<sup>13</sup>.

NOTE 6--Decision 2001/470 amended: European Parliament and EC Council Decision 568/2009 (OJ L168, 30.6.2009, p 35).

Halsbury's Laws of England/CHILDREN AND YOUNG PERSONS (VOLUME 5(3) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 1-742; VOLUME 5(4) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 743-1433)/10. CHILD ABDUCTION/(3) CHILD ABDUCTION WITHIN THE EUROPEAN UNION MEMBER STATES (OTHER THAN DENMARK)/798. Inter-relationship between the Brussels IIR Regulation and the Conventions.

798. Inter-relationship between the Brussels IIR Regulation and the Conventions.

The Brussels IIR Regulation<sup>1</sup> takes precedence over the European Convention<sup>2</sup> in so far as it concerns matters governed by the Regulation<sup>3</sup>. Applications to enforce any custody order made in a member state (other than Denmark) should therefore be made under the Brussels IIR Regulation. Effectively applications under the European Convention will be limited to those concerned with enforcing custody orders made in contracting states that are not member states of the European Union (and Denmark).

The Brussels IIR Regulation takes precedence over the Hague Convention<sup>4</sup> in so far as it concerns matters governed by the Regulation<sup>5</sup>. It governs cases where a court refuses to make a return order under the Hague Convention and also gives some guidance on how the Hague Convention should be applied as between member states<sup>6</sup>. When an application is made for a return under the Hague Convention<sup>7</sup>, it must be ensured that the child is given the opportunity to be heard during the proceedings unless this appears inappropriate having regard to his age or degree of maturity<sup>8</sup>. The court must deal with the case expeditiously and, save where exceptional circumstances makes this impossible, it must issue its judgment no later than six weeks after the application is lodged<sup>9</sup>. A court cannot refuse to return a child on the basis that there is a grave risk that his return would expose the child to physical or psychological harm or otherwise place the child in an intolerable situation<sup>10</sup> if it is established that adequate arrangements have been made to secure the protection of the child after his return<sup>11</sup>. A court cannot refuse to return a child unless the person who requested the return of the child has been given an opportunity to be heard<sup>12</sup>. If a court has issued an order on non-return<sup>13</sup>, the court must immediately, either directly or through its central authority, transmit a copy of the court order on non-return and of the relevant documents, in particular a transcript of the hearings before the court, to the court with jurisdiction or the central authority in the member state where the child was habitually resident immediately before the wrongful removal or retention, as determined by national law<sup>14</sup>. The court must receive all the documents<sup>15</sup> within one month of the non-return order<sup>16</sup>.

(4) CHILD ABDUCTION AND THE INTERNATIONAL CONVENTIONS

(i) Introduction

799. The legislation.

The Child Abduction and Custody Act 1985 gives effect to two international Conventions which make provision for the recovery of children under the age of 16 who have been wrongfully removed or retained and for the enforcement of decisions relating to custody of, or contact with, children<sup>1</sup>. Those Conventions are:

- 1495 (1) the Convention on the Civil Aspects of International Child Abduction, signed at the Hague on 25 October 1980 ('the Hague Convention')<sup>2</sup>; and
- 1496 (2) the European Convention on Recognition and Enforcement of Decisions Concerning Custody of Children and on the Restoration of Custody of Children, signed at Luxembourg on 20 May 1980 ('the European Convention')<sup>3</sup>.

The underlying principle of both Conventions is that it is in the interests of children that parents and others should not abduct them from one jurisdiction to another, and that any decision relating to the custody of children is best decided in the jurisdiction of their habitual residence<sup>4</sup>. Both Conventions envisage a summary procedure facilitating prompt decisions, achieved by minimising the need to consider foreign law and providing for limited defences to a child's return. The main conceptual difference between the two Conventions is that the Hague Convention is based upon the wrongful removal or retention of a child in breach of rights of custody (whether or not any court order had been made to determine or give effect to those rights), whereas the European Convention seeks to facilitate the recognition and enforcement of decisions relating to the custody of a child. Both Conventions, subject to certain provisions, have the force of law in the United Kingdom<sup>5</sup>. Countries within the European Union (save for Denmark) were subject to the Brussels II Regulation<sup>6</sup> from 1 March 2001 and subject to the Brussels IIR Regulation<sup>7</sup> from 1 March 2005. Where these Regulations apply they take precedence over the European Convention<sup>8</sup>. The Brussels IIR Regulation takes precedence over the Hague Convention in relation to the countries where it applies<sup>9</sup>.

There are important distinctions between the two Conventions<sup>10</sup> and the Conventions are accordingly considered separately in this title<sup>11</sup>. However, the provisions of the Child Abduction and Custody Act 1985 dealing with the territorial scope of the Conventions, and with the creation of central authorities, together with certain other common provisions, are considered together<sup>12</sup>.

1 See the Child Abduction and Custody Act 1985 ss 1, 12. The Conventions are scheduled to the Child Abduction and Custody Act 1985, and although not all articles are included in the Schedules, regard may be had to other articles not included: Re E (a minor) (abduction) [1989] 1 FLR 135 at 137, [1989] Fam Law 105 at 106, CA, per Balcombe LJ. ## 800. Rules of court.

An authority having power to make rules of court<sup>1</sup> may make such provision for giving effect to Part I of the Child Abduction and Custody Act 1985<sup>2</sup> as appears to that authority to be necessary or expedient<sup>3</sup>. In particular, rules of court may make provision:

- 1497 (1) with respect to the procedure on applications for the return of a child and with respect to the documents and information to be furnished and the notices to be given in connection with any such application<sup>4</sup>;
- 1498 (2) for the transfer of any such application between the appropriate courts in the different parts of the United Kingdom<sup>5</sup>;
- 1499 (3) for the giving of notices by or to a court of a wrongful removal or retention of a child for the purposes of certain provisions of the Hague Convention<sup>6</sup> and certain provisions of the Child Abduction and Custody Act 1985<sup>7</sup> and generally as respects proceedings to which those provisions apply<sup>8</sup>;
- 1500 (4) for enabling a person who wishes to make an application under the Hague Convention in a contracting state other than the United Kingdom to obtain from any court in the United Kingdom an authenticated copy of any decision of that court relating to the child to whom the application is to relate<sup>9</sup>.

An authority having power to make rules of court<sup>10</sup> may make such provision for giving effect to Part II of the Child Abduction and Custody Act 1985<sup>11</sup> as appears to that authority to be necessary or expedient<sup>12</sup>. In particular, rules of court may make provision:

- 1501 (a) with respect to the procedure on applications to a court under any provision of Part II of the Child Abduction and Custody Act 1985 and with respect to the documents and information to be furnished and the notices to be given in connection with any such application<sup>13</sup>;
- 1502 (b) for the transfer of any such application between the appropriate courts in the different parts of the United Kingdom<sup>14</sup>;
- 1503 (c) for the giving of directions requiring the disclosure of information about any child who is the subject of proceedings under Part II of the Child Abduction and Custody Act 1985<sup>15</sup> and for safeguarding its welfare<sup>16</sup>.

801. Rules for the procedure on applications for the return of a child.

Except as otherwise provided<sup>1</sup>, every application under the Hague Convention<sup>2</sup> and the European Convention<sup>3</sup> must be made by originating summons and issued out of the principal registry<sup>4</sup>. The originating summons under which any application is made under the Hague Convention or the European Convention must state:

- 1504 (1) the name and date of birth of the child in respect of whom the application is made<sup>5</sup>;
- 1505 (2) the names of the child's parents or guardians<sup>6</sup>;
- 1506 (3) the whereabouts or suspected whereabouts of the child<sup>7</sup>;
- 1507 (4) the interest of the plaintiff in the matter and the grounds of the application<sup>8</sup>; and
- 1508 (5) particulars of any proceedings (including proceedings out of the jurisdiction and concluded proceedings) relating to the child<sup>9</sup>.

In applications under the Hague Convention, in addition to the matters specified in heads (1) to (5) above:

- 1509 (a) the originating summons under which an application is made for the purposes of the return of a child<sup>10</sup> must state the identity of the person alleged to have removed or retained the child and, if different, the identity of the person with whom the child is presumed to be<sup>11</sup>;
- 1510 (b) the originating summons under which an application is made for the purposes of a declaration<sup>12</sup> must identify the proceedings in which the request that such a declaration be obtained was made<sup>13</sup>.

In applications under the European Convention, in addition to the matters specified in heads (1) to (5) above the originating summons must identify the decision relating to custody or rights of access which is sought to be registered or enforced or in relation to which a declaration that it is not to be recognised is sought<sup>14</sup>.

Where the application is one to which the Brussels IIR regulation<sup>15</sup> also applies, in addition to the matters in heads (1) to (5) above, the originating summons must also identify:

- 1511 (i) any details of measures taken by courts or authorities to ensure the protection of the child after its return to the member state of habitual residence of which the applicant is aware<sup>16</sup>; and
- 1512 (ii) details of any person with parental responsibility who is not already listed<sup>17</sup>.

An application in custody proceedings for a declaration under the Child Abduction and Custody Act 1985<sup>18</sup> must be made by summons in those proceedings<sup>19</sup>. However, the court may dispense with service of any summons (whether originating or ordinary) in any proceedings under that Act<sup>20</sup>.

Any application under the Child Abduction and Custody Act 1985, other than an application:

- 1513 (A) to join a defendant<sup>21</sup>;
- 1514 (B) to dispense with service or extend the time for acknowledging service; or
- 1515 (C) for the transfer of proceedings, must be heard and determined by a judge and dealt with in chambers unless the court otherwise directs<sup>22</sup>.

In certain circumstances<sup>23</sup> an application for interim directions may where the case is one of urgency be made ex parte on affidavit but must otherwise be made by summons<sup>24</sup>.

1 le except as otherwise provided by the Family Proceedings Rules 1991, SI 1991/1247, Pt VI (rr 6.1-6.18).

2 le the Convention on the Civil Aspects of International Child Abduction (Hague, 25 October 1980; TS 66 (1986); Cm 33). A party to proceedings under the Hague Convention must, where he knows that an application relating to the merits of rights of custody is pending in or before a relevant authority, file in the principal registry a concise statement of the nature of the application which is pending, including the authority before which it is pending: Family Proceedings Rules 1991, SI 1991/1247, r 6.11(1). On receipt of such a statement the proper officer must notify the relevant authority in which or before whom the application is pending and subsequently notify it or him of the result of the proceedings: see r 6.11(3). On the court receiving such notification:

489 (1) where the application relates to the merits of rights of custody, all further proceedings in the action must be stayed unless and until the proceedings under the Hague Convention are dismissed, and the parties to the action must be notified by the proper officer of the stay and of any such dismissal accordingly (Family Proceedings Rules 1991, SI 1991/1247, r 6.11(4)(a) (amended by SI 1994/2890; SI 2006/2080)); and

490 (2) where the application is such a one as is specified in the Child Abduction and Custody Act 1985 s 20(2) (see para 822 post), the proper officer must notify the parties to the action (Family Proceedings Rules 1991, SI 1991/1247, r 6.11(4)(b)).

For the meaning of 'relevant authority' for these purposes see r 6.11(5) (amended by SI 1994/2890; SI 2006/2080). For these purposes 'proper officer' means:

491 (a) in relation to the principal registry, the family proceedings department manager (Family Proceedings Rules 1991, SI 1991/1247, r 1.2(1) (amended by SI 1997/1056)); and

492 (b) in relation to any other court or registry, the court manager (Family Proceedings Rules 1991, SI 1991/1247, r 1.2(1) (amended by SI 1997/1056)), or another officer of the court or registry acting on his behalf in accordance with directions given by the Lord Chancellor (Family Proceedings Rules 1991, SI 1991/1247, r 1.2(1)). For the meaning of 'principal registry' see para 795 note 7 ante.

4 Family Proceedings Rules 1991, SI 1991/1247, r 6.2(1) (amended by SI 1997/1893). The hearing of the originating summons under which an application under the Hague Convention or the European Convention is made may be adjourned for a period not exceeding 21 days at any one time: Family Proceedings Rules 1991, SI 1991/1247, r 6.10. The time limited for acknowledging service of an originating summons by which an application is made under the Hague Convention or the European Convention is seven days after service of the originating summons (including the day of service) or, in the case of a defendant referred to in the Family Proceedings Rules 1991, SI 1991/1247, r 6.5(d) or (e) (see note 21 infra), such further time as the court may direct: r 6.6.

The plaintiff, on issuing an originating summons under the Hague Convention or the European Convention, may lodge affidavit evidence in the principal registry in support of his application and serve a copy of the same on the defendant with the originating summons: Family Proceedings Rules 1991, SI 1991/1247, r 6.7(1). A defendant to an application under the Hague Convention or the European Convention may lodge affidavit evidence in the principal registry and serve a copy of the same on the plaintiff within seven days after service of the originating summons on him: Family Proceedings Rules 1991, SI 1991/1247, r 6.7(2). The plaintiff in an application under the Hague Convention or the European Convention may within seven days thereafter lodge in the principal registry a statement in reply and serve a copy thereof on the defendant: Family Proceedings Rules 1991, SI 1991/1247, r 6.7(3).

As to the application of r 4.27A (as added) (stay under the Council Regulation) to proceedings under the Family Proceedings Rules 1991, SI 1991/1247, Pt VI see r 6.11A (added by SI 2005/264).

802. Countries in relation to which the Conventions have effect.

The Hague Convention<sup>1</sup> and the European Convention<sup>2</sup> have effect in respect of contracting states. For the purposes of the Conventions, as they have effect under the relevant parts of the Child Abduction and Custody Act 1985<sup>3</sup>, the contracting states other than the United Kingdom are those for the time being specified by Order in Council<sup>4</sup>. Orders in Council in relation to either Convention must specify the date of the coming into force of the Convention as between the United Kingdom and any state specified in the order<sup>5</sup>. Where the Convention in question applies, or applies only, to a particular territory or particular territories specified by a contracting state, references to that state<sup>6</sup> are to be construed as references to that territory or those territories<sup>7</sup>.

The Child Abduction and Custody Act 1985 extends to Northern Ireland<sup>8</sup>. Her Majesty may by Order in Council<sup>9</sup> direct that any of the provisions of the Child Abduction and Custody Act 1985 specified in the order are to extend, subject to such modifications as may be specified in the Order, to:

- 1516 (1) the Isle of Man<sup>10</sup>;
- 1517 (2) any of the Channel Islands<sup>11</sup>; and
- 1518 (3) any colony<sup>12</sup>.

Her Majesty may by Order in Council direct that the Child Abduction and Custody Act 1985 is to have effect in the United Kingdom as if any reference in the Child Abduction and Custody Act 1985, or in any amendment made by it, to any order which may be made, or any proceedings which may be brought or any other thing which may be done in, or in any part of, the United Kingdom included a reference to any corresponding order which may be made or, as the case may be, proceedings which may be brought or other thing which may be done in any of the territories mentioned in heads (1) to (3) above<sup>13</sup>.

803. The central authority.

The Hague Convention<sup>1</sup> and European Convention<sup>2</sup> envisage the establishment in each contracting state of a central authority with important functions<sup>3</sup>. The central authority has the duty of tracing the child and taking steps, if necessary by court proceedings, to secure the child's return or to secure access<sup>4</sup>. The functions of the central authority in England and Wales and Northern Ireland are the responsibility of the Lord Chancellor<sup>5</sup>. The duties of the central authority in England and Wales are carried out by the Child Abduction Unit which is under the administrative control of the Official Solicitor. Any application made under the Conventions by or on behalf of a person outside the United Kingdom may be addressed to the Lord Chancellor as the central authority in the United Kingdom<sup>6</sup>.

The Child Abduction and Custody Act 1985 provides that the functions of a central authority are to be discharged in Scotland by the Secretary of State, but the functions conferred upon the Secretary of State as a Minister of the Crown by ss 3(1), 14(1) are now exercisable with regard to Scotland by the Scottish Ministers: see the Scotland Act 1998 s 53(1), (2).

6 Child Abduction and Custody Act 1985 ss 3(2), 14(2). Where any such application relates to a function to be discharged by the Scottish Ministers it must be transmitted by the Lord Chancellor to the Scottish Ministers, and where such an application is addressed to the Scottish Ministers but relates to a function to be discharged by the Lord Chancellor, the Scottish Ministers must transmit it to the Lord Chancellor: ss 3(3), 14(3); and see note 5 supra.

804. Further provisions common to the Conventions; interpretation.

The following provisions apply equally to proceedings relating to the Hague Convention<sup>1</sup> and the European Convention<sup>2</sup>. First, where there is not available to the court adequate information as to where the child is, the court may order any person who it has reason to believe may have relevant information to disclose it to the court<sup>3</sup>. Secondly, any custody order<sup>4</sup> relating to the child ceases to have effect if the court makes an order for the return of the child under the Hague Convention or if a decision<sup>5</sup> with respect to the child is registered under the provisions of the Child Abduction and Custody Act 1985<sup>6</sup>.

The legislation must be seen in its international context. It has been said that the whole purpose of such an international code is to produce a situation in which the courts of all contracting states may be expected to interpret and apply it in similar ways. 'The definitions contained in the Conventions should be applied and the words of the Conventions, including the definitions, construed in the ordinary meaning of the words used and in disregard of any special meaning which might attach to them in the context of legislation not having an international character'<sup>7</sup>. This approach has been further strengthened by the provisions of the Brussels II Regulation<sup>8</sup> and the Brussels IIR Regulation<sup>9</sup>, which apply to all member states of the European Union save for Denmark<sup>10</sup>.

(ii) The Hague Convention

805. Policy of the Convention.

The objects of the Hague Convention<sup>1</sup> are to secure the prompt return of children wrongfully moved to or retained in any contracting state, and to ensure that rights of custody and access under the law of one contracting state are effectively respected in the other contracting state<sup>2</sup>. These principles have been further strengthened in member states of the European Union (except for Denmark) by the provisions of the Brussels II Regulation<sup>3</sup> and the Brussels IIR<sup>4</sup> Regulation<sup>5</sup>. The purpose of proceedings in the Hague Convention context is not to decide in any sense the long term merits of the custody of the child but to secure the prompt return of the child to the appropriate jurisdiction<sup>6</sup>. The Hague Convention sets out limited defences which, in certain circumstances, give the court a discretion not to order the child's return to its country of habitual residence<sup>7</sup>. Otherwise, the Hague Convention aims to ensure the summary return to the country of habitual residence of children wrongfully removed or retained<sup>8</sup>. The Hague Convention gives effect to the belief that in normal circumstances any decision relating to the custody of children is best decided in the jurisdiction in which they have hitherto been normally resident<sup>9</sup>. The assumption underlying the Hague Convention is that the courts of all contracting states are equally capable of ensuring a fair hearing to the parties and a skilled and humane evaluation of the issues of child welfare involved<sup>10</sup>.

806. Application of the Convention: habitual residence.

The Hague Convention<sup>1</sup> applies to any child who was habitually resident in a contracting state immediately before any breach of custody or access rights<sup>2</sup>, and ceases to apply when the child attains the age of 16 years<sup>3</sup>.

The term 'habitual residence' is not defined in the Hague Convention<sup>4</sup>. It is not to be treated as a term of art with some special meaning, but should be understood according to the ordinary and natural meaning of the words; it is a question of fact to be decided by reference to all the circumstances of a particular case<sup>5</sup>. An appreciable period of time and a settled intention are necessary for a person to become habitually resident in a country<sup>6</sup>. Concurrent habitual residence in more than one place at the same time is incompatible with the Hague Convention; however, where a sufficient degree of continuity is established, it is possible for a person to be habitually resident in one country for part of the year and in another for the remainder of the year<sup>7</sup>. Where a child is in the sole lawful custody of the mother, the child's habitual residence will necessarily be the same as hers<sup>8</sup>. It follows that for a change of the child's habitual residence to take effect, the child must actually be transferred into the care of the parent seeking to establish the new habitual residence<sup>9</sup>.

The habitual residence of the child falls to be considered immediately in relation to the period before the wrongful removal or retention<sup>10</sup>.

<sup>3</sup> See the Hague Convention art 4. The Hague Convention arts 3-5, 7-19, 21-22, 24, 26-32 are set out in the Child Abduction and Custody Act 1985 s 1(2), Sch 1: see para 799 ante. The Hague Convention does not apply where the child has no habitual residence: W v H (child abduction: surrogacy) [2002] 1 FLR 1008. The Hague Convention must be taken at face value and therefore does not apply to a child who is 16 at the date of hearing but was 15 when the wronged parent made his application: Re H (child abduction: child of sixteen) [2000] 3 FCR 404, sub nom Re H (abduction: child of 16) [2000] 2 FLR 51. Although the child should be resident in a contracting state at the time of the application, the Hague Convention applies whether or not the child was resident in the state in which the right of custody or access arose: Re G (a minor) (enforcement of access abroad) [1993] Fam 216, [1993] 3 All ER 657, sub nom Re G (a minor) (Hague Convention: access) [1993] 1 FLR 669, CA. It is for the applicant to establish that the court has jurisdiction, but if residence immediately before the removal is established, the burden shifts to the defendant to show that the child was not so resident: Re E (a child: abduction) [1992] 1 FCR 541, sub nom F v S (wardship: jurisdiction) [1993] 2 FLR 686.

<sup>4</sup> As to the use of the term 'habitual residence' in other areas of the law see CONFLICT OF LAWS vol 8(3) (Reissue) para 59. In relation to a contracting state which in matters of custody of children has two or more systems of law applicable in different territorial units: (1) any reference to habitual residence in that contracting state is to be construed as referring to habitual residence in a territorial unit of that contracting state; (2) any reference to the law of the contracting state of habitual residence is to be construed as referring to the law of the territorial unit in that contracting state where the child habitually resides: Hague Convention art 31.

Halsbury's Laws of England/CHILDREN AND YOUNG PERSONS (VOLUME 5(3) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 1-742; VOLUME 5(4) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 743-1433)/10. CHILD ABDUCTION/(4) CHILD ABDUCTION AND THE INTERNATIONAL CONVENTIONS/(ii) The Hague Convention/807. Rights of custody; rights of access.

807. Rights of custody; rights of access.

The Hague Convention<sup>1</sup> applies to any child who was habitually resident in a contracting state immediately before any breach of custody or access rights<sup>2</sup>. For the purposes of the Hague Convention, 'rights of custody' include rights relating to the care of the person of the child and, in particular, the right to determine the child's place of residence<sup>3</sup>, and 'rights of access' include the right to take a child for a limited period of time to a place other than the child's habitual residence<sup>4</sup>.

The question whether a person has rights of custody is to be determined in accordance with the law of the state in which the child was habitually resident immediately before the removal or retention<sup>5</sup>. Rights of custody may be attributed to a person, an institution or any other body<sup>6</sup>, although an unmarried parent without parental responsibility<sup>7</sup> who has no right under English domestic law to prevent the removal of a child from the jurisdiction does not have rights of custody within the meaning of the Hague Convention, unless there are pending proceedings to determine rights of custody in a domestic court or that parent is the child's primary carer<sup>8</sup>. A parent who agrees informally that the child should reside with the other parent does not thereby lose rights of custody<sup>9</sup>. Rights of custody have been said to include the inchoate rights of those who were carrying out duties and enjoying privileges of a custodial or parental character, though not formally recognised or granted by law<sup>10</sup>.

There is a firm distinction between rights of custody and rights of access, and it is important to note that rights of access in themselves are not sufficient to establish a right to custody<sup>11</sup>. In cases of a breach of rights of access, the courts have no jurisdiction in addition to or different from their ordinary domestic jurisdiction<sup>12</sup>.

<sup>3</sup> Hague Convention art 5(a). Rights of custody may arise in particular by operation of law or by reason of a judicial or administrative decision, or by reason of an agreement having legal effect under the law of the state in which the child was habitually resident immediately before the removal or retention: see art 3. There is nothing in art 3 which indicates that a breach of rights of custody has to be a breach of the rights belonging to another person; a person may breach his own rights of custody: Re KH (a minor) (abduction) [1990] FCR 990, sub nom Re H (a minor) (abduction) [1990] 2 FLR 439. As to the circumstances in which: (1) an unmarried father who does not have parental responsibility for a child will be deemed to have rights of custody for the purposes of the Hague Convention; and (2) a court will be deemed to have such rights when proceedings are pending before it, see Practice Note (Hague Convention: applications by fathers without parental responsibility) [1998] 1 FLR 491. The term 'rights of custody' is to be accorded its ordinary meaning and is not necessarily confined to domestic concepts of guardianship or custody: Dellabarca v Christie [1999] 2 NZLR 548, NZ CA. See also S v H (abduction: access rights) [1998] Fam 49, [1997] 3 WLR 1086 (neither the fact that the father had earlier obtained a prohibition against removal of the child nor the fact that the Hague Convention refers to the protection of rights of access is sufficient for rights of access to be considered rights of custody). The court may have rights of custody pursuant to wardship proceedings: see Re BM (a minor) (wardship: jurisdiction) [1993] 2 FCR 388, [1993] 1 FLR 979.

4 Hague Convention art 5(b). The Convention must not preclude any person, institution or body who claims that there has been a breach of custody or access rights within the meaning of art 3 (see para 808 post) or art 21 (see para 816 post) from applying directly to the judicial or administrative authorities of a contracting state, whether or not under the provisions of the Convention: art 29.

See also C v C (minors) (child abduction) [1992] 1 FCR 391, [1992] 1 FLR 163; Re P (a minor) (abduction: declaration) [1996] 2 FCR 133, [1995] 1 FLR 831, CA; Re D (a child) (abduction: rights of custody) [2006] UKHL 51, [2007] 1 AC 619, sub nom Re D (a child) (abduction: foreign custody rights) [2007] 1 FCR 1; Hunter v Murrow (abduction: right of custody) [2005] EWCA Civ 976, [2005] 2 FLR 1119, [2005] 3 FCR 1. Rights granted by a state may be rights of custody for the purposes of the Hague Convention notwithstanding that they are not regarded as such by the law of that state: Re P (a child) (abduction: custody rights) [2004] EWCA Civ 971, [2005] Fam 293, [2005] 2 FLR 791.

In relation to a contracting state which in matters of custody of children has two or more systems of law applicable to different categories of persons, any reference to the law of that contracting state is construed as referring to the legal system specified by the law of that contracting state: Hague Convention art 32.

6 See ibid art 3(a). Thus the court (and other institutions, such as a local authority with a care order in its favour: see para 270 et seq ante) may have rights of custody in respect of a child. In Re H (abduction: rights of custody) [2000] 2 AC 291, [2000] 2 All ER 1, HL, it was held that wording in the Hague Convention art 3(a) is deliberately wide, and that proceedings which called upon the court to determine a child's place of residence gave the court a right of custody; and, in general, the service of such an application will be the time at which the court's jurisdiction is invoked and whereby it acquires rights of custody. It is therefore doubtful whether the mere issue of proceedings is sufficient; they should probably have been served and it is possible that some action by the court is needed to invest it with rights of custody: Re W (minors) (abduction: father's rights) [1999] Fam 1 at 19, sub nom Re W, Re B (child abduction: unmarried father) [1998] 2 FLR 146 at 162-63 per Hale J. See two further decisions of Hale J on this point: Re J (abduction: rights of custody) [1999] 3 FCR 577, sub nom Re J (abduction: declaration of wrongful removal) [1999] 2 FLR 653 (court acquires rights of custody once it is actively seized of proceedings to determine rights of custody); and Re C (child abduction) (unmarried father) [1999] 3 FCR 678, sub nom Re C (abduction: wrongful removal) [1999] 2 FLR 859 (the court has rights of custody where it is actively seized of an application for a parental responsibility order; the view on this point expressed by the central authority for England and Wales in Practice Note (Hague Convention: applications by fathers without parental responsibility) [1998] 1 FLR 491 was rejected). See also B v B (abduction) [1993] Fam 32, [1993] 2 All ER 144, [1993] 1 FLR 238 (court may have a right of custody when it has made an interim custody order); The Ontario Court v M and M (abduction: children's objections) [1997] 2 FCR 573, [1997] 1 FLR 475; Re B (abduction) (rights of custody) [1998] 2 FCR 212, [1997] 2 FLR 594, CA; but cf Re F (a minor) (abduction: custody rights abroad) [1995] Fam 224, [1995] 3 All ER 641, sub nom Re F (child abduction: risk if returned) [1995] 2 FLR 31, CA (existence of a court order or of pending proceedings does not automatically vest in the court 'rights of custody' within the meaning of the Hague Convention). But see Re C (a child) (unmarried father: custody rights) [2002] EWHC 2219 (Fam), [2003] 1 WLR 493 (if a judge exercises judicial discretion as to the future conduct of proceedings, the court may have rights of custody before proceedings have been served). NOTE 6--See S v Slough BC [2009] All ER (D) 182 (Apr) (local authority had taken proportionate and reasonable steps to safeguard child).

Halsbury's Laws of England/CHILDREN AND YOUNG PERSONS (VOLUME 5(3) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 1-742; VOLUME 5(4) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 743-1433)/10. CHILD ABDUCTION/(4) CHILD ABDUCTION AND THE INTERNATIONAL CONVENTIONS/(ii) The Hague Convention/808. Wrongful removal or retention.

808. Wrongful removal or retention.

The removal or retention of a child is to be considered wrongful where:

- 1519 (1) it is in breach of the rights of custody attributed to a person, an institution or any other body, either jointly or alone, under the law of the state in which the child was habitually resident immediately before the removal or retention<sup>1</sup>; and
- 1520 (2) at the time of removal or retention those rights were actually exercised, either jointly or alone, or would have been so exercised but for the removal or retention<sup>2</sup>.

The rights of custody in question may arise in particular by operation of law or by reason of a judicial or administrative decision or by reason of an agreement having legal effect under the law of the state in which the child was habitually resident<sup>3</sup>.

Prior to the making of an order for the return of the child, the judicial or administrative authorities of a contracting state may request that the applicant obtain from the authorities of the state of the habitual residence of the child a decision or other determination that the removal or retention was wrongful<sup>4</sup> where such a decision or determination may be obtained in that state<sup>5</sup>. The central authorities of the contracting states must so far as practicable assist applicants to obtain such a decision or determination<sup>6</sup>. In this regard the High Court may make a declaration that the removal of any child from, or his retention outside, the United Kingdom was wrongful on the application of any person appearing to have an interest in the matter<sup>7</sup>.

The issue is the removal from or retention out of the jurisdiction of the court of the state of a child's habitual residence<sup>8</sup>; removal and retention are mutually exclusive single events<sup>9</sup>. Removal occurs when a child is taken across the frontier away from the state of his habitual residence, and retention occurs when a child who has been outside the state of his habitual residence for a limited period is not returned to that state on the expiry of that period<sup>10</sup>.

Reference will often be necessary to a foreign legal system to determine the rights of those concerned, and whether there has been a wrongful removal or retention<sup>11</sup>. Although expert evidence of the relevant law will no doubt often be helpful, in ascertaining whether there has been a wrongful removal or retention, the judicial or administrative authorities of the requested state may take notice directly of the law of, and of judicial or administrative decisions, formally recognised or not, in the state of the habitual residence of the child, without recourse to the specific procedures for the proof of that law or for recognition of foreign decisions which would otherwise be applicable<sup>12</sup>.

Articles 3-5, 7-19, 21-22, 24, 26-32 are set out in the Child Abduction and Custody Act 1985 s 1(2), Sch 1: see para 799 ante. As to the guidelines to be followed in the determination of whether a court is vested with rights of custody see Re H (child abduction: rights of custody) [2000] 2 AC 291, [2000] 2 All ER 1, HL. See also Re B (a minor) (abduction) (rights of custody) [1998] 2 FCR 212, [1997] 2 FLR 594, CA (no wardship order or interim custody order had been made so as to justify a finding that earlier court proceedings had vested rights of custody in the father or in the relevant courts); Re BM (a minor) (wardship: jurisdiction) [1993] 2 FCR 388, [1993] 1 FLR 979; Re J (abduction: rights of custody) [1999] 3 FCR 577, sub nom Re J (abduction: declaration of wrongful removal) [1999] 2 FLR 653 (court acquires custody rights once it is actively seised of proceedings to determine custody rights); Re C (child abduction) (unmarried father)

[1999] 3 FCR 678, sub nom Re C (abduction: wrongful removal) [1999] 2 FLR 859 (court acquires custody rights where proceedings have been before it for a considerable time and a consent order has been drawn up). See further para 807 ante.

2 Hague Convention art 3(b). As to what constitutes wrongful removal or retention generally see Practice Note (Hague Convention: applications by fathers without parental responsibility) [1998] 1 FLR 491. See Re S (abduction: Hague and European Conventions) [1997] 1 FCR 588, [1997] 1 FLR 958, CA (on receipt of order requiring return of child, recipient's retention of child wrongful within meaning of the Hague Convention art 3); Re S (minors) (abduction: wrongful detention) [1994] Fam 70, [1994] 1 All ER 237 (a mother who decides to retain children indefinitely cannot rely on an agreement with their father not to return the children for a specified period to prevent him from applying for their return forthwith). For the purposes of the Hague Convention art 3, a wrongful removal is not a continuing state of affairs, and one removal does not govern the child's status irrespective of what happens subsequently: Re S (child abduction: delay) [1998] 1 FCR 17, [1998] 1 FLR 651, DC.

3 See the Hague Convention art 3. Where the parents are not married, it is wrong for the mother to remove children from the jurisdiction if the father has parental responsibility by agreement or court order, or relevant proceedings are pending: see Re W (minors) (abduction: father's rights), Re B (a minor) (abduction: father's rights) [1999] Fam 1, [1998] 3 WLR 1372.

4 lie within the meaning of the Hague Convention art 3: see the text and notes 1-3 supra.

5 Ibid art 15. An order that a child is to be returned, or not returned, is a final order and an application to set it aside must be made to the Court of Appeal: Re M (abduction: undertakings) [1995] 3 FCR 745, [1995] 1 FLR 1021, CA. The determination by the foreign authority is not binding, having persuasive value only (the decision by a New Zealand court was not followed as the English courts construe 'rights of custody' under the Hague Convention differently); Hunter v Murrow [2005] EWCA Civ 976, [2005] 3 FCR 1, [2005] 2 FLR 1119.

6 Hague Convention art 15.

7 See the Child Abduction and Custody Act 1985 s 8. See Re P (a minor) (abduction: declaration) [1996] 2 FCR 133, [1995] 1 FLR 831. For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see para 102 note 7 ante.

8 lie as distinct from removal from or retention out of the care of the parent having custodial rights: Re H (minors) (abduction: custody rights) [1991] 2 AC 476 at 498-499, [1991] 3 All ER 230 at 239-240, HL, per Lord Brandon of Oakbrook.

9 Re H (minors) (abduction: custody rights) [1991] 2 AC 476 at 499-500, [1991] 3 All ER 230 at 239-240, HL, per Lord Brandon of Oakbrook. See also Re B (a minor) (abduction) [1995] 2 FCR 505, [1994] 2 FLR 249, CA.

10 Re H (minors) (abduction: custody rights) [1991] 2 AC 476 at 500, [1991] 3 All ER 230 at 240, HL, per Lord Brandon of Oakbrook (removal occurred before the date when the Hague Convention came into force in respect of the country concerned so the Convention did not apply; removal and retention are different concepts which do not overlap and which are incapable of following upon each other). As to wrongful retention see the same case in the Court of Appeal: Re H (minors) (abduction: custody rights) [1991] 2 AC 476, [1991] 1 All ER 836, CA. There is a wrongful retention where both parents agree to one removing the child from the jurisdiction of habitual residence for a certain period, and before the expiry of that period the parent outside the jurisdiction announces his intention not to return the child: Re S (minors) (abduction: wrongful retention) [1994] Fam 70, [1994] 1 All ER 237, [1994] 1 FLR 82. There may be a wrongful retention where the parent with the child acts in a manner fundamentally inconsistent with the basis upon which the other parent consented to the child leaving the jurisdiction of habitual residence (H v H (child abduction: habitual residence) [1994] 2 FCR 833, sub nom H v H (child abduction: stay of domestic proceedings) [1994] 1 FLR 530), or where the retaining party obtains court orders which have the effect of preventing the child's return (Re B (minors) (Hague Convention) (No 2) [1994] 1 FCR 394, sub nom Re B (minors) (abduction) (Nos 1 and 2) [1993] 1 FLR 993, CA). See B v H (children: habitual residence) [2002] 2 FCR 329, sub nom B v H (habitual residence: wardship) [2002] 1 FLR 388 (habitual residence of child not altered by unilateral decision of father, who shared joint parental responsibility with the mother, to remain abroad).

The concept and ambit of wrongful retention extends the arm of the Hague Convention way beyond a 'snatch', and it can apply even after a child has been in the jurisdiction for a substantial period of time: Re H (child abduction: wrongful retention) [2000] 3 FCR 412, sub nom Re H (abduction: habitual residence: consent) [2000] 2 FLR 294.

11 See eg Re J (a minor) (abduction: custody rights) [1990] 2 AC 562, sub nom C v S (minor: abduction: illegitimate child) [1990] 2 All ER 961, HL (where the court considered the parents' rights under the law of Western Australia). See also Re R (minors) (abduction) [1993] 2 FCR 461, [1994] 1 FLR 190, DC; Re D (abduction: custody rights) [1999] 3 FCR 686, [1999] 2 FLR 626 (consideration of provisions of Zimbabwean law).

12 Hague Convention art 14. See C v C (minors) (child abduction) [1992] 1 FCR 391, [1992] 1 FLR 163 (court entitled to have regard to affidavit evidence of law of the state of New York). For the purposes of the Hague Convention art 14, a decision or determination of a judicial or administrative authority outside the United Kingdom may be proved by a duly authenticated copy of the decision or determination, and any document purporting to be such a copy is deemed to be a true copy unless the contrary is shown: Child Abduction and Custody Act 1985 7(1). For the purposes of s 7(1), a copy is duly authenticated if it bears the seal, or is signed by a judge or officer, of the authority in question: s 7(2). For the purposes of the Hague Convention art 14, any such document as is mentioned in art 8 (see para 809 note 1 post), or a certified copy of any such document, is sufficient evidence of anything stated in it: Child Abduction and Custody Act 1985 7(3).

809. Return of children.

Any person, institution or other body claiming that a child has been removed or retained in breach of custody rights may apply<sup>1</sup> either to the central authority<sup>2</sup> of the child's habitual residence or to the central authority of any other contracting state for assistance in securing the return of the child<sup>3</sup>. When it is manifest that the requirements of the Hague Convention are not fulfilled or that the application is otherwise not well founded, a central authority is not bound to accept the application<sup>4</sup>. In that case, the central authority must forthwith inform the applicant or the central authority through which the application was submitted, as the case may be, of its reasons<sup>5</sup>.

The central authority of the state where the child is present<sup>6</sup> must take or cause to be taken all appropriate measures in order to obtain the voluntary return of the child<sup>7</sup>. In particular, it must take all appropriate measures, whether directly or through an intermediary, to:

- 1521 (1) discover the whereabouts of a child who has been wrongfully removed or retained<sup>8</sup>;
- 1522 (2) prevent further harm to the child or prejudice to interested parties by taking provisional measures or causing them to be taken<sup>9</sup>;
- 1523 (3) secure the voluntary return of the child or bring about an amicable resolution of the issues<sup>10</sup>;
- 1524 (4) exchange, where desirable, information relating to the social background of the child<sup>11</sup>;
- 1525 (5) provide information of a general character as to the law of its state in connection with the application of the Hague Convention<sup>12</sup>;
- 1526 (6) initiate or facilitate the institution of judicial or administrative proceedings with a view to obtaining the return of the child and, in a proper case, to make arrangements for organising or securing the effective exercise of rights of access<sup>13</sup>;
- 1527 (7) provide or facilitate the provision of assistance from the community legal service fund and advice, including the participation of legal counsel and advisers, where the circumstances so require<sup>14</sup>;
- 1528 (8) provide such administrative arrangements as may be necessary and appropriate to secure the safe return of the child<sup>15</sup>;
- 1529 (9) keep each other informed with respect to the operation of the Hague Convention and, as far as possible, eliminate any obstacles to its application<sup>16</sup>.

1 The application must contain:

- 599 (1) information concerning the identity of the applicant, of the child and of the person alleged to have removed or retained the child (Convention on the Civil Aspects of International Child Abduction (Hague, 25 October 1980; TS 66 (1986); Cm 33) (the 'Hague Convention') art 8(a));
- 600 (2) where available, the date of birth of the child (art 8(b));
- 601 (3) the grounds on which the applicant's claim for return of the child is based (art 8(c));
- 602 (4) all available information relating to the whereabouts of the child and the identity of the person with whom the child is presumed to be (art 8(d)).

The application may be accompanied or supplemented by:

- 603 (a) an authenticated copy of any relevant decision or agreement (art 8(e));
- 604 (b) a certificate or an affidavit emanating from a central authority, or other competent authority of the state of the child's habitual residence, or from a qualified person, concerning the relevant law of that state (art 8(f));
- 605 (c) any other relevant document (art 8(g)).

Any application, communication or other document sent to the central authority (see note 2 infra) of the requested state must be in the original language, and must be accompanied by a translation into the official language or one of the official languages of the requested state or, where that is not feasible, a translation into French or English: art 24.

Any application submitted to the central authorities or directly to the judicial or administrative authorities of a contracting state in accordance with the terms of the Hague Convention together with documents and any other information appended to it or provided by a central authority is admissible in the courts or administrative authorities of the contracting states: art 30.

Articles 3-5, 7-19, 21-22, 24, 26-32 are set out in the Child Abduction and Custody Act 1985 s 1(2), Sch 1: see para 799 ante.

2 As to the central authority see para 803 ante.

3 Hague Convention art 8. If the central authority receiving an application has reason to believe that the child is in another contracting state it must directly and without delay transmit the application to the central authority of that contracting state and inform the requesting central authority, or the applicant, as the case may be: art 9. The obligations imposed by the Hague Convention on the central authority are public law rights, and an individual can only question their exercise by way of proceedings for judicial review: Re G (a minor) (enforcement of access abroad) [1993] Fam 216, [1993] 3 All ER 657, CA; Practice Note (child abduction unit) [1993] 1 FLR 804. As to judicial review see JUDICIAL REVIEW. As to how to avoid confusion and mistakes in securing the return of a child see Re J (minors) (children: ex parte orders) [1997] 1 FCR 325, [1997] 1 FLR 606. 4 Hague Convention art 27.

5 Ibid art 27. A central authority may require that the application be accompanied by a written authorisation empowering it to act on behalf of the applicant, or to designate a representative so to act: art 28.

6 Central authorities must co-operate with each other and promote co-operation between the competent authorities in their respective states to secure the prompt return of children and to achieve the other objects of the Hague Convention: art 7.

7 Ibid art 10.

8 Ibid art 7(a).

9 Ibid art 7(b).

10 Ibid art 7(c).

See Re HB (abduction: children's objections) (No 2) [1999] 1 FCR 331, [1998] 1 FLR 564 (mother's Hague Convention proceedings dismissed in order, inter alia, to allow the Official Solicitor to make necessary inquiries in Denmark). Where the Lord Chancellor or the Secretary of State is requested to provide information relating to a child under the Hague Convention art 7(d) he may:

- 606 (1) request a local authority or an officer of the Children and Family Court Advisory and Support Service ('CAFCASS') or a Welsh family proceedings officer (within the meaning given by the Children Act 2004 s 35 (see para 239 ante) to make a report to him in writing with respect to any matter which appears to be relevant (Child Abduction and Custody Act 1985 ss 6(a), 27 (amended by the Criminal Justice and Court Services Act 2000 s 74, Sch 7 Pt II paras 79, 80; and the Children Act 2004 s 40, Sch 3 paras 2, 3));
- 607 (2) request the Department of Health and Social Services for Northern Ireland to arrange for a suitably qualified person to make such a report to him (Child Abduction and Custody Act 1985 s 6(b)); and

and such a request must be duly complied with (see s 6). As to the Lord Chancellor see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) paras 477-497. As to the Secretary of State see para 155 ante. As to CAFCASS see para 230 et seq ante.

12 Hague Convention art 7(e).

13 Ibid art 7(f). It has been held that art 7(f) confers jurisdiction on the court to order access: see C v C (minors) (child abduction) [1992] 1 FCR 391, [1992] 1 FLR 163; and para 816 post. The words 'in a proper place' in the Hague Convention art 7(f) indicate that the court has a discretion as to whether or not to ensure that the access order of the foreign court is complied with: Re C (minors) (enforcing foreign access order) [1993] 1 FCR 770.

14 Hague Convention art 7(g). Legal representation is available to a person whose application under the Hague Convention has been submitted to the central authority, without reference to his financial resources: see the Community Legal Service (Financial) Regulations 2000, SI 2000/516, reg 3(1)(f).

15 Hague Convention art 7(h). Note that the court has power to order the party responsible for the abduction to pay the costs of the child's return: see art 26, 4th para; and para 817 post. See also V v B (a minor) (abduction) [1991] FCR 451, [1991] 1 FLR 266 (where a child is wrongfully abducted and an order is made for the child's return, the party abducting is liable to pay the costs of returning the child).

810. Legal proceedings.

Where there has been a wrongful removal of a child<sup>1</sup>, the duty of the court<sup>2</sup> to order the return of the child to the country of habitual residence is 'almost absolute'<sup>3</sup>. However, the Hague Convention distinguishes between two situations. First, where a child has been wrongfully removed or retained and, at the date of the commencement of the proceedings before the judicial or administrative authority of the contracting state where the child is, a period of less than one year has elapsed from the date of the wrongful removal or retention, that authority must order the return of the child forthwith<sup>4</sup>. Except in specified circumstances<sup>5</sup>, the court cannot refuse so to order whether on the grounds of choice of forum or the child's best interests or otherwise<sup>6</sup>. Secondly, even where the proceedings have been commenced after the expiration of that period of one year from the date of the wrongful removal or retention, the judicial or administrative authority must order the return of the child unless it is demonstrated that the child is now<sup>7</sup> settled<sup>8</sup> in its new environment<sup>9</sup>. In such a case the court is not obliged to order the return of the child, but it may do so<sup>10</sup>.

1 As to wrongful removal see para 808 ante.

2 The High Court alone has jurisdiction to entertain applications under the Convention on the Civil Aspects of International Child Abduction (Hague, 25 October 1980; TS 66 (1986); Cm 33) (the 'Hague Convention') in England and Wales: Child Abduction and Custody Act 1985 s 4. For states which are members of the European Union (except Denmark), the EC Council Regulation 2201/2003 (OJ L338, 23.12.2003, pp 1-29) on the jurisdiction and the recognition and enforcement of judgments in matrimonial matters and in matters of parental responsibility (the 'Brussels IIR Regulation') applies with respect to judgments made after 1 March 2005: see paras 788-798 ante. For the interrelationship between the Brussels IIR Regulation and the Hague Convention see para 798 ante. Where an application has been made to a court under the Hague Convention, the court may at any time before the application is determined give such interim directions as it thinks fit for the purpose of securing the welfare of the child concerned or of preventing changes in the circumstances relevant to the determination of the application: Child Abduction and Custody Act 1985 s 5. The court may make an interim order where a child is believed to be en route to the jurisdiction: Re N (child abduction: jurisdiction) [1995] Fam 96, [1995] 2 All ER 417, [1995] 2 FCR 605, sub nom A v A (abduction: jurisdiction) [1995] 1 FLR 341. The court may also make a return order conditional on specified requirements: Walley v Walley [2005] EWCA Civ 910, [2005] 3 FCR 35. Procedural rules are laid down in the Family Proceedings Rules 1991, SI 1991/1247, Pt VI (rr 6.1-6.18) (as amended): see paras 800, 840-841 post.

In Re M (abduction: conflict of jurisdiction) [2001] 1 FCR 81, [2000] 2 FLR 372, the child's return to Spain was ordered even though previous Hague Convention proceedings had been compromised on the basis that the child should live with the abducting parent in England. Return is to a country, not to a particular person in that country: see Re A (a minor) (abduction) [1988] 1 FLR 365 at 373, CA, per Nourse LJ; B v K (child abduction) [1993] 1 FCR 382; Re G (a minor) (abduction) [1989] 2 FLR 475 at 483, CA, per Purchas LJ; Re H (children: abduction) [2003] EWCA Civ 355 at [26], [2003] 2 FCR 151 at [26], sub nom Re H (abduction: grave risk) [2003] 2 FLR 141 at [26] per Butler-Sloss P.

5 See the Hague Convention art 13; and para 811 post.

6 See Re A (a minor) (abduction) [1988] 1 FLR 365 at 367-368, CA, per Nourse LJ. However, the fact that the child is returned to another country does not of itself preclude an English court from subsequently adjudicating on substantive applications for residence or other orders: see Hallam v Hallam [1992] 2 FCR 197, sub nom H v H (minors) (forum conveniens) [1993] 1 FLR 958; Re B (minors: abduction) (1992) Times, 6 November.

7 For this purpose, 'now' means the date of the commencement of the proceedings: Re N (minors) (abduction) [1991] FCR 765, [1991] 1 FLR 413.

8 'Settled' has its ordinary natural meaning, and in this context has two constituents: a physical element relating to being established in a community and environment, and an emotional constituent denoting security and stability: Re N (minors) (abduction) [1991] FCR 765, [1991] 1 FLR 413. The reasons for the delay in bringing proceedings are relevant to the question of settlement, as an abducting parent should not be able to rely on his success in concealing the child's whereabouts in order to evade return: Re H (child abduction: child of sixteen) [2000] 3 FCR 404, sub nom Re H (abduction: child of 16) [2000] 2 FLR 51; Re C (abduction: settlement) [2004] EWHC 1245 (Fam), [2005] 1 FLR 127; Cannon v Cannon supra; Re C (abduction: settlement) supra.

811. Exceptions to the requirement to order return.

The judicial or administrative authority of a requested state is not bound to order the return of a child<sup>1</sup> who has been wrongfully removed or retained<sup>2</sup> if the person, institution or other body which opposes the child's return establishes that:

- 1530 (1) the person, institution or other body having the care of the person of the child was not actually exercising the custody rights at the time of removal or retention, or had consented to or subsequently acquiesced in<sup>3</sup> the removal or retention<sup>4</sup>; or
- 1531 (2) there is a grave risk that the return would expose the child to physical or psychological harm or otherwise place the child in an intolerable situation<sup>5</sup>.

The courts have been cautious in giving effect to these exceptions<sup>6</sup>. In particular, it has been held that 'grave risk' is not to be equated simply with considerations that the child's welfare should be paramount<sup>7</sup>. The exceptions merely provide a discretionary release from an otherwise absolute obligation<sup>8</sup>.

The judicial or administrative authority may also refuse to order the return of the child if it finds that the child objects to being returned and has attained an age and degree of maturity at which it is appropriate to take account of his views<sup>9</sup>.

1 See Re A (minors) (abduction: custody rights) [1992] Fam 106, [1992] 1 All ER 929, CA. As to the circumstances to be taken into account in deciding on the exercise of this discretion see para 812 post.

2 No distinction is made in this provision between cases where the period elapsed since the wrongful removal or retention has been more than one year, and cases where it has been less. As to wrongful removal or retention see para 808 ante.

3 The leading case on the meaning of consent or acquiescence is Re H (abduction: acquiescence) [1998] AC 72, [1997] 2 All ER 225, [1997] 1 FLR 872, HL, in which the House of Lords laid down the following principles:

- 609 (1) the question whether the wronged parent has acquiesced in the removal or retention of the child is a subjective one: it depends upon his actual state of mind and not upon the other parent's perception of his conduct;
- 610 (2) the subjective intention of the wronged parent is a question of fact to be determined in all the circumstances of the case, the burden of proof being on the abducting parent;
- 611 (3) in deciding that question of fact, more weight is likely to be given to the contemporaneous words and actions of the wronged parent than to his bare assertions in evidence of his intentions;
- 612 (4) there is only one exception: where the words or actions of the wronged parent clearly and unequivocally show and have led the other parent to believe that the wronged parent is not asserting or going to assert his right to the summary return of the child and are inconsistent with such return, justice requires that the wronged parent be held to have acquiesced.

Judges should be slow to infer an intention to acquiesce from attempts by the wronged parent to effect a reconciliation or to reach a voluntary agreement for the return of the child: see P v P (abduction: acquiescence) [1998] 3 FCR 550, [1998] 2 FLR 835, CA; Re I (minors) (abduction: acquiescence) [1999] 2 FCR 674, [1999] 1 FLR 778; Re A (abduction: habitual residence: consent) [2005] EWHC 2998 (Fam), [2006] 2 FLR 1, [2006] Fam Law 350.

Erroneous legal advice is a relevant consideration which the court may take into account in deciding whether an aggrieved parent has acquiesced in the removal of a child: Re S (minors) (child abduction: acquiescence) [1994] 2 FCR 945, [1994] 1 FLR 819, CA.

See also A v A (child abduction) [1993] 1 FCR 829, [1993] 2 FLR 225; Re H (minors) (abduction: acquiescence) [1998] AC 72, [1997] 2 All ER 225, HL (acquiescence is a question of the actual subjective intention of the wronged parent, and therefore a pure question of fact to be determined by the trial judge) (applied in Re D (abduction: acquiescence) [1999] 3 FCR 468, [1998] 2 FLR 335, CA; and considered in Re B (a child) (abduction: acquiescence) [1999] 3 FCR 557, [1999] 2 FLR 818 (acquiescence by father who obtained contact order)); Re B (a minor) (abduction) [1995] 2 FCR 505, [1994] 2 FLR 249, CA (consent to child's removal obtained by deceit not a true consent); Re H (minors) (1997) Independent, 15 April, HL; Re S (abduction: acquiescence) [1998] 3 FCR 113, [1998] 2 FLR 115, CA; Re M (abduction) (consent: acquiescence) [1999] 1 FCR 5, [1999] 1 FLR 171; Re K (abduction: consent) [1998] 1 FCR 311, [1997] 2 FLR 212; P v P (abduction: consent or acquiescence) [1998] 3 FCR 550, [1998] 2 FLR 835, CA (conduct did not amount to concluded agreement and defence of acquiescence not established); Re S (child abduction: acquiescence) [1998] 2 FLR 893 (letters from father, who sought the return of his child under the Hague Convention on the Civil Aspects of International Child Abduction (Hague, 25 October 1980; Misc 14 (1981); Cmnd 8281) (the 'Hague Convention'), did not amount to acquiescence). Written consent is not a legal requirement, but the consent must be real, positive, and unequivocal: Re R (abduction: consent) [1999] 1 FCR 87, [1999] 1 FLR 828. See also T v T (child abduction: consent) [1999] 2 FCR 2, [1999] 2 FLR 912; Re I (minors) (abduction: acquiescence) supra (a letter stating reluctant agreement to negotiate was not acquiescence). The abducting parent cannot argue that the wronged parent acquiesced where he has prevented communication: Re H (child abduction: child of sixteen) [2000] 3 FCR 404, sub nom Re H (abduction: child of 16) [2000] 2 FLR 51. A finding made by a court of the state of the child's habitual residence that there had been no acquiescence is conclusive: Re R (minors) (abduction) [1993] 2 FCR 461, [1994] 1 FLR 190.

In order to establish acquiescence, consent must have been given before the removal or retention and it is only necessary to show that the wronged parent must have been aware of his Convention rights at least in general terms, and aware that the act of removal or retention was unlawful: see Re A (minors) (abduction: custody rights) [1992] Fam 106, sub nom Re A (minors) (abduction: acquiescence) [1992] 2 FLR 14, CA; A v A (child abduction) [1993] 1 FCR 829, [1993] 2 FLR 225; W v W (child abduction: acquiescence) [1993] 2 FCR 644, [1993] 2 FLR 211; Re A(Z) (a child abduction) [1993] 1 FCR 733, sub nom Re AZ (a minor) (abduction: acquiescence) [1993] 1 FLR 682, CA; Re S (child abduction: acquiescence) [1998] 2 FLR 893, [1998] Fam Law 656; Re B (abduction: acquiescence) [1999] 3 FCR 557, [1999] 2 FLR 818. The issue of consent may arise in respect of the Hague Convention art 3 or art 13, and falls to be decided under the latter where the very fact of consent is in issue: Re O (abduction: consent and acquiescence) [1998] 2 FCR 61, [1997] 1 FLR 924, [1997] Fam Law 469. Consent obtained by fraud, deception, misunderstanding or non-disclosure is unlikely to be valid: Re B (a minor) (abduction) [1995] 2 FCR 505, [1994] 2 FLR 249, CA; Re B (abduction: article 13 defence) [1997] 2 FLR 573, [1997] Fam Law 780; T v T (child abduction: consent) supra; Re H (child abduction: child of sixteen) supra. Consent to a temporary change of residence may be treated as consent to a change in the child's habitual residence: Re K (abduction: forum conveniens) [1995] 3 FCR 697, [1995] 2 FLR 211, CA. Once consent or acquiescence has been established, the court will consider all matters relating to the child's interests in deciding whether to exercise its discretion to order return, and will not confine itself to the degree of acquiescence: Re A (minors) (abduction: custody rights) (No 2) [1993] Fam 1, sub nom Re A (minors) (abduction: acquiescence) (No 2) [1993] 1 All ER 272, CA. 4 See the Hague Convention art 13(a). Articles 3-5, 7-19, 21-22, 24, 26-32 are set out in the Child Abduction and Custody Act 1985 s 1(2), Sch 1: see para 799 ante. See note 5 infra. See further M v M [2007] EWHC 1404 (Fam), [2007] All ER (D) 130 (Jun).

A very high standard is required to demonstrate grave risk or intolerable situation, requiring substantial, clear and compelling evidence: Re F (a minor) (child abduction: rights of custody abroad) [1995] Fam 224, [1995] 3 All ER 641, sub nom Re F (child abduction: risk if returned) [1995] 2 FLR 31, CA; K v K (child abduction) [1998] 3 FCR 207; Re M (minors) (abduction: psychological harm) [1998] 2 FCR 488, [1997] 2 FLR 690, CA; Re C (abduction) (grave risk of psychological harm) [1999] 2 FCR 507, [1999] 1 FLR 1145, CA; Re C(B) (child abduction: risk of harm) [1999] 3 FCR 510, sub nom Re C (abduction: grave risk of physical or psychological harm) [1999] 2 FLR 478, CA; Re A (abduction: custody rights) [1992] Fam 106, [1992] 1 All ER 929, CA; Re D (article 13B: non-return) [2006] EWCA Civ 146, [2006] 2 FLR 305; Re A (abduction: non-return order) [2006] EWHC 3397 (Fam), [2007] Fam Law 290, sub nom Re A (custody decision after Maltese non-return order) [2007] 1 FCR 402; Klentzeris v Klentzeris [2007] EWCA Civ 533, [2007] Fam Law 790, [2007] All ER (D) 237 (Jul). The court may accept undertakings with regard to the child's return and care following return, even though the undertakings would not be enforceable in the foreign jurisdiction: Re O (child abduction: undertakings) [1995] 1 FCR 721, [1994] 2 FLR 349. See also Re S (a child) (abduction: grave risk of harm) [2002] EWCA Civ 908, [2002] 3 FCR 43, sub nom Re S (a child) (abduction: custody rights) [2002] 2 FLR 815 (where there is a state of war in the country to which the child is to be returned, the issue is not whether there is a war, but whether it poses a grave risk to the child; violence and terrorism in Israel were insufficient to satisfy the stringent test of grave risk of harm to a child so as to permit an exception to her return). The risks involved in returning two children to Zimbabwe were held not sufficient in M v M [2007] EWHC 1820 (Fam), [2007] 2 All ER (D) 431 (July); on appeal [2007] EWCA Civ 992; revsd but without affecting this point [2007] UKHL 55. For states which are members of the European Union, EC Council Regulation 2201/2003 (OJ L338, 23.12.2003, pp 1-29) on the jurisdiction and the recognition and enforcement of judgments in matrimonial matters and in matters of parental responsibility (the 'Brussels IIR Regulation') also applies (see paras 788-798 ante) and stipulates that a court cannot refuse to return a child on the basis of the Hague Convention art 13(b) if it is established that adequate arrangements have been made to secure the protection of the child after his or her return: EC Council Regulation 2201/2003 (OJ L338, 23.12.2003, pp 1-29) art 11(4). 9 Hague Convention art 13. The issue of the child's objections is entirely separate from the issue of grave risk: Re S (a minor) (abduction: custody rights) [1993] Fam 242, sub nom Re S (a minor) (abduction) [1993] 2 All ER 683, CA, where it was held that the questions whether a child objects to return and whether it has attained the requisite degree of maturity are questions of fact for the trial judge. The test to be applied has two stages: (1) the judge must make findings of fact on the two questions: (a) does the child object?; and (b) has he attained an age and degree of maturity at which it is appropriate to take account of his views?; and (2) if so, the court must then consider as a matter of discretion whether to refuse to order return: Re S (minors) (abduction: acquiescence) [1994] 2 FCR 945 at 954, [1994] 1 FLR 819 at 826, CA, per Waite LJ; Re J and K (abduction: objections of child) [2004] EWHC 1985 (Fam), [2005] 1 FLR 273, [2005] Fam Law 105; Re M (a child) (abduction: child's objections to return) [2007] EWCA Civ 260, [2007] 2 FLR 72, [2007] All ER (D) 437 (Mar). In Re T (abduction: child's objections to return) [2000] 2 FCR 159, the Court of Appeal held that there is a need to ascertain why the child objects to return; it may be relevant to consider whether the child is more or less mature than his chronological age, and, considering the strength and validity of the child's views, whether it was appropriate to take account of his objections. See Re L (a minor) (abduction: jurisdiction) [2002] EWHC 1864 (Fam), [2002] 1 WLR 3208, sub nom Re L (abduction: child's objections to return) [2002] 2 FLR 1042 (child of 14 mature enough for his objections to be taken into account by the court). CHILD ABDUCTION/(4) CHILD ABDUCTION AND THE INTERNATIONAL CONVENTIONS/(ii) The Hague Convention/812. Factors to be taken into account in deciding whether to refuse return.

812. Factors to be taken into account in deciding whether to refuse return.

The sole fact that a decision relating to custody has been given in or is entitled to recognition in the requested state is not a ground for refusing to return a child under the Hague Convention<sup>1</sup>, but the judicial or administrative authorities of the requested state may take account of the reasons for such a decision in applying the Convention<sup>2</sup>. It has been said that the discretion should be exercised in the context of the approach of the Convention, and that it is only if the interests of the child render it appropriate for the courts of the country to which the child has been removed to decide the child's future that there should be any exception to the general principle that there should be an order for return<sup>3</sup>. A decision under the Convention concerning the return of the child is not taken to be a determination on the merits of any custody issue<sup>4</sup>.

In considering the circumstances which might found a refusal to order the return of a child, the judicial and administrative authorities must take into account the information relating to the social background of the child provided by the central authority<sup>5</sup> or other competent authority of the child's habitual residence<sup>6</sup>.

813. Avoidance of delay.

The judicial or administrative authorities of contracting states must act expeditiously in proceedings for the return of children<sup>1</sup>. If the authority concerned has not reached a decision within six weeks from the date of commencement of the proceedings, the applicant or the central authority<sup>2</sup> of the requested state, on its own initiative or if asked by the central authority of the requesting state, has the right to request a statement of the reasons for delay<sup>3</sup>. If a reply is received by the central authority of the requested state, that authority must transmit the reply to the central authority of the requesting state or to the applicant, as the case may be<sup>4</sup>.

This Regulation provides that in cases where it applies, a court must act expeditiously in proceedings on the application and must, except where exceptional circumstances make this impossible, issue its judgment no later than six weeks after the application is lodged: see art 11(3); and para 798 note 9 ante. The court files for an application should be clearly marked to indicate the nature of the application and the date by which the matter needs to be resolved: Vigreux v Michel [2006] EWCA Civ 630, [2007] 3 FCR 196, [2006] 2 FLR 1180. ### 815. Suspension of court's powers in cases of wrongful removal or retention.

The judicial or administrative authorities of the contracting state to which a child has been removed or in which he has been retained must not decide on the merits of rights of custody once notice has been received of a wrongful removal or retention of a child<sup>1</sup>, unless and until it has been determined that the child is not to be returned under the Hague Convention<sup>2</sup> or unless an application under the Hague Convention is not lodged within a reasonable time following receipt of the notice<sup>3</sup>.

In England and Wales, 'deciding on the merits of custody' means:

- 1532 (1) making, varying or revoking a custody order<sup>4</sup> or a supervision order<sup>5</sup>;
- 1533 (2) enforcing under the Family Law Act 1986<sup>6</sup> a custody order<sup>7</sup>; or

816. Applications with respect to rights of access.

An application to make arrangements for organising or securing the effective exercise of rights of access<sup>1</sup> may be presented to the central authorities<sup>2</sup> of the contracting states in the same way as an application for the return of a child<sup>3</sup>. The central authorities are bound by the obligations of co-operation<sup>4</sup> to promote the peaceful enjoyment of access rights and the fulfilment of any conditions to which the exercise of those rights may be subject<sup>5</sup>. The central authorities must take steps to remove, as far as possible, all obstacles to the exercise of such rights<sup>6</sup>. Those authorities, either directly or through intermediaries, may initiate or assist in the institution of proceedings with a view to organising or protecting those rights and securing respect for the conditions to which the exercise of the rights may be subject<sup>7</sup>.

This obligation is imposed on the central authority (rather than on the judicial authority) of contracting states<sup>8</sup>, and the Hague Convention draws a firm distinction between rights of custody and rights of access, and is thus not intended to secure enforcement of rights of access in the same way as rights of custody<sup>9</sup>. The court has no jurisdiction to make or recognise orders for access under these provisions of the Child Abduction and Custody Act 1985<sup>10</sup>.

The obligation of the central authority is to make appropriate arrangements for the applicant by providing solicitors to act on his behalf in applying for assistance from the community legal service fund and instituting proceedings in the High Court under the Children Act 1989<sup>11</sup>. In those proceedings the child's welfare will be the paramount consideration<sup>12</sup>.

817. Costs of applications under the Convention.

Each central authority<sup>1</sup> bears its own costs in applying the Hague Convention<sup>2</sup>, and central authorities and other public services of contracting states must not impose any charges in relation to applications submitted under the Hague Convention<sup>3</sup>. In particular, they may not require any payment from the applicant towards the costs and expenses of the proceedings or, where applicable, those arising from the participation of legal counsel or advisers<sup>4</sup>. However, they may require the payment of the expenses incurred or to be incurred in implementing the return of the child<sup>5</sup>. However, a contracting state may, by making a reservation<sup>6</sup>, declare that it is not bound to assume any such costs resulting from the participation of legal counsel or advisers or from court proceedings, except in so far as those costs may be covered by its system of assistance from the community legal service fund and advice<sup>7</sup>. The United Kingdom<sup>8</sup> having made such a reservation<sup>9</sup>, the costs and expenses of proceedings under the Hague Convention, or where applicable, those arising from the participation of legal counsel or advisers are not to be borne by any minister or other authority in the United Kingdom except so far as they fall to be so borne by virtue of the provision of any service funded by the Legal Services Commission as part of the Community Legal Service<sup>10</sup>.

Upon ordering the return of a child or issuing an order concerning rights of access under the Hague Convention, the judicial or administrative authorities may, where appropriate, direct the person who removed or retained the child, or who prevented the exercise of rights of access, to pay necessary expenses incurred by or on behalf of the applicant, including travel expenses, any costs incurred or payments made for locating the child, the costs of legal representation of the applicant, and the costs of returning the child<sup>11</sup>.

(iii) The European Convention

818. Policy of the Convention.

The European Convention<sup>1</sup>, in contrast with the Hague Convention<sup>2</sup>, is concerned with the recognition or enforcement of decisions relating to the custody of children and on the restoration of custody of children<sup>3</sup>. Since 1 March 2001, further provisions have been made under the Brussels II Regulation<sup>4</sup> as between member states of the European Union (except for Denmark) with respect to judgments relating to parental responsibility for the children of both spouses involved in divorce, nullity or separation proceedings. With effect from 1 March 2005, the Brussels II Regulation has been replaced by the Brussels IIR Regulation<sup>5</sup> concerning jurisdiction and the recognition and enforcement of judgments in matrimonial matters and in matters of parental responsibility<sup>6</sup>. The Brussels IIR Regulation applies to all judgments relating to parental responsibility and not simply those in respect of children of both spouses involved in matrimonial proceedings (that is, it includes step-children and children of unmarried parents)<sup>7</sup>.

Applications must be made under the European Convention with respect to judgments made before 1 March 2001. With respect to judgments made after 1 March 2001, the Brussels II Regulation has precedence<sup>8</sup>; and for those made after 1 March 2005, the Brussels IIR Regulation has precedence<sup>9</sup>. So applications to enforce any custody order made in a member state (other than Denmark) should be made under the appropriate Regulation. Effectively, applications under the European Convention will be limited to those concerned with enforcing custody orders made in contracting states<sup>10</sup> that are not member states of the European Union and those made in Denmark.

A decision relating to custody is a decision of an authority<sup>11</sup> in so far as it relates to the care of the person of the child, including the right to decide on the place of his residence, or to the right of access to him<sup>12</sup>. In relation to a contracting state which has in matters of custody two or more systems of law of territorial application, reference to the law of a person's habitual residence or to the law of a person's nationality is to be construed as referring to the system of law determined by the rules in force in that contracting state or, if there are no such rules, to the system of law with which the person concerned is most closely connected<sup>13</sup>.

The European Convention arts 9, 10 are set out as they have effect in consequence of a reservation made by the United Kingdom under art 17: Child Abduction and Custody Act 1985 s 12(2). ### 819. Enforcement of decisions.

Any person who has obtained in a contracting state<sup>1</sup> a decision relating to the custody of a child<sup>2</sup> and who wishes to have that decision recognised or enforced<sup>3</sup> in another contracting state may submit an application for this purpose to the central authority<sup>4</sup> in any contracting state<sup>5</sup>. Where a person on whom any rights are conferred by a decision relating to custody<sup>6</sup> made by a court in the United Kingdom makes such an application to the Lord Chancellor or the Secretary of State with a view to securing its recognition or enforcement in another contracting state, the Lord Chancellor or the Secretary of State may require the court which made the decision to furnish him with all or any of the documents referred to in heads (2) to (4) below<sup>7</sup>.

A request for recognition or enforcement in another contracting state of a decision relating to custody must be accompanied by:

- 1535 (1) a document authorising the central authority of the state addressed to act on behalf of the applicant or to designate another representative for that purpose<sup>8</sup>;
- 1536 (2) a copy of the decision which satisfies the necessary conditions of authenticity<sup>9</sup>;
- 1537 (3) in the case of a decision given in the absence of the defendant or his legal representative, a document which establishes that the defendant was duly served with the document which instituted the proceedings or an equivalent document<sup>10</sup>;
- 1538 (4) if applicable, any document which establishes that, in accordance with the law of the state of origin, the decision is enforceable<sup>11</sup>;
- 1539 (5) if possible, a statement indicating the whereabouts or likely whereabouts of the child in the state addressed<sup>12</sup>;
- 1540 (6) proposals as to how the custody of the child should be restored<sup>13</sup>.

If a central authority receiving an application is not the central authority in the state addressed, it is obliged to send the document directly and without delay to that latter central authority<sup>14</sup>. The central authority receiving the application must keep the applicant informed without delay of the progress of the application<sup>15</sup>.

The application must be accompanied by the documents mentioned in the European Convention art 13 (see the text and notes 8-13 infra): art 4(2). The court has jurisdiction to allow a child to be separately represented in European Convention proceedings, which it can exercise in exceptional circumstances: Re T (abduction: appointment of guardian ad litem) [1999] 2 FLR 796.

820. Duties of central authority.

The central authority<sup>1</sup> in the state addressed must take or cause to be taken without delay all steps which it considers to be appropriate, if necessary by instituting proceedings before its competent authorities<sup>2</sup>, in order:

- 1541 (1) to discover the whereabouts of the child<sup>3</sup>;
- 1542 (2) to avoid, in particular by any necessary provisional measures, prejudice to the interests of the child or of the applicant<sup>4</sup>;
- 1543 (3) to secure the recognition or enforcement of the decision<sup>5</sup>;
- 1544 (4) to secure the delivery of the child to the applicant where enforcement is granted<sup>6</sup>; and
- 1545 (5) to inform the requesting authority of the measures taken and their results<sup>7</sup>.

Where the central authority in the state addressed has reason to believe that the child is in the territory of another contracting state, it must send the documents directly and without delay to the central authority of that state<sup>8</sup>. Save for the cost of repatriation, each contracting state undertakes not to claim any payment from an applicant in respect of any of the measures taken under heads (1) to (5) above by the central authority of that state on the applicant's behalf, including the costs of proceedings and, where applicable, the costs incurred by the assistance of a lawyer<sup>9</sup>. If recognition or enforcement is refused, and if the central authority of the state addressed considers that it should comply with the request by the applicant to bring proceedings in that state concerning the substance of the case, that authority must use its best endeavours to secure the representation of the applicant in the proceedings under conditions no less favourable than those available to a person who is resident in and a national of that state, and for this purpose it may, in particular, institute proceedings before its competent authorities<sup>10</sup>.

821. The obligation to recognise and enforce decisions.

A decision relating to custody<sup>1</sup> given in a contracting state<sup>2</sup> must be recognised and, where it is enforceable in the state of origin, made enforceable in every other contracting state<sup>3</sup>. In no circumstances may the foreign decision be reviewed as to its substance<sup>4</sup>. A decision<sup>5</sup> which was made in a contracting state other than the United Kingdom<sup>6</sup> must be recognised in each part of the United Kingdom as if made by a court having jurisdiction to make it in that part<sup>7</sup>. However, the decision is not enforceable in any part of the United Kingdom unless registered in the appropriate court<sup>8</sup>.

In relation to a contracting state which has in matters of custody two or more systems of law of territorial application, reference to the contracting state of origin or to the contracting state addressed is to be construed as referring, as the case may be, to the territorial unit where the decision was given or to the territorial unit where recognition or enforcement of the decision or restoration of custody is requested<sup>9</sup>.

1 As to decisions relating to custody see para 818 ante.

2 As to the states which are parties to the European Convention on Recognition and Enforcement of Decisions Concerning Custody of Children and on the Restoration of Custody of Children (Luxembourg, 20 May 1980; TS 35 (1987); Cm 191) (the 'European Convention') see para 802 note 4 ante.

7 Child Abduction and Custody Act 1985 s 15(1), (2). 'Part of the United Kingdom' means England and Wales, Scotland, or Northern Ireland: s 27(2).

8 Ibid s 15(2)(b). The appropriate court in any part of the United Kingdom may, on the application of any person appearing to it to have an interest in the matter, declare on any of the grounds specified in the European Convention art 9 (see the text and note 4 supra and para 823 post) or art 10 (see paras 823-824 post) that the decision is not to be recognised in any part of the United Kingdom: Child Abduction and Custody Act 1985 s 15(2)(a). In England and Wales or Northern Ireland, 'appropriate court' means the High Court; and in Scotland it means the Court of Session: s 27(2).

Halsbury's Laws of England/CHILDREN AND YOUNG PERSONS (VOLUME 5(3) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 1-742; VOLUME 5(4) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 743-1433)/10. CHILD ABDUCTION/(4) CHILD ABDUCTION AND THE INTERNATIONAL CONVENTIONS/(iii) The European Convention/822. Registration: procedure and effect.

822. Registration: procedure and effect.

A person on whom any rights are conferred by a decision relating to custody<sup>1</sup> made by an authority<sup>2</sup> in a contracting state other than the United Kingdom<sup>3</sup> may make an application for the registration of the decision in an appropriate court<sup>4</sup> in the United Kingdom<sup>5</sup>. A register must be kept in the principal registry<sup>6</sup> by the proper officer<sup>7</sup> of the decisions registered together with any variation of those decisions made<sup>8</sup>. Where a decision relating to custody has been so registered, the court in which it is registered has the same powers for the purpose of enforcing the decision as if it had been made by that court, and proceedings for or with respect to enforcement may be taken accordingly<sup>9</sup>. Where a decision which has been registered is varied or revoked by an authority in the contracting state in which it was made, the person on whose behalf the application for registration of the decision was made must notify the court in which the decision is registered of the variation or revocation<sup>10</sup>.

Where an application has been made to a court for the registration of a decision or for the enforcement of such a decision, the court may, at any time before the application is determined, give such interim directions as it thinks fit for the purpose of securing the welfare of the child<sup>11</sup> concerned or of preventing changes in the circumstances relevant to the determination of the application or, in the case of an application for registration, relevant to the determination of any subsequent application for the enforcement of the decision<sup>12</sup>.

Where it appears to a court in which proceedings are pending in respect of a child that an application has been made for the registration of a decision in respect of the child<sup>13</sup> or that such a decision is registered, the powers of the court with respect to the child in those proceedings are restricted<sup>14</sup> unless, in the case of application for registration, the application is refused<sup>15</sup>. This provision only takes effect if it appears to the court in which the proceedings are pending that the decision was made in proceedings commenced before the proceedings which are pending<sup>16</sup>.

Where it appears to the Secretary of State that an application has been made for the registration of a decision in respect of a child<sup>17</sup> or that such a decision is registered, the Secretary of State must not make, vary or revoke any custody order<sup>18</sup> in respect of the child unless, in the case of an application for registration, the application is refused<sup>19</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'decision relating to custody' for these purposes see para 818 ante; definition applied by the Child Abduction and Custody Act 1985 s 16(6).

2 For the meaning of 'authority' see para 818 note 11 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see para 102 note 7 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'appropriate court' see para 821 note 8 ante. Where the Lord Chancellor is requested to assist in making an application under the Child Abduction and Custody Act 1985 s 16 to the Court of Session he must transmit the request to the Secretary of State and the Secretary of State must transmit to the Lord Chancellor any such request to assist in making an application to the High Court: s 16(5). As to the Lord Chancellor see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) paras 477-497.

5 Ibid s 16(1). The central authority in the United Kingdom must assist such a person in making such an application if a request for such assistance is made by him or on his behalf by the central authority of the contracting state in question: s 16(2). An application under s 16(1) or a request under s 16(2) is treated as a request for enforcement for the purposes of the European Convention on Recognition and Enforcement of Decisions Concerning Custody of Children and on the Restoration of Custody of Children (Luxembourg, 20 May 1980; TS 35 (1987); Cm 191) (the 'European Convention') art 10 (see paras 823-824 post) and art 13 (see para 819 ante): Child Abduction and Custody Act 1985 s 16(3). The European Convention arts 1, 4-5, 7, 9-13, 15, 26 are set out in the Child Abduction and Custody Act 1985 s 12(2), Sch 2: see para 799 ante. As to the central authority see para 803 ante.

9 Child Abduction and Custody Act 1985 s 18. The court in which a decision is registered under s 16 (see the text and notes 1-5 supra) may also, on the application of any person appearing to the court to have an interest in the matter, cancel or vary the registration if it is satisfied that the decision has been revoked or, as the case may be, varied by an authority in the contracting state in which it was made: s 17(4).

10 Ibid s 17(1). Where a court is notified under s 17(1) of the revocation of a decision, it must cancel the registration, and notify such persons as may be prescribed by rules of court of the cancellation: s 17(2). Where a court is notified under s 17(1) of the variation of a decision, it must notify such persons as may be prescribed by rules of court of the variation; and, subject to any conditions which may be so prescribed, it must vary the registration: s 17(3).

The following applies to decisions which have been registered under s 16 and are subsequently varied or revoked by an authority in the contracting state in which they were made: Family Proceedings Rules 1991, SI 1991/1247, r 6.15(1). The court must, on cancelling the registration of a decision which has been revoked, notify:

613 (1) the person appearing to the court to have care of the child (r 6.15(2)(a));

614 (2) the person on whose behalf the application for registration of the decision was made (r 6.15(2)(b)); and

615 (3) the other party to that application (r 6.15(2)(c)), of the cancellation (r 6.15(2)). The court must, on being notified of the variation of a decision, notify:

616 (a) the person appearing to the court to have care of the child (r 6.15(3)(a)); and

617 (b) any party to the application for registration of the decision (r 6.15(3)(b)), of the variation; and any such person may apply by summons in the proceedings for the registration of the decision, for the purpose of making representations to the court before the registration is varied (r 6.15(3)). Any person appearing to the court to have an interest in the matter may apply by summons in the proceedings for the registration of a decision for the cancellation or variation of the registration: r 6.15(4). For these purposes, 'contracting state' means: (i) one of the parties to EC Council Regulation 2201/2003 (OJ L338, 23.12.2003, pp 1-29) on the jurisdiction and the recognition and enforcement of judgments in matrimonial matters and in matters of parental responsibility (the 'Brussels IIR Regulation'), ie Belgium, Cyprus, Czech Republic, Germany, Greece, Spain, Estonia, France, Hungary, Ireland, Italy, Latvia, Lithuania, Luxembourg, Malta, Netherlands, Austria, Poland, Portugal, Slovakia, Slovenia, Finland, Sweden and the United Kingdom; and (ii) a party which has subsequently adopted EC Council Regulation 2201/2003 (OJ L338, 23.12.2003, pp 1-29): Family Proceedings Rules 1991, SI 1991/1247, r 1.2(1) (definition added by SI 2001/821; and amended by SI 2005/264).

618 (1) in the case of custody proceedings, make, vary or revoke any custody order or a supervision order under the Children Act 1989 s 31 (see para 271 et seq ante) (Child Abduction and Custody Act 1985 s 20(2)(a) (amended by the Children Act 1989 s 108(5), (7), Sch 13 para 57, Sch 15));

823. Refusal of recognition and enforcement.

The High Court must refuse to register a decision relating to custody<sup>1</sup> if:

1547 (2) it is of the opinion that the decision is not enforceable in the contracting state<sup>6</sup> where it was made<sup>7</sup> and it is not a decision declaring the removal of a child across an international frontier unlawful<sup>8</sup>; or

1548 (3) it is of the opinion that on any of the following grounds the decision should not be recognised in any part of the United Kingdom<sup>9</sup>:

12. (a) in the case of a decision given in the absence of the defendant or his legal representative, the defendant was not duly served with the document which instituted the proceedings or an equivalent document in sufficient time to enable him to arrange his defence (but such a failure to effect service cannot constitute a ground for refusing recognition or enforcement<sup>10</sup> where service was not effected because the defendant had concealed his whereabouts from the person who instituted the proceedings in the state of origin)<sup>11</sup>;

13. (b) in the case of a decision given in the absence of the defendant or his legal representative, the competence of the authority giving the decision was not founded on the habitual residence<sup>12</sup> of the defendant, or the last common habitual residence of the child's parents (at least one parent being still habitually resident there), or on the habitual residence of the child<sup>13</sup>;

14. (c) the decision is incompatible with a decision relating to custody which became enforceable in the state addressed before the improper removal of the child<sup>14</sup>, unless the child has had his habitual residence in the territory of the requesting state for one year before his removal<sup>15</sup>;

15. (d) it is found that the effects of the decision are manifestly incompatible with the fundamental principles of law relating to the family and children in the state addressed<sup>16</sup>;

16. (e) it is found that by reason of a change in the circumstances including the passage of time, but not including the mere change in the residence of the child as a result of the improper removal, the effects of the original decision are manifestly no longer in accordance with the welfare of the child<sup>17</sup>;

17. (f) at the time when the proceedings were instituted in the state of origin the child was a national of the state addressed or was habitually resident there and no such connection existed with the state of origin, or the child was a national both of the state of origin and of the state addressed and was habitually resident in the state addressed<sup>18</sup>;

18. (g) the decision is incompatible with a decision given in the state addressed or enforceable in that state after being given in a third state, pursuant to proceedings begun before the submission of the request for recognition or enforcement, and the refusal is in accordance with the welfare of the child<sup>19</sup>.

'Improper removal' means the removal of a child across an international frontier in breach of a decision relating to his custody which has been given in a contracting state and which is enforceable in such a state; 'improper removal' also includes:
  - 620 (1) the failure to return a child across an international frontier at the end of a period of the exercise of the right of access to this child or at the end of any other temporary stay in a territory other than that where the custody is exercised (European Convention art 1(d)(i)); and

The essential task under the European Convention art 10(1)(b) is to establish what the circumstances were at the time of the original decision and then to ascertain whether or not there had been any change in those circumstances, including the passage of time, but not including the mere change in residence of the child after improper removal: Re AR (a minor) (abduction) [1997] 3 FCR 29, sub nom Re R (abduction: Hague and European Conventions) [1997] 1 FLR 663, CA. Before reaching a decision under the European Convention art 10(1)(b) the authority concerned in the state addressed must:

- 622 (1) ascertain the child's views unless this is impracticable having regard in particular to his age and understanding (art 15(1)(a)); and
- 623 (2) may request that any appropriate inquiries be carried out (art 15(1)(b)).

Where the Lord Chancellor or the Secretary of State is requested to make enquiries about a child under art 15(1)(b) he may:

- 624 (a) request a local authority or an officer of the Children and Family Court Advisory and Support Service ('CAFCASS') or a Welsh family proceedings officer (within the meaning given by the Children Act 2004 s 35: see para 239 ante) to make a report to him in writing with respect to any matter relating to the child concerned which appears to him to be relevant (Child Abduction and Custody Act 1985 ss 21(a), 27 (amended by the Criminal Justice and Court Services Act 2000 s 74, Sch 7 Pt II paras 79, 80; and the Children Act 2004 s 40, Sch 3 paras 2, 3));
- 625 (b) request the Department of Health and Social Services for Northern Ireland to arrange for a suitably qualified person to make such a report to him (Child Abduction and Custody Act 1985 s 21(b)); or
- 626 (c) request any court to which a written report relating to the child has been made to send him a copy of the report (s 21(c)), and any such request must be duly complied with (s 21). As to the Lord Chancellor see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) paras 477-497. As to the Secretary of State see para 155 ante. As to CAFCASS see para 230 et seq ante.

The child's views in themselves do not constitute a defence to recognition and enforcement: there must first be a change in circumstances before the court can go on to ask whether the effect of the decision is manifestly no longer in accordance with the welfare of the child, and the child's views are only one of the factors which are relevant to that: Re AR (a minor) (abduction) supra at 37 and 669 per Hale J; Re A (a minor) (foreign access order: enforcement) [1996] 3 FCR 165, [1996] 1 FLR 561, CA. The court may order a welfare report and/or appoint a children's guardian for this purpose: see Re T (abduction: appointment of guardian ad litem) [1999] 2 FLR 796, [1999] Fam Law 613. As to children's guardians (formerly known as guardians ad litem: see para 230 ante) see paras 319-321 ante.

The cost of inquiries in any contracting state must be met by the authorities of the state where they are carried out: European Convention art 15(2).

824. Adjournment of proceedings.

Proceedings for recognition or enforcement of a decision relating to custody<sup>1</sup> may be adjourned if:

- 1549 (1) an ordinary form of review of the original decision has been commenced<sup>2</sup>;
- 1550 (2) proceedings relating to the custody of the child<sup>3</sup>, commenced before the proceedings in the state of origin were instituted, are pending in the state addressed<sup>4</sup>; or

825. Rights of access.

Decisions on rights of access<sup>1</sup> and provisions of decisions relating to custody<sup>2</sup> which deal with the rights of access must be recognised and enforced subject to the same conditions as other decisions relating to custody<sup>3</sup>. However, the competent authority<sup>4</sup> of the state addressed may fix the conditions for the implementation and exercise of the right of access, taking into account, in particular, undertakings given by the parties on this matter<sup>5</sup>. Moreover, where no decision on the right of access has been taken or where recognition or enforcement of the decision relating to custody is refused, the central authority<sup>6</sup> of the state addressed may apply to its competent authorities for a decision on the right of access if the person claiming a right of access so requests<sup>7</sup>.

1 'A decision relating to rights of access' means a decision as to the contact which a child may or may not have with any person: Child Abduction and Custody Act 1985 s 27(4) (added by the Children Act 1989 s 108(5), Sch 13 para 57(2)). ## 826. Chasing orders.

The European Convention<sup>1</sup> is not limited in its application to cases where a child has been removed in defiance of a decision. Where, at the time of the removal of the child<sup>2</sup> across an international frontier there is no enforceable decision given in the contracting state relating to his custody<sup>3</sup>, the provisions of the European Convention apply to any subsequent decision relating to the custody of that child and declaring the removal to be unlawful which is given in a contracting state<sup>4</sup> at the request of any interested person<sup>5</sup>. A decision to which these provisions apply may be registered in the same way as any other decision relating to custody<sup>6</sup>.

Where in any custody proceedings a court in the United Kingdom<sup>7</sup> makes a decision relating to a child who has been removed from the United Kingdom, the court may also, on an application made by any person for the provisions of the European Convention to apply to any such decision<sup>8</sup>, declare the removal to have been unlawful if it is satisfied that the applicant has an interest in the matter and that the child has been taken from or sent or kept out of the United Kingdom without the consent of the person (or, if more than one, all the persons) having the right to determine the child's place of residence under the law of the part of the United Kingdom in which the child was habitually resident<sup>9</sup>.

(5) NON-CONVENTION COUNTRIES

827. Removal of child from United Kingdom to non-Convention country.

If legal proceedings with respect to the child have been instituted in the United Kingdom prior to the child's removal to a country which is not party to either the Hague Convention<sup>1</sup> or the European Convention<sup>2</sup>, then it may be possible to take enforcement proceedings against any person who has acted inconsistently with the court's order. In particular, no person may remove a ward of court from the jurisdiction without the permission of the court, and removal without permission constitutes a contempt of court<sup>3</sup>. Appropriate enforcement proceedings may be taken if the child has been removed in breach of the terms of a prohibited steps order<sup>4</sup> or of a condition imposed as part of a contact order<sup>5</sup>, a residence order<sup>6</sup> or a specific issue order<sup>7</sup>. Where a residence order is in force with respect to a child, it is provided that no person may remove the child from the United Kingdom without either the written consent of every person who has parental responsibility for the child or the permission of the court<sup>8</sup>, but this does not prevent the removal of a child, for a period of less than one month, by the person in whose favour the residence order is made<sup>9</sup>.

If a court order has been breached by the removal of a child, it may be possible to bring contempt proceedings, seeking either the committal of a person in breach or the sequestration of his assets<sup>10</sup>.

Whether or not an order of the English court will be recognised abroad is a matter for the law of the country concerned and it will often be necessary to take proceedings in the country to which the child has been taken<sup>11</sup>. If no court proceedings have been instituted before the child's removal, the question whether the English court has jurisdiction to make orders for the child's recovery depends on statute<sup>12</sup>.

The removal of a child to a non-Convention country may constitute an offence under the Child Abduction Act 1984<sup>13</sup>. It may accordingly be possible to seek the extradition to the United Kingdom of any adult involved<sup>14</sup>.

Child abduction cases involving the United Kingdom and Pakistan have been the subject of a Protocol drawn up by the family judiciary in the United Kingdom and Pakistan<sup>15</sup>.

A substantial custodial sentence may be appropriate: M v M [1992] 1 FCR 317, CA. However, this rule does not prevent the removal of the ward without the consent of any court to any other part of the United Kingdom (ie a part of the United Kingdom outside the jurisdiction of the court of which he is a ward) in which proceedings for divorce, nullity or judicial separation in respect of the marriage of the ward's parents are continuing, or proceedings for dissolution or annulment or legal separation in respect of civil partnership of his parents are continuing, nor to another part of the United Kingdom in which the ward is habitually resident, except where that other part is Scotland and he has attained the age of 16: see the Family Law Act 1986 s 38(1), (2), (3)(a) (amended by the Civil Partnership (Family Proceedings and Housing Consequential Amendments) Order 2005, SI 2005/3336, arts 4, 18(1)). Moreover, the rule does not prohibit the ward's removal to any other place with the consent of either the appropriate court in that other part of the United Kingdom or the court in which the proceedings for divorce, nullity or judicial separation in respect of the marriage of the ward's parents or proceedings for dissolution or annulment or legal separation in respect of civil partnership of his parents are continuing: see the Family Law Act 1986 s 38(1), (2), (3)(b) (amended by the Civil Partnership (Family Proceedings and Housing Consequential Amendments) Order 2005, SI 2005/3336, arts 4, 18(1), (2)). ## 828. Child removed to United Kingdom from non-Convention country.

Where a child is brought to the United Kingdom<sup>1</sup> from a country which is not party to either the Hague Convention<sup>2</sup> or the European Convention<sup>3</sup>, proceedings may be initiated by any person with the appropriate standing in relation to the child<sup>4</sup>. In particular, an individual<sup>5</sup> may issue a summons to make a child a ward of court and an order sought in the wardship proceedings that the child be removed from the United Kingdom<sup>6</sup>. Alternatively, proceedings may be brought under the Children Act 1989 seeking a specific issue order<sup>7</sup>, a prohibited steps order<sup>8</sup>, or any other order which the court has power to make under that Act which is relevant in the circumstances<sup>9</sup>.

Child abduction cases involving the United Kingdom and Pakistan have been the subject of a Protocol drawn up by the family judiciary in the United Kingdom and Pakistan<sup>10</sup>.

829. Principles to be applied in deciding applications for return of child.

It is well settled that the court may act in wardship matters despite the fact that the court of a foreign country also has jurisdiction to make an order, and even if a foreign court has made an order relating to the upbringing of a child<sup>1</sup>. An English court is bound in duty to protect the child's welfare without being bound to enforce a foreign order or to follow it<sup>2</sup>. The concept of forum conveniens has no place in the wardship jurisdiction<sup>3</sup>. If the court has embarked upon a full-scale investigation of the facts, the applicable principles do not differ from those which apply in any other case; the action of one party in kidnapping the child is doubtless one of the circumstances to be taken into account, but the weight to be given to it will depend on all the circumstances<sup>4</sup>.

In many cases, the court will be asked to make a peremptory order for the return of the child to a foreign country without any investigation of the merits. In such cases, the cardinal rule remains that the welfare of the child must always be the paramount consideration<sup>5</sup>. The fact that the child has been removed to another country may of itself involve a risk of damage to his welfare in terms of alienation from background, home, schools, friends, relations and, ultimately, from his country and its society and culture<sup>6</sup>. If such a case is promptly brought to the attention of the court in the United Kingdom, the judge may feel that it is in the best interests of the child that those disturbing factors should be eliminated from his life as speedily as possible; and a full investigation of the merits of the case in an English court may be incompatible with achieving this<sup>7</sup>. These matters have to be balanced against the risk to the child of a precipitate return<sup>8</sup>. The approach of the foreign legal system may be relevant depending on the facts of the case<sup>9</sup>.

By definition, the court resolving the issue of whether to order the return of a child is not bound to apply the principles laid down in either the Hague Convention<sup>10</sup> or the European Convention<sup>11</sup>. The courts have rejected the argument that, in passing the Child Abduction and Custody Act 1985, Parliament was substituting a test which did not put the child's welfare as the first and paramount consideration<sup>12</sup>. However, it has been held that that Act gives effect to the belief that in normal circumstances it is in the interests of children that parents or others should not abduct them from one jurisdiction to another, and that any decision relating to the custody of children is best decided in the jurisdiction in which they have hitherto been normally resident<sup>13</sup>.

It appears that in relation to the welfare of the child two questions must be addressed: first, it must be decided which court should determine what the child's best interests require; and secondly, if the answer to that question is that the issue should be resolved by the English court, what orders as to residence, contact and other matters should be made<sup>14</sup>.

- 627 (1) the difference between the legal system of the home country and that of the United Kingdom cannot be irrelevant, but its relevance will depend on the facts of the individual case;
- 628 (2) in practice it will be for the party resisting return to show that there is a difference which might be detrimental to the child's welfare;
- 629 (3) there are bound to be cases where the connection of the child and all the family with the other country is so strong that any difference between the legal systems should carry little weight.

In Re M (minors) (abduction: peremptory return order) [1996] 1 FCR 557, [1996] 1 FLR 478, the Court of Appeal upheld the judge's refusal to adjourn proceedings to allow the mother to adduce evidence of the legal process in Dubai. 'Underlying the whole purpose of the peremptory return order is a principle of international comity under which judges in England will assume that facilities for a fair hearing will be provided in the court of the other jurisdiction, and that due account will be taken by overseas judges of what has been said, ordered and undertaken to be done within the English jurisdiction . . . Very exceptional circumstances would be needed to show that in a particular case the English court would be justified in departing from that general principle': Re M (abduction: peremptory return order) supra at 560 and 480-481 per Waite LJ. Cf Re JA (a minor) (abduction: non-Convention country) [1998] 2 FCR 159 at 174, [1998] 1 FLR 231 at 243, CA, per Ward LJ, where it was held that it would be an abnegation of the duty of the court to the ward under its protection to surrender the determination of its ward's future to a foreign court whose regime might be inimical to the child's welfare; on the evidence, the powers of the foreign court were limited and there was no indication that welfare was the test; the application for an order for summary return therefore failed; and Re M (abduction: peremptory return order) supra was said to have been decided per incuriam. However, in Osman v Elasha [2000] Fam 62, [2000] 2 WLR 1036, sub nom Re E (abduction: non-Convention country) [1999] 2 FLR 642, the Court of Appeal said that Re M (abduction: peremptory return order) supra was not decided per incuriam; and summary return was not ordered in Re JA (child abduction: non-Convention country) supra because expert evidence established a risk of harm to the child if a return was ordered (see at 175 and 244-245 per Ward LJ). Save in exceptional circumstances, it is not wise to permit the abducting parent to criticise the standards of family justice applied in a non-Convention state.

(6) REMOVAL BETWEEN DIFFERENT UNITED KINGDOM JURISDICTIONS

830. Introduction: application of the Family Law Act 1986.

The Family Law Act 1986 seeks to ensure that, so far as possible, there should at any one time be only one jurisdiction in the United Kingdom in which there is power to make orders relating to the upbringing of a child, and makes provision whereby an order made by a court in one part of the United Kingdom<sup>1</sup> may be registered in another part of the United Kingdom<sup>2</sup>, and then enforced in that part of the United Kingdom as an order made by the court there<sup>3</sup>. The orders (known as 'Part I orders'<sup>4</sup>) to which the relevant provisions of the Family Law Act 1986<sup>5</sup> apply include relevant orders made by the courts in Scotland and Northern Ireland<sup>6</sup>. The orders made by courts in England and Wales which are Part I orders are:

- 1552 (1) a contact order<sup>7</sup>, a prohibited steps order<sup>8</sup>, a residence order<sup>9</sup>, a specific issue order<sup>10</sup>, other than an order varying or discharging such an order<sup>11</sup>;
- 1553 (2) a special guardianship order<sup>12</sup>;
- 1554 (3) an order for contact with a child placed for adoption<sup>13</sup> other than an order varying or revoking such an order<sup>14</sup>; and
- 1555 (4) an order made in the exercise of the inherent jurisdiction of the High Court with respect to children so far as it gives care of a child to any person or provides for contact with, or the education of, a child, but not an order varying or discharging such an order<sup>15</sup>.

The Family Law Act 1986 distinguishes between matrimonial and other orders<sup>16</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'part of the United Kingdom' see para 827 note 3 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see para 102 note 7 ante.

3 The Family Law Act 1986 is based on recommendations made by the Law Commission and the Scottish Law Commission: see Recognition of Foreign Nullity Decrees and Related Matters (Law Com No 137; Scot Law Com No 88) (1984).

4 See the Family Law Act 1986 s 1(1) (amended by the Children Act 1989 s 108(5), Sch 13 paras 62(1)(2)(a), 63; the Adoption and Children Act 2002 s 139(1), Sch 3 paras 46, 47; the Children (Scotland) Act 1995 s 105(4), Sch 4 para 41(2); the Age of Legal Capacity (Scotland) Act 1991 s 10, Sch 1 para 44; and the Children (Northern Ireland Consequential Amendments) Order 1995, SI 1995/756, art 12(2)(a)(i), (ii)). As to what constitutes a Part I order for the purposes of the Family Law Act 1986 Pt I, Ch V (ss 25-32) (as amended) see para 837 note 1 post. See also note 15 infra.

5 The relevant provisions are contained in ibid Pt I (ss 1-43) (as amended): see para 830 et seq post.

6 See ibid s 1(1)(b) (amended by the Children (Scotland) Act 1995 Sch 4 para 41(2); and the Age of Legal Capacity (Scotland) Act 1991 Sch 1 para 44); the Family Law Act 1986 s 1(1)(c) (substituted by the Children (Northern Ireland Consequential Amendments) Order 1995, SI 1995/756, art 12(2)(a)(i)); the Family Law Act 1986 s 1(1)(e) (substituted by the Children (Northern Ireland Consequential Amendments) Order 1995, SI 1995/756, art 12(2)(a)(ii)); the Family Law Act 1986 s 1(2) (amended by the Children Act 1989 Sch 13 para 63(2), Sch 15; and the Children (Northern Ireland Consequential Amendments) Order 1995, SI 1995/756); the Family Law Act 1986 s 1(3) (substituted by the Children Act 1989 Sch 13 para 63(3); and amended by the Children (Northern Ireland Consequential Amendments) Order 1995, SI 1995/756, art 12(2)(b)).

The provisions of the Family Law Act 1986 ss 2-7 (as amended) (jurisdiction of the courts) apply only to England and Wales, although the Act makes similar provision in relation to Scotland and Northern Ireland, and can be applied to dependent territories, thus giving full effect to the object of Pt I (as amended) as between those jurisdictions. See further ss 8-18 (as amended) (jurisdiction of courts in Scotland), ss 19-24 (as amended) (jurisdiction of courts in Northern Ireland), and s 43 (as amended) (application to dependent territories). The Act has been applied to the Isle of Man and Jersey: see the Family Law Act 1986 (Dependent Territories) Order 1991, Sch 1 (amended by SI 2006/1456).

The Family Law Act 1986 s 1 (as amended) is modified, for the purpose of regulating, as between any specified British overseas territory and any part of the United Kingdom, the jurisdiction of courts to make Part I orders, and the recognition and enforcement of orders corresponding to such orders, by the Family Law Act 1986 (Dependent Territories) Order 1991, SI 1991/1723 (amended by SI 2006/1456). As to British overseas territories see COMMONWEALTH vol 13 (2009) PARA 702.

11 Family Law Act 1986 s 1(1)(a) (amended by the Children Act 1989 Sch 13 para 63). The orders listed in head (1) in the text are orders made under the Children Act 1989 s 8 (as amended). A court may not make an order under the Family Law Act 1986 s 1(1)(a) (as amended) with respect to a child unless it has jurisdiction under EC Council Regulation 2201/2003 (OJ L338, 23.12.2003, pp 1-29) (the 'Brussels IIR Regulation'): Family Law Act 1986 s 2(1)(a) (substituted by the European Communities (Jurisdiction and Judgments in Matrimonial and Parental Responsibility Matters) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/265, reg 8(1), (2)).

12 Family Law Act 1986 s 1(1)(aa) (added by the Adoption and Children Act 2002 s 139, Sch 3). As to special guardianship orders see para 151 ante.

13 Is an order made under the Adoption and Children Act 2002 s 26: see para 339 ante.

14 Family Law Act 1986 s 1(1)(ab) (added by the Adoption and Children Act 2002 Sch 3 paras 46, 47). As to the inherent jurisdiction of the High Court see para 218 et seq ante.

Note that parties to proceedings for a Part I order must, to such extent and in such manner as may be prescribed, give particulars of other proceedings known to them which relate to the child concerned, including proceedings instituted abroad and proceedings which are no longer continuing: Family Law Act 1986 s 39 (amended by the Children Act 1989 s 108(5), Sch 13 para 62). As to the prescribed manner of notification by a party to proceedings in a magistrates court in England and Wales see the Magistrates' Courts (Family Law Act 1986) Rules 1988, SI 1988/329, r 6, Schedule (amended by SI 2005/617).

15 Family Law Act 1986 s 1(1)(d) (substituted by the Children Act 1989 Sch 13 para 63(1)(b)). Prior to the amendment of the Family Law Act 1986 by the Children Act 1989, the orders referred to in the Family Law Act 1986 Pt I were known as 'custody orders'; a 'Part I order' also includes any order which would have been a custody order by virtue of the Family Law Act 1986 s 1 (as amended) in any form in which it was in force at any time before its amendment by the Children Act 1989, and, subject to the provisions of the Family Law Act 1986 ss 32, 40 (both as amended), excludes any order which would have been excluded from being a custody order by virtue of s 1 (as amended): s 1(3) (substituted by the Children Act 1989 Sch 13 para 63(3)).

CHILD ABDUCTION/(6) REMOVAL BETWEEN DIFFERENT UNITED KINGDOM JURISDICTIONS/831. Orders relating to children in matrimonial proceedings or civil partnership proceedings.

831. Orders relating to children in matrimonial proceedings or civil partnership proceedings.

- 1556 (1) it has jurisdiction under the Council Regulation<sup>6</sup>; or
- 1557 (2) the Council Regulation does not apply but the question of making the order arises in or in connection with matrimonial proceedings<sup>7</sup> or civil partnership proceedings<sup>8</sup> and the matrimonial or civil partnership proceedings are proceedings in respect of the marriage or civil partnership of the parents of the child concerned<sup>9</sup> and:

- 19. (a) the proceedings are proceedings for divorce or nullity of marriage or dissolution or annulment of civil partnership and are continuing<sup>11</sup>;
- 20. (b) the proceedings are proceedings for judicial separation or legal separation of civil partners and are continuing and the jurisdiction of the court is not excluded<sup>12</sup>; or
- 21. (c) the proceedings have been dismissed after the beginning of the trial but the contact order, prohibited steps order, residence order or specific issue order<sup>13</sup> is being made forthwith, or the application for the order was made on or before the dismissal<sup>14</sup>.

1 As to contact orders see para 251 ante.

2 As to prohibited steps orders see para 261 ante.

3 As to residence orders see para 262 ante.

4 As to specific issue orders see para 263 ante.

5 I.e. the court has no jurisdiction to make an order falling within the Family Law Act 1986 s 1(1)(a) (see para 830 ante): see ss 2(1), 7(d) (s 7 substituted by the Children Act 1989 s 108(5), Sch 13 para 67). 'Child' means a person who has not attained the age of 18: Family Law Act 1986 s 7(a) (as so substituted).

6 Ibid s 2(1)(a) (s 2 substituted by the Children Act 1989 Sch 13 para 64; and the Family Law Act 1986 s 2(1) substituted by the European Communities (Jurisdiction and Judgments in Matrimonial and Parental Responsibility Matters) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/265, reg 8). The Council Regulation referred to in the text is EC Council Regulation 2201/2003 (OJ L338, 23.12.2003, pp 1-29) on the jurisdiction and the recognition and enforcement of judgments in matrimonial matters and in matters of parental responsibility (the 'Brussels IIR Regulation'): Family Law Act 1986 s 42(1) (definition added by the European Communities (Matrimonial Jurisdiction and Judgments) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/310, reg 8; and substituted by the European Communities (Jurisdiction and Judgments in Matrimonial and Parental Responsibility Matters) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/265, reg 16). See paras 788-798 ante. As from a day to be appointed the Family Law Act 1986 s 2 (as amended), s 2A (as added and amended) and s 42 are to be amended by the Family Law Act 1996 s 66(1), Sch 8 para 37, but at the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed and these amendments are unlikely to be brought into force: see para 150 note 7 ante.

7 'Matrimonial proceedings' means proceedings for divorce, nullity of marriage or judicial separation: Family Law Act 1986 s 7(b) (as substituted: see note 5 supra). See further MATRIMONIAL AND CIVIL PARTNERSHIP LAW.

8 'Civil partnership proceedings' means proceedings for the dissolution or annulment of a civil partnership or for a legal separation of the civil partnership: Family Law Act 1986 s 7(aa) (s 7 as substituted (see note 5 supra); and s 7(aa) added by the Civil Partnership (Family Proceedings and Housing Consequential Amendments) Order 2005, SI 2005/3336, arts 4, 10).

9 Family Law Act 1986 s 2(1)(b) (as substituted (see note 6 supra); and amended by the Civil Partnership (Family Proceedings and Housing Consequential Amendments) Order 2005, SI 2005/3336, arts 4, 5). See note 6 supra.

10 A reference to proceedings in respect of the marriage or civil partnership of the parents of the child concerned, in relation to a child who, though not a child of both parties to the marriage or civil partnership, is a child of the family of those parties, includes proceedings in respect of that marriage or civil partnership: Family Law Act 1986 s 42(4) (amended by Children Act 1989 Sch 13 para 71); Family Law Act 1986 s 42(4A) (added by the Civil Partnership (Family Proceedings and Housing Consequential Amendments) Order 2005, SI 2005/3336, arts 4, 19). For this purpose, 'child of the family', in relation to proceedings in England and Wales, means any child who has been treated by both parties as a child of their family, except a child placed with them as foster parents by a local authority or voluntary organisation: see the Family Law Act 1986 s 42(4)(a) (as so amended); s 42(4A) (as so added).

Section s 42(4) (as amended) is modified, for the purpose of regulating, as between any specified British overseas territory and any part of the United Kingdom, the jurisdiction of courts to make Part I orders (see para 830 ante), and the recognition and enforcement of orders corresponding to such orders, by the Family Law Act 1986 (Dependent Territories) Order 1991, SI 1991/1723 (amended by SI 1994/2800; SI 2006/1456). As to British overseas territories see COMMONWEALTH vol 13 (2009) PARA 702.

11 Family Law Act 1986 s 2A(1)(a) (s 2A added by the Children Act 1989 Sch 13 para 64; and the Family Law Act 1986 s 2A(1)(a) amended by the Civil Partnership (Family Proceedings and Housing Consequential Amendments) Order 2005, SI 2005/3336, arts 4, 7). For this purpose, proceedings for divorce, nullity or judicial separation in respect of the marriage of the parents of a child or proceedings for dissolution, annulment or legal separation in respect of the civil partnership of the parents of the child are, unless they have been dismissed, treated as continuing until the child concerned attains the age of 18 (whether or not a decree has been granted and whether or not, in the case of a decree of divorce or nullity of marriage, that decree has been made absolute and whether or not a dissolution, nullity or separation order has been made in civil partnership proceedings and whether or not, in the case of a dissolution or nullity order, that order has been made final): Family Law Act 1986 s 42(2), (2A) (added by the Civil Partnership (Family Proceedings and Housing Consequential Amendments) Order 2005, SI 2005/3336, arts 4, 19). Where there are concurrent matrimonial proceedings in England and Wales and elsewhere, the court's discretion to stay proceedings will be fettered if the mandatory provisions governing matrimonial proceedings contained in the Domicile and Matrimonial Proceedings Act 1973 (see MATRIMONIAL AND CIVIL PARTNERSHIP LAW) apply: see T v T (custody: jurisdiction) [1992] 1 FCR 329, [1992] 1 FLR 43.

The Family Law Act 1986 s 42(2) is modified, for the purpose of regulating, as between any specified British overseas territory and any part of the United Kingdom, the jurisdiction of courts to make Part I orders (see para 830 ante), and the recognition and enforcement of orders corresponding to such orders, by the Family Law Act 1986 (Dependent Territories) Order 1991, SI 1991/1723 (amended by SI 2006/1456). As to British overseas territories see COMMONWEALTH vol 13 (2009) PARA 702.

See note 6 supra.

12 Family Law Act 1986 s 2A(1)(b) (as added (see note 11 supra); and amended by the Civil Partnership (Family Proceedings and Housing Consequential Amendments) Order 2005, SI 2005/3336, arts 4, 7). See note 6 supra.

For the purposes of the Family Law Act 1986 s 2A(1)(b) (as added and amended), the jurisdiction of the court is excluded if:

630 (1) after the grant of a decree of judicial separation, on the relevant date, proceedings for divorce or nullity in respect of the marriage are continuing in Scotland or Northern Ireland (s 2A(2)(a) (s 2A as so added; and s 2A(2) substituted by the Civil Partnership (Family Proceedings and Housing Consequential Amendments) Order 2005, SI 2005/3336, arts 4, 7)); or

631 (2) after the making of a separation order, on the relevant date, proceedings for the dissolution or annulment in respect of the civil partnership are continuing in Scotland or Northern Ireland (Family Law Act 1986 s 2A(2)(b) (as so added and substituted)).

Section 2A(2) (as added and substituted) does not apply if the court in which those other proceedings are continuing has made an order declining jurisdiction or staying the proceedings: s 2A(3) (as so added; and amended by the Children (Northern Ireland Consequential Amendments) Order 1995, SI 1995/756, art 12(1), (5) (a)). The Family Law Act 1986 s 2A(2) (as added and substituted) and s 2A(3) (as added and amended) are modified, for the purpose of regulating, as between any specified British overseas territory and any part of the United Kingdom, the jurisdiction of courts to make Part I orders (see para 830 ante), and the recognition and enforcement of orders corresponding to such orders, by the Family Law Act 1986 (Dependent Territories) Order 1991, SI 1991/1723 (amended by SI 2006/1456).

'The relevant date' means in relation to the making or variation of an order:

- 632 (a) where an application is made for an order to be made or varied, the date of the application (or first application, if two or more are determined together) (Family Law Act 1986 s 7(c)(i) (as substituted: see note 5 supra)); and
- 633 (b) where no such application is made, the date on which the court is considering whether to make or, as the case may be, vary the order (s 7(c)(ii) (as so substituted)).

As to the 'relevant date' see Re F (residence order: jurisdiction) [1996] 1 FCR 577, [1995] 2 FLR 518; Re S (a minor) (contact: jurisdiction) [1995] 2 FCR 162, sub nom Re S (residence order: forum conveniens) [1995] 1 FLR 314; Re J (abduction: rights of custody) [1999] 3 FCR 577, sub nom Re J (abduction: declaration of wrongful removal) [1999] 2 FLR 653. Where the Council Regulation<sup>1</sup> does not apply, a court in England and Wales has no jurisdiction to make a contact order<sup>2</sup>, prohibited steps order<sup>3</sup>, residence order<sup>4</sup> or specific issue order<sup>5</sup> in a non-matrimonial case<sup>6</sup> unless<sup>7</sup> on the relevant date<sup>8</sup> the child concerned<sup>9</sup>:

and in either case the jurisdiction of the court is not excluded<sup>13</sup>. Jurisdiction is excluded if on the relevant date matrimonial proceedings<sup>14</sup> or civil partnership proceedings<sup>15</sup> are continuing in a court in Scotland or Northern Ireland in respect of the marriage or civil partnership of the parents of the child concerned<sup>16</sup>, unless the court in which those other proceedings are continuing has made an order declining jurisdiction or staying proceedings and that order is in force<sup>17</sup>.

- 1560 (1) it has jurisdiction under the Council Regulation<sup>2</sup>; or
- 1561 (2) the Council Regulation does not apply but the condition relating to habitual residence<sup>3</sup> is satisfied<sup>4</sup>; or
- 1562 (3) the Council Regulation does not apply but the child<sup>5</sup> concerned is present in England and Wales on the relevant date<sup>6</sup> and the court considers that the immediate exercise of its powers is necessary for his protection<sup>7</sup>.

835. Power to refuse application or stay proceedings.

A court in England and Wales which has jurisdiction to make a Part I order<sup>1</sup> may refuse an application for the order in any case where the matter in question has already been determined in proceedings outside England and Wales<sup>2</sup>. Moreover, where at any stage of the proceedings on an application made to a court in England and Wales for a Part I order, or for the variation of a Part I order, it appears to the court<sup>3</sup>:

- 1563 (1) that proceedings with respect to the matters to which the application relates are continuing outside England and Wales<sup>4</sup>; or
- 1564 (2) that it would be more appropriate for those matters to be determined in proceedings to be taken outside England and Wales<sup>5</sup>; or
- 1565 (3) that it should exercise its powers under the Council Regulation<sup>6</sup> to transfer to a court better placed to hear the case<sup>7</sup>, a court may stay proceedings on the application or, as the case may be, exercise its powers under the Council Regulation<sup>8</sup>.

The court may remove a stay granted by virtue of head (3) above in respect of the Council Regulation only in accordance with that Regulation<sup>9</sup>. The court may remove a stay granted by virtue of head (1) or head (2) above if it appears to the court that there has been unreasonable delay in the taking or prosecution of the other proceedings, or that those other proceedings are stayed, sisted or concluded<sup>10</sup>.

835 Power to refuse application or stay proceedings

NOTES 8, 9--Family Law Act 1986 s 5(2A), (3B) in force on 8 December 2008: SI 2008/2870.

Halsbury's Laws of England/CHILDREN AND YOUNG PERSONS (VOLUME 5(3) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 1-742; VOLUME 5(4) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 743-1433)/10. CHILD ABDUCTION/(6) REMOVAL BETWEEN DIFFERENT UNITED KINGDOM JURISDICTIONS/836. Duration and variation of orders.

836. Duration and variation of orders.

If a Part I order<sup>1</sup> made by a court in Scotland or Northern Ireland, or a variation of such an order, comes into force with respect to a child<sup>2</sup> at a time when a Part I order made by a court in England and Wales has effect with respect to him, the latter order ceases to have effect so far as it makes provision for any matter for which the same or different provision is made by, or by the variation of, the order of the court in Scotland or Northern Ireland<sup>3</sup>.

A court in England and Wales does not have jurisdiction to vary a Part I order if on the relevant date<sup>4</sup> matrimonial proceedings<sup>5</sup> or civil partnership proceedings<sup>6</sup> are continuing in Scotland or Northern Ireland in respect of the marriage of the parents of the child concerned<sup>7</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'Part I order' see para 830 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'child' see para 831 note 5 ante.

3 Family Law Act 1986 s 6(1) (amended by the Children Act 1989 s 108(5), Sch 13 para 62). Where an order has ceased to have effect by virtue of the Family Law Act 1986 s 6(1) (as amended) so far as it makes provision for any matter, a court in England and Wales does not have jurisdiction to vary that order so as to make provision for that matter: s 6(2) (amended by the Children Act 1989 Sch 13 para 62). Where a Part I order which is:

634 (1) a residence order in favour of a person with respect to a child (Family Law Act 1986 s 6(6)(a) (s 6(6), (7) substituted by the Children Act 1989 Sch 13 para 66));

635 (2) an order made in the exercise of the High Court's inherent jurisdiction with respect to children by virtue of which a person has care of a child (Family Law Act 1986 s 6(6)(b) (as so substituted)); or

636 (3) an order of a kind under s 1(3)(a) (see para 830 ante) under which a person is entitled to the actual possession of a child (s 6(6)(c) (as so substituted)), ceases to have effect in relation to that person by virtue of these provisions, any family assistance order made under the Children Act 1989 s 16 (as amended) (see para 267 ante) with respect to the child also ceases to have effect: Family Law Act 1986 s 6(6), (7) (as so substituted). For the meaning of 'residence order' see para 262 ante.

As from a day to be appointed the Family Law Act 1986 s 6 is to be amended by the Family Law Act 1996 s 66(1), Sch 8 para 37, but at the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed and this amendment is unlikely to be brought into force: see para 150 note 7 ante.

The Family Law Act 1986 s 6(1) (as amended) is modified, for the purpose of regulating, as between any specified British overseas territory and any part of the United Kingdom, the jurisdiction of courts to make Part I orders (see para 830 ante), and the recognition and enforcement of orders corresponding to such orders, by the Family Law Act 1986 (Dependent Territories) Order 1991, SI 1991/1723 (amended by SI 2006/1456). As to British overseas territories see COMMONWEALTH vol 13 (2009) PARA 702.

4 For the meaning of 'relevant date' see para 831 note 12 ante.

5 For the meaning of 'matrimonial proceedings' see para 831 note 7 ante.

6 For the meaning of 'civil partnership proceedings' see para 831 note 8 ante.

7 Family Law Act 1986 s 6(3) (substituted by the Children Act 1989 Sch 13 paras 62(1), 66(1); and amended by the Civil Partnership (Family Proceedings and Housing Consequential Amendments) Order 2005, SI 2005/3336, arts 4, 9(1), (2)(a), (b)). See note 3 supra. This does not apply if:

- 637 (1) the Part I order was made in or in connection with proceedings for divorce or nullity in England and Wales in respect of the marriage of the parents of the child concerned or was made in or in connection with proceedings for dissolution or annulment in England and Wales in respect of the civil partnership of the parents of the child concerned, and those proceedings are continuing (Family Law Act 1986 s 6(3A) (s 6(3A), (3B) added by the Children Act 1989 Sch 13 para 66(1); and substituted by the Civil Partnership (Family Proceedings and Housing Consequential Amendments) Order 2005, SI 2005/3336, arts 4, 9));
- 638 (2) the Part I order was made in or in connection with proceedings for judicial separation or for a separation order in England and Wales, those proceedings are continuing and, as the case may be, the decree of judicial separation has not yet been granted or the separation order has not yet been made (Family Law Act 1986 s 6(3B) (as so added and substituted));
- 639 (3) the court in which the proceedings are continuing has made an order declining jurisdiction or staying proceedings and that order is in force (s 6(4) (amended by the Children (Northern Ireland Consequential Amendments) Order 1995, SI 1995/756, art 12(1), (5)(c))); or
- 640 (4) in the case of a variation of an order under the Family Law Act 1986 s 1(1)(d) (as substituted) (see para 830 ante), the child concerned is present in England and Wales on the relevant date and the court considers the immediate exercise of its powers is necessary for his protection (s 6(5) (amended by the Children Act 1989 Sch 13 para 66(2))).

The provisions of the Family Law Act 1986 s 6(3) (as substituted and amended) and s 6(4) (as amended) are modified, for the purpose of regulating, as between any specified British overseas territory and any part of the United Kingdom, the jurisdiction of courts to make Part I orders (see para 830 ante), and the recognition and enforcement of orders corresponding to such orders, by the Family Law Act 1986 (Dependent Territories) Order 1991, SI 1991/1723 (amended by SI 2006/1456).

Halsbury's Laws of England/CHILDREN AND YOUNG PERSONS (VOLUME 5(3) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 1-742; VOLUME 5(4) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 743-1433)/10. CHILD ABDUCTION/(6) REMOVAL BETWEEN DIFFERENT UNITED KINGDOM JURISDICTIONS/837. Recognition of orders.

837. Recognition of orders.

Where a Part I order<sup>1</sup> made by a court in any part of the United Kingdom<sup>2</sup> is in force with respect to a child who has not attained the age of 16, then the order must be recognised in any other part of the United Kingdom as having the same effect in that other part as if it had been made by the appropriate court<sup>3</sup> in that other part and as if that court had had jurisdiction to make it<sup>4</sup>. A court must not, however, enforce the order unless it has been registered in that part of the United Kingdom<sup>5</sup> and proceedings for enforcement are taken in accordance with the provisions of the Family Law Act 1986<sup>6</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'Part I order' see para 830 ante. In the Family Law Act 1986 Pt I Ch V (ss 25-32) (as amended), 'Part I order' also includes (except where the context otherwise requires) any order within s 1(3) (as substituted) (see para 830 ante) which, on the assumptions mentioned in heads (a) and (b) infra: (1) could have been made notwithstanding the provisions of Pt I (ss 1-43) (as amended); (2) would have been a Part I order for the purposes of Pt I (as amended); and (3) would not have ceased to have effect by virtue of s 6, s 15 or s 23 (see para 836 ante): s 32(1) (amended by the Children Act 1989 s 108(5), Sch 13 para 62). The assumptions are:

641 (a) that the Family Law Act 1986 Pt I had been in force at all material times (s 32(3)(a)); and

642 (b) that any reference in s 1 (as amended) (see para 830 ante) to any enactment included a reference to any corresponding enactment previously in force (s 32(3)(b)).

The provisions of s 32(1) (as amended) and s 32(3) are modified, for the purpose of regulating, as between any specified British overseas territory and any part of the United Kingdom, the jurisdiction of courts to make Part I orders, and the recognition and enforcement of orders corresponding to such orders, by the Family Law Act 1986 (Dependent Territories) Order 1991, SI 1991/1723 (amended by SI 2006/1456). The provisions of the Family Law Act 1986 s 42(1) are also modified by the Family Law Act 1986 (Dependent Territories) Order 1991, SI 1991/1723 (as so amended). As to British overseas territories see COMMONWEALTH vol 13 (2009) PARA 702.

2 For the meaning of 'part of the United Kingdom' see para 827 note 3 ante.

3 In relation to England and Wales or Northern Ireland, 'appropriate court' means the High Court; and in relation to Scotland, it means the Court of Session: Family Law Act 1986 s 32(1) (as amended: see note 1 supra).

4 Ibid s 25(1) (s 25 amended by the Children Act 1989 Sch 13 para 62). This provision does not apply where a Part I order includes provision as to the means by which rights conferred by the order are to be enforced: see the Family Law Act 1986 s 25(2) (as so amended).

The Family Law Act 1986 s 25(1) (as amended) is modified, for the purpose of regulating, as between any specified British overseas territory and any part of the United Kingdom, the jurisdiction of courts to make Part I orders, and the recognition and enforcement of orders corresponding to such orders, by the Family Law Act 1986 (Dependent Territories) Order 1991, SI 1991/1723 (amended by SI 2006/1456).

5 Ie under the Family Law Act 1986 s 27 (as amended): see para 838 post.

6 Ibid s 25(3) (as amended: see note 4 supra). The reference in the text to proceedings for enforcement is a reference to proceedings taken in accordance with s 29 (as amended): see para 839 post.

Halsbury's Laws of England/CHILDREN AND YOUNG PERSONS (VOLUME 5(3) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 1-742; VOLUME 5(4) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 743-1433)/10. CHILD ABDUCTION/(6) REMOVAL BETWEEN DIFFERENT UNITED KINGDOM JURISDICTIONS/838. Registration of orders.

838. Registration of orders.

Any person on whom any rights are conferred by a Part I order<sup>1</sup> may apply to the court which made it for the order to be registered in another part of the United Kingdom<sup>2</sup> under a corresponding provision<sup>3</sup>. The application must be made in the prescribed manner<sup>4</sup>, contain prescribed information<sup>5</sup> and be accompanied by such documents as may be prescribed<sup>6</sup>. On receiving such an application, the court which made the order must, unless it appears to the court that the order is no longer in force, cause the following documents to be sent to the appropriate court<sup>7</sup> in the part of the United Kingdom specified in the application, namely<sup>8</sup>:

- 1566 (1) a certified copy<sup>9</sup> of the order<sup>10</sup>;
- 1567 (2) where the order has been varied, prescribed particulars of any variation which is in force<sup>11</sup>; and
- 1568 (3) a copy of the application and of any accompanying documents<sup>12</sup>.

Where the prescribed officer of the appropriate court in any part of the United Kingdom receives a certified copy of a Part I order, he must forthwith cause the order, together with particulars of any variation, to be registered in that court in the prescribed manner<sup>13</sup>.

A court which revokes, recalls or varies a registered order<sup>14</sup> must cause notice of the revocation, recall or variation to be given in the prescribed manner to the prescribed officer of the court in which it is registered<sup>15</sup>. On receiving the notice the prescribed officer must, in the case of the revocation or recall of the order, cancel the registration and, in the case of the variation of the order, cause particulars of the variation to be registered in the prescribed manner<sup>16</sup>.

Where a registered order ceases in whole or in part to have effect in the part of the United Kingdom in which it was made, otherwise than because of its revocation, recall or variation, the court in which the order is registered may, of its own motion or on the application of any person who appears to the court to have an interest in the matter, cancel the registration, or if the order has ceased to have effect in part, cancel the registration so far as it relates to the provisions which have ceased to have effect<sup>17</sup>.

Any applicant for registration of a Part I order, any person who satisfies a district judge that he has an interest under the order, and any person who obtains the leave of a district judge, may inspect any entry in the register relating to the order and may bespeak copies of the order and of any document relating to it<sup>18</sup>.

839. Enforcement of orders.

The court in which a Part I order<sup>1</sup> is registered<sup>2</sup> has the same powers for the purpose of enforcing the order<sup>3</sup> as it would have if it had itself made the order and had jurisdiction to make it, and proceedings for or with respect to enforcement may be taken accordingly<sup>3</sup>. Where an application has been made to any court for the enforcement of an order registered in that court, the court may at any time before the application is determined give interim directions as it thinks fit for the purpose of securing the welfare of the child concerned or of preventing changes in the circumstances relevant to the determination of the application<sup>4</sup>.

Where proceedings are taken in any court for the enforcement of an order registered in that court, any person who appears to the court to have an interest in the matter may apply for the proceedings to be stayed (or in Scotland sisted) on the ground that he has taken or intends to take other proceedings (in the United Kingdom or elsewhere) as a result of which the order may cease to have effect, or may have a different effect, in the part of the United Kingdom<sup>5</sup> in which it is registered<sup>6</sup>. If, after considering such an application, the court considers that the proceedings for enforcement should be stayed (or sisted) in order that other proceedings may be taken or concluded, it must stay (or sist) the enforcement proceedings accordingly<sup>7</sup>, but the court may remove the stay (or recall the sist) so granted if it appears to the court:

- 1569 (1) that there has been unreasonable delay in the taking or prosecution of the other proceedings<sup>8</sup>; or
- 1570 (2) that those proceedings are concluded and that the registered order or a relevant part of it is still in force<sup>9</sup>.

Where proceedings are taken in any court for the enforcement of an order<sup>10</sup> registered in that court, any person who appears to the court to have an interest in the matter may apply for those proceedings to be dismissed on the ground that the order has (in whole or in part) ceased to have effect in the part of the United Kingdom in which it was made<sup>11</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'Part I order' see paras 830, 837 note 1 ante. The references in the Family Law Act 1986 s 29(1) (as amended) to a Part I order do not include references to any provision of the order as to the means by which rights conferred by the order are to be enforced: s 29(3) (amended by the Children Act 1989 s 108(5), Sch 13 para 62).

2 Ie under the Family Law Act 1986 s 27 (as amended): see para 838 ante.

3 As from a day to be appointed, this includes, where an order with respect to contact is registered in England and Wales, the powers under the Children Act 1989 s 110 (prospectively added) (see para 260 ante): see the Family Law Act 1986 s 29(1) (prospectively amended by the Children and Adoption Act 2006 s 15(1), Sch 2 paras 2, 4). 3 See the Family Law Act 1986 s 29(1) (amended by the Children Act 1989 Sch 13 para 62).

4 Family Law Act 1986 s 29(2). An application for interim directions may be heard and determined by a district judge: Family Proceedings Rules 1991, SI 1991/1247, r 7.12(1). The parties to the enforcement proceedings and, if he is not already a party, the applicant for the Part I order must be made parties to the application for interim directions: r 7.12(2).

5 For the meaning of 'part of the United Kingdom' see para 827 note 3 ante.

- 6 Family Law Act 1986 s 30(1). Nothing in s 30 affects any power exercisable apart from s 30 to grant, remove or recall a stay or sist: s 30(4).
- 7 Ibid s 30(2).
- 8 Ibid s 30(3)(a).
- 9 Ibid s 30(3)(b). For the procedure for staying of enforcement proceedings see the Family Proceedings Rules 1991, SI 1991/1247, r 7.13.
- 10 Ie under the Family Law Act 1986 s 29 (as amended): see the text and notes 1-4 supra.
- 11 Ibid s 31(1). If, after considering an application under s 31(1), the court is satisfied that the registered order has ceased to have effect, it must dismiss the proceedings for enforcement or, if it is satisfied that the order has ceased to have effect in part, it must dismiss the proceedings so far as they relate to the enforcement of provisions which have ceased to have effect: s 31(3). For the procedure for dismissal of enforcement proceedings see the Family Proceedings Rules 1991, SI 1991/1247, r 7.13.

As from a day to be appointed, no application may be made under the Family Law Act 1986 s 31(1) for proceedings to be dismissed if the proceedings are proceedings on an application for an order under the Children Act 1989 s 11O(2) (prospectively added) (see para 260 ante): see the Family Law Act 1986 s 31(1A) (prospectively added by the Children and Adoption Act 2006 Sch 2 paras 2, 6). At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

The Family Law Act 1986 s 31(1) is modified, for the purpose of regulating, as between any specified British overseas territory and any part of the United Kingdom, the jurisdiction of courts to make Part I orders, and the recognition and enforcement of orders corresponding to such orders, by the Family Law Act 1986 (Dependent Territories) Order 1991, SI 1991/1723 (amended by SI 2006/1456). As to British overseas territories see COMMONWEALTH VOL 13 (2009) PARA 702.

NOTES 3, 11--Amendment to Family Law Act 1986 ss 29(1), 31(1A) in force on 8 December 2008: SI 2008/2870.

NOTE 6--No application may be made under the Family Law Act 1986 s 30(1) for proceedings to be stayed or sisted if the proceedings are proceedings on an application for an order under the Children Act 1989 s 11O(2): Family Law Act 1986 s 30(1A) (added by Children and Adoption Act 2006 Sch 2 para 5).

Halsbury's Laws of England/CHILDREN AND YOUNG PERSONS (VOLUME 5(3) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 1-742; VOLUME 5(4) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 743-1433)/10. CHILD ABDUCTION/(6) REMOVAL BETWEEN DIFFERENT UNITED KINGDOM JURISDICTIONS/840. Power to order disclosure of child's whereabouts.

840. Power to order disclosure of child's whereabouts.

Where in proceedings for or relating to a Part I order<sup>1</sup> in respect of a child there is not available to the court adequate information as to where the child is, the court may order any person who it has reason to believe may have relevant information to disclose it to the court<sup>2</sup>. A person is not excused from complying with such an order by reason that to do so may incriminate him or his spouse or civil partner of an offence; but a statement or admission made in compliance with such an order is not admissible in evidence against either of them in proceedings for any offence other than perjury<sup>3</sup>.

1 For these purposes, 'Part I order' includes (except where the context otherwise requires) any such order as is mentioned in the Family Law Act 1986 s 32(1) (as amended) (see para 837 note 1 ante): s 40(1) (amended by the Children Act 1989 s 108(5), Sch 13 para 62(1), (2)(a)).

2 Family Law Act 1986 s 33(1) (amended by the Children Act 1989 Sch 13 para 62(1), (2)(a)). The form to be used in respect of an order under the Family Law Act 1986 s 33 (as amended) is Form C30: see the Family Proceedings Rules 1991, SI 1991/1247, r 6.17, Appendix 1 (r 6.17 added, and Appendix 1 amended, by SI 1994/3155); and the Family Proceedings Courts (Children Act 1989) Rules 1991, SI 1991/1395, r 31A, Sch 1 (r 31A added, and Sch 1 amended, by SI 1994/3156). See para 224 ante.

Although disclosure orders under the Family Law Act 1986 s 33 (as amended) may be made against the police, such applications should be strongly discouraged by the courts: S v S (Chief Constable of West Yorkshire Police intervening) [1999] 1 All ER 281, [1998] 1 WLR 1716, CA.

NOTE 2--SI 1991/1395 Sch 1 further amended: SI 2008/2858, SI 2009/2025.

Halsbury's Laws of England/CHILDREN AND YOUNG PERSONS (VOLUME 5(3) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 1-742; VOLUME 5(4) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 743-1433)/10. CHILD ABDUCTION/(6) REMOVAL BETWEEN DIFFERENT UNITED KINGDOM JURISDICTIONS/841. Power to order recovery of child.

841. Power to order recovery of child.

Where a person is required by a Part I order<sup>1</sup>, or an order for the enforcement of such an order, to give up a child to another person ('the person concerned'), and the court which made the order is satisfied that the child has not been given up in accordance with the order, the court may make an order authorising an officer of the court or a constable to take charge of the child and deliver him to the person concerned<sup>2</sup>. The authority conferred by such an order includes authority to enter and search any premises where the person acting in pursuance of the order has reason to believe that the child may be found<sup>3</sup>, and to use such force as may be necessary to give effect to the purpose of the order<sup>4</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'Part I order' for these purposes see paras 830, 840 note 1 ante.

2 Family Law Act 1986 s 34(1) (amended by the Children Act 1989 s 108(5), Sch 13 para 62(1), (2)(a)). The form to be used in respect of an order under the Family Law Act 1986 s 34 (as amended) is Form C31: see the Family Proceedings Rules 1991, SI 1991/1247, r 6.17, Appendix 1 (r 6.17 added, and Appendix 1 amended, by SI 1994/3155); and the Family Proceedings Courts (Children Act 1989) Rules 1991, SI 1991/1395, r 31A, Sch 1 (r 31A added, and Sch 1 amended, by SI 1994/3156). See para 224 ante.

Where, by virtue of the Children Act 1989 s 14 (see para 262 ante), a Part I order or a provision thereof may be enforced as if it were an order requiring a person to give a child to another person, the Family Law Act 1986 s 34(1) (as amended) applies as if the order had included such a requirement: s 34(3)(a) (amended by the Children Act 1989 Sch 13 paras 62, 70). The court is unlikely to make an order under the Family Law Act 1986 s 34 (as amended) without notice; there should be an on notice hearing at which the merits can be properly considered, otherwise there is a risk of inflicting additional moves on the children: A v A (forum conveniens) [1999] 3 FCR 376, [1999] 1 FLR 1.

3 Family Law Act 1986 s 34(2)(a).

4 Ibid s 34(2)(b). The provisions of s 34 (as amended) are without prejudice to any power conferred on a court by or under any other enactment or rule of law: s 34(4).

NOTE 2--SI 1991/1395 Sch 1 further amended: SI 2008/2858, SI 2009/2025.

Halsbury's Laws of England/CHILDREN AND YOUNG PERSONS (VOLUME 5(3) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 1-742; VOLUME 5(4) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 743-1433)/10. CHILD ABDUCTION/(6) REMOVAL BETWEEN DIFFERENT UNITED KINGDOM JURISDICTIONS/842. Removal of child; surrender of passport.

842. Removal of child; surrender of passport.

Any order made by a court in the United Kingdom<sup>1</sup> prohibiting the removal of a child<sup>2</sup> from the United Kingdom or from any specified part of it<sup>3</sup>, has effect in each other part as if it had been made:

- 1571 (1) by the appropriate court<sup>4</sup> in that part<sup>5</sup>; and
- 1572 (2) in the case of an order which has the effect of prohibiting the child's removal to that part, as if it had included a prohibition on his further removal to any place except one to which he could be removed consistently with the order<sup>6</sup>.

Where an order is in force prohibiting or otherwise restricting the removal of a child<sup>7</sup> from the United Kingdom or from any specified part of it, the court by which the order was in fact made, or is treated as having been made<sup>8</sup>, may require any person to surrender any United Kingdom passport<sup>9</sup> which has been issued to, or contains particulars of, the child<sup>10</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'United Kingdom' see para 102 note 7 ante.

2 For these purposes, 'child' means a person who has not attained the age of 16, and the Family Law Act 1986 s 36 ceases to apply to an order relating to a child when he attains that age: s 36(4).

3 For the meaning of 'part of the United Kingdom' see para 827 note 3 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'appropriate court' see para 837 note 3 ante; definition applied by the Family Law Act 1986 s 40(1).

5 Ibid s 36(1), (2)(a). Section 36(1), (2) are modified, for the purpose of regulating, as between any specified British overseas territory and any part of the United Kingdom, the jurisdiction of courts to make Part I orders, and the recognition and enforcement of orders corresponding to such orders, by the Family Law Act 1986 (Dependent Territories) Order 1991, SI 1991/1723 (amended by SI 2006/1456). As to British overseas territories see COMMONWEALTH vol 13 (2009) PARA 702.

6 Family Law Act 1986 s 36(1), (2)(b). See note 5 supra. References in s 36(1), (2) to prohibitions on a child's removal include references to prohibitions subject to exceptions; and in a case where removal is prohibited except with the consent of the court, nothing in s 36(2) is to be construed as affecting the identity of the court whose consent is required: s 36(3).

7 Note that the definition of 'child' set out in note 2 supra does not apply for the purposes of ibid s 37.

8 Ie under ibid s 36: see the text and notes 1-6 supra.

9 'United Kingdom passport' means a current passport issued by the government of the United Kingdom: ibid s 37(2).

10 Ibid s 37(1). Section 37(1) is modified, for the purpose of regulating, as between any specified British overseas territory and any part of the United Kingdom, the jurisdiction of courts to make Part I orders, and the recognition and enforcement of orders corresponding to such orders, by the Family Law Act 1986 (Dependent Territories) Order 1991, SI 1991/1723 (amended by SI 2006/1456).

Halsbury's Laws of England/CHILDREN AND YOUNG PERSONS (VOLUME 5(3) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 1-742; VOLUME 5(4) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 743-1433)/10. CHILD ABDUCTION/(6) REMOVAL BETWEEN DIFFERENT UNITED KINGDOM JURISDICTIONS/843. Habitual residence of child after removal.

843. Habitual residence of child after removal.

Where a child who has not attained the age of 16 and who is habitually resident<sup>1</sup> in a part of the United Kingdom<sup>2</sup> becomes habitually resident outside that part of the United Kingdom in consequence of specified circumstances, he is treated as continuing to be habitually resident in that part of the United Kingdom for one year beginning with the date on which those circumstances arise<sup>3</sup>. Those circumstances exist where the child is removed from or retained outside, or himself leaves or remains outside, the part of the United Kingdom, without the agreement of the person or all the persons having, under the law of that part of the United Kingdom, the right to determine where he is to reside<sup>4</sup>, or in contravention of an order made by a court in any part of the United Kingdom<sup>5</sup>. A child ceases to be treated by virtue of the above provisions as being habitually resident in a part of the United Kingdom if, during the one-year period he attains the age of 16, or if he becomes habitually resident outside that part of the United Kingdom with the agreement of the person or persons entitled to determine his place of residence<sup>6</sup> and not in contravention of an order of a court in any part of the United Kingdom<sup>7</sup>.

1 The term 'habitually resident' is not defined in the Family Law Act 1986. For a discussion of habitual residence in the context of international child abduction see para 806 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'part of the United Kingdom' see para 827 note 3 ante.

3 Family Law Act 1986 s 41(1). Section 41 is modified, for the purpose of regulating, as between any specified British overseas territory and any part of the United Kingdom, the jurisdiction of courts to make Part I orders, and the recognition and enforcement of orders corresponding to such orders, by the Family Law Act 1986 (Dependent Territories) Order 1991, SI 1991/1723 (amended by SI 2006/1456). As to British overseas territories see COMMONWEALTH vol 13 (2009) PARA 702.

4 Family Law Act 1986 s 41(2)(a). See note 3 supra. A preliminary view expressed by such a person during the course of legal proceedings taken to determine the child's future residence will not be regarded as an agreement to a change in the child's habitual residence: D v D (custody: jurisdiction) [1996] 3 FCR 19, [1996] 1 FLR 574.

844. Day care and supervised activities.

A local authority<sup>1</sup> has a duty to provide appropriate day care<sup>2</sup> for children<sup>3</sup> in need within its area who are aged five or under and not yet attending schools<sup>4</sup>. It may provide facilities, including training, advice, guidance and counselling, for those caring for children in day care or who at any time accompany such children while they are in day care<sup>5</sup>.

A local authority in Wales may also provide day care for children aged five or under and not yet attending schools<sup>6</sup> even though they are not in need<sup>7</sup> and may provide care or supervised activities<sup>8</sup> for children who are attending any school even though they are not in need<sup>9</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'local authority' see para 248 note 10 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'day care' see para 860 post. As to the provision of services by voluntary organisations and others see para 851 et seq post.

845. Children's service plans in Wales.

In relation to Wales the following provisions have effect until a day to be appointed<sup>1</sup>. On or before 31 March 1997, every local authority<sup>2</sup> had to:

- 1573 (1) review its provision of services for children and families<sup>3</sup>; and
- 1574 (2) having regard to that review and to its most recent review of provision for day care<sup>4</sup> and child minding<sup>5</sup>, prepare and publish a plan for the provision of services under Part III of the Children Act 1989<sup>6</sup>.

Every local authority:

- 1575 (a) must from time to time review the plan prepared by it under head (2) above (as modified or last substituted under this head or head (b) below)<sup>7</sup>; and
- 1576 (b) may, having regard to that review and to its most recent review of provision for day care and child minding<sup>8</sup>, prepare and publish<sup>9</sup> modifications (or, as the case may be, further modifications) to the plan reviewed<sup>10</sup> or a plan in substitution for that plan<sup>11</sup>.

In carrying out any review<sup>12</sup> and in preparing any plan or modifications to a plan, a local authority must consult:

- 1577 (i) every local health board, health authority or primary care trust the whole or any part of whose area lies within the area of the local authority<sup>13</sup>;
- 1578 (ii) every national health service trust which manages a hospital, establishment or facility<sup>14</sup> in the authority's area<sup>15</sup>;
- 1579 (iii) if the local authority is not itself a local education authority, every local education authority the whole or any part of whose area lies within the area of the local authority<sup>16</sup>;
- 1580 (iv) any organisation which represents certain schools<sup>17</sup> in the authority's area<sup>18</sup>;
- 1581 (v) the governing body of every such school in the authority's area which is not so represented<sup>19</sup>;
- 1582 (vi) such voluntary organisations<sup>20</sup> as appear to the local authority:

- 22. (A) to represent the interests of persons who use or are likely to use services provided by the local authority under Part III of the Children Act 1989<sup>21</sup>; or
- 23. (B) to provide services in the area of the local authority which, were they to be provided by the local authority, might be categorised as services provided under Part III of the Children Act 1989<sup>22</sup>;

- 1583 (vii) the chief constable of the police force for the area<sup>23</sup>;
- 1584 (viii) the local probation board for the area<sup>24</sup>;
- 1585 (ix) such other persons as appear to the local authority to be appropriate<sup>25</sup>; and
- 1586 (x) such other persons as the Welsh Ministers may direct<sup>26</sup>.

Every local authority must, within 28 days of receiving a written request from the Welsh Ministers, submit a copy of the plan prepared by it under heads (1) and (2) above<sup>27</sup>, or where that plan has been modified or substituted, the plan as modified or last substituted<sup>28</sup>.

846. Prevention of ill-treatment or neglect.

Every local authority is also required to take reasonable steps designed to:

- 1587 (1) reduce the need to bring:
  - .27
  - 24. (a) proceedings for care orders or supervision orders<sup>9</sup> with respect to children within its area;
  - 25. (b) criminal proceedings against such children;
  - 26. (c) any family or other proceedings<sup>10</sup> with respect to such children which might lead to their being placed in the authority's care; or
  - 27. (d) proceedings under the inherent jurisdiction of the High Court<sup>11</sup> with respect to children<sup>12</sup>;
- .28
- 1588 (2) encourage children within its area not to commit criminal offences<sup>13</sup>; and
- 1589 (3) avoid the need for children within its area to be placed in secure accommodation<sup>14</sup>.

847. Family centres.

Each local authority<sup>1</sup> must provide such family centres as it considers appropriate in relation to children<sup>2</sup> within its area<sup>3</sup>. A family centre is a centre at which the child, his parents<sup>4</sup>, any other person who has parental responsibility<sup>5</sup> for the child, and any other person who is looking after the child, may:

- 1590 (1) attend for occupational, social, cultural or recreational activities;
- 1591 (2) attend for advice, guidance or counselling; or
- 1592 (3) be provided with accommodation while he is receiving advice, guidance or counselling<sup>6</sup>.

There are three main types of family centre, namely therapeutic, community, and self-help; the local authority should ensure that its policy on family centres is developed in line with that for children in need: see the Department of Health publication The Children Act 1989: Guidance and Regulations Volume 2 Family Support, Day Care and Educational Provision for Young Children (HMSO, 1991) paras 3.18-3.24. SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(1) SUPPORT BY LOCAL AUTHORITY/(i) Support generally for Children/848. Provision of assistance to person ill-treating child.

848. Provision of assistance to person ill-treating child.

Where it appears to a local authority<sup>1</sup> that a child<sup>2</sup> who is living on particular premises is suffering, or is likely to suffer, ill-treatment<sup>3</sup> at the hands of another person who is living on those premises, and that other person proposes to move from the premises, the authority may assist that other person to obtain alternative accommodation<sup>4</sup>. Such assistance may be given in cash<sup>5</sup>. The assistance may be unconditional or subject to conditions as to the repayment of the assistance or of its value (in whole or in part)<sup>6</sup>. Before giving any assistance or imposing any conditions the local authority must have regard to the means of the child concerned and of each of his parents<sup>7</sup>. No person is liable to make a repayment of assistance or its value at any time when he is in receipt of income support<sup>8</sup>, working families' tax credit or disabled person's tax credit, or an income-based jobseeker's allowance<sup>9</sup>.

As from a day to be appointed s 17(9) (as amended) is further amended by the Welfare Reform Act 2007 s 28(1), Sch 3 para 6(1), (2) so as to also exclude a person in receipt of an income-related employment and support allowance. At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed. For the meaning of 'income-based jobseeker's allowance' see para 535 note 18 ante. The reference to working families' tax credit or disabled person's tax credit is to any element of child tax credit, other than the family element, or of working tax credit: Children Act 1989 s 17(9) (amended by the Tax Credits Act 2002 Sch 3 para 16(2), Sch 6). The Treasury may by regulations prescribe circumstances in which a person is to be treated for the purposes of the Children Act 1989 Pt III (ss 17-30) (as amended) (or for such of those purposes as are prescribed) as in receipt of any element of child tax credit other than the family element or of working tax credit: s 17(12) (added by the Tax Credits Act 2002 Sch 3 para 16(3)). Accordingly a person must be treated, for the purposes of the Children Act 1989 Pt III (as amended), as in receipt of working tax credit, or of any element of child tax credit other than the family element, where: (1) the person is in receipt of assistance under s 17 (as amended), or of a direct payment or voucher under s 17A (as added) (see para 861 post) or s 17B (as added) (see para 862 post); and (2) that assistance consists in the provision (or a direct payment or voucher to secure the provision) of child care, the cost of which (if paid for by the person out of his own resources) would be relevant child care charges in relation to that person and cause that person (in circumstances where, but for that cost, he would otherwise not be) to be entitled to working tax credit, or to any element of child tax credit other than the family element: Children Act 1989, Section 17(12) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2077, reg 3. 'Child care' and 'relevant child care charges' have the meanings given in the Working Tax Credit (Entitlement and Maximum Rate) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/2005 (see SOCIAL SECURITY AND PENSIONS): Children Act 1989, Section 17(12) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/2077, reg 2.

SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(1) SUPPORT BY LOCAL AUTHORITY/(i) Support generally for Children/850A. Delivery of social work services for children and young persons.

850A. Delivery of social work services for children and young persons.

A local authority may enter into arrangements with a body corporate for the discharge by that body of some or all of the relevant care functions, which are (1) its social services functions in relation to individual children who are looked after by it; and (2) its functions under the Children Act 1989 ss 23B-23D (see PARAS 929-931): Children and Young Persons Act 2008 s 1(1), (2) (s 1 in force in England in relation to specified local authorities, ss 2, 3, 5, 6 in force in relation to England: SI 2009/268, SI 2009/323). 'Local authority' means, in relation to England, the council of a county, a metropolitan district or a london borough or the Common Council of the City of London and, in relation to Wales, the council of a county or a county borough; 'function' includes any power to do anything which is calculated to facilitate, or is conducive or incidental to, the exercise of a function; and 'social services functions' has the meaning given by the Local Authority Social Services Act 1970 s 1A (see Sch 1; and SOCIAL SERVICES AND COMMUNITY CARE vol 44(2) (Reissue) PARA 1006): Children and Young Persons Act 2008 s 1(10), (11). References to a child looked after by a local authority have the same meaning as they have in the Children Act 1989 (see s 22; and PARA 867): Children and Young Persons Act 2008 s 1(9). A party, other than the local authority concerned, to such arrangements ('a provider of social work services') may not include any other local authority: s 1(3). See also s 1(4), (5). The Secretary of State and the Welsh Ministers may by regulations (a) specify functions not falling within s 1(2) which are to be treated as being relevant care functions, and specify functions otherwise falling within s 1(2) which are to be treated as not being relevant care functions (s 1(6)); (b) make provision about the bodies corporate which may, or may not, be parties to arrangements under s 1 (s 1(7)); (c) provide that arrangements under s 1 may not be entered into for a period shorter than the prescribed minimum period, or for a period exceeding the prescribed maximum period (s 1(8)). However, a local authority must not enter into arrangements under s 1 for the discharge of its functions (i) in relation to independent reviewing officers; or (ii) its functions as an adoption agency, unless the other party to the arrangements is a registered adoption society: see s 2(1), (2), (7). A local authority's functions in relation to independent reviewing officers are its functions under regulations made by virtue of the Children Act 1989 s 26(2)(k) (see PARA 936), or under s 25A: Children and Young Persons Act 2008 s 2(3). Further restrictions on arrangements under s 1 are made by s 2(4), (5). Any acts or omissions of a provider of social work services or its employees are to be treated as the acts and omissions of a local authority: see s 3. Provision is made specifying the duration of the piloting of arrangements: see s 6.

SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(1) SUPPORT BY LOCAL AUTHORITY/(ii) Support for Children in Need/A. PROVISION OF SERVICES/851. Duty to provide for children in need.

(ii) Support for Children in Need

A. PROVISION OF SERVICES

851. Duty to provide for children in need.

It is the general duty of each local authority<sup>1</sup> (in addition to the other duties imposed on it by Part III of the Children Act 1989<sup>2</sup>) to safeguard and promote the welfare of children within its area who are in need<sup>3</sup>. This duty is discharged by providing a range and level of services appropriate to those children's needs<sup>4</sup>. A child is taken to be in need if:

- 1593 (1) he is unlikely to achieve or maintain, or have the opportunity of achieving or maintaining, a reasonable standard of health<sup>5</sup> or development<sup>6</sup> without provision for him of services by a local authority under Part III of the Children Act 1989<sup>7</sup>; or
- 1594 (2) if his health or development is likely to be significantly impaired, or further impaired, without the provision for him of such services<sup>8</sup>; or
- 1595 (3) he is disabled<sup>9</sup>.

The Department of Health has issued guidance as to when a child is taken to be in need<sup>10</sup>, and the Department for Education and Skills (now the Department for Children, Schools and Families) has issued guidance on the duty to provide for children<sup>11</sup>.

For the purpose of facilitating the discharge of the general duty described above, the local authority has a number of specific powers and duties<sup>12</sup>.

Where a local authority can fulfil its duties in a number of ways, it is entitled to consider the financial implications of the various available resources before committing itself to the provision of a particular service<sup>13</sup>. However, where a local authority has a specific duty, lack of finance will not justify the failure to perform the duty<sup>14</sup>. A local authority may owe a duty of care concerning operational rather than policy decisions in relation to children in its care<sup>15</sup>.

If the Secretary of State is, or the Welsh Ministers are, satisfied that any local authority has failed, without reasonable excuse, to comply with any of the duties imposed on it by or under the Children Act 1989, he or they may make an order declaring that authority to be in default with respect to that duty<sup>16</sup>. Such an order, which must give the reasons of the Secretary of State or the Welsh Ministers for making it<sup>17</sup>, may contain such directions for the purpose of ensuring that the duty is complied with, within such a period as may be specified in the order, as appear to the Secretary of State or the Welsh Ministers to be necessary<sup>18</sup>. Such directions are enforceable, on the application of the Secretary of State or the Welsh Ministers, by mandatory order<sup>19</sup>. It is not necessary for there to have been a complaint before the Secretary of State or the Welsh Ministers intervene; they may act of their own motion. If a local authority fails to follow the statutory complaints procedure<sup>20</sup>, that failure is remediable by application to the Secretary of State or the Welsh Ministers to exercise the default powers<sup>21</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'local authority' see para 248 note 10 ante. Guidance has been given on the assessment to be made by a local authority under the Children Act 1989 Pt III (ss 17-30) (as amended) when determining whether an applicant asylum seeker is to be correctly classified as a child to whom the authority would owe a duty: see R (on the application of B) v Merton London Borough Council [2003] EWHC 1689 (Admin), [2003] 4 All ER 280, [2005] 3 FCR 69.

2 The Children Act 1989 Pt III (ss 17-30) (as amended) sets out the main responsibilities of a local authority for children in its area who are in need and for children in need who are being looked after by the local authority: see para 852 et seq post. Part III (as amended) does not affect any duty imposed on a local authority by or under any other enactment: s 30(1). Where the functions conferred on a local authority by Pt III (as amended) and the functions of a local education authority are concurrent, the Secretary of State or the Welsh Ministers may by regulations provide by which authority the functions are to be exercised: s 30(3). The Secretary of State or Welsh Ministers may make regulations for determining, as respects any local education authority functions specified in the regulations, whether a child who is being looked after by a local authority is to be treated, for purposes so specified, as a child of parents of sufficient resources or as a child of parents without resources: s 30(4). At the date at which this volume states the law no such regulations had been made. As to local education authorities see EDUCATION vol 15(1) (2006 Reissue) para 20 et seq. As to the Secretary of State and the Welsh Ministers see para 155 ante.

The Children Act 1989 draws together the functions of local authorities towards children which formerly existed under the Childcare Act 1980, the National Assistance Act 1948, and the National Health Service Act 1977 Sch 8 (as amended) in relation to children with disabilities and children under the age of five.

The Children Act 1989 Pt III (as amended) and Sch 2 (as amended) have been supplemented by the amendments made by the Children (Leaving Care) Act 2000, which came into force on 1 October 2001. The provisions of the Children Act 1989 are also supplemented by the Department of Health publications The Children Act 1989: Guidance and Regulations Volume 2 Family Support, Day Care and Educational Provision for Young Children (HMSO, 1991), and The Children Act 1989: Guidance and Regulations Volume 3 Family Placements (HMSO, 1991). As to the guidance and regulations generally see para 163 ante. Local authorities are required by statute, in the exercise of their social services functions, to act under the general guidance of the Secretary of State or the Welsh Ministers: Local Authority Social Services Act 1970 s 7(1); and see the Department for Education and Skills guidance Working Together to Safeguard Children (TSO, 2006).

A local authority's duties under the Children Act 1989 s 17 (as amended) in relation to the provision of housing must be exercised in relation to the needs of the child, and not merely to the needs of the family: R v Tower Hamlets London Borough Council, ex p Bradford [1998] 1 FCR 629, (1997) 29 HLR 756. A local authority which provides accommodation for a child in pursuance of the Children Act 1989 s 17(1) is not by virtue thereof also required to provide accommodation for the child's mother: see R (on the application of G) v Barnet London Borough Council [2001] EWCA Civ 540, [2001] 2 FCR 193, [2001] All ER (D) 144 (Apr) (affd sub nom R (on the application of G) v Barnet London Borough Council, R (on the application of W) v Lambeth London Borough Council, R (on the application of A) v Lambeth London Borough Council [2003] UKHL 57, [2004] 2 AC 208, [2004] 1 All ER 97). The duties of a local authority under the Children Act 1989 s 17 (as amended; prospectively amended) to a child in need continue even when the child is placed in a young offenders institution: R (on the application of the Howard League for Penal Reform) v Secretary of State for the Home Department [2002] EWHC 2497 (Admin), [2003] 1 FLR 484, [2003] Fam Law 149.

4 Children Act 1989 s 17(1). Before determining what (if any) services to provide for a particular child in need, a local authority must, so far as is reasonably practicable and consistent with the child's welfare:

- 643 (1) ascertain the child's wishes and feelings regarding the provision of those services (s 17(4A) (a) (s 17(4A) added by the Children Act 2004 s 53(1))); and 644 (2) give due consideration (having regard to his age and understanding) to such wishes and feelings of the child as it has been able to ascertain (Children Act 1989 s 17(4A)(b) (as so added)).

5 'Health' means physical or mental health: ibid s 17(11).

6 'Development' means physical, intellectual, emotional, social or behavioural development: ibid s 17(11).

7 Ibid ss 17(10)(a), 105(7). 'Service', in relation to any provision made under Pt III (as amended), includes any facility: s 105(1).

8 Ibid ss 17(10)(b), 105(7).

9 Ibid ss 17(10)(c), 105(7). A child is 'disabled' if he is blind, deaf or dumb or suffers from mental disorder of any kind or is substantially and permanently handicapped by illness, injury or congenital deformity or such other disability as may be prescribed: ss 17(11), 105(1). 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations made under the Children Act 1989: s 105(1). At the date at which this volume states the law no regulations had been made prescribing any disability. Each local authority must provide services designed to minimise the effect on disabled children within its area of their disabilities, and to give such children the opportunity to lead lives which are as normal as possible: s 17(2), Sch 2 para 6. These duties in relation to disabled children are extended by the Carers and Disabled Children Act 2000: see para 854 et seq post.

10 See the Department of Health publication The Children Act 1989: Guidance and Regulations Volume 2 Family Support, Day Care and Educational Provision for Young Children (HMSO, 1991). As to the guidance and regulations generally see para 163 ante.

A local authority is not expected to meet every individual need, but it is asked to identify the extent of need and then make decisions on the priorities for service provision in its area in the context of that information and its statutory duties. A local authority must ensure that a range of services is available to meet the extent and nature of need identified within its administrative area. In addition to day care provision for pre-school and school age children, it is likely that a range of services designed to support and improve the strengths and skills of parents in their own homes and neighbourhoods will be required. It is also likely that a vigorous foster care service will be required, offering a range of placements which reflects the racial, cultural, linguistic and religious needs of children requiring accommodation, and is responsive to the amount of short term, longer term, or permanent placements which the children may need. It remains likely that some children will need special forms of residential care. In many areas these services exist already, provided by statutory, voluntary and independent sources. It is important to recognise the benefits of developing packages of services appropriate to the assessed needs of individual children and their families, rather than directing them to existing services which may not be appropriate: para 2.11. Sometimes the needs will be found to be intrinsic to the child; at other times, however, it may be that parenting skills and resources are depleted or under-developed and thus threaten the child's well-being: para 2.5.

11 See the Department for Education and Skills guidance Working Together to Safeguard Children (TSO, 2006).

A local authority, acting in order to fulfil its social services functions, has specific legal duties in respect of children under the Children Act 1989 and the Children Act 2004. It has a general duty to safeguard and promote the welfare of children in its area, and, provided that this is consistent with the child's safety and welfare, to promote the upbringing of such children by their families, by providing services appropriate to the child's needs. The local authority should do this in partnership with parents and in a way which is sensitive to the child's race, religion, culture and language and that, where practicable, takes account of the child's wishes and feelings. Services might include day care for young children, after school care for school children, counselling, respite care, family centres or practical help in the home: Department for Education and Skills guidance Working Together to Safeguard Children (TSO, 2006) para 2.12. This guidance is complemented by the Framework for the Assessment of Children in Need and their Families which is issued as Appendix 1 to the guidance.

A decision made by a local authority must take into account the rights of the child and the family under the Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms (Rome, 4 November 1950; TS 71 (1953); Cmd 8969): see Re X, Barnet London Borough Council v Y and X [2006] Fam law 740.

851 Duty to provide for children in need

NOTES--Certain functions under provisions mentioned in this paragraph are 'relevant functions' for the purposes of the Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008 s 4, Sch 3: see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 733.

NOTE 2--Children Act 1989 s 30(4) amended: Children and Young Persons Act 2008 Sch 3 para 21(4).

NOTE 9--The services must also be designed to assist individuals who provide care for such children to continue to do so, or to do so more effectively, by giving them breaks from caring (such duty to be performed in accordance with regulations made by the Secretary of State or the Welsh Ministers): Children Act 1989 Sch 2 para 6 (amended by Children and Young Persons Act 2008 s 25(4) (in force for the purpose of making regulations: SI 2009/2273 (England), SI 2010/1329 (Wales))).

SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(1) SUPPORT BY LOCAL AUTHORITY/(ii) Support for Children in Need/A. PROVISION OF SERVICES/852. Identification of children in need and provision of information.

852. Identification of children in need and provision of information.

Each local authority<sup>1</sup> must take reasonable steps to identify the extent to which there are children in need<sup>2</sup> within its area<sup>3</sup>. A local authority must publish information about services<sup>4</sup> provided by it, and, where the local authority considers it appropriate, about the provision by others including, in particular, voluntary organisations<sup>5</sup>, of services which the local authority has power to provide, and must take such steps as are reasonably practicable to ensure that those who might benefit from services receive the information relevant to them<sup>6</sup>. A local authority must open and maintain a register of disabled<sup>7</sup> children within its area<sup>8</sup>.

Parliament intended that the exercise of the local authority's powers and duties under Part III of the Children Act 1989<sup>9</sup> should not be the subject of judicial scrutiny or control except by means of judicial review; therefore a specific issue order<sup>10</sup> is inapposite to determine the question of whether or not a specific child is a child in need<sup>11</sup>. In most circumstances, a person who is dissatisfied with the performance by a local authority of its duties<sup>12</sup> should initially pursue a complaint under the statutory complaints procedure<sup>13</sup>.

2 As to the meaning of 'child in need', and as to the duty to provide for such children, see para 851 ante. For the meaning of 'child' see para 3 ante. Where it appears to a local authority that a child within its area is in need, it may assess a child's needs for the purposes of the Children Act 1989 at the same time as any assessment is made under the Chronically Sick and Disabled Persons Act 1970 (see SOCIAL SERVICES AND COMMUNITY CARE), the Education Act 1996 Pt IV (ss 312-349) (as amended) (see EDUCATION), the Disabled Persons (Services, Consultation and Representation) Act 1986 (see SOCIAL SERVICES AND COMMUNITY CARE), or any other enactment: Children Act 1989 s 17(2), Sch 2 para 3 (amended by the Education Act 1996 s 582(1), Sch 37 para 92). SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(1) SUPPORT BY LOCAL AUTHORITY/(ii) Support for Children in Need/A. PROVISION OF SERVICES/853. Partnership with families.

853. Partnership with families.

It is the general duty of every local authority<sup>1</sup> (in addition to the other duties imposed by Part III of the Children Act 1989<sup>2</sup>) so far as is consistent with the duty to safeguard and promote the welfare of children who are in need<sup>3</sup>, to promote the upbringing<sup>4</sup> of such children by their families<sup>5</sup>. This duty is discharged by providing a range and level of services<sup>6</sup> appropriate to those children's needs<sup>7</sup>.

For the purpose of facilitating the discharge of the general duty described above, local authorities have a number of specific powers and duties<sup>8</sup>.

The Department for Education and Skills (now the Department for Children, Schools and Families) has issued guidance on the upbringing of children by their families<sup>9</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'local authority' see para 248 note 10 ante.

3 As to the meaning of 'child in need', and as to the duty to provide for such children, see para 851 ante. For the meaning of 'child' see para 3 ante.

4 As to the meaning of 'upbringing' see para 266 note 9 ante.

5 Children Act 1989 s 17(1)(b). 'Family', in relation to a child in need, includes any person who has parental responsibility for the child and any other person with whom he has been living: s 17(10). For the meaning of 'parental responsibility' see para 134 ante.

This provision is intended to give effect to the concept of partnership; partnership with parents in consultation with children on the basis of careful joint planning and agreement is the guiding principle for the provision of services within the family home and where children are provided with accommodation under voluntary arrangements. Such arrangements are intended to assist the parent and enhance, not undermine, the parent's authority and control: see the Department of Health publication The Children Act 1989: Guidance and Regulations Volume 2 Family Support, Day Care and Educational Provision for Young Children (HMSO, 1991) para 2.1. Where an authority does not follow statutory guidelines for assessing the needs of a child it should follow an approach that is substantially similar to that contained in guidelines: R (on the application of AB and SB) v Nottingham City Council [2001] EWHC 235 (Admin), [2001] 3 FCR 350.

8 See the Children Act 1989 s 17(2), Sch 2 Pt I (as amended; prospectively further amended); and see para 846 et seq ante. The Secretary of State or the Welsh Ministers may by order amend any provision of Sch 2 Pt I (as amended; prospectively amended) or add any further duty or power to those for the time being mentioned there: s 17(4). NOTE 8--Children Act 1989 s 17(2) amended: Children and Young Persons Act 2008 Sch 3 para 2.

Halsbury's Laws of England/CHILDREN AND YOUNG PERSONS (VOLUME 5(3) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 1-742; VOLUME 5(4) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 743-1433)/11. SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(1) SUPPORT BY LOCAL AUTHORITY/(ii) Support for Children in Need/A. PROVISION OF SERVICES/854. Assessments: persons with parental responsibility for disabled children.

854. Assessments: persons with parental responsibility for disabled children.

If a person with parental responsibility<sup>1</sup> for a disabled child<sup>2</sup>:

1596 (1) provides or intends to provide a substantial amount of care on a regular basis for the child<sup>3</sup>; and the local authority must carry out such an assessment if it is satisfied that the child and his family<sup>6</sup> are persons for whom it may provide or arrange for the provision of services<sup>7</sup>. The Secretary of State<sup>8</sup> or the Welsh Ministers<sup>9</sup> may give directions as to the manner in which such an assessment is to be carried out or the form it is to take<sup>10</sup>, and subject to any such directions, it is to be carried out in such manner, and is to take such form, as the local authority considers appropriate<sup>11</sup>. The local authority must take the assessment into account when deciding what, if any, services to provide<sup>12</sup>. Such an assessment must include consideration of whether the person with parental responsibility for the child works or wishes to work, or is undertaking or wishes to undertake education, training or any leisure activity<sup>13</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'parental responsibility' see para 134 ante; definition applied by the Carers and Disabled Children Act 2000 s 6(6). For the meaning of 'disabled' see para 851 note 9 ante; definition applied by s 6(6). For the meaning of 'child' see para 3 ante; definition applied by s 6(6).

For the purposes of such an assessment, the local authority may take into account, so far as it considers it to be material, an assessment under the Carers (Recognition and Services) Act 1995 s 1(2) (see SOCIAL SERVICES AND COMMUNITY CARE vol 44(2) (Reissue) para 1016): Carers and Disabled Children Act 2000 s 6(2).

Once the assessment is concluded and a care plan produced, the court may declare the care plan for the child unlawful if the local authority has failed to take relevant factors into account: see R (on the application of CD) v Isle of Anglesey County Council [2004] EWHC 1635 (Admin), [2004] 3 FCR 171, [2005] 1 FLR 59.

Halsbury's Laws of England/CHILDREN AND YOUNG PERSONS (VOLUME 5(3) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 1-742; VOLUME 5(4) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 743-1433)/11. SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(1) SUPPORT BY LOCAL AUTHORITY/(ii) Support for Children in Need/A. PROVISION OF SERVICES/855. Assessments: duty to inform carers of right to assessment.

855. Assessments: duty to inform carers of right to assessment.

If it appears to a local authority<sup>1</sup> that it would be required to carry out a carer's assessment<sup>2</sup> on being asked to do so by the carer or a person with parental responsibility for a disabled child ('the responsible person') it must inform the carer or, as appropriate, the responsible person, that he may be entitled to a carer's assessment<sup>3</sup>. There is no duty to inform the carer if the local authority has previously:

- 1598 (1) carried out a carer's assessment for him in relation to the person cared for;
- 1599 (2) informed him that he may be entitled to a carer's assessment in relation to the person cared for; or
- 1600 (3) carried out an assessment<sup>4</sup> of him<sup>5</sup>.

There is no duty to inform the responsible person if the local authority has previously carried out a carer's assessment for him in relation to the disabled child or informed him that he may be entitled to a carer's assessment in relation to the disabled child<sup>6</sup>.

1 For these purposes, 'local authority' has the meaning given in the National Health Service and Community Care Act 1990 s 46(3) (see SOCIAL SERVICES AND COMMUNITY CARE vol 44(2) (Reissue) para 1005); definition applied by the Carers and Disabled Children Act 2000 s 11(1).

2 'Carer's assessment' means: (1) in the case of the carer, an assessment under ibid s 1 (see SOCIAL SERVICES AND COMMUNITY CARE) of his ability to provide and continue to provide care for the person cared for; (2) in the case of the responsible person (see the text to note 3 infra), an assessment under s 6 (see para 854 ante) of his ability to provide and to continue to provide care for the disabled child: s 6A(5) (s 6A added by the Carers (Equal Opportunities) Act 2004 s 1(2)).

B. DUTIES WITH REGARD TO CHILDREN IN NEED

856. Children living with their families.

Each local authority<sup>1</sup> must make such provision as it considers appropriate so that the following services<sup>2</sup> are available for children in need<sup>3</sup> within its area while the children are living with their families<sup>4</sup>:

- 1601 (1) advice, guidance and counselling;
- 1602 (2) occupational, social, cultural or recreational activities;
- 1603 (3) home help (which may include laundry facilities);
- 1604 (4) facilities for, or assistance with, travelling to and from home for the purpose of taking advantage of any other service provided under the Children Act 1989 or any similar service; and
- 1605 (5) assistance to enable the child concerned and his family to have a holiday<sup>5</sup>.

2 For the meaning of 'service' see para 851 note 7 ante.

SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(1) SUPPORT BY LOCAL AUTHORITY/(ii) Support for Children in Need/B. DUTIES WITH REGARD TO CHILDREN IN NEED/857. Maintenance of family home.

857. Maintenance of family home.

Each local authority<sup>1</sup> must take such steps as are reasonably practicable to enable any child<sup>2</sup> within its area who is in need<sup>3</sup> and whom it is not looking after<sup>4</sup> and who is living apart from his family<sup>5</sup> to live with his family, or to promote contact between him and his family, if in the local authority's opinion it is necessary to do so in order to safeguard or promote his welfare<sup>6</sup>.

2 For the meaning of 'child' see para 3 ante.

4 As to the meaning of 'look after' where a local authority looks after a child see para 867 post.

SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(1) SUPPORT BY LOCAL AUTHORITY/(ii) Support for Children in Need/B. DUTIES WITH REGARD TO CHILDREN IN NEED/858. Duty to consider racial grouping.

858. Duty to consider racial grouping.

In making any arrangements for the provision of day care<sup>1</sup>, or which are designed to encourage persons to act as local authority foster parents<sup>2</sup>, each local authority<sup>3</sup> must have regard to the different racial groups to which children in need<sup>4</sup> within its area belong<sup>5</sup>.

The Department for Education and Skills (now the Department for Children, Schools and Families) has issued guidance on the duty to consider racial grouping<sup>6</sup>.

1 As to the local authority's duty to provide day care see para 860 post.

2 As to the meaning of 'local authority foster parent' see para 249 note 13 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'local authority' see para 248 note 10 ante.

4 As to the meaning of 'child in need', and as to the duty to provide for such children, see para 851 ante. For the meaning of 'child' see para 3 ante.

5 Children Act 1989 s 17(2), Sch 2 para 11.

6 See the Department for Education and Skills guidance Working Together to Safeguard Children (TSO, 2006).

Professionals should also be aware of the broader social factors that serve to discriminate against black and minority ethnic people. Working in a multi-racial and multi-cultural society requires professionals and organisations to be committed to equality in meeting the needs of all children and families, and to understand the effects of racial harassment, racial discrimination and institutional racism, as well as cultural misunderstanding or misinterpretation: para 10.10.

The assessment process should maintain a focus on the needs of the individual child; and it should always include consideration of the way religious beliefs and cultural traditions in different racial, ethnic and cultural groups influence their values, attitudes and behaviour, and the way in which family and community life is structured and organised: para 10.11.

Halsbury's Laws of England/CHILDREN AND YOUNG PERSONS (VOLUME 5(3) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 1-742; VOLUME 5(4) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 743-1433)/11. SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(1) SUPPORT BY LOCAL AUTHORITY/(ii) Support for Children in Need/B. DUTIES WITH REGARD TO CHILDREN IN NEED/859. Provision for family of child in need.

859. Provision for family of child in need.

Any service<sup>1</sup> provided by a local authority<sup>2</sup> in the exercise of functions conferred on it<sup>3</sup> may be provided for a family<sup>4</sup> of a particular child in need<sup>5</sup> or for any member of his family, if it is provided with a view to safeguarding or promoting the child's welfare<sup>6</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'service' see para 851 note 7 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'local authority' see para 248 note 10 ante. As to the provision of services by voluntary organisations and others see para 849 ante.

6 Children Act 1989 s 17(3). Section 17(3) confers a power, not a duty, on a local authority: see R (on the application of G) v Barnet London Borough Council [2001] EWCA Civ 540, [2001] 2 FCR 193, [2001] All ER (D) 144 (Apr).

SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(1) SUPPORT BY LOCAL AUTHORITY/(ii) Support for Children in Need/B. DUTIES WITH REGARD TO CHILDREN IN NEED/860. Day care and supervised activities.

860. Day care and supervised activities.

Every local authority<sup>1</sup> must provide<sup>2</sup>, for children in need<sup>3</sup> within its area:

- 1606 (1) for children who are aged five or under and not yet attending schools<sup>4</sup>, such day care as is appropriate<sup>5</sup>; and
- 1607 (2) for children who are attending any school such care or supervised activities<sup>6</sup> as is appropriate outside school hours or during school holidays<sup>7</sup>.

'Day care' means any form of care or supervised activity provided for children during the day<sup>8</sup>, whether or not it is provided on a regular basis<sup>9</sup>.

A local authority may also provide facilities, including training, advice, guidance and counselling, for those caring for children in day care or who at any time accompany such children while they are in day care<sup>10</sup>.

The Department for Education and Skills (now the Department for Children, Schools and Families) has issued guidance on the conduct of child care services<sup>11</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'local authority' see para 248 note 10 ante.

2 As to the provision of services by voluntary organisations and others see para 849 ante.

3 As to the meaning of 'child in need', and as to the duty to provide for such children, see para 851 ante. For the meaning of 'child' see para 3 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'school' see para 271 note 8 ante.

For the type of day care envisaged by s 18(1) see also the Department of Health publication The Children Act 1989: Guidance and Regulations Volume 2 Family Support, Day Care and Educational Provision for Young Children (HMSO, 1991). As to the guidance and regulations generally see para 163 ante.

6 'Supervised activity' means an activity supervised by a responsible person: Children Act 1989 s 18(7). 8 The Department of Health publication The Children Act 1989: Guidance and Regulations Volume 2 Family Support, Day Care and Educational Provision for Young Children (HMSO, 1991) paras 3.3-3.17, under the general heading 'Day Care Services', refers to day nurseries, play groups, child minding, out of school clubs and holiday schemes, other supervised activities, befriending services, parent/toddler groups, toy libraries, drop-in centres and playbuses.

10 Ibid s 18(3).

11 See the Department for Education and Skills guidance Working Together to Safeguard Children (TSO, 2006).

Family and children's centres, day nurseries, child minders, pre-schools, playgroups, and holiday and out-of-school schemes play an important part in the lives of large numbers of children. Many child care providers have considerable experience of working with families where a child needs to be safeguarded from harm and many local authorities provide, commission or sponsor specific services, including child minders, to work with children in need and their families: para 2.132.

Child minders and everyone working in day care services should know how to recognise and respond to the possible abuse or neglect of a child: para 2.133.

Direct payments for disabled children.

C. DIRECT PAYMENTS AND VOUCHERS FOR DISABLED CHILDREN

861. Direct payments for disabled children.

The Secretary of State or the Welsh Ministers<sup>1</sup> may by regulations<sup>2</sup> make provision for and in connection with requiring or authorising the responsible authority in the case of a person of a prescribed description<sup>3</sup> who falls within the criteria given below to make<sup>4</sup>, with that person's consent, such payments to him as it may determine in accordance with the regulations in respect of his securing the provision of services as mentioned below<sup>5</sup>. This applies to a person of a prescribed description if he is:

- 1608 (1) a person with parental responsibility for a disabled child<sup>6</sup>;
- 1609 (2) a disabled person with parental responsibility for a child<sup>7</sup>; or
- 1610 (3) a disabled child aged 16 or 17<sup>8</sup>, and a local authority ('the responsible authority') has decided<sup>9</sup> that the child's needs (or, if he is such a disabled child, his needs) call for the provision by it of a service in exercise of functions conferred on it<sup>10</sup>.

A direct payment must be made as a gross payment unless the responsible authority decides it is to be made as a net payment<sup>11</sup>. Except under specified circumstances<sup>12</sup>, a direct payment must be subject to the condition that the service in respect of which it is made must not be secured from:

- 1611 (a) the spouse or civil partner of the prescribed person<sup>13</sup>;
- 1612 (b) a person who lives with the prescribed person as if his spouse or civil partner<sup>14</sup>;
- 1613 (c) a person living in the same household as the prescribed person who is the prescribed person's:

.29

- 28. (i) parent or parent-in-law<sup>15</sup>;
- 29. (ii) son or daughter<sup>16</sup>;
- 30. (iii) son-in-law or daughter-in-law<sup>17</sup>;
- 31. (iv) stepson or stepdaughter<sup>18</sup>;
- 32. (v) brother or sister<sup>19</sup>;
- 33. (vi) aunt or uncle<sup>20</sup>; or
- 34. (vii) grandparent<sup>21</sup>;

- 1614 (d) the spouse or civil partner of any person specified in head (c) above who lives in the same household as the prescribed person<sup>22</sup>; and
- 1615 (e) a person who lives with any person specified in head (c) above as if that person's spouse or civil partner<sup>23</sup>.

A responsible authority may make a direct payment subject to such other conditions (if any) as it thinks fit<sup>24</sup>. The fact that an authority makes a direct payment does not affect its functions with respect to the provision under the relevant enactment of the service to which the payment relates<sup>25</sup>. However, where a responsible authority makes a direct payment, it is not under any obligation with respect to the provision under the relevant enactment of the service to which the payment relates as long as it is satisfied that the need which calls for the provision of the service will be secured by the payee's own arrangements<sup>26</sup>.

Where a responsible authority which has made a direct payment is satisfied, in relation to the whole or any part of the payment, that it has not been used to secure the provision of the service to which it relates or that a condition imposed<sup>27</sup> has not been complied with, it may require the payment or, as the case may be, the part of the payment to be repaid<sup>28</sup>. A responsible authority must terminate the making of direct payments to a person if he ceases to be a prescribed person or the relevant conditions<sup>29</sup> cease to be met<sup>30</sup>.

1 As to the Secretary of State and the Welsh Ministers see para 155 ante.

2 As to the power to make regulations under the Children Act 1989 see para 161 ante.

If certain conditions are satisfied, a responsible authority must make in respect of a prescribed person who falls within s 17A (as added, substituted and amended; prospectively amended) such payments (ie direct payments) as are determined in accordance with the following provisions in respect of a relevant service (ie (1) a community care service within the meaning of the National Health Service and Community Care Act 1990; or (2) a service under the Carers and Disabled Children Act 2000 s 2 (see SOCIAL SERVICES AND COMMUNITY CARE); or (3) a service which it may provide in exercise of functions under the Children Act 1989 s 17 (as amended; prospectively amended)): Community Care, Services for Carers and Children's Services (Direct Payments) (England) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/762, reg 4(1), (2); Community Care, Services for Carers and Children's Services (Direct Payments) (Wales) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/1748, reg 5(1), (2) (reg 5(1) amended by SI 2006/2840). The conditions referred to above are that the responsible authority is satisfied that the person's needs for the relevant service can be met by securing the provision of it by means of a direct payment; and in the case of a relevant service mentioned in head (3) supra, the responsible authority is satisfied that the welfare of the child in respect of whom the service is needed will be safeguarded and promoted by securing the provision of it by means of the direct payment: Community Care, Services for Carers and Children's Services (Direct Payments) (England) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/762, reg 4(3); Community Care, Services for Carers and Children's Services (Direct Payments) (Wales) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/1748, reg 5(3).

For the purpose of making the direct payment, the responsible authority must determine, having regard to the prescribed person's means, what amount or amounts (if any) it is reasonably practicable for him to pay towards securing the provision of the relevant service (whether by way of reimbursement as mentioned in the Health and Social Care Act 2001 s 57(4) or by way of a contribution as mentioned in s 57(5) (see SOCIAL SERVICES AND COMMUNITY CARE)): Community Care, Services for Carers and Children's Services (Direct Payments) (England) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/762, reg 5(2); Community Care, Services for Carers and Children's Services (Direct Payments) (Wales) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/1748, reg 6(2). Where a direct payment is made to a person falling within the Children Act 1989 s 17A(2) (as added, substituted and amended; prospectively amended) (see the text and notes 6-10 supra), the payment must be made at the rate mentioned in the Health and Social Care Act 2001 s 57(4)(a) (see SOCIAL SERVICES AND COMMUNITY CARE) and s 57(4)(b) does not apply: Community Care, Services for Carers and Children's Services (Direct Payments) (England) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/762, reg 5(4); Community Care, Services for Carers and Children's Services (Direct Payments) (Wales) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/1748, reg 6(4). A direct payment may be paid to the prescribed person who falls within the Health and Social Care Act 2001 s 57(2) (see SOCIAL SERVICES AND COMMUNITY CARE) or the Children Act 1989 s 17A(2) (as added and substituted) (see the text and notes 6-10 supra) or a person nominated by the prescribed person to receive the payment on his behalf: Community Care, Services for Carers and Children's Services (Direct Payments) (England) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/762, reg 5(5); Community Care, Services for Carers and Children's Services (Direct Payments) (Wales) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/1748, reg 6(5).

862. Vouchers for disabled children.

Regulations<sup>1</sup> may make provision for the issue by a local authority of vouchers<sup>2</sup> to a person with parental responsibility for a disabled child<sup>3</sup>. The regulations may, in particular, provide:

- 1616 (1) for the value of a voucher to be expressed in terms of money, or of the delivery of a service for a period of time, or both<sup>4</sup>;
- 1617 (2) for the person who supplies a service against a voucher, or for the arrangement under which it is supplied, to be approved by the local authority<sup>5</sup>;
- 1618 (3) for a maximum period during which a service (or a service of a prescribed description) can be provided against a voucher<sup>6</sup>.

1 As to the regulations that have been made see the Carers and Disabled Children (Vouchers) (England) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/1216. As to the powers to make regulations generally under the Children Act 1989 see para 161 ante.

2 'Voucher' means a document whereby, if the local authority agrees with the person with parental responsibility that it would help him care for the child if the person with parental responsibility had a break from caring, that person may secure the temporary provision of services for the child under ibid s 17 (as amended; prospectively amended): s 17B(2) (s 17B added by the Carers and Disabled Children Act 2000 s 7(1)). ### 862 Vouchers for disabled children

NOTE 3--Children Act 1989 s 17B(1) amended: Children and Young Persons Act 2008 Sch 3 para 4.

Halsbury's Laws of England/CHILDREN AND YOUNG PERSONS (VOLUME 5(3) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 1-742; VOLUME 5(4) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 743-1433)/11. SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(2) PROVISION OF ACCOMMODATION/863. Duty to provide accommodation.

(2) PROVISION OF ACCOMMODATION

863. Duty to provide accommodation.

Each local authority<sup>1</sup> must provide accommodation<sup>2</sup> for any child in need<sup>3</sup> within its area who appears to it to require accommodation as a result of<sup>4</sup>:

- 1619 (1) there being no person who has parental responsibility<sup>5</sup> for him<sup>6</sup>;
- 1620 (2) his being lost or having been abandoned<sup>7</sup>; or
- 1621 (3) the person who has been caring for him being prevented (whether or not permanently, and for whatever reason) from providing him with suitable accommodation or care<sup>8</sup>.

However, a local authority may not provide accommodation for any child if any person who has parental responsibility for him and is willing and able to provide accommodation for him or arrange for accommodation to be provided for him, objects<sup>9</sup>. Where a child is accommodated, the local authority may only arrange for the transfer of the child from a residential institution to foster care if the parents give their permission<sup>10</sup>.

Where a local authority provides accommodation for a child who is ordinarily resident<sup>11</sup> in the area of another local authority, the latter authority may take over the provision of accommodation for the child within three months of being notified in writing that the child is being provided with accommodation, or such other longer period as may be prescribed<sup>12</sup>.

Each local authority must also provide accommodation for any child in need within its area who has reached the age of 16 years if the authority considers that his welfare is likely to be seriously prejudiced if it does not do so<sup>13</sup>.

Each local authority must make provision for the reception and accommodation of children who are removed or kept away from home under the provisions of Part V of the Children Act 1989<sup>14</sup> (which deal with the protection of children)<sup>15</sup> and must receive and provide accommodation for children who are in police protection whom it is requested to receive<sup>16</sup>.

Local authorities also have a duty to provide accommodation for children whom they are looking after<sup>17</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'local authority' see para 248 note 10 ante.

2 'Accommodation' is not defined for this purpose in the Children Act 1989. Cf the definition of 'accommodation' in s 22(2): see para 867 post. References in the Children Act 1989 to accommodation provided by or on behalf of a local authority are references to accommodation so provided in the exercise of functions of that or any other local authority which are social services functions within the meaning of the Local Authority Social Services Act 1970 (see SOCIAL SERVICES AND COMMUNITY CARE vol 44(2) (Reissue) para 1006): Children Act 1989 s 105(5) (amended by the Local Government Act 2000 s 107, Sch 5 para 22).

Where accommodation is provided as a service under voluntary arrangements which parents with a child in need may seek to take up, a high degree of co-operation is assumed between parents and local authorities in negotiating and agreeing what form of accommodation can be offered and the use to be made of it: see the Department of Health publication The Children Act 1989: Guidance and Regulations Volume 2 Family Support, Day Care and Educational Provision for Young Children (HMSO, 1991) para 2.25. As to the guidance and regulations generally see para 163 ante.

As to the provision of services by voluntary organisations and others see para 849 ante.

3 As to the meaning of 'child in need', and as to the duty to provide for such children, see para 851 ante. For the meaning of 'child' see para 3 ante.

4 Children Act 1989 s 20(1). The duty to provide accommodation may be fulfilled by offering accommodation to a child notwithstanding that no offer of accommodation is made to the child's mother: see R (on the application of G) v Barnet London Borough Council [2001] EWCA Civ 540, [2002] LGR 34, [2001] 2 FCR 193.

11 As to the ordinary residence of a child see para 271 notes 8-9 ante. Any question arising in this context as to the child's ordinary residence must be determined by agreement between the local authorities concerned or, in default of agreement, by the Secretary of State or Welsh Ministers: Children Act 1989 s 30(2). As to the Secretary of State and the Welsh Ministers see para 155 ante. As to the meaning of 'ordinarily resident' see eg Re M (minors) (residence) [1993] 1 FCR 718, sub nom Re M (minors) (residence order: jurisdiction) [1993] 1 FLR 495, CA; Re J (a minor) (abduction: custody rights) [1990] 2 AC 562, sub nom C v S (minor: abduction: illegitimate child) [1990] 2 All ER 961, HL; Shah v Barnet London Borough Council [1983] 2 AC 309, [1983] 1 All ER 226, HL; Re S (a minor) (custody: habitual residence) [1998] AC 750, [1997] 4 All ER 251, HL; Re C (responsible authority) [2005] EWHC 2939 (Fam), [2006] 1 FLR 919.

12 Children Act 1989 s 20(2). 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations made under the Children Act 1989: s 105(1). At the date at which this volume states the law no such longer period had been prescribed by regulations.

Where a child was removed from voluntary foster care in one local authority's area, and placed with paternal grandparents within another local authority's area, this amounted to a private family arrangement approved by the original local authority under the Children Act 1989 s 23(6) (see para 869 post) and not accommodation by either authority under s 23(2) (see para 877 post): Re C (responsible authority) [2005] EWHC 2939 (Fam), [2006] 1 FLR 919.

13 Children Act 1989 s 20(3). Where a 16-year-old child had escaped from her tragic family background and found a home with a married couple, the local authority refused to treat the child as accommodated and therefore refused to pay the married couple a foster allowance. It was held that the Director of Social Services had erred when, in reaching his decision, he was satisfied that the past provision of support under the Children Act 1989 s 17 (as amended; prospectively amended) (see para 851 et seq ante) made it unlikely that the child's welfare would be seriously prejudiced if she was not provided with accommodation. The focus of attention should have been on the future and, at the time he made his decision, the Director of Social Services did not consider the likelihood of the local authority exercising its powers under s 17 (as amended; and prospectively amended) to a sufficient degree to avoid serious prejudice to the child's welfare in the future. In exercising its discretion under s 20(3) to provide accommodation for a child, a local authority must look at all the circumstances of the case. The powers and duties under s 17 (as amended; and prospectively amended) must not be excluded. However, because the provisions and duties were discretionary in nature, it did not seem that they could amount to factors to which much weight could be attached for the purposes of s 20(3): see Re T (accommodation of child by local authority) [1995] 1 FCR 517, [1995] 1 FLR 159 per Johnson J.

14 Ie the Children Act 1989 Pt V (ss 43-52) (as amended): see paras 578-592 ante.

15 Ibid s 21(1). Where a child has been removed under Pt V (as amended) and he is not being provided with accommodation by a local authority or in a hospital vested in the Secretary of State or a primary care trust, or otherwise made available pursuant to arrangements made by a local health board or a primary care trust, any reasonable expenses of accommodating him are recoverable from the local authority in whose area he is ordinarily resident: s 21(3) (amended by the National Health Service and Community Care Act 1990 s 66(1), Sch 9 para 36(1); the Health Act 1999 (Supplementary, Consequential etc Provisions) Order 2000, SI 2000/90, art 3(1), Sch 1 para 24(1), (3); and the References to Health Authorities Order 2007, SI 2007/961, art 3, Schedule

As to the ordinary residence of a child see para 271 notes 8-9 ante. Any question arising under the Children Act 1989 s 21(3) (as amended) as to the child's ordinary residence must be determined by agreement between the local authorities concerned or, in default of agreement, by the Secretary of State or Welsh Ministers: s 30(2).

16 Ibid s 21(2). The authority may be requested to receive, and provide accommodation for, children: (1) under s 46(3)(f) (see para 596 ante) (see s 21(2)(a)); or (2) under the Police and Criminal Evidence Act 1984 s 38(6) (as substituted and amended) (juvenile in custody after being charged: see CRIMINAL LAW, EVIDENCE AND PROCEDURE vol 11(2) (2006 Reissue) para 944) (see the Children Act 1989 s 21(2)(b)). Each local authority must also receive, and provide accommodation for, children who are:

652 (a) on remand under the Powers of Criminal Courts (Sentencing) Act 2000 s 65, Sch 7 para 7(5) (see para 1357 post) or the Children and Young Persons Act 1969 s 23(1) (as substituted and amended) (see para 1247 post) (Children Act 1989 s 21(2)(c)(i) (amended by the Criminal Justice and Public Order Act 1994 s 168(1), Sch 9 para 38; and the Powers of Criminal Courts (Sentencing) Act 2000 s 165(1), Sch 9 para 126(a))); or

653 (b) the subject of a supervision order imposing a local authority residence requirement under the Powers of Criminal Courts (Sentencing) Act 2000 s 63 (as amended), Sch 6 para 5 (see para 1346 post) or a foster parent residence requirement under Sch 6 para 5A (as added) (see para 1348 post) (Children Act 1989 s 21(2)(c)(ii) (amended by the Powers of Criminal Courts (Sentencing) Act 2000 Sch 9 para 126(b); and the Anti-social Behaviour Act 2003 s 88, Sch 2 para 5)), and with respect to whom it is the designated authority (Children Act 1989 s 21(2)(c)). As to supervision orders see paras 281-287 ante.

Where a child has been detained under the Police and Criminal Evidence Act 1984 s 38 (as amended) (see CRIMINAL LAW, EVIDENCE AND PROCEDURE vol 11(2) (2006 Reissue) para 944) and he is not being provided with accommodation by a local authority or in a hospital vested in the Secretary of State or a primary care trust, or otherwise made available pursuant to arrangements made by a local health board or a primary care trust, the reasonable expenses of accommodating him are recoverable from the local authority in whose area he is ordinarily resident: Children Act 1989 s 21(3) (amended by the National Health Service and Community Care Act 1990 s 66(1), Sch 9 para 36(1); the Health Act 1999 (Supplementary, Consequential etc Provisions) Order 2000, SI 2000/90, art 3(1), Sch 1 para 24(1), (3); and the References to Health Authorities Order 2007, SI 2007/961, art 3, Schedule para 20(1), (2)(a)).

864. Power to provide accommodation.

Although in certain circumstances a local authority is under a duty to provide accommodation for certain children<sup>1</sup>, there are also circumstances in which the local authority has a power but not a duty to provide accommodation<sup>2</sup>.

A local authority<sup>3</sup> may provide accommodation<sup>4</sup> for any child<sup>5</sup> within its area, even though a person who has parental responsibility<sup>6</sup> for him is able to provide him with accommodation, if the authority considers that to do so would safeguard or promote the child's welfare<sup>7</sup>. Moreover, a local authority may provide accommodation for any person who has reached the age of 16 years but is under 21 years in any community home which takes children who have reached the age of 16 years if the authority considers that to do so would safeguard or promote his welfare<sup>8</sup>.

2 See ibid s 20(4), (5); and the text and notes 3-8 infra.

5 For the meaning of 'child' see para 3 ante.

6 For the meaning of 'parental responsibility' see para 134 ante.

7 Children Act 1989 s 20(4). The exercise of this power is not restricted to cases where a child is in need.

8 Ibid s 20(5). See note 7 supra. As to the meaning of 'community home' see para 967 post.

Halsbury's Laws of England/CHILDREN AND YOUNG PERSONS (VOLUME 5(3) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 1-742; VOLUME 5(4) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 743-1433)/11. SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(2) PROVISION OF ACCOMMODATION/865. Factors to be taken into account in deciding on provision of accommodation.

865. Factors to be taken into account in deciding on provision of accommodation.

Before providing accommodation<sup>1</sup>, a local authority<sup>2</sup>, so far as is reasonably practicable and consistent with the child's<sup>3</sup> welfare, must ascertain the child's wishes and feelings regarding the provision of accommodation and give due consideration, having regard to his age and understanding, to such wishes and feelings of the child as it has been able to ascertain<sup>4</sup>. The local authority has a general duty in making decisions for children, including regarding the provision of accommodation, so far as is practicable, to ascertain the wishes and feelings of the child's parents, any other person who has parental responsibility for him and any other person whose wishes and feelings the authority considers to be relevant<sup>5</sup>.

The Department for Education and Skills (now the Department for Children, Schools and Families) has issued guidance on involving children in decisions concerning their welfare<sup>6</sup>.

1     le under the Children Act 1989 s 20 (as distinct from the particular duty under s 21 (as amended; prospectively further amended) to provide accommodation for children in police protection or detention: see para 863 text and notes 14-16 ante): see paras 863-864 ante, 866 post. As to the meaning of 'accommodation' in this context see para 863 note 2 ante.

2     For the meaning of 'local authority' see para 248 note 10 ante. As to the provision of services by voluntary organisations and others see para 849 ante.

3     For the meaning of 'child' see para 3 ante.

4     Children Act 1989 s 20(6) (amended by the Children Act 2004 s 53(2)).

Partnership, a key element of the modern legislation, requires informed participation; the Act therefore requires that parents and children be consulted during the decision-making process and notified of the outcome: see the Department of Health publication The Children Act 1989: Guidance and Regulations Volume 2 Family Support, Day Care and Educational Provision for Young Children (HMSO, 1991) para 2.28. As to the guidance and regulations generally see para 163 ante.

6     See the Department for Education and Skills guidance Working Together to Safeguard Children (TSO, 2006) para 5.4.

866. Objections to provision of accommodation.

A local authority<sup>1</sup> may not provide accommodation<sup>2</sup> for any child<sup>3</sup> if any person who has parental responsibility<sup>4</sup> for him, and is willing and able to provide accommodation or arrange for accommodation to be provided for him, objects<sup>5</sup>. Additionally, any person who has parental responsibility for a child may at any time remove the child from accommodation provided by or on behalf of the local authority<sup>6</sup>.

The provisions described above do not apply, however, where:

- 1622 (1) any person<sup>7</sup> in whose favour a residence order<sup>8</sup> is in force with respect to the child, who is a special guardian<sup>9</sup> of the child or who has care of the child by virtue of an order made in the exercise of the High Court's inherent jurisdiction with respect to children<sup>10</sup> agrees to the child being looked after in accommodation provided by or on behalf of the local authority<sup>11</sup>; or
- 1623 (2) a child who has attained the age of 16 years agrees to being provided with accommodation<sup>12</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'local authority' see para 248 note 10 ante.

2 See under the Children Act 1989 s 20 (as amended): see paras 864-865 ante. As to the meaning of 'accommodation' in this context see para 863 note 2 ante. As to the provision of services by voluntary organisations and others see para 849 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'child' see para 3 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'parental responsibility' see para 134 ante.

5 Children Act 1989 s 20(7). There is no provision for determining whether a person is 'able' to provide accommodation. If the local authority considers that the child is at risk of suffering significant harm, the provisions of the Children Act 1989 regarding care or emergency protection proceedings may be applied: see the Department of Health publication The Children Act 1989: Guidance and Regulations Volume 2 Family Support, Day Care and Educational Provision for Young Children (HMSO, 1991) paras 2.29-2.30; and see paras 276 et seq, 583 et seq ante. As to the guidance and regulations generally see para 163 ante.

A local authority which has care of a child by the mere provision of accommodation rather than by a care order has no power to transfer the child from a residential institution to foster care without the parent's permission: see R v Tameside Metropolitan Borough Council, ex p J [2000] 1 FCR 173, [2000] 1 FLR 942. As to care orders see paras 276-280 ante.

6 Children Act 1989 s 20(8). The text refers to accommodation provided by or on behalf of the local authority under s 20 (as amended): see paras 864-865 ante. The fact that a person wishes to remove a child from accommodation may be a ground for invoking the provisions of Pt V (ss 43-52) (as amended) dealing with the protection of children: see para 583 ante.

(3) DUTIES OF LOCAL AUTHORITIES IN RELATION TO CHILDREN LOOKED AFTER BY THEM

(i) In general

867. The general duty.

It is the duty of a local authority<sup>1</sup> looking after any child<sup>2</sup> to safeguard and promote his welfare<sup>3</sup> and to make such use of services<sup>4</sup> available for children cared for by their own parents<sup>5</sup> as appear to the authority reasonable in the child's case<sup>6</sup>.

A child is 'looked after' by a local authority if he is in the care<sup>7</sup> of the local authority or is provided with accommodation<sup>8</sup> by the authority in the exercise of any functions<sup>9</sup> (in particular its functions under the Children Act 1989) which are social services functions within the meaning of the Local Authority Social Services Act 1970, apart from certain functions<sup>10</sup> under the Children Act 1989<sup>11</sup>.

In the case of a child who is in care, the local authority has parental responsibility for the child<sup>12</sup>; where the child is simply provided with accommodation<sup>13</sup>, the local authority does not have parental responsibility<sup>14</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'local authority' see para 248 note 10 ante. See generally Re T (judicial review: local authority decisions concerning child in need) [2003] EWHC 2515 (Admin), [2004] 1 FLR 601, sub nom R (on the application of T) v A Local Authority [2003] All ER (D) 02 (Nov).

2 For the meaning of 'child' see para 3 ante.

3 Children Act 1989 s 22(3)(a). The duty of a local authority under s 22(3)(a) to safeguard and promote the welfare of a child looked after by it includes in particular a duty to promote the child's educational achievement: s 22(3A) (added by the Children Act 2004 s 52).

4 For the meaning of 'service' see para 851 note 7 ante.

5 As to the meaning of 'parent' see para 248 note 1 ante.

6 Children Act 1989 s 22(3)(b). Although the requirement of the Childcare Act 1980 in respect of promotion of a child's welfare 'throughout his childhood' is not reproduced in the Children Act 1989, the intention is still that both the immediate and the long term needs of the child should be considered and provided for in the local authority's planning for the child: see the Department of Health publication The Children Act 1989: Guidance and Regulations Volume 3 Family Placements (HMSO, 1991) para 2.5. As to the guidance and regulations generally see para 163 ante.

7 Ie he is in the care of the authority by virtue of a care order (including an interim care order): Children Act 1989 ss 31(11), 105(1). As to care orders see paras 276-280 ante.

8 'Accommodation' in this context means accommodation which is provided for a continuous period of more than 24 hours: ibid s 22(2).

9 As to the meaning of 'functions' see para 156 note 23 ante.

10 Ie functions under the Children Act 1989 s 17 (as amended; prospectively amended) (provision of services for children in need, their families and others: see paras 849-851 ante), s 23B (as added) (additional functions of the responsible authority in respect of relevant children: see para 929 post), s 24B (as added) (functions in respect of employment, education and training: see para 924 post).

11 Ibid s 22(1) (amended by the Local Government Act 2000 s 107, Sch 5 para 19; the Children (Leaving Care) Act 2000 s 2(1), (2); and the Adoption and Children Act 2002 s 116(2)).

12 See the Children Act 1989 s 33(3)(b); and para 138 text and note 19 ante. For the meaning of 'parental responsibility' see para 134 ante. The child's parents will retain parental responsibility despite the local authority also having parental responsibility: see para 141 ante. This reflects the intention underpinning the Children Act 1989 that parents should be encouraged to exercise their responsibility for their child's welfare in a constructive way and that where compulsory intervention in the family is used it should where possible enhance rather than undermine the parental role: see the Department of Health publication The Children Act 1989: Guidance and Regulations Volume 3 Family Placements (HMSO, 1991) para 2.3.

868. The duty of consultation.

Before making any decision with respect to a child<sup>1</sup> whom it is looking after<sup>2</sup>, or proposing to look after, a local authority<sup>3</sup>, so far as is reasonably practicable, must ascertain the wishes and feelings, regarding the matter to be decided, of:

- 1624 (1) the child<sup>4</sup>;
- 1625 (2) his parents<sup>5</sup>;
- 1626 (3) any person who is not a parent of his but who has parental responsibility for him<sup>6</sup>; and
- 1627 (4) any other person whose wishes and feelings the authority considers to be relevant<sup>7</sup>.

In making any such decision the local authority must give due consideration:

- 1628 (a) having regard to his age and understanding, to such wishes and feelings of the child as it has been able to ascertain<sup>8</sup>;
- 1629 (b) to such wishes and feelings of any person mentioned in heads (2) to (4) above as it has been able to ascertain<sup>9</sup>; and
- 1630 (c) to the child's religious persuasion, racial origin and cultural and linguistic background<sup>10</sup>.

- 1631 (1) a parent of his<sup>5</sup>;
- 1632 (2) a person who is not a parent of the child but who has parental responsibility<sup>6</sup> for him<sup>7</sup>;
- 1633 (3) where the child is in care<sup>8</sup> and there was a residence order<sup>9</sup> in force with respect to him immediately before the care order<sup>10</sup> was made, a person in whose favour<sup>11</sup> the residence order was made<sup>12</sup>; or
- 1634 (4) a relative<sup>13</sup>, friend or other person connected with him<sup>14</sup>, unless that would not be reasonably practicable or consistent with his welfare<sup>15</sup>.

Moreover, so far as is reasonably practicable and consistent with the welfare of each child, the local authority must secure that the accommodation is near the child's home, and where the authority is also providing accommodation for a sibling of his, that they are accommodated together<sup>16</sup>.

Where a child looked after by a local authority is disabled<sup>17</sup>, the authority, so far as is reasonably practicable, must secure that the accommodation is not unsuitable to his particular needs<sup>18</sup>.

Where a child is in the care of a local authority, the local authority may only allow him to live with a person who falls within heads (1) to (3) above in accordance with regulations made by the Secretary of State or Welsh Ministers<sup>19</sup>.

Accordingly, it may not be reasonably practicable to secure accommodation which is not unsuitable, but so long as the council is doing the best it can, within the bounds of what is reasonably practicable, to secure not unsuitable accommodation, I do not think that it is in breach of its statutory duty': at 215 per Peter Gibson LJ).

Regulations under the Children Act 1989 s 23(5) may, in particular, impose requirements on a local authority as to: (1) the making of any decision by a local authority to allow a child to live with any person falling within heads (1)-(3) in the text (including requirements as to those who must be consulted before the decision is made, and those who must be notified when it has been made); (2) the supervision or medical examination of the child concerned; (3) the removal of the child, in such circumstances as may be prescribed, from the care of the person with whom he has been allowed to live; (4) the records to be kept by local authorities: s 23(9), Sch 2 para 14 (amended by the Courts and Legal Services Act 1990 Sch 16 para 26).

NOTES 4, 19--Children Act 1989 s 23(5), (6) amended: Children and Young Persons Act 2008 Sch 3 para 7(4), (5).

Halsbury's Laws of England/CHILDREN AND YOUNG PERSONS (VOLUME 5(3) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 1-742; VOLUME 5(4) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 743-1433)/11. SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(3) DUTIES OF LOCAL AUTHORITIES IN RELATION TO CHILDREN LOOKED AFTER BY THEM/(ii) Visits by or to a Child/A. CONTACT BETWEEN CHILD AND FAMILY/870. Duty to promote and maintain contact between child and family.

870. Duty to promote and maintain contact between child and family.

- 1635 (1) his parents<sup>4</sup>;
- 1636 (2) any person who is not a parent of his but who has parental responsibility for him<sup>5</sup>; and
- 1637 (3) any relative<sup>6</sup>, friend or other person connected with him<sup>7</sup>.

The local authority looking after a child must take such steps as are reasonably practicable to secure that the child's parents, and any person who is not a parent but who has parental responsibility for him, are kept informed of where he is being accommodated<sup>8</sup>. Every such person must secure that the local authority is kept informed of his address<sup>9</sup>. However, a local authority is not required to inform any person of the whereabouts of a child who is in the care of the authority<sup>10</sup>, if the authority has reasonable cause to believe that informing the person would prejudice the child's welfare<sup>11</sup>.

A local authority may make payments to:

- 1638 (a) a parent of the child;
- 1639 (b) any person who is not a parent of his but who has parental responsibility for him; or
- 1640 (c) any relative, friend or other person connected with him, in respect of travelling, subsistence or other expenses incurred by that person in visiting the child<sup>12</sup>.

Equally, a local authority may make payments to the child, or to any person on his behalf, in respect of travelling, subsistence or other expenses incurred by or on behalf of the child in his visiting the persons mentioned in heads (a) to (c) above<sup>13</sup>. The conditions which must be satisfied before this power becomes exercisable are that:

- 1641 (i) the child is being looked after by a local authority<sup>14</sup>; and
- 1642 (ii) it appears to the authority that the visit in question could not otherwise be made without undue financial hardship<sup>15</sup>; and
- 1643 (iii) the circumstances warrant the making of the payments<sup>16</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'local authority' see para 248 note 10 ante.

2 As to the meaning of 'look after' where a local authority looks after a child see para 867 ante. As to the provision of services by voluntary organisations and others see para 849 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'child' see para 3 ante.

6 For the meaning of 'relative' see para 249 note 15 ante.

7 Children Act 1989 s 23(9), Sch 2 para 15(1). Schedule 2 para 15 does not apply where: (1) a local authority is authorised to place a child for adoption; or (2) a child who has been placed for adoption by a local authority is less than six weeks old: see the Adoption and Children Act 2002 s 53; and the Adoption Agencies Regulations 2005, SI 2005/389, reg 45(1), (2)(d). An order which provides for such contact to take place at the local authority's discretion does not erode the authority's duty under the Children Act 1989 Sch 2 para 15(1): Re L (minors) (care proceedings: contact) [1998] 3 FCR 339, sub nom L v Bromley London Borough Council [1998] 1 FLR 709. As to 'reasonable contact' see Re P (minors) (contact with children in care) [1993] 2 FLR 156.

8 Children Act 1989 Sch 2 para 15(2)(a). See note 7 supra. Where a local authority ('the receiving authority') takes over the provision of accommodation for a child from another local authority ('the transferring authority') under s 20(2) (see para 863 ante), the receiving authority must (where reasonably practicable) inform the child's parents, and any person who is not a parent of his but who has parental responsibility for him, of the transfer (Sch 2 para 15(3)(a)); but the transferring authority, as well as the receiving authority, remains under a duty to notify those concerned as to the place where the child is accommodated until at least one parent or other relevant person has been informed of the change of authority (Sch 2 para 15(3)(b)). The obligation on parents, etc to notify changes of address (see the text and note 9 infra) does not require any person to inform the receiving authority of his address until he has been so informed: Sch 2 para 15(3)(c).

9 Ibid Sch 2 para 15(2)(b). See note 7 supra. Any person who fails (without reasonable excuse) to comply with this requirement is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 2 on the standard scale: Sch 2 para 15(5). As to the standard scale see para 132 note 2 ante. As to offences under the Children Act 1989 committed by bodies corporate see para 551 note 3 ante. It is a defence to prove that the defendant was residing at the same address as another person who was the child's parent or had parental responsibility for the child and had reasonable cause to believe that the other person had informed the appropriate authority that both of them were residing at that address: Sch 2 para 15(6). As to the position where the functions of the local authority are transferred to another local authority in respect of the child see also note 8 supra.

SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(3) DUTIES OF LOCAL AUTHORITIES IN RELATION TO CHILDREN LOOKED AFTER BY THEM/(ii) Visits by or to a Child/B. INDEPENDENT VISITORS/871. Appointment of visitor for child.

B. INDEPENDENT VISITORS

871. Appointment of visitor for child.

A local authority<sup>1</sup> looking after<sup>2</sup> a child<sup>3</sup> may appoint an independent person to be the child's visitor, if it appears that:

- 1644 (1) communication between the child and a parent of his, or any other person who has parental responsibility<sup>4</sup> for him, has been infrequent; or
- 1645 (2) the child has not visited or been visited by, or lived with, any such person during the preceding 12 months; and
- 1646 (3) it would be in the child's best interests for such an appointment to be made<sup>5</sup>.

However, no such appointment may be made if the child objects to it and the local authority is satisfied that he has sufficient understanding to make an informed decision<sup>6</sup>.

A person is to be regarded as being independent of the local authority appointing him if he is not connected with the local authority by virtue of being:

- 1647 (a) a member of the local authority or any of its committees or sub-committees, whether elected or co-opted or a council manager of the local authority; or
- 1648 (b) an officer of the local authority employed in the social services department; or
- 1649 (c) a spouse of any such person<sup>7</sup>.

Where the child who is to receive visits is accommodated by an organisation other than the local authority, a person is to be regarded as independent if he is not:

- 1650 (i) a member of that organisation; or
- 1651 (ii) a patron or trustee of that organisation; or
- 1652 (iii) an employee of that organisation, whether paid or not; or
- 1653 (iv) a spouse of any such person<sup>8</sup>.

A visitor appointed under the provisions described above has the duty of visiting, advising and befriending the child<sup>9</sup>. He is entitled to recover from the authority which appointed him any reasonable expenses incurred by him for the purpose of his statutory functions<sup>10</sup>.

The local authority must determine the appointment of a visitor if the child objects to its continuing and the authority is satisfied that he has sufficient understanding to make an informed decision<sup>11</sup>. The visitor's appointment is also determined if he gives notice in writing to the authority which appointed him that he resigns the appointment, or the authority gives him notice in writing that it has terminated the appointment<sup>12</sup>. However, the determination of such an appointment does not prejudice any duty under the statutory provisions to make a further appointment<sup>13</sup>.

(iii) Miscellaneous Powers and Duties

872. Guarantee of articles of apprenticeship.

While a child<sup>1</sup> is being looked after<sup>2</sup> by a local authority<sup>3</sup>, or is a person qualifying for advice and assistance<sup>4</sup>, the local authority may undertake any obligation by way of guarantee under any deed of apprenticeship or articles of clerkship which he enters into<sup>5</sup>. Where a local authority has undertaken such an obligation under any deed or articles it may at any time, whether or not it is still looking after the person concerned, undertake the like obligation under any supplemental deed or articles<sup>6</sup>.

SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(3) DUTIES OF LOCAL AUTHORITIES IN RELATION TO CHILDREN LOOKED AFTER BY THEM/(iii) Miscellaneous Powers and Duties/873. Duties of the local authority on child ceasing to be looked after by it.

873. Duties of the local authority on child ceasing to be looked after by it.

It is the duty of the local authority<sup>1</sup> looking after a child<sup>2</sup> to advise, assist and befriend him with a view to promoting his welfare when it has ceased to look after him<sup>3</sup>. A local authority has the following additional functions in relation to an eligible child<sup>4</sup> whom it is looking after<sup>5</sup>:

- 1654 (1) for each eligible child, it must carry out an assessment of his needs with a view to determining what advice, assistance and support it would be appropriate for it to provide him under the Children Act 1989 while it is still looking after him, and after it ceases to look after him, and must then prepare a pathway plan for him<sup>6</sup>;
- 1655 (2) it must keep the pathway plan under regular review<sup>7</sup>, and any such review may be carried out at the same time as a review of the child's case<sup>8</sup>; and
- 1656 (3) it must arrange for each such child to have a personal adviser<sup>9</sup>.

<sup>4</sup> 'Eligible child' means, subject to the Children Act 1989 Sch 2 para 19B(3) (as added), a child who is aged 16 or 17, and has been looked after by a local authority for a prescribed period, or periods amounting in all to a prescribed period, which began after he reached a prescribed age and ended after he reached the age of 16: Sch 2 para 19B(2) (as added: see note 3 supra). Regulations may prescribe additional categories of eligible children, and categories of children who are not to be eligible children despite falling within Sch 2 para 19B(2) (as added): Sch 2 para 19B(3) (as so added). 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations made under the Children Act 1989: s 105(1). In relation to England, for the purposes of Sch 2 para 19B(2)(b) (as added), the prescribed period is 13 weeks and the prescribed age is 14: Children (Leaving Care) (England) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/2874, reg 3(1). A child falling within reg 3(3) is not an eligible child despite falling within the Children Act 1989 Sch 2 para 19B(2) (as added): Children (Leaving Care) (England) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/2874, reg 3(2). A child falls within reg 3(3) if he has been looked after by a local authority in circumstances where the authority has arranged to place him in a pre-planned series of short term placements, none of which individually exceeds four weeks (even though they may amount in all to the prescribed period), and at the end of each such placement the child returns to the care of his parent or a person who is not a parent but who has parental responsibility for him: reg 3(3). The Children (Leaving Care) (Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/2189, reg 3, makes corresponding provision in relation to Wales.

An eligible child for the purposes of the Children Act 1989 Sch 2 para 19B (as added) is not entitled to income-based jobseeker's allowance under the Jobseekers Act 1995, or to income support or housing benefit under the Social Security Contributions and Benefits Act 1992: see the Children (Leaving Care) Act 2000 s 6; and SOCIAL SECURITY AND PENSIONS.

<sup>6</sup> Ibid Sch 2 para 19B(4) (as added: see note 3 supra). Regulations may make provision as to assessments for the purposes of Sch 2 para 19B(4) (as added): Sch 2 para 19B(7) (as so added). The regulations may in particular provide for the matters set out in s 23B(6) (as added) (see para 929 post): Sch 2 para 19B(8) (as so added). As to regulations made in relation to Sch 2 para 19B (as added) see the Children (Leaving Care) (England) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/2874 (amended by SI 2002/546; SI 2006/1738); and the Children (Leaving

9 Ibid Sch 2 para 19C (as added: see note 3 supra). There is nothing in law to prevent an officer or employee of a local authority being appointed as a personal adviser of a child in care; however, in such circumstances the personal adviser and the local authority should recognise that the personal adviser is acting in that role and not in some other conflicting role: R (on the application of J) v Caerphilly Borough Council [2005] EWHC 586 (Admin), [2005] 2 FCR 153.

SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(3) DUTIES OF LOCAL AUTHORITIES IN RELATION TO CHILDREN LOOKED AFTER BY THEM/(iii) Miscellaneous Powers and Duties/874. Death of child being looked after by local authority.

874. Death of child being looked after by local authority.

If a child<sup>1</sup> who is being looked after<sup>2</sup> by a local authority<sup>3</sup> dies, the authority must notify, as appropriate, the Secretary of State, the Welsh Ministers and Her Majesty's Chief Inspector of Education, Children's Services and Skills<sup>4</sup>, and, so far as reasonably practicable, the child's parents and every person who is not a parent of his but who has parental responsibility<sup>5</sup> for him<sup>6</sup>. The local authority may, with the consent (so far as it is reasonably practicable to obtain it) of every person who has parental responsibility for the child, arrange for the child's body to be buried or cremated<sup>7</sup>.

A local authority may make payments to any person who has parental responsibility for the child, or any relative<sup>8</sup>, friend or other person connected with the child, in respect of travelling, subsistence or other expenses incurred by that person in attending the child's funeral<sup>9</sup> if it appears to the local authority that the person concerned could not otherwise attend the child's funeral without undue financial hardship, and that the circumstances warrant the making of the payments<sup>10</sup>.

The above provisions do not authorise cremation where it does not accord with the practice of the child's religious persuasion<sup>11</sup>.

This does not, however, affect any enactment regulating or authorising the burial, cremation or anatomical examination of the body of a deceased person: Sch 2 para 20(6); and see generally CREMATION AND BURIAL. Where a local authority has exercised its power to arrange burial or cremation of a deceased child who was under 16 when he died, it may recover from any parent of the child any expenses incurred by it: Sch 2 para 20(4). Any sums so recoverable, without prejudice to any other method of recovery, are recoverable summarily as a civil debt: Sch 2 para 20(5). TEXT AND NOTE 4--Children Act 1989 Sch 2 para 20(1)(a) amended: Children and Young Persons Act 2008 Sch 3 para 27(4).

Halsbury's Laws of England/CHILDREN AND YOUNG PERSONS (VOLUME 5(3) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 1-742; VOLUME 5(4) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 743-1433)/11. SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(3) DUTIES OF LOCAL AUTHORITIES IN RELATION TO CHILDREN LOOKED AFTER BY THEM/(iii) Miscellaneous Powers and Duties/875. Arrangements to assist children to live abroad.

875. Arrangements to assist children to live abroad.

A local authority<sup>1</sup> may, with the approval of every person who has parental responsibility<sup>2</sup> for a child<sup>3</sup> (other than a child in its care<sup>4</sup>), arrange for or assist in arranging for any child looked after<sup>5</sup> by it to live outside England and Wales<sup>6</sup>. Leave of the court is required if a local authority is to arrange for, or assist in arranging for, any child in its care to live outside England and Wales<sup>7</sup>. The court must not give its approval unless it is satisfied that:

- 1657 (1) living outside England and Wales would be in the child's best interests;
- 1658 (2) suitable arrangements have been or will be made for his reception and welfare in the country in which he will live;
- 1659 (3) the child has consented to living in that country; and
- 1660 (4) every person who has parental responsibility for the child has consented to his living in that country<sup>8</sup>.

However, where the court is satisfied that the child does not have sufficient understanding to give or withhold consent, it may disregard the requirement that his consent be obtained and give its approval if he is to live in the country concerned with a parent, guardian special guardian, or other suitable person<sup>9</sup>. Moreover, where a person whose consent is required is a person with parental responsibility, the court may disregard the statutory requirement and give its approval if it is satisfied that the person concerned cannot be found, is incapable of consenting or is withholding his consent unreasonably<sup>10</sup>.

Where a court decides to give its approval it may order that its decision is not to have effect during the appeal period<sup>11</sup>.

The restriction on the removal of children from the United Kingdom for the purpose of adoption<sup>12</sup>, does not apply in the case of any child who is to live outside England and Wales with the approval of the court given under the above provisions<sup>13</sup>.

877. Provision of accommodation and maintenance.

It is the duty of any local authority<sup>1</sup> looking after<sup>2</sup> a child<sup>3</sup> who is in its care<sup>4</sup> to provide accommodation for him and to maintain him in other respects apart from providing accommodation for him<sup>5</sup>. The duty may be met by:

- 1661 (1) placing<sup>6</sup> him with a family, a relative<sup>7</sup> of his, or any other suitable person, on such terms as to payment by the authority and otherwise as the authority may determine<sup>8</sup>;
- 1662 (2) maintaining him in an appropriate children's home<sup>9</sup>; or

6 As to placements of children see para 878 et seq post. Where a child who has been accommodated by a local authority under the Children Act 1989 s 20 (see paras 863-866 ante) moves to live with another member of the family, the child ceases to be 'accommodated' and any services required will be provided under s 17 (as amended) (see para 851 et seq ante): see Re C (responsible authority) [2005] EWHC 2939 (Fam), [2006] 1 FLR 919.

7 For the meaning of 'relative' see para 249 note 15 ante. A local authority may only allow a child who is in its care to live with: (1) a parent; (2) a person who has parental responsibility for him; or (3) a person in whose favour a residence order was in force immediately before the making of the care order, in accordance with regulations: see the Children Act 1989 s 23(4), (5); and para 869 ante. For the purposes of s 23(5), a child is regarded as living with a person if he stays with that person for a continuous period of more than 24 hours: see s 23(5A) (as added); and para 869 ante. As to such regulations see paras 869 note 19 ante, 890 et seq post. As to residence orders see para 262 ante. As to care orders see paras 276-280 ante.

Section 23 (as amended) is also subject to the Children Act 2004 s 49 whereby the Secretary of State or the Welsh Ministers may by order make provision as to the payments to be made by a children's services authority in England or Wales or a person exercising functions on its behalf to a local authority foster parent with whom any child is placed by that authority or person under the Children Act 1989 s 23(2)(a): Children Act 2004 s 49(1)(a), (2). As to the duty of a local authority under the Children Act 1989 s 23(2) see further D v Southwark London Borough Council [2007] EWCA Civ 182, [2007] 1 FCR 788.

Any person with whom a child has been placed under the Children Act 1989 s 23(2)(a) is referred to as a local authority foster parent unless he falls within head (1), head (2) or head (3) in note 7 supra: s 23(3); and see para 900 post. As to the 'placement' of a child see further para 878 post. Where a child is accommodated by a voluntary organisation, that organisation has the same power of placement: see s 59(1)(a), (2); and para 975 post.

Regulations under s 23(2)(a) may, in particular, make provision:

- 654 (1) with regard to the welfare of children placed with local authority foster parents (Sch 2 para 12(a));
- 655 (2) as to the arrangements to be made by local authorities in connection with the health and education of such children (Sch 2 para 12(b));
- 656 (3) as to the records to be kept by local authorities (Sch 2 para 12(c));
- 657 (4) for securing that a child is not placed with a local authority foster parent unless that person is for the time being approved as a local authority foster parent by such local authority as may be prescribed (Sch 2 para 12(d));
- 658 (5) for securing that where possible the local authority foster parent with whom a child is to be placed:
  - 18. (a) is of the same religious persuasion as the child (Sch 2 para 12(e)(i)); or
  - 19 19. (b) gives an undertaking that the child will be brought up in that religious persuasion (Sch 2 para 12(e)(ii));
  - 20 20.
- 659 (6) for securing that children placed with local authority foster parents, and the premises in which they are accommodated, will be supervised and inspected by a local authority and that the children will be removed from those premises if their welfare appears to require it (Sch 2 para 12(f));
- 660 (7) as to the circumstances in which local authorities may make arrangements for duties imposed on them by the regulations to be discharged on their behalf (Sch 2 para 12(g)).

9 Children Act 1989 s 23(2)(aa) (added by the Care Standards Act 2000 s 116, Sch 4 para 14(1), (3)(a)). Where, under the Children Act 1989 s 23(2)(aa) (as added), a local authority maintains a child in a home provided, equipped and maintained by the Secretary of State under s 82(5) (see para 158 ante), it must do so on such terms as the Secretary of State may from time to time determine: s 23(2A) (added by the Care Standards Act 2000 Sch 4 para 14(1), (3)(b)). 'Appropriate children's home' means a children's home in respect of which a person is registered under the Care Standards Act 2000 Pt II (ss 11-42) (see para 985-986 post; and SOCIAL SERVICES AND COMMUNITY CARE); and 'children's home' has the same meaning as in that Act (see para 983 post): Children Act 1989 s 23(10) (added by the Care Standards Act 2000 Sch 4 para 14(3)(c)).

10 Children Act 1989 s 23(2)(f). Regulations under s 23(2)(f) may, in particular, make provision as to:

- 661 (1) the persons to be notified of any proposed arrangements (Sch 2 para 13(a));
- 662 (2) the opportunities such persons are to have to make representations in relation to the arrangements proposed (Sch 2 para 13(b));
- 663 (3) the persons to be notified of any proposed changes in arrangements (Sch 2 para 13(c));
- 664 (4) the records to be kept by local authorities (Sch 2 para 13(d)); and
- 665 (5) the supervision by local authorities of any arrangements made (Sch 2 para 13(e)).

In pursuance of s 23(2)(f), the following regulations have been made in relation to England: the Arrangements for Placement of Children (General) Regulations 1991, SI 1991/890 (amended by SI 1991/2033; SI 1993/3069; SI 1995/2015; SI 1997/649; SI 2002/546; SI 2002/2469) (see para 880 et seq post). In relation to Wales, the following regulations have been made: the Placement of Children (Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/310 (amended by SI 2002/865; SI 2002/2469; SI 2004/664; SI 2004/865; SI 2006/1738) (see paras 900-921 post).

877 Provision of accommodation and maintenance

TEXT AND NOTES--Replaced. Children Act 1989 s 23, Sch 2 paras 12-14 replaced by ss 22A-22F, Sch 2 paras 12A-12G (substituted by Children and Young Persons Act 2008 s 8(1), (2), Sch 1 para 4).

For transitory modifications of Children Act 1989 Sch 2 para 12 see Children and Young Persons Act 2008 s 8(3), Sch 2.

The following provisions are not yet in force unless otherwise stated.

When a child is in the care of a local authority, it is the duty of that authority to provide the child with accommodation: Children Act 1989 s 22A. A local authority must also maintain a child it is looking after in other respects apart from the provision of accommodation: s 22B. Where a local authority is looking after a child ('C'), it must make arrangements for C to live with a person who (1) is a parent of C; (2) is not a parent of C but who has parental responsibility for C; or (3) in a case where C is in the care of the authority and there was a residence order in force with respect to C immediately before the care order was made, the person in whose favour the residence order was made: see s 22C(1)-(3), (10). However, the authority is not required to make such arrangements if doing so would not be consistent with C's welfare, or would not be reasonably practicable: s 22C(4). If the authority is unable to make such arrangements, it must place C in the placement which is, in its opinion, the most appropriate placement available: s 22C(5). 'Placement' means (a) placement with an individual who is a relative, friend or other person connected with C and who is also a local authority foster parent (see PARA 249); (b) placement with a local authority foster parent who does not fall within head (a) above; (c) placement in a children's home in respect of which a person is registered under the Care Standards Act 2000 Pt 2 (ss 11-42); or (d) subject to the Children Act 1989 s 22D, placement in accordance with other arrangements which comply with any regulations made for the purposes of s 22C: s 22C(6). In determining the most appropriate placement for C, the authority must give preference to a placement falling within head (a): s 22C(7)(a). Further, so far as it is reasonably practicable, the authority must ensure that the placement is near C's home, does not disrupt C's education or training, enables C to live with a sibling for whom the authority is also providing accommodation and, if C is disabled, the accommodation provided is suitable to C's particular needs: s 22C(7)(b), (8). An authority is generally required to provide a placement with accommodation within its area: see s 22C(7)(c), (9). The appropriate national authority may make regulations for, and in connection with, the purposes of s 22C: s 22C(11) (in force: SI 2009/2273 (England), SI 2010/1329 (Wales)). 'The appropriate national authority' means, in relation to England, the Secretary of State and, in relation to Wales, the Welsh Ministers: Children Act 1989 s 30A (added by Children and Young Persons Act 2008 Sch 3 para 22). The Children Act 1989 Sch 2 Pt 2 (paras 12A-20) (see PARAS 869-875) has effect for the purposes of making further provision as to children looked after by local authorities and in particular as to the regulations which may be made under s 22C(11): s 22F (in force: SI 2009/2273 (England), SI 2010/1329 (Wales)). Regulations under the Children Act 1989 s 22C (i) may impose requirements on a local authority as to conditions under which a child is to live with any person falling within heads (1)-(3) (see Sch 2 para 12A); (ii) in relation to placements of the kind specified in head (d), may make provision as to the persons to be notified of any proposed arrangements (see Sch 2 para 12B); (iii) may impose requirements which a local authority must comply with before a child its looks after is provided with accommodation at a place outside the authority's area (see Sch 2 para 12C); (iv) may make provision in relation to a child's education, health, welfare and religious upbringing (see Sch 2 paras 12D, 12E); (v) may make provision in relation to approval of local authority foster parents (see Sch 2 para 12F); and (vi) may make provision as to the circumstances in which local authorities may make arrangements for duties imposed on them by the regulations to be discharged on their behalf (see Sch 2 para 12G). Schedule 2 paras 12A-12G in force: SI 2009/2273 (England), SI 2010/749 (Wales).

Where a local authority is providing accommodation for a child other than by arrangements under head (d), it must not make such arrangements for the child unless it has decided to do so in consequence of a review of the child's case carried out in accordance with regulations made under s 26 (s 22D(1)); but this does not prevent an authority making arrangements for the child under head (d) above if it is satisfied that in order to safeguard the child's welfare it is necessary to make such arrangements and to do so as a matter of urgency (s 22D(2)). Where a local authority places a child it is looking after in a children's home provided, equipped and maintained by the appropriate national authority under s 82(5) (see PARA 158), it must do so on such terms as the appropriate national authority may from time to time determine: s 22E.

NOTE 5--A public authority, by its conduct, can be taken to be exercising its functions under the Children Act 1989 s 23 even where that is not its intention: R (on the application of A) v Coventry City Council [2009] EWHC 34 (Admin), [2009] 1 FCR 501.

(4) PLACEMENTS BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES AND OTHERS

(i) Arrangements for Placements

A. DUTY TO MAKE ARRANGEMENTS

878. Provision of accommodation by local authority.

It is the duty of any local authority<sup>1</sup> looking after<sup>2</sup> a child<sup>3</sup> who is in its care<sup>4</sup> to provide accommodation for him<sup>5</sup>. The duty may be met by:

- 1664 (1) placing<sup>6</sup> him with a family, a relative<sup>7</sup> of his, or any other suitable person, on such terms as to payment by the authority and otherwise as the authority may determine<sup>8</sup>;
- 1665 (2) maintaining him in an appropriate children's home<sup>9</sup>; or
- 1666 (3) making such other arrangements as seem appropriate to the authority and which comply with any regulations<sup>10</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'local authority' see para 248 note 10 ante. As to the provision of services by voluntary organisations and others see para 849 ante.

2 As to the meaning of 'look after' where a local authority looks after a child see para 867 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'child' see para 3 ante.

4 As to the meaning of 'in care' see para 867 note 7 ante.

5 Children Act 1989 s 23(1). Contributions may be required from other persons: see para 935 post. As to the inspection of premises in which children looked after by a local authority are accommodated see para 156 ante.

6 Where a child who has been accommodated by a local authority under the Children Act 1989 s 20 (as amended) (see para 863 ante) moves to live with another member of the family, the child ceases to be 'accommodated' and any services required will be provided under s 17 (as amended) (see para 851 et seq ante): see Re C (responsible authority) [2005] EWHC 2939 (Fam), [2006] 1 FLR 919.

7 For the meaning of 'relative' see para 249 note 15 ante. A local authority may only allow a child who is in its care to live with: (1) a parent; (2) a person who has parental responsibility for him; or (3) a person in whose favour a residence order was in force immediately before the making of the care order, in accordance with regulations: see the Children Act 1989 s 23(4), (5); and para 869 ante. For the purposes of s 23(5), a child is regarded as living with a person if he stays with that person for a continuous period of more than 24 hours: see s 23(5A) (as added); and para 869 ante. As to such regulations see paras 869 note 19 ante, 890 et seq post. As to residence orders see para 262 ante. As to care orders see paras 276-280 ante.

8 Ibid s 23(2)(a). This is expressed to be subject to s 23(5) (see para 869 ante) and any regulations made by the Secretary of State or the Welsh Ministers. Section 23 (as amended) is also subject to the Children Act 2004 s 49 (see para 877 note 8 ante). As to the Secretary of State and the Welsh Ministers see para 155 ante.

Any person with whom a child has been placed under the Children Act 1989 s 23(2)(a) is referred to as a local authority foster parent unless he falls within head (1), head (2) or head (3) in note 7 supra: s 23(3); and see para 900 post. Where a child is accommodated by a voluntary organisation, that organisation has the same power of placement: see s 59(1)(a), (2); and para 975 post.

Regulations under s 23(2)(a) may, in particular, make provision:

- 666 (1) with regard to the welfare of children placed with local authority foster parents (Sch 2 para 12(a));
- 667 (2) as to the arrangements to be made by local authorities in connection with the health and education of such children (Sch 2 para 12(b));
- 668 (3) as to the records to be kept by local authorities (Sch 2 para 12(c));
- 669 (4) for securing that a child is not placed with a local authority foster parent unless that person is for the time being approved as a local authority foster parent by such local authority as may be prescribed (Sch 2 para 12(d));
- 670 (5) for securing that where possible the local authority foster parent with whom a child is to be placed:
  - 20. (a) is of the same religious persuasion as the child (Sch 2 para 12(e)(i)); or
  - 21 21. (b) gives an undertaking that the child will be brought up in that religious persuasion (Sch 2 para 12(e)(ii));
  - 22
- 671 (6) for securing that children placed with local authority foster parents, and the premises in which they are accommodated, will be supervised and inspected by a local authority and that the children will be removed from those premises if their welfare appears to require it (Sch 2 para 12(f));
- 672 (7) as to the circumstances in which local authorities may make arrangements for duties imposed on them by the regulations to be discharged on their behalf (Sch 2 para 12(g)).

As to regulations made under s 23(2)(a) see para 877 note 8 ante.

9 Children Act 1989 s 23(2)(aa) (added by the Care Standards Act 2000 s 116, Sch 4 para 14(1), (3)(a)). Where, under the Children Act 1989 s 23(2)(aa) (as added), a local authority maintains a child in a home provided, equipped and maintained by the Secretary of State or the Welsh Ministers under s 82(5) (see para 158 ante), it must do so on such terms as the Secretary of State or the Welsh Ministers may from time to time determine: s 23(2A) (added by the Care Standards Act 2000 Sch 4 para 14(1), (3)(b)). For the meaning of 'appropriate children's home' see para 877 note 9 ante.

10 Children Act 1989 s 23(2)(f). Regulations under s 23(2)(f) may, in particular, make provision as to:

SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(4) PLACEMENTS BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES AND OTHERS/(i) Arrangements for Placements/A. DUTY TO MAKE ARRANGEMENTS/879. Power to make regulations.

879. Power to make regulations.

The Arrangements for Placement of Children (General) Regulations 1991<sup>9</sup> and the Placement of Children (Wales) Regulations 2007<sup>10</sup> apply to placements by a local authority of any child, to placements by a voluntary organisation of a child who is not looked after by a local authority, and to placements in a private children's home<sup>11</sup> by a person carrying on the home of a child who is neither looked after by a local authority nor accommodated in such a home by a voluntary organisation<sup>12</sup>. However, these regulations do not apply to placements of a child, otherwise than by a local authority or voluntary organisation, in a school which is a children's home within the meaning of the Care Standards Act 2000<sup>13</sup> or to any placement of a child for adoption under the Adoption and Children Act 2002<sup>14</sup>.

SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(4) PLACEMENTS BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES AND OTHERS/(i) Arrangements for Placements/A. DUTY TO MAKE ARRANGEMENTS/880. Duty of the responsible authority to make arrangements.

880. Duty of the responsible authority to make arrangements.

The responsible authority<sup>1</sup>, so far as is reasonably practicable, must make immediate and long term arrangements<sup>2</sup> for a placement<sup>3</sup>, and for promoting the welfare of the child who is to be placed, before making the placement<sup>4</sup>. Where it is not practicable to do so before the placement, the responsible authority must make such arrangements as soon as reasonably practicable thereafter<sup>5</sup>. In the case of any child who is 16 or over who has agreed to be provided with accommodation<sup>6</sup>, the arrangements must so far as reasonably practicable be agreed by the responsible authority with the child before a placement is made, or if that is not practicable as soon as reasonably practicable thereafter<sup>7</sup>. In other cases in which a child is looked after or accommodated but is not in care<sup>8</sup>, the arrangements must so far as reasonably practicable be agreed by the responsible authority with a person with parental responsibility<sup>9</sup> for the child or, if there is no such person, the person who is caring for the child, before a placement is made, or if that is not practicable as soon as reasonably practicable thereafter<sup>10</sup>. Any such arrangements made by the responsible authority must be recorded in writing<sup>11</sup>.

There is a mandatory duty on a local authority to apply for a placement order:

1667 (1) where a child is placed for adoption by the local authority or is being provided with accommodation by the local authority and certain circumstances apply<sup>12</sup>; and

1668 (2) where there is a pending application for a care or supervision order or the child is subject to a care order and the local authority is not authorised to place the child for adoption, and the local authority is satisfied that the child ought to be placed for adoption<sup>13</sup>.

1 'Responsible authority' means: (1) where the child is placed by a local authority, that authority; (2) where the child is not looked after by the local authority and is placed by a voluntary organisation, that organisation; or (3) where a child who is neither looked after by the local authority nor accommodated by a voluntary organisation is placed in a private children's home, the person carrying on that home: Arrangements for Placement of Children (General) Regulations 1991, SI 1991/890, reg 1(2) (amended by SI 2002/546; and revoked, in relation to Wales, by SI 2007/310); Placement of Children (Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/310, reg 2(1). For the meaning of 'child' see para 3 ante; for the meaning of 'local authority' see para 248 note 10 ante; for the meaning of 'voluntary organisation' see para 248 note 10 ante; and for the meaning of 'private children's home' see para 980 note 2 post.

2 The Arrangements for Placement of Children (General) Regulations 1991, SI 1991/890 (as amended) and the Placement of Children (Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/310, place a duty on local authorities, and also on voluntary organisations and private children's homes, in making arrangements to place a child and to draw up and record an individual plan for the child; and it is said that the primary purpose of planning and review (see the Review of Children's Cases Regulations 1991, SI 1991/895 (as amended) and the Review of Children's Cases (Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/307, is to safeguard and promote the welfare of a child living away from his family. Planning is required from the earliest possible time after recognition of need or referral where the provision of accommodation (whether under voluntary arrangements or on a compulsory basis) is likely to be necessary. Thereafter, the plan should be reviewed on an ongoing basis. All the necessary considerations for the child's welfare, including the child's wishes and feelings and the wishes and feelings of the parents and others which the authority is required to seek and take into account, must be given due attention: see the Department of Health publication The Children Act 1989: Guidance and Regulations Volume 3 Family Placements (HMSO, 1991) para 2.9. As to the guidance and regulations generally see para 163 ante.

Note that the duty to ascertain the wishes and feelings of parents before making any decision with respect to a looked-after child is directory rather than mandatory: Re P (Children Act 1989 ss 22 and 26: local authority compliance) [2000] 2 FLR 910.

3 'Placement' means: (1) the provision of accommodation and maintenance by a local authority for any child whom it is looking after by any of the means specified in the Children Act 1989 s 23(2)(a) (as amended), s 23(2)(aa) (as added) or s 23(2)(f) (see para 877 ante); (2) the provision of accommodation for a child by a voluntary organisation by any of the means specified in s 59(1)(a) (as amended), s 59(1)(aa) (as added) or s 59(1)(f) (see para 975 post); and (3) the provision of accommodation for a child in a private children's home: Arrangement for Placement of Children (General) Regulations 1991, SI 1991/890, reg 1(2) (amended by SI 2002/546; SI 2002/2935; and revoked, in relation to Wales, by SI 2007/310); Placement of Children (Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/310, reg 1(2). The definition of 'placement' is subject to the Arrangements for Placement of Children (General) Regulations 1991, SI 1991/890, reg 13 (as amended) and the Placement of Children (Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/310, reg 14, which provide that any series of short term placements, where a responsible authority has arranged to place a child in a series of short term placements at the same place and the arrangement is such that no single placement is to last for more than four weeks and the total duration of the placements is not to exceed 120 days in any period of 12 months, may be treated as a single placement for the purposes of the Arrangement for Placement of Children (General) Regulations 1991, SI 1991/890 (as amended) and the Placement of Children (Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/310: Arrangement for Placement of Children (General) Regulations 1991, SI 1991/890, reg 13 (amended by SI 1995/2015; and revoked, in relation to Wales, by SI 2007/310); Placement of Children (Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/310, reg 14.

B. CONSIDERATIONS ON MAKING AND CONTENTS OF ARRANGEMENTS

882. General considerations.

- 1672 (1) in the case of a child who is in care<sup>5</sup>, whether an application should be made to discharge the care order<sup>6</sup>;
- 1673 (2) where the responsible authority is the local authority<sup>7</sup>, whether to seek a change in the child's legal status<sup>8</sup>;
- 1674 (3) the arrangements for contact, and whether there is any need for changes in the arrangements in order to promote contact with the child's family and others so far as is consistent with his welfare<sup>9</sup>;
- 1675 (4) the responsible authority's immediate and long term arrangements for the child, previous arrangements in respect of the child, and whether a change in those arrangements is needed, including consideration of alternative courses of action<sup>10</sup>;
- 1676 (5) where the responsible authority is a local authority, whether an independent visitor should be appointed<sup>11</sup>;
- 1677 (6) whether arrangements need to be made for the time when the child will no longer be looked after by the responsible authority<sup>12</sup>; and
- 1678 (7) whether plans need to be made to find a permanent substitute family for the child<sup>13</sup>.

SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(4) PLACEMENTS BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES AND OTHERS/(i) Arrangements for Placements/B. CONSIDERATIONS ON MAKING AND CONTENTS OF ARRANGEMENTS/883. Health considerations.

883. Health considerations.

- 1679 (1) the child's state of health<sup>5</sup>;
- 1680 (2) the child's health history<sup>6</sup>;
- 1681 (3) the effect of the child's health and health history on his development<sup>7</sup>;
- 1682 (4) the existing arrangements for the child's medical and dental care and treatment and health and dental surveillance<sup>8</sup>;
- 1683 (5) the possible need for an appropriate course of action which should be identified to assist necessary change of such care, treatment or surveillance<sup>9</sup>; and
- 1684 (6) the possible need for preventive measures<sup>10</sup>.

In relation to Wales the responsible authority must also consider:

- 1685 (a) any need the child has for mental health services<sup>11</sup>; and
- 1686 (b) taking into account that information as well as the information in heads (1) to (6) above, whether the child's needs will be met in the proposed placement<sup>12</sup>.

A responsible authority must: (i) before making a placement, or if that is not reasonably practicable, as soon as reasonably practicable after a placement is made (which, in Wales, must not be later than 14 days after the placement is made), make arrangements for a registered medical practitioner<sup>13</sup> (or, in Wales, a registered practitioner or a registered nurse) to conduct an assessment<sup>14</sup>, which may include a physical examination, of the child's state of health<sup>15</sup>; and (ii) prepare a plan for the future health care of the child if one is not already in existence<sup>16</sup>. Heads (i) and (ii) above do not apply if the child has been examined and an assessment made within the period of three months immediately preceding the placement of the child, or if the child is of sufficient understanding and refuses to submit to the examination<sup>17</sup>.

The responsible authority must also ensure that each child is provided during the placement with health care services including medical and dental treatment (and, in Wales, mental health care and treatment) and advice and guidance on health, personal care and health promotion issues appropriate to his needs<sup>18</sup>.

12 Ibid Sch 2 para 8.

13 As to registered medical practitioners see MEDICAL PROFESSIONS vol 30(1) (Reissue) paras 3, 99 et seq.

14 The responsible authority must require the person carrying out the assessment to prepare a written report of the assessment: see the Arrangements for Placement of Children (General) Regulations 1991, SI 1991/890, reg 7(1)(b) (substituted by SI 2002/546; and revoked, in relation to Wales, by SI 2007/310); Placement of Children (Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/310, reg 8(1)(b). In Wales, the responsible authority must ensure that a copy of any report, and any subsequent assessment report prepared during the placement, is forwarded to the child's general practitioner and, where applicable, any general practitioner with whom the child is to be registered after the placement is made: see regs 6(1)(d), 8(1)(c).

15 Arrangements for Placement of Children (General) Regulations 1991, SI 1991/890, reg 7(1)(a) (substituted by SI 2002/546; and revoked, in relation to Wales, by SI 2007/310); Placement of Children (Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/310, reg 8(1)(a). As to the giving or withholding of consent to treatment by a child see para 4 ante.

16 Arrangements for Placement of Children (General) Regulations 1991, SI 1991/890, reg 7(1) (substituted by SI 2002/546; and revoked, in relation to Wales, by SI 2007/310); Placement of Children (Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/310, reg 8(d).

17 Arrangements for Placement of Children (General) Regulations 1991, SI 1991/890, reg 7(3), (4) (substituted by SI 2002/546; and revoked, in relation to Wales, by SI 2007/310); Placement of Children (Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/310, reg 8(5), (6).

The responsible authority should draw the child's attention to his rights to give or refuse consent to an examination or treatment if he is 16 or over or if he is under 16 and the doctor considers him of sufficient understanding to understand the consequences of consent or refusal. There is no prohibition on placement if it is impossible to persuade a child to be medically examined. But it is a responsibility of the authority, and part of the carer's task, to help and encourage young people to understand the importance of health care and to take responsibility for their own health: see the Department of Health publication The Children Act 1989: Guidance and Regulations Volume 3 Family Placements (HMSO, 1991) para 2.32.

It is emphasised that the responsible authority should have clear policies and procedures in relation to consent to the medical examination and treatment of children while placed by it and should make these known to the health authority and the child's carers. Arrangements for this should be clearly set out in each plan or agreement. The details will vary according to whether a responsible authority does or does not have parental responsibility for the child. When a child is not in care and the parents refuse consent to medical examination or treatment, the local authority may have to resort to obtaining an appropriate court order (including eg a specific issue order (see para 263 ante), an emergency protection order (see para 583 et seq ante) or a child assessment order (see para 578 et seq ante)). If the child is in care, but the local authority has not acted to restrict the parents' exercise of parental responsibility under the Children Act 1989 s 33(3)(b) (see paras 138, 276 ante) in this respect, then it must do so to comply with these regulations and to ensure that necessary medical examinations and treatment are made available to the child: see the Department of Health publication The Children Act 1989: Guidance and Regulations Volume 3 Family Placements (HMSO, 1991) para 2.30.

884. Educational considerations.

- 1687 (1) the child's educational history<sup>5</sup>;
- 1688 (2) the need to achieve continuity in the child's education (and, in Wales, to promote the child's educational achievement)<sup>6</sup>;
- 1689 (3) the need to identify any educational need which a child may have and to take action to meet that need<sup>7</sup>; and
- 1690 (4) the need to carry out assessments in respect of special educational needs and to meet any needs identified in a statement of special educational needs<sup>8</sup>.

The education authority<sup>9</sup> must be notified before placement or, if that is not possible, as soon as practicable thereafter<sup>10</sup>.

Children who are looked after or accommodated have the same rights as all children to education, including further and higher education, and to other opportunities for development. Some children's perception of their ability may have been undermined and their true potential may not be immediately evident. As children who may be damaged and vulnerable they often need extra help and encouragement and opportunities to compensate for early deprivation and for educational disadvantage arising from changes of placement while in care: see the Department of Health publication The Children Act 1989: Guidance and Regulations Volume 3 Family Placements (HMSO, 1991) para 2.33. 885. Other matters to be included in arrangements to accommodate children who are not in care.

- 1691 (1) the type of accommodation to be provided and its address, together with the name of any person who will be responsible for the child at that accommodation on behalf of the responsible authority<sup>5</sup>;
- 1692 (2) details of any services<sup>6</sup> to be provided for the child<sup>7</sup>;
- 1693 (3) the respective responsibilities of the responsible authority and the child, any parent<sup>8</sup>, and any person not being a parent who has parental responsibility<sup>9</sup> for him<sup>10</sup>;
- 1694 (4) what delegation of parental responsibility for the child's day to day care there has been by parents or other persons with parental responsibility to the responsible authority<sup>11</sup>;
- 1695 (5) the arrangements for involving these persons and the child in decision-making with respect to the child, having regard to specified duties<sup>12</sup>;
- 1696 (6) the arrangements for contact between the child and the child's parents, any other person who has parental responsibility for him, and any relative<sup>13</sup>, friend or other person connected with him; and, if appropriate, the reasons why contact with any such person would not be reasonably practicable or would be inconsistent with the child's welfare<sup>14</sup>;
- 1697 (7) the arrangements for notifying changes in arrangements for contact to any of the persons referred to in head (6) above<sup>15</sup>;
- 1698 (8) in the case of a child aged 16 or over, whether the child wishes to be provided with accommodation notwithstanding parental opposition<sup>16</sup>; and
- 1699 (9) the expected duration of the arrangements and the steps which should apply to bring the arrangements to an end, including arrangements for rehabilitation of the child with the person whom he was living before the voluntary arrangements were made or with some other suitable person<sup>17</sup>.

C. NOTIFICATION

886. Notification of placement arrangements.

Where arrangements have been made for the placement of a child<sup>1</sup> it is essential that those involved in the decision-making process be notified of the decision so that they may have an opportunity to make any necessary arrangements for their involvement in the placement or to make their views of the placement decision known<sup>2</sup>. Accordingly, the responsible authority<sup>3</sup> must, so far as is reasonably practicable<sup>4</sup>, notify certain persons in writing of the arrangements to place a child<sup>5</sup>, before the placement<sup>6</sup> is made (or, in relation to Wales, not more than 10 working days from the date the placement is made)<sup>7</sup>.

The following are the persons who have to be notified:

- 1700 (1) any person whose wishes and feelings have been sought under certain provisions of the Children Act 1989<sup>8</sup> requiring consultation prior to decision making<sup>9</sup>;
- 1701 (2) the primary care trust or the health authority<sup>10</sup> (or, in relation to Wales, the health care provider) for the area in which the child is living, and if different, for the area in which the child is to be placed<sup>11</sup>;
- 1702 (3) the local education authority<sup>12</sup> for the area in which the child is living and, if it is different, for the area in which the child is to be placed<sup>13</sup>;
- 1703 (4) the child's registered medical practitioner and, where applicable, any registered medical practitioner with whom the child is to be registered following the placement<sup>14</sup>;
- 1704 (5) the area authority<sup>15</sup>;
- 1705 (6) any person who is caring for the child immediately before arrangements are made<sup>16</sup>;
- 1706 (7) where the child is in the care<sup>17</sup> of a local authority, any person who has contact with the child<sup>18</sup>, and in other cases, any person in whose favour a contact order<sup>19</sup> is in force<sup>20</sup>.

The responsible authority must send a copy of the arrangements, or such part of the arrangements as it considers will not prejudice the welfare of the child, with the notifications, but, save in the case of persons mentioned in head (1) above, the authority must send details of only such part of the arrangements as it considers those persons need to know<sup>21</sup>.

1 As to the duty of the responsible authority to make arrangements see para 880 ante.

2 See the Department of Health publication The Children Act 1989 Guidance and Regulations Vol 3 Family Placements (HMSO, 1991) para 2.68. As to the guidance and regulations generally see para 163 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'responsible authority' see para 880 note 1 ante.

4 If it is not reasonably practicable to give the notification before the placement, it must be given as soon as reasonably practicable thereafter: Arrangements for Placement of Children (General) Regulations 1991, SI 1991/890, reg 5(2) (revoked, in relation to Wales, by SI 2007/310); Placement of Children (Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/310, reg 6(2).

5 For the meaning of 'child' see para 3 ante.

6 For the meaning of 'placement' see para 880 note 3 ante.

7 Arrangements for Placement of Children (General) Regulations 1991, SI 1991/890, reg 5(1) (revoked, in relation to Wales, by SI 2007/310); Placement of Children (Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/310, reg 6(1). Any such notice is to be given in writing and may be sent by post: Arrangements for Placement of Children (General) Regulations 1991, SI 1991/890, reg 1(3) (revoked, in relation to Wales, by SI 2007/310); Placement of Children (Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/310, reg 1(3).

The written notification should include: (1) a summary of the proposed arrangements and the objectives covering details of the placement and its likely duration; (2) arrangements for contact; (3) who is responsible for implementing the plan; (4) the role of the child's parent on a day to day basis; (5) arrangements for or issues of reunification; and (6) contingency plans if the placement is unsuccessful: see the Department of Health publication The Children Act 1989: Guidance and Regulations Volume 3 Family Placements (HMSO, 1991) para 2.72. Good practice requires that the responsible authority's social worker explain personally to the parents and the child what the plan entails and the reasons for reaching the decisions therein; and that this should be done in addition to any explanations given during the assessment and planning process: para 2.70.

Careful note should be taken of these provisions, and notification to third parties should only contain the amount of information it is necessary to divulge. However, the responsible authority will need to identify others who are not involved in the decision-making process but who will be involved with the child and need to know of the placement arrangements: see the Department of Health publication The Children Act 1989: Guidance and Regulations Volume 3 Family Placements (HMSO, 1991) para 2.68.

In relation to Wales, in the case of notification to any of the persons or bodies specified in heads (3) and (4) in the text, the responsible authority must provide that person or body with copies of any relevant report or assessment available at the time the placement is made or obtained subsequently during the placement: Placement of Children (Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/310, reg 6(4). Where a child is placed in an area different from the area in which the child is ordinarily resident, when notifying the arrangements to those persons or bodies specified in heads (2)-(4) in the text, the responsible authority must at the same time request that the persons or bodies so specified, where applicable, seek a transfer of records before, or if that is not practicable, as soon as practicable after the placement is made: reg 6(5). The responsible authority must continue to review any request made until it is satisfied either that the transfer of records has taken place or is no longer necessary: reg 6(6).

(ii) Records and Registers

887. Records.

A responsible authority<sup>1</sup> must keep a written case record for every child<sup>2</sup> placed by the authority<sup>3</sup>. The record must include:

- 1707 (1) a copy of the placement arrangements<sup>4</sup>;
- 1708 (2) a copy of any written report in the authority's possession concerning the child's welfare<sup>5</sup>;
- 1709 (3) a copy of any document considered or record established in the course of or as a result of a review<sup>6</sup> of the child's case<sup>7</sup>;

In relation to Wales, the record must also include written reasons<sup>12</sup>.

A case record relating to a child who is placed must be retained<sup>13</sup> by the authority for 75 years from the date of the child's birth or, where the child dies before reaching 18, for 15 years from the date of his death<sup>14</sup>. The authority must ensure the safekeeping of case records and must take all necessary steps to ensure that the information contained in the records is treated as confidential<sup>15</sup>.

Accurate, comprehensive and well organised records are essential to good practice. They are the basis, as social workers and carers change, for a clear and common understanding of the plan for the child, the arrangements made, agreements which have been reached and decisions which have been made and the reasons for them. Careful recording of agreements and decisions relating to the plan, to the child, the aim of the placement and of the child's progress in the placement enables the implementation of planning decision to be monitored effectively and kept under review. The responsible authority's records will be an important source of information for the child who is permanently placed away from his birth family: see the Department of Health publication The Children Act 1989: Guidance and Regulations Volume 3 Family Placements (HMSO, 1991) para 2.78. ## 888. Registers.

Each entry in the register must contain the following particulars<sup>8</sup>:

- 1712 (1) the child's name, sex and date of birth (and, in relation to Wales, the national health service number and, where applicable, social services identification number of the child)<sup>9</sup>;
- 1713 (2) the name and address of the person with whom he is placed, and, if different, of the child's parent or other person who has parental responsibility<sup>10</sup> for him<sup>11</sup>;
- 1714 (3) in the case of a child placed on behalf of a local authority by a voluntary organisation or in a private children's home, the name of the authority<sup>12</sup>;
- 1715 (4) whether the child's name is entered on any local authority register as being at risk of being abused<sup>13</sup>;
- 1716 (5) whether the child's name is entered on the register of disabled children<sup>14</sup>;
- 1717 (6) the date on which each placement<sup>15</sup> began and terminated, and the reason for each termination<sup>16</sup>;
- 1718 (7) in the case of a child in the care<sup>17</sup> of the local authority, the name of that authority<sup>18</sup>;
- 1719 (8) the legal provisions under which the child is being looked after or cared for<sup>19</sup>.

In relation to Wales, where a child is placed in a children's home, the register must also contain the name of the child's link worker<sup>20</sup>.

An entry in the register may also contain such of the following particulars as may be appropriate<sup>21</sup>:

- 1720 (a) in the case of a child in respect of whom there are arrangements for the carrying out of functions<sup>22</sup> by an area authority<sup>23</sup>, a note that there are such arrangements and the name of the authority with which they were made<sup>24</sup>;
- 1721 (b) where there are arrangements for the supervision of the placement other than as mentioned in head (a) above, a note that there are such arrangements and the name of the person with whom they were made<sup>25</sup>.

Entries in registers must be retained<sup>26</sup> until the child reaches the age of 23, or if he dies before that time, for five years from the date of his death<sup>27</sup>. The responsible authority must ensure the safekeeping of registers and must take all necessary steps to ensure that the information contained in the records is treated as confidential<sup>28</sup>.

(iii) Particular Kinds of Arrangements for Children

A. PLACEMENT OF CHILD IN CARE WITH PARENTS ETC

890. Placements.

Where a child<sup>1</sup> is in the care<sup>2</sup> of a local authority<sup>3</sup>, the authority may only allow him to live with<sup>4</sup> a parent<sup>5</sup> or other specified member of his family<sup>6</sup> in accordance with regulations made by the Secretary of State or the Welsh Ministers<sup>7</sup>. Regulations have accordingly been made to deal with cases in which it is considered that a placement with parents during the continuance of a care order would be appropriate<sup>8</sup>.

The regulations apply to every child in the care of a local authority who is or is proposed to be placed<sup>9</sup>. For these purposes, 'placement' means allowing a child who is in the care of the local authority to live<sup>10</sup> with:

- 1722 (1) a parent of the child;
- 1723 (2) a person who is not a parent of the child but who has parental responsibility for him; or
- 1724 (3) a person in whose favour a residence order was in force with respect to him immediately before the care order was made<sup>11</sup>.

However, nothing in the regulations requires the temporary removal of a child from the person with whom he is already living and with whom he may be placed, before a placement decision<sup>12</sup> is made concerning him<sup>13</sup>.

The regulations do not apply to the placement of a child for adoption pursuant to the Adoption Act 1976<sup>14</sup>, nor in a case to the extent that they are incompatible with any order made by a court under the statutory provisions<sup>15</sup> dealing with parental contact<sup>16</sup>. Certain provisions of the regulations do not apply to a child who is aged 16 or over<sup>17</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'child' see para 3 ante.

2 As to the meaning of 'in care' see para 867 note 7 ante. Where a child was committed to care under a court order made in matrimonial, guardianship, custodianship or wardship proceedings, the care will be subject to the court's directions (see the Children Act 1989 s 108(6), Sch 14 para 15 (amended by the Armed Forces Act 1991, s 26, Sch 3; and the Courts and Legal Services Act 1990, ss 116, 125(7), Sch 16, para 33, Sch 20)) and a placement with a parent would require judicial approval.

3 For the meaning of 'local authority' see para 248 note 10 ante.

4 As to the meaning of 'live with' in this context see para 877 note 7 ante. A child is to be regarded as living with a person if he stays with that person for a continuous period of more than 24 hours: Children Act 1989 s 23(5A) (added by the Courts and Legal Services Act 1990 s 116, Sch 16 para 12). Where a child is allowed by the local authority to live with relatives, the authority is making 'arrangements to enable' the child to live with a relative under the Children Act 1989 s 23(6)(b) (see para 869 ante) and not placing him with a relative under s 23(2) (see para 877 ante): Kirklees Metropolitan Borough Council v London Borough of Brent [2004] 2 FLR 800.

5 As to the meaning of 'parent' see para 248 note 1 ante.

6 As to the meaning of 'family' see para 853 note 5 ante.

7 Children Act 1989 s 23(5). As to the Secretary of State and the Welsh Ministers see para 155 ante.

Although the Children Act 1989 is based on the partnership principle (see para 853 ante) and provides that a local authority must make arrangements for a child whom it is looking after (see s 22(1) (as amended); and para 867 ante) to enable him to live with a member of his family unless that would not be reasonably practicable or consistent with his welfare (see s 23(4), (6); and para 869 ante), a care order will only have been made if a court has been satisfied that the child is suffering or is likely to suffer significant harm which is attributable to the care given or likely to be given to him not being what it would be reasonable to expect a parent to give or to the child's being beyond parental control (see s 31(2); and para 274 ante). In these circumstances it is important to be especially careful when such children are placed with their parents: see the Department of Health publication The Children Act 1989: Guidance and Regulations Volume 3 Family Placements (HMSO, 1991) para 5.1. As to the guidance and regulations generally see para 163 ante.

8 See the Placement of Children with Parents etc Regulations 1991, SI 1991/893 (as amended). As to care orders see paras 276-280 ante.

If it is decided that the best interests of a child who is the subject of a care order would be met by a placement with the parent, the local authority should look again at why it is considered that the care order is still required. It may be that an arrangement can be negotiated between the parent and the local authority that would enable the authority to agree that application to discharge the care order would be appropriate; and if the care order were discharged, the rules laid down by the regulations would no longer apply: see the Department of Health publication The Children Act 1989: Guidance and Regulations Volume 3 Family Placements (HMSO, 1991) para 5.2. Placement with a parent is part of the progress towards discharge of the care order; the management of the placement should aim to enhance the parent's role and support the family relationship with that aim in mind: para 5.3.

10 Ie pursuant to the Children Act 1989 s 23(5): see para 869 ante.

11 Placement of Children with Parents etc Regulations 1991, SI 1991/893, reg 1(2). The expressions 'place' and 'placed' are to be construed accordingly; and 'placed with' a person means being allowed to live with that person pursuant to the Children Act 1989 s 23(5) (see para 869 ante): Placement of Children with Parents etc Regulations 1991, SI 1991/893, reg 1(2). As to residence orders see para 262 ante. As to references to a person in whose favour a residence order is in force see para 869 note 11 ante.

It follows that the regulations cover a wide variety of circumstances, eg they apply to a young person who has previously been in long term residential or foster care or to a child who has spent a very short time away from home before such placement; but they will equally apply to a child who has remained at home pending court proceedings and remains there after the granting of a care order: see the Department of Health publication The Children Act 1989: Guidance and Regulations Volume 3 Family Placements (HMSO, 1991) para 5.10.

12 'Placement decision' means a decision to place a child which is made in accordance with the Placement of Children with Parents etc Regulations 1991, SI 1991/893, reg 5(2) (see para 892 post): reg 1(2).

13 Ibid reg 2(4). Whether a short absence from home is relevant involves questions of fact and law: see the Department of Health publication The Children Act 1989: Guidance and Regulations Volume 3 Family Placements (HMSO, 1991) para 5.10.

14 Placement of Children with Parents etc Regulations 1991, SI 1991/893, reg 2(3). As to the placement of children for adoption see generally para 331 et seq ante.

15 Ie the Children Act 1989 s 34: see paras 278-279 ante.

16 Placement of Children with Parents etc Regulations 1991, SI 1991/893, reg 2(5). Nor do the regulations apply to a case where the court has made a direction taking effect under the Children Act 1989 s 108(6), Sch 14 para 16(5) (amended by the Courts and Legal Services Act 1990, s 116, Sch 16, para 33, and Children Act 1989 (Commencement and Transitional Provisions) Order 1991, SI 1991/828, art 4, Schedule, para 2) (transitional provisions): Placement of Children with Parents etc Regulations 1991, SI 1991/893, reg 2(5).

17 Ibid reg 2(2). The regulations which do not apply are regs 3, 6-9, 12: see paras 892-897 post. However, the Department of Health publication The Children Act 1989: Guidance and Regulations Volume 3 Family Placements (HMSO, 1991) para 5.9 states that local authorities will wish to consider how far to apply the principles of these regulations in their arrangements for children over 16, depending on the maturity of the child and the individual circumstances.

Pre-placement inquiries and assessment.

891. Pre-placement inquiries and assessment.

Before a placement decision<sup>1</sup>, a local authority<sup>2</sup> must normally<sup>3</sup> carry out certain procedures; and thereafter a placement decision may be made and the child placed pursuant to that decision<sup>4</sup>. The authority must make all necessary inquiries<sup>5</sup> in respect of:

- 1725 (1) the health of the child<sup>6</sup>;
- 1726 (2) the suitability of the person with whom it is proposed that the child be placed<sup>7</sup>;
- 1727 (3) the suitability of the proposed accommodation, including the proposed sleeping arrangements<sup>8</sup>;
- 1728 (4) the educational and social needs of the child<sup>9</sup>; and
- 1729 (5) the suitability of all other members of the household, aged 16 and over, in which it is proposed the child will live<sup>10</sup>.

In considering the suitability of the person with whom the child is to be placed as required by head (2) or head (5) above, the local authority, so far as practicable, must have regard to<sup>11</sup>:

- 1730 (a) the age of the person<sup>12</sup>;
- 1731 (b) his health<sup>13</sup>;
- 1732 (c) his personality<sup>14</sup>;
- 1733 (d) his marital status and particulars of any previous marriage<sup>15</sup>;
- 1734 (e) his experience of looking after children and his capacity to look after children and to care for the child<sup>16</sup>;
- 1735 (f) the result of any application by him to have a child placed with him or to adopt a child or any application for registration for child minding or day care, and details of any prohibition on his acting as a child minder, providing day care, or caring for foster children privately or caring for children in a voluntary or registered children's home<sup>17</sup>;
- 1736 (g) details of children in his household, living there or not<sup>18</sup>;
- 1737 (h) religious persuasion and degree of observance, racial origin and cultural and linguistic background<sup>19</sup>;
- 1738 (i) past and present employment and leisure activities and interests<sup>20</sup>;
- 1739 (j) details of the living standards and accommodation of his household<sup>21</sup>;
- 1740 (k) details of any criminal offences of which he has been convicted, or in respect of which he has been cautioned by a constable and which, at the time the caution was given, he admitted<sup>22</sup>.

In respect of the members of the person's household aged 16 and over, the local authority, so far as practicable, must take account of the particulars specified in heads (a) to (d), (f), (i) and (k) above<sup>23</sup>.

Duty in relation to placements; placement decisions.

892. Duty in relation to placements; placement decisions.

The local authority<sup>1</sup> must satisfy itself that the placement<sup>2</sup> of a child<sup>3</sup> is the most suitable way of performing its duty to safeguard and promote the child's welfare<sup>4</sup> and that the placement is the most suitable having regard to all the circumstances<sup>5</sup>. A placement can only be made after a 'placement decision'<sup>6</sup> has been made<sup>7</sup>; and the decision to place a child must be made on behalf of the local authority either by the Director of Social Services<sup>8</sup> or by an officer of the local authority nominated in writing for that purpose by the Director<sup>9</sup>.

The inquiries to be carried out will involve extensive consultation; in particular, in cases of child protection, the views of a child abuse case conference will normally be expected to comment on a proposal to place a child under the regulations, and to make a recommendation: see the Department of Health publication The Children Act 1989: Guidance and Regulations Volume 3 Family Placements (HMSO, 1991) para 5.34. Where the Director designates another officer, the nomination should reflect the serious nature of the decision and this nomination should rest at third tier level, i.e. assistant chief officer, area director or area manager or an equivalent senior level; nominees will need a good knowledge of child care practice in order to provide a considered opinion: see the Department of Health publication The Children Act 1989: Guidance and Regulations Volume 3 Family Placements (HMSO, 1991) para 5.40.

Halsbury's Laws of England/CHILDREN AND YOUNG PERSONS (VOLUME 5(3) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 1-742; VOLUME 5(4) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 743-1433)/11. SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(4) PLACEMENTS BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES AND OTHERS/(iii) Particular Kinds of Arrangements for Children/A. PLACEMENT OF CHILD IN CARE WITH PARENTS ETC/893. Immediate placements.

893. Immediate placements.

The general requirement to carry out inquiries prior to a placement<sup>1</sup> does not prevent the immediate placement of a child<sup>2</sup> pursuant to a placement decision<sup>3</sup> in circumstances in which the local authority<sup>4</sup> considers that to be necessary and in accordance with its duty to safeguard and promote the child's welfare<sup>5</sup>. In such a case, however, the authority must take steps to ensure that the provisions of the regulations that would otherwise have to be complied with before the placement decision is made are complied with as soon as practicable thereafter<sup>6</sup>.

Before an immediate placement can be made under this exception, a local authority must arrange for the person with whom the child is to be placed to be interviewed in order to obtain as much of the information normally required<sup>7</sup> as can be readily ascertained at the interview, and arrange to obtain as much of the information normally required in relation to other members of the household aged 16 and over<sup>8</sup> as can be readily ascertained at the time of that interview<sup>9</sup>.

894. Provisions of agreements.

Once a placement decision<sup>1</sup> has been taken, the local authority<sup>2</sup> must seek to reach agreement with the person with whom the child<sup>3</sup> is to be placed on specified particulars, so far as is practicable<sup>4</sup>. The placement<sup>5</sup> must not be put into effect unless and until such an agreement on all the particulars has been reached and recorded in writing and a copy given or sent to the person with whom the child is to be placed<sup>6</sup>.

The particulars with regard to which there must be agreement are as follows:

- 1741 (1) the authority's plans for the child and the objectives of the placement<sup>7</sup>;
- 1742 (2) arrangements for support of the placement<sup>8</sup>;
- 1743 (3) arrangements for visiting the child in connection with the supervision of the placement by the person authorised by or on behalf of the local authority or area authority<sup>9</sup>, and the frequency of visits and reviews of the child's case under regulations<sup>10</sup>;
- 1744 (4) arrangements for contact, if any, including prohibition of contact<sup>11</sup>;
- 1745 (5) the removal of the child from the placement<sup>12</sup>;
- 1746 (6) the need to notify the local authority of relevant changes in the circumstances of the person with whom the child is placed, including any intention to change address, changes in the household, and any serious occurrence involving the child such as injury or death<sup>13</sup>;
- 1747 (7) the provision of a statement concerning the child's health, the need for health care and surveillance, and the child's educational needs and the local authority's arrangements to provide for all such needs<sup>14</sup>;
- 1748 (8) any arrangements for any delegation and exercise of responsibility for consent to medical examination or treatment<sup>15</sup>;
- 1749 (9) the need to ensure that any information relating to any child or his family or any other person given in confidence to the person with whom the child is placed in connection with the placement is kept confidential and that such information is not disclosed to any person without the consent of the local authority<sup>16</sup>;
- 1750 (10) the circumstances in which it is necessary to obtain in advance the approval of the local authority for the child's living, even temporarily, in a household other than the household of the person with whom the child has been placed<sup>17</sup>;
- 1751 (11) the arrangements for requesting a change in the agreement<sup>18</sup>.

Notification of placements.

895. Notification of placements.

A local authority<sup>1</sup>, so far as practicable, must notify certain persons of a placement decision<sup>2</sup> and details of where the child<sup>3</sup> in question is to be placed<sup>4</sup>. Notice must be given to all the persons whose wishes and feelings have been sought in relation to the decision to place the child<sup>5</sup> and to the following<sup>6</sup>:

- 1752 (1) the primary care trust or the health authority<sup>7</sup> for the area in which the child is living and, if different, for the area in which the child is to be placed<sup>8</sup> (or, in respect of Wales, the health authority for the area in which the child is living)<sup>9</sup>;
- 1753 (2) the local education authority for the area in which the child is living<sup>10</sup> (and, in respect of England, if it is different, for the area in which the child is to be placed)<sup>11</sup>;
- 1754 (3) the child's registered medical practitioner<sup>12</sup> (and, in respect of England, where applicable, any registered medical practitioner with whom the child is to be registered following the placement)<sup>13</sup>;
- 1755 (4) the area authority<sup>14</sup>;
- 1756 (5) any person, not being an officer of a local authority, who has been caring for the child immediately before the placement<sup>15</sup>;
- 1757 (6) where there was a residence order<sup>16</sup> in force in respect of the child immediately before the care order<sup>17</sup> was made, the person in whose favour<sup>18</sup> the residence order was made<sup>19</sup>.

A local authority is not required to give notice in the case of a person whose whereabouts are unknown to the authority, or cannot be readily ascertained, or in any case where the authority determines that to give such notice would not be in accordance with its duty<sup>20</sup> to safeguard and promote the child's welfare<sup>21</sup>.

Support and supervision of placements.

896. Support and supervision of placements.

A local authority<sup>1</sup> must satisfy itself that the welfare of each child<sup>2</sup> who has been placed by it continues to be appropriately provided for by his placement<sup>3</sup> and for that purpose the authority must give such advice and assistance to the person with whom the child is placed as appears to the authority to be necessary<sup>4</sup>. The authority must make arrangements for a person authorised by it to visit the child from time to time as necessary, but in any event<sup>5</sup>:

- 1758 (1) within one week of the beginning of the placement<sup>6</sup>;
- 1759 (2) at intervals of not more than six weeks during the first year of the placement<sup>7</sup>;
- 1760 (3) thereafter at intervals of not more than three months and also whenever reasonably requested by the child or the person with whom the child is placed<sup>8</sup>.

The persons so authorised should make arrangements, so far as practicable, on each visit to see the child alone<sup>9</sup>. On each occasion on which the child is visited in pursuance of these requirements by any person authorised by the local authority which placed the child, the local authority must cause a written report on the child to be prepared by the visitor<sup>10</sup>.

SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(4) PLACEMENTS BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES AND OTHERS/(iii) Particular Kinds of Arrangements for Children/A. PLACEMENT OF CHILD IN CARE WITH PARENTS ETC/897. Termination of placements.

897. Termination of placements.

If it appears to a local authority<sup>1</sup> that a placement<sup>2</sup> made by it is no longer in accordance with its duty to safeguard and promote the welfare of the child<sup>3</sup> or that the placement would prejudice the safety of the child, it must terminate the placement and remove the child forthwith from the person with whom he is placed<sup>4</sup>. Where a child has been placed by one local authority within the area of another local authority and it appears to the area authority<sup>5</sup> that it would be detrimental to the welfare of the child if he continued to be so placed, the area authority may remove him forthwith from the person with whom he is placed<sup>6</sup>. Where such removal takes place, the area authority must forthwith notify the other authority of the removal, and the latter must make other arrangements for the care of the child as soon as is practicable<sup>7</sup>.

So far as is reasonably practicable, a local authority must give notice in writing of any decision to terminate the placement, before it is terminated, to:

- 1761 (1) the child, having regard to his age and understanding;
- 1762 (2) the other persons whose wishes and feelings have been sought in relation to the decision to terminate the placement<sup>8</sup>;
- 1763 (3) the person with whom the child is placed; and
- 1764 (4) the other persons required to be notified of the placement<sup>9</sup>.

The authority must also give notice in writing of the termination of the placement to all those persons other than the child and the person with whom the child was placed<sup>10</sup>.

Short term placements.

898. Short term placements.

A series of short term, pre-planned placements<sup>1</sup> with the same person, for example for regular staying contact, or to allow the carer or the child<sup>2</sup> to have a break, may be treated as a single placement<sup>3</sup>, if:

- 1765 (1) no single placement is for the duration of more than four weeks; and
- 1766 (2) the total duration of the placements does not exceed 120 days in any period of 12 months<sup>4</sup>.

In such cases, the visits are modified so that a visit may be made on a day when the child is in fact placed ('a placement day') within the first seven placement days of a series of short term placements, and thereafter, if the series of short term placements continues, on placement days falling at intervals of not more than six months or, if the interval between placements exceeds six months, during the next placement<sup>5</sup>.

A local authority<sup>1</sup> may arrange for, or assist in arranging for, any child<sup>2</sup> in its care<sup>3</sup> to live outside England and Wales only with the approval of the court<sup>4</sup>. If a local authority does make arrangements to place a child outside England and Wales in accordance with the statutory provisions<sup>5</sup>, it must take steps to ensure that, so far as is reasonably practicable, requirements corresponding with the requirements of the Placement of Children with Parents etc Regulations 1991<sup>6</sup> are complied with in relation to that child as would be required to be complied with if the child were placed in England and Wales<sup>7</sup>. Where the child is moving to another jurisdiction within the British Islands<sup>8</sup> the effect of the care order<sup>9</sup> may be transferred to the relevant public authority<sup>10</sup>.

SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(4) PLACEMENTS BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES AND OTHERS/(iii) Particular Kinds of Arrangements for Children/B. FOSTERING/900. Introduction.

B. FOSTERING

900. Introduction.

A local authority<sup>1</sup> carrying out its duty to provide accommodation and maintenance for a child<sup>2</sup> whom it is looking after may do so by placing him with a family, a relative of his, or any other suitable person<sup>3</sup>. Any person with whom a child has been so placed is described as a 'local authority foster parent' unless he is a parent<sup>4</sup> of the child, a person who is not a parent of the child but who has parental responsibility<sup>5</sup> for the child, or a person in whose favour a residence order was in force<sup>6</sup> immediately before a care order relating to the child was made<sup>7</sup>. The local authority's power to place a child with a family, relative or other suitable person is subject to regulations made by the Secretary of State or the Welsh Ministers<sup>8</sup>. Regulations have accordingly been made to govern the placement<sup>9</sup> of children with local authority foster parents<sup>10</sup>. The regulations provide for a regulatory framework for fostering services<sup>11</sup> and the process by which foster parents<sup>12</sup> are approved by fostering service providers<sup>13</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'local authority' see para 248 note 10 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'child' see para 3 ante.

3 Children Act 1989 s 23(2)(a). See further para 877 ante. A voluntary organisation has similar power in relation to children accommodated by it: see s 59(1)(a) (as amended); and para 975 post. For the meaning of 'voluntary organisation' see para 248 note 10 ante.

4 As to the meaning of 'parent' see para 248 note 1 ante.

5 For the meaning of 'parental responsibility' see para 134 ante.

6 As to references to a person in whose favour a residence order is in force see para 869 note 11 ante. As to residence orders see para 262 ante.

7 Children Act 1989 ss 23(3), (4), 105(1). As to care orders see paras 276-280 ante. As to the local authority's duty see also S v Gloucestershire County Council, L v Tower Hamlets London Borough Council [2001] Fam 313, [2000] 3 All ER 346, [2000] 2 FCR 345, CA; and para 851 ante. It is arguable that a local authority owes a duty of care, in relation to shock in the sense of psychiatric damage, to a foster parent: W v Essex County Council [2001] 2 AC 592, [2000] 1 FCR 568, HL.

8 See the Children Act 1989 s 23(2), (5). See also s 59(2), (3); and para 975 post. As to the Secretary of State and the Welsh Ministers see para 155 ante.

9 For these purposes, 'placement' means any placement of a child made by:

681 (1) a local authority under the Children Act 1989 s 23(2)(a) (see the text and notes 1-3 supra) or a voluntary organisation under s 59(1)(a) (see para 975 head(1) post) which is not a placement with a person who falls within s 23(4) (see the text and notes 4-7 supra) or a placement for adoption; and

682 (2) except in the Fostering Services Regulations 2002, SI 2002/57, Pt V (regs 33-40) or, as the case may be, the Fostering Services (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/237, Pt V (regs 33-40), includes a placement arranged by an independent fostering agency acting on behalf of a local authority, and references to a child who is placed are to be construed accordingly: Fostering Services Regulations 2002, SI 2002/57, reg 2(1); Fostering Services (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/237, reg 2(1). As to adoption see para 323 et seq ante.

The registered person in respect of an independent fostering agency must ensure that: (a) the welfare of children placed or to be placed with foster parents is safeguarded and promoted at all times; and (b) before making any decision affecting a child placed or to be placed with foster parents due consideration is given to the child's wishes and feelings in the light of his age and understanding and his religious persuasion, racial origin and cultural and linguistic background: Fostering Services Regulations 2002, SI 2002/57, reg 11; Fostering Services (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/237, reg 11.

'Registered person', in relation to a fostering agency, means a person who is the registered provider or the registered manager of the fostering agency: Fostering Services Regulations 2002, SI 2002/57, reg 2(1); Fostering Services (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/237, reg 2(1). Where there is more than one registered person in respect of a fostering agency, anything done which is required under the relevant regulations to be done by the registered person, if done by one the registered persons, will not be required to be done by any of the other registered persons: see the Fostering Services Regulations 2002, SI 2002/57, reg 49; and the Fostering Services (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/237, reg 49. 'Registered manager', in relation to a fostering agency, means any person who is registered under the Care Standards Act 2000 Pt II (ss 11-42) (as amended) (see paras 985-986 post) as the registered manager of the fostering agency: Fostering Services Regulations 2002, SI 2002/57, reg 2(1); Fostering Services (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/237, reg 2(1). The 'registered provider', in relation to a fostering agency, means a person who is registered under the Care Standards Act 2000 Pt II (as amended) as the person carrying on a fostering agency: Fostering Services Regulations 2002, SI 2002/57, reg 2(1); Fostering Services (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/237, reg 2(1).

General duty of responsible authority.

903. General duty of responsible authority.

A responsible authority<sup>1</sup> must not place a child<sup>2</sup> with a foster parent<sup>3</sup> unless satisfied that:

- 1790 (1) it is the most suitable way of performing its duty to safeguard and promote the child's welfare and to make such use of services available for children cared for by their own parents as appears to the authority reasonable in his case<sup>4</sup>; and 1791 (2) placement with the particular foster parent is the most suitable placement having regard to all the circumstances<sup>5</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'responsible authority' see para 902 note 2 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'child' see para 3 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'foster parent' see para 900 note 12 ante.

SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(4) PLACEMENTS BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES AND OTHERS/(iii) Particular Kinds of Arrangements for Children/B. FOSTERING/904. Fostering agencies.

904. Fostering agencies.

A person must not carry on a fostering agency unless he is fit to do so<sup>1</sup>. A person is not fit to carry on a fostering agency in England unless the person:

- 1792 (1) in the case of an independent fostering agency<sup>2</sup>, is an individual who carries on the fostering agency otherwise than in partnership with others where he satisfies the necessary requirements, or who carries on the fostering agency in partnership with others where he and each of his partners satisfies the necessary requirements<sup>3</sup>;
- 1793 (2) is a partnership, and each of the partners satisfies the necessary requirements<sup>4</sup>;
- 1794 (3) is an organisation, and the organisation has given notice of the name, address and position in the organisation of an individual who is a director, manager, secretary or other officer of the organisation and is responsible for supervising the management of the fostering agency and that individual satisfies the necessary requirements<sup>5</sup>.

A person is not fit to carry on a fostering agency in Wales unless the person:

- 1795 (a) in the case of an independent fostering agency, is an individual who carries on the fostering agency<sup>6</sup>; or
- 1796 (b) is an organisation, and the organisation has given notice of the name, address and position in the organisation of an individual who is a director, manager, secretary or other officer of the organisation and is responsible for supervising the management of the fostering agency and the individual satisfies the necessary requirements<sup>7</sup>.

The necessary requirements are that the person is of integrity and good character, that he is physically and mentally fit to carry on the fostering agency, and that full and satisfactory information is available in relation to him in respect of specified matters<sup>8</sup>.

A person must not carry on a fostering agency if he has been adjudged bankrupt or sequestration of his estate has been awarded and (in either case) he has not been discharged and the bankruptcy order has not been annulled or rescinded, or if he has made a composition or arrangement with his creditors and has not been discharged in respect of it<sup>9</sup>.

The registered provider<sup>10</sup> must appoint an individual to manage the fostering agency<sup>11</sup>. The registered provider and the manager must, having regard to the size of the fostering agency, its statement of purpose<sup>12</sup>, the numbers and needs of the children placed by it, and the need to safeguard and promote the welfare of the children placed by the fostering agency, carry on or manage the fostering agency (as the case may be) with sufficient care, competence and skill<sup>13</sup>. The registered provider must carry on the fostering agency in such a manner as is likely to ensure that it will be financially viable for the purpose of achieving the aims and objectives set out in its statement of purpose<sup>14</sup>.

In England, the registered person<sup>15</sup> is responsible for establishing and maintaining a system for monitoring and improving the quality of care provided by the fostering agency<sup>16</sup>. In Wales, the fostering service provider is responsible for establishing and maintaining a system for monitoring, reviewing and improving the quality of care given by the independent fostering agency<sup>17</sup>.

If, in relation to a fostering agency, certain events occur the registered person must without delay notify the relevant persons<sup>18</sup>.

SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(4) PLACEMENTS BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES AND OTHERS/(iii) Particular Kinds of Arrangements for Children/B. FOSTERING/906. Assessment of prospective foster parents.

906. Assessment of prospective foster parents.

The fostering service provider<sup>1</sup> must carry out an assessment of any person whom it considers may be suitable to become a foster parent<sup>2</sup> in accordance with the following provisions<sup>3</sup>. If the fostering service provider considers that a person may be suitable to act as a foster parent it must:

- 1804 (1) obtain specified information<sup>4</sup> relating to the prospective foster parent and other members of his household and family, and any other information it considers relevant<sup>5</sup>;
- 1805 (2) interview at least two persons nominated by the prospective foster parent to provide personal references for him and prepare written reports of the interviews<sup>6</sup>;
- 1806 (3) consult with, and take into account the views of, the local authority in whose area the prospective foster parent lives<sup>7</sup>;
- 1807 (4) having regard to these matters consider whether the prospective foster parent is suitable to act as a foster parent and whether his household is suitable for any child in respect of whom approval may be given<sup>8</sup>;
- 1808 (5) prepare a written report on him which includes certain matters<sup>9</sup>; and
- 1809 (6) refer the report to the fostering panel and notify the prospective foster parent accordingly<sup>10</sup>.

A person must not be regarded as suitable to act as a foster parent if he or any member of his household aged 18 or over has been convicted of a specified offence<sup>11</sup> committed at the age of 18 or over<sup>12</sup> or has been cautioned by a constable in respect of any such offence which, at the time the caution was given, he admitted<sup>13</sup>. However, the fostering service provider may regard such a person<sup>14</sup> as suitable to act or to continue to act, as the case may be, as a foster parent in relation to a particular named child or children if the fostering service provider is satisfied that the welfare of that child or those children requires it, and either the person, or a member of his household, is a relative of the child or the person is already acting as a foster parent for the child<sup>15</sup>.

907. Approval of foster parents.

A fostering service provider<sup>1</sup> must not approve a person who has been approved as a foster parent<sup>2</sup> by another fostering service provider and whose approval has not been terminated<sup>3</sup>. Nor may a fostering service provider approve a person as a foster parent unless it has completed its assessment of his suitability<sup>4</sup> and its fostering panel<sup>5</sup> has considered the application<sup>6</sup>.

In deciding whether to approve a person as a foster parent and as to the terms of any approval, a fostering service provider must take into account the recommendation of its fostering panel<sup>7</sup>.

If a fostering service provider decides to approve a person as a foster parent it must give him notice in writing specifying the terms of the approval, for example, whether it is in respect of a particular named child or children, or number and age range of children, or of placements of any particular kind, or in any particular circumstances<sup>8</sup>. It must also enter into a foster care agreement with the person<sup>9</sup>.

If a fostering service provider considers that a person is not suitable to act as a foster parent it must give him written notice that it proposes not to approve him, together with its reasons and a copy of the fostering panel's recommendation, and invite him to submit any written representations within 28 days of the date of the notice<sup>10</sup>.

SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(4) PLACEMENTS BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES AND OTHERS/(iii) Particular Kinds of Arrangements for Children/B. FOSTERING/908. Reviews and termination of approval.

908. Reviews and termination of approval.

The fostering service provider<sup>1</sup> must review the approval of each foster parent<sup>2</sup> in accordance with the following provisions<sup>3</sup>. A review must take place not more than a year after approval, and thereafter whenever the fostering service provider considers it necessary, but at intervals of not more than a year<sup>4</sup>. When undertaking a review, the fostering service provider must make such enquiries and obtain such information as it considers necessary in order to review whether the person continues to be suitable as to act as a foster parent and his household continues to be suitable<sup>5</sup>. It must also seek and take into account the views of the foster parent, any child placed with the foster parent (subject to the child's age and understanding) and any responsible authority which has within the preceding year placed a child with the foster parent<sup>6</sup>. At the conclusion of the review the fostering service provider must prepare a written report, setting out whether the person continues to be suitable to act as a foster parent, his household continues to be suitable and the terms of his approval continue to be appropriate<sup>7</sup>. The fostering service provider must on the occasion of the first review, and may on any subsequent review, refer its report to the fostering panel<sup>8</sup> for consideration<sup>9</sup>.

If the fostering service provider decides, taking into account any recommendation made by the fostering panel, that the foster parent and his household continue to be suitable and that the terms of his approval continue to be appropriate, it must give written notice to the foster parent of its decision<sup>10</sup>. If, taking into account any recommendation made by the fostering panel, the fostering service provider is no longer satisfied that the foster parent and his household continue to be suitable, or that the terms of the approval are appropriate, it must give written notice to the foster parent that it proposes to terminate, or revise the terms of, his approval as the case may be, together with its reasons, and invite him to submit any written representations within 28 days of the date of the notice<sup>11</sup>.

A foster parent may give notice in writing to the fostering service provider at any time that he no longer wishes to act as a foster parent, and his approval is terminated with effect from 28 days from the date on which the notice is received by the fostering service provider<sup>12</sup>.

910. Foster placement agreements.

Before making a placement<sup>1</sup>, the responsible authority<sup>2</sup> and the foster parent<sup>3</sup> must enter into a written agreement (a 'foster placement agreement')<sup>4</sup> relating to that child<sup>5</sup> covering the following matters<sup>6</sup>:

- 1825 (1) a statement by the responsible authority containing all the information which the authority considers necessary to enable the foster parent to care for the child and, in particular, information as to:
- .33
- 38. (a) the authority's arrangements for the child and the objectives of the placement in the context of its plan for the child;
- 39. (b) the child's personal history, religious persuasion and cultural and linguistic background and racial origin;
- 40. (c) the child's state of health and identified health care needs;
- 41. (d) the safety needs of the child, including any need for any special equipment or adaptation;
- 42. (e) the child's educational needs; and
- 43. (f) any needs arising from any disability the child may have<sup>7</sup>;
- .34
- 1826 (2) the responsible authority's arrangements for the financial support of the child during the placement<sup>8</sup>;
- 1827 (3) any arrangements for the giving of consent to the medical or dental examination or treatment of the child<sup>9</sup>;
- 1828 (4) the circumstances in which it is necessary to obtain in advance the approval of the responsible authority for the child to take part in school trips or to stay overnight away from the foster parent's home<sup>10</sup>;
- 1829 (5) the arrangements for visits to the child, in connection with the supervision of the placement, and the frequency of visits and reviews<sup>11</sup>;
- 1830 (6) the arrangements for the child to have contact with his parents and other persons<sup>12</sup>;
- 1831 (7) compliance by the foster parent with the terms of the foster care agreement<sup>13</sup>;
- 1832 (8) co-operation by the foster parent with any arrangements made by the responsible authority for the child<sup>14</sup>.

5 For the meaning of 'child' see para 3 ante.

6 See the Fostering Services Regulations 2002, SI 2002/57, reg 34(3); and para 902 ante. There is a need for communication of essential information if there is to be an effective partnership between parents, authorities and foster parents. In particular, foster parents need to have a full understanding of the background and history of children on whose behalf they are undertaking an exacting and responsible role and who will need their help in coping with living away from home. The foster parent will generally need to know the circumstances leading to the child's being looked after or the child's admission to care and the child's previous experiences. The social worker should discuss with the parents and any previous carers and with children according to their understanding the information which is to be given to a foster parent and why. Where there is a special reason for withholding significant information, the reason should be recorded in the child's case record: see the Department of Health publication The Children Act 1989: Guidance and Regulations Volume 3 Family Placements (HMSO, 1991) paras 4.12-4.15.

911. Emergency placements.

Where arrangements have been made for the placement of a child<sup>1</sup> in an emergency, a local authority<sup>2</sup> may place a child for a period not exceeding 24 hours with any foster parent approved by the local authority or any other fostering service provider<sup>3</sup>. Before an emergency placement is made, the authority must satisfy itself that it is the most suitable way of performing its duty to safeguard and promote the child's welfare<sup>4</sup>, and it must obtain a written agreement from the person with whom the child is to be placed that he will carry out specified duties<sup>5</sup>. The duties in question are:

- 1833 (1) to care for the child as if he were a member of that person's family<sup>6</sup>;
- 1834 (2) to permit any person authorised by the local authority or, if different, the area authority<sup>7</sup>, to visit the child at any time<sup>8</sup>;
- 1835 (3) to allow the child to be removed at any time by the local authority or, as the case may be, the area authority, when the provisions relating to the termination of placements<sup>9</sup> apply<sup>10</sup>;
- 1836 (4) to ensure that any information which that person may acquire relating to the child, or to his family or any other person, which has been given in confidence in connection with the placement is kept confidential and is not disclosed except to, or with the agreement of, the local authority<sup>11</sup>; and
- 1837 (5) to allow contact with the child in accordance with the terms of any court order relating to contact or any arrangements made or agreed by the local authority<sup>12</sup>.

Where a local authority makes such a placement outside its area it must notify the area authority<sup>13</sup>.

SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(4) PLACEMENTS BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES AND OTHERS/(iii) Particular Kinds of Arrangements for Children/B. FOSTERING/912. Immediate placements.

912. Immediate placements.

An immediate placement of a child<sup>1</sup> with a person who has not been approved as a foster parent<sup>2</sup> may be made for a period not exceeding six weeks if the local authority<sup>3</sup> is satisfied that an immediate placement is necessary, provided that the local authority has interviewed the person concerned, inspected the accommodation, obtained information about other persons living in the household, and satisfied itself that:

- 1838 (1) the person is a relative<sup>4</sup> or friend of the child;
- 1839 (2) the person has made a written agreement with the local authority to carry out specified duties; and
- 1840 (3) the immediate placement is the most suitable way of performing the authority's duty to safeguard and promote the welfare of the child<sup>5</sup>.

The duties in question are:

- 1841 (a) to care for the child as if he were a member of that person's family<sup>6</sup>;
- 1842 (b) to permit any person authorised by the local authority or, if different, the area authority<sup>7</sup>, to visit the child at any time<sup>8</sup>;
- 1843 (c) to allow the child to be removed at any time by the local authority or, as the case may be, the area authority, when the provisions relating to the termination of placements<sup>9</sup> apply<sup>10</sup>;
- 1844 (d) to ensure that any information which that person may acquire relating to the child, or to his family or any other person, which has been given in confidence in connection with the placement is kept confidential and is not disclosed except to, or with the agreement of, the local authority<sup>11</sup>; and
- 1845 (e) to allow contact with the child in accordance with the terms of any court order relating to contact or any arrangements made or agreed by the local authority<sup>12</sup>.

Where a local authority makes such a placement outside its area it must notify the area authority<sup>13</sup>.

3 This provision does not extend to voluntary organisations: see the Department of Health publication The Children Act 1989: Guidance and Regulations Volume 3 Family Placements (HMSO, 1991) para 4.24. As to the requirement for the authority to be satisfied that the placement is the most suitable way of performing its duty to safeguard and promote the welfare of the child see para 903 ante.

These powers are intended to be used exceptionally in unforeseen circumstances and not for an admission to care for which contingency plans could have been made: see the Department of Health publication The Children Act 1989: Guidance and Regulations Volume 3 Family Placements (HMSO, 1991) para 4.26. Moreover, the authority should in practice make the fullest inquiry possible in the circumstances, including where possible checks with the local police, to satisfy itself that nothing is known to suggest that the relative or friend is not a suitable person to be entrusted with the child; where possible, the parent's views or those of other relatives should be sought: see para 4.25. Specific provision is made by regulations<sup>1</sup> to cover the position where a responsible authority<sup>2</sup> has arranged to place a child<sup>3</sup> in a series of short term placements with the same foster parent<sup>4</sup> and the arrangement is such that no single placement is to last for more than four weeks and the total duration of the placements is not to exceed 120 days in any period of 12 months<sup>5</sup>. Such placements may be treated as a single placement<sup>6</sup>, with modification of the provisions relating to the timing of visits<sup>7</sup>.

SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(4) PLACEMENTS BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES AND OTHERS/(iii) Particular Kinds of Arrangements for Children/B. FOSTERING/914. Supervision of placement.

914. Supervision of placement.

A responsible authority<sup>1</sup> must satisfy itself that the welfare of each child<sup>2</sup> placed by it continues to be suitably provided for by the placement<sup>3</sup>. For that purpose the authority must make arrangements for a person whom it has authorised to visit the child in the home in which he is placed, from time to time as circumstances may require<sup>4</sup>, and when reasonably requested by the child or the foster parent<sup>5</sup>, and in particular in the first year of the placement, within one week from its beginning and then at intervals of not more than six weeks, and subsequently at intervals of not more than three months<sup>6</sup>. In the case of an immediate placement<sup>7</sup>, the authority must arrange for the child to be visited at least once in each week during the placement<sup>8</sup>. On each occasion on which the child is visited, the authority must cause the authorised person, if considered appropriate, to arrange to see the child alone unless the child, being of sufficient age and understanding to do so, refuses<sup>9</sup> and on each occasion on which a child is visited the responsible authority must cause a written report to be prepared by the person who made the visit<sup>10</sup>.

The Department of Health publication The Children Act 1989: Guidance and Regulations Volume 3 Family Placements (HMSO, 1991) para 4.21 sets out the purposes which are served by visiting the child in a foster home. These include a measure of child protection, to talk to the child, to safeguard and reassure a child who may feel isolated and vulnerable who is away from family and friends. It is said that some visits should be unannounced in order to provide a balanced perspective of the quality of life in the foster home. Visits provide an opportunity to evaluate and monitor the achievement of goals, monitor the contact arrangements and give support to the foster parent. As to the guidance and regulations generally see para 163 ante.

SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(4) PLACEMENTS BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES AND OTHERS/(iii) Particular Kinds of Arrangements for Children/B. FOSTERING/915. Termination of placements.

915. Termination of placements.

A responsible authority<sup>1</sup> must not allow the placement of a child<sup>2</sup> with a particular person to continue if it appears to it that the placement is no longer the most suitable way of performing its duty<sup>4</sup> to safeguard and promote the child's welfare and to make such use of services available for children cared for by their own parents as appears to the authority reasonable in the case<sup>5</sup>. Where it appears to the area authority<sup>6</sup> that continuation of the placement will be detrimental to the welfare of the child, the area authority must remove the child forthwith<sup>7</sup>, and must forthwith notify the responsible authority<sup>8</sup>.

SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(4) PLACEMENTS BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES AND OTHERS/(iii) Particular Kinds of Arrangements for Children/B. FOSTERING/916. Arrangements between local authorities and voluntary organisations as to placements.

916. Arrangements between local authorities and voluntary organisations as to placements.

A local authority<sup>1</sup> may make arrangements for certain of its duties<sup>2</sup> to be discharged on its behalf by a registered person<sup>3</sup>. However, no arrangements may be made unless a local authority has entered into a written agreement with the registered person which sets out:

- 1846 (1) which of its duties the local authority proposes to delegate<sup>4</sup>;
- 1847 (2) the services to be provided to the local authority by the registered person<sup>5</sup>;
- 1848 (3) the arrangements for the selection by the local authority of particular foster parents from those approved by the registered person<sup>6</sup>;
- 1849 (4) a requirement for the registered person to submit reports to the local authority on any placement as may be required by the authority and, in particular, following any visit carried out under its duty to supervise placements<sup>7</sup>; and
- 1850 (5) the arrangements for the termination of the agreement<sup>8</sup>.

Where a local authority proposes to make an arrangement in respect of a particular child, the local authority must enter into an agreement with the registered person in respect of that child which sets out:

- 1851 (a) details of the particular foster parent with whom the child is to be placed<sup>9</sup>;
- 1852 (b) details of any services the child is to receive<sup>10</sup>;
- 1853 (c) the terms (including as to payment) of the proposed foster placement agreement<sup>11</sup>;
- 1854 (d) the arrangements for record keeping about the child and for the return of records at the end of the placement<sup>12</sup>;
- 1855 (e) a requirement for the registered person to notify the local authority immediately in the event of any concerns about the placement<sup>13</sup>; and
- 1856 (f) whether and on what basis other children may be placed with the foster parent<sup>14</sup>.

<sup>2</sup> ie its duties under the Fostering Services Regulations 2002, SI 2002/57, regs 34, 35, 36(1), 37, or as the case may be, the Fostering Services (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/237, regs 34, 35, 36(1), 37 (see paras 902, 913-915 ante).

<sup>3</sup> Fostering Services Regulations 2002, SI 2002/57, reg 40(1); Fostering Services (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/237, reg 40(1). For these purposes, 'registered person' means a person who is the registered person in respect of an independent fostering agency: Fostering Services Regulations 2002, SI 2002/57, reg 40(8); Fostering Services (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/237, reg 40(8). 'Independent fostering agency' means a fostering agency falling within the Care Standards Act 2000 s 4(4)(a) (discharging functions of local authorities in connection with placing of children with foster parents) (see para 985 post): Fostering Services Regulations 2002, SI 2002/57, reg 2(1); Fostering Services (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/237, reg 2(1). However, no such arrangements may be made in respect of a particular child, unless a local authority has performed its duties under the Fostering Services Regulations 2002, SI 2002/57, reg 33, or, as the case may be, the Fostering Services (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/237, reg 33 (see para 903 ante): Fostering Services Regulations 2002, SI 2002/57, reg 40(2); Fostering Services (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/237, reg 40(2). Where a local authority makes arrangements with a registered person for the registered person to provide foster parents for the purposes of a short term placement (see para 913 ante) the local authority may also make arrangements for the registered person to perform the local authority's duty under the Fostering Services Regulations 2002, SI 2002/57, reg 33(b) or, as the case may be, the Fostering Services (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/237, reg 33(b) in relation to that placement on its behalf: Fostering Services Regulations 2002, SI 2002/57, reg 40(3); Fostering Services (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/237, reg 40(3). A foster parent with whom a child is to be placed in accordance with these provisions is, in relation to that placement, to be treated as a foster parent for the purposes of the Fostering Services Regulations 2002, SI 2002/57, Sch 2 para 12(d) and, as the case may be, the Fostering Services (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/237, Sch 2 para 12(d) (see para 901 ante): Fostering Services Regulations 2002, SI 2002/57, reg 40(6); Fostering Services (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/237, reg 40(6).

917. Local authority visits to children placed by voluntary organisations.

A local authority<sup>1</sup> must arrange for every child<sup>2</sup> who is accommodated with a foster parent<sup>3</sup> in its area by a voluntary organisation to be visited by a person authorised by the local authority, as follows:

- 1857 (1) within 28 days of the placement<sup>4</sup>;
- 1858 (2) within 14 days of the receipt of a request from the voluntary organisation which made the placement<sup>5</sup>;
- 1859 (3) where the authority is informed that the welfare of the child is not being safeguarded or promoted, as soon as reasonably practicable<sup>6</sup>;
- 1860 (4) where the local authority is satisfied, following a visit under these provisions, that the child's welfare is being safeguarded and promoted, at intervals of not more than six months<sup>7</sup>.

The authority must ensure that the a person carrying out a visit in accordance with heads (1) to (4) above:

- 1861 (a) sees the child during the course of the visit or, if the child is not there, makes arrangements to see him as soon as reasonably practicable<sup>8</sup>; and
- 1862 (b) takes steps to discover whether the voluntary organisation has made suitable arrangements to perform its duties<sup>9</sup>.

918. Register of foster parents.

- 1863 (1) the name, address, date of birth and sex of the foster parent<sup>3</sup>;
- 1864 (2) the date of his approval and of each review of his approval<sup>4</sup>; and
- 1865 (3) the current terms of the notice of approval<sup>5</sup>.

A local authority fostering service must also enter the following particulars:

- 1866 (a) the name and address of each person with whom it has placed a child under immediate and emergency provisions<sup>6</sup>;
- 1867 (b) the date of the agreement entered into<sup>7</sup> in such a case<sup>8</sup>;
- 1868 (c) the terms of any such agreement currently in force<sup>9</sup>.

The register must be kept securely and may not be disclosed to any person except in accordance with any statutory provision under which such access is authorised or any court order authorising such access<sup>10</sup>.

A voluntary organisation<sup>1</sup>, acting on its own behalf or on behalf of a local authority, may not place a child<sup>2</sup> for whose placement it is responsible outside the British Islands<sup>3</sup>. Where a responsible authority in Wales makes arrangements to place a child outside Wales it must ensure that, so far as reasonably practicable, requirements are complied with in relation to the child which would have applied<sup>7</sup> if the child had been placed in Wales<sup>8</sup>.

'Appropriate minister' means: (1) in relation to England, the Secretary of State; (2) in relation to Wales, the Welsh Ministers; and (3) in relation to England and Wales, the Secretary of State and the Welsh Ministers acting jointly: see s 121(1). As to the standard scale see para 132 note 2 ante. Regulations may require a local authority to make to the registration authority an annual return containing such information with respect to the exercise by the local authority of relevant functions as may be prescribed: s 50(1). Provision may be made by the regulations as to the period in respect of which and date by which the return is to be made: s 50(2).

4 Ibid s 48(1)(a). Such regulations may, in particular, make provision for prohibiting persons from working for local authorities in such positions as may be prescribed unless they are registered in, or in a particular part of, one of the registers maintained under s 56(1) (see SOCIAL SERVICES AND COMMUNITY CARE): s 48(2). 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations: s 121(1). As to the regulations that have been made see the Fostering Services Regulations 2002, SI 2002/57 (as amended); the Fostering Services (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/237 (as amended); and para 900 et seq ante.

(5) ADVICE AND ASSISTANCE

(i) Advice and Assistance for Certain Children and Young Persons

922. Persons qualifying for advice and assistance.

A local authority<sup>1</sup> is under a number of duties in respect of a person qualifying for advice and assistance<sup>2</sup>. 'A person qualifying for advice and assistance' is a person:

- 1890 (1) who has reached the age of 16 but not the age of 21<sup>3</sup>;
- 1891 (2) with respect to whom a special guardianship order<sup>4</sup> is in force (or if he has reached the age of 18, was in force when he reached that age)<sup>5</sup>; and
- 1892 (3) who was, immediately before the making of that order, looked after by a local authority<sup>6</sup>.

However, where heads (1) to (3) above do not apply a person is still a person qualifying for advice and assistance if he:

- 1893 (a) is under 21<sup>7</sup>; and
- 1894 (b) at any time after reaching the age of 16 but while still a child<sup>8</sup> was, but is no longer, looked after, accommodated or fostered<sup>9</sup>.

For the purposes of head (b) above, 'looked after, accommodated or fostered' means<sup>10</sup>:

- 1895 (i) looked after by a local authority<sup>11</sup>;
- 1896 (ii) accommodated by or on behalf of a voluntary organisation<sup>12</sup>;
- 1897 (iii) accommodated in a private children's home<sup>13</sup>;
- 1898 (iv) accommodated for a consecutive period of at least three months<sup>14</sup>: (A) by any local health board, special health authority, primary care trust or local education authority<sup>15</sup>; or (B) in any care home or independent hospital or in any accommodation provided by a national health service trust or an NHS foundation trust<sup>16</sup>; or
- 1899 (v) privately fostered<sup>17</sup>.

924. Assistance for employment, education and training.

The relevant local authority<sup>1</sup> may give assistance to any person who qualifies for advice and assistance<sup>2</sup> by contributing to expenses incurred by him in living near the place where he is, or will be, employed or seeking employment<sup>3</sup>. The relevant local authority may give assistance to a person who:

Where a local authority is so assisting a person it may disregard any interruption in his attendance on the course if he resumes it as soon as is reasonably practicable<sup>9</sup>.

Where the local authority is satisfied that such a person who is in full time further or higher education needs accommodation during a vacation because his term-time accommodation is not available to him then, it must give him assistance by providing him with suitable accommodation during the vacation, or paying him enough to enable him to secure such accommodation himself<sup>10</sup>.

928. The responsible local authority and relevant children.

- 1915 (1) is not being looked after by any local authority<sup>5</sup>;
- 1916 (2) was, before last ceasing to be looked after, an eligible child<sup>6</sup>;
- 1917 (3) is aged 16 or 17<sup>7</sup>.

The Secretary of State or the Welsh Ministers may also prescribe<sup>8</sup>: (a) additional categories of relevant children<sup>9</sup>; and (b) categories of children who are not to be relevant children despite falling within the above definition<sup>10</sup>. Accordingly for these purposes<sup>11</sup>, a child is also a 'relevant child' if he is aged 16 or 17, he is not subject to a care order, and at the time when he attained the age of 16 he was detained<sup>12</sup> or in hospital<sup>13</sup> and, in relation to England, immediately before he was detained or admitted to hospital he had been looked after by a local authority for a period or periods amounting in all to at least 13 weeks<sup>14</sup>, which began after he reached the age of 14<sup>15</sup> or, in relation to Wales, he had been accommodated by a local authority for a single period of at least 13 weeks<sup>16</sup> ('the single period') or for periods amounting in all to at least 13 weeks ('the aggregate period') where the single period or the first period of the aggregate period began after he reached the age of 14 and the single period or the aggregate period ended immediately before such detention or admission<sup>17</sup>.

1 The 'responsible local authority' is the one which last looked after the child: Children Act 1989 s 23A(4) (s 23A added by the Children (Leaving Care) Act 2000 s 2(1), (4)). For the meaning of 'local authority' see para 248 note 10 ante. For the meaning of 'child' see para 3 ante.

2 I.e. those in the Children Act 1989 s 23B (as added): see para 929 post.

3 Ibid s 23A(1) (as added: see note 1 supra).

4 I.e. subject to ibid s 23A(3) (as added): see the text and notes 8-10 infra.

5 Ibid s 23A(2)(a) (as added: see note 1 supra). As to the meaning of 'look after' where a local authority looks after a child see para 867 ante.

A relevant child for the purposes of s 23A (as added) is not entitled to income-based jobseeker's allowance under the Jobseekers Act 1995, or to income support or housing benefit under the Social Security Contributions and Benefits Act 1992: see the Children (Leaving Care) Act 2000 s 6; and SOCIAL SECURITY AND PENSIONS.

6 Children Act 1989 s 23A(2)(b) (as added: see note 1 supra). The text refers to an eligible child for the purposes of Sch 2 para 19B (as added): see para 873 ante. See note 4 supra. Any child who has lived with a person falling within s 23(4) ('a family placement') for a continuous period of six months or more is not to be a relevant child despite falling within s 23A(2) (as added): Children (Leaving Care) (England) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/2871, reg 4(5); Children (Leaving Care) (Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/2189, reg 4(4) (substituted by SI 2002/1855). This applies whether the period of six months commences before or after a child ceases to be looked after by a local authority: Children (Leaving Care) (England) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/2871, reg 4(6); Children (Leaving Care) (Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/2189, reg 4(5). However, where a family placement within the meaning of the Children (Leaving Care) (England) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/2871, reg 4(5) or, as the case may be, the Children (Leaving Care) (Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/2189, reg 4(4) (as substituted) breaks down and the child ceases to live with the person concerned, the child is to be treated as a relevant child: Children (Leaving Care) (England) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/2871, reg 4(7); Children (Leaving Care) (Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/2189, reg 4(6) (added by SI 2002/1855).

7 Children Act 1989 s 23A(2)(c) (as added: see note 1 supra). See note 4 supra.

8 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations made under the Children Act 1989: s 105(1). As to the Secretary of State and the Welsh Ministers see para 155 ante.

9 Ibid s 23A(3)(a) (as added: see note 1 supra). If under head (a) in the text the Secretary of State prescribes or the Welsh Ministers prescribe a category of relevant children which includes children who do not fall within head (2) in the text (eg because they were being looked after by a local authority in Scotland), he or they may in the regulations also provide for which local authority is to be the responsible local authority for those children: s 23A(5) (as so added). See note 4 supra.

10 Ibid s 23A(3)(b) (as added: see note 1 supra).

11 Children (Leaving Care) (England) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/2874, reg 4(1); Children (Leaving Care) (Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/2189, reg 4(1).

12 'Detained' means detained in a remand centre, a young offenders institution or a secure training centre, or any other institution pursuant to an order of a court: Children (Leaving Care) (England) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/2874, reg 4(4)(a); Children (Leaving Care) (Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/2189, reg 4(3).

13 In relation to England, 'hospital' means any health service hospital within the meaning of the National Health Service Act 1977 (see HEALTH SERVICES) or a registered establishment within the meaning of the Mental Health Act 1983 s 34(1) (see MENTAL HEALTH vol 30(2) (Reissue) para 421); Children (Leaving Care) (England) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/2874, reg 4(4)(b) (amended by SI 2002/546).

14 In calculating the period of 13 weeks no account is to be taken of any period in which the child was looked after by a local authority in any of a pre-planned series of short term placements, none of which individually exceeded four weeks, where at the end of each such placement the child returned to the care of his parent, or a person who is not a parent but who has parental responsibility for him: Children (Leaving Care) (England) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/2874, reg 4(3).

15 Ibid reg 4(2).

16 In calculating the period of 13 weeks no account is to be taken of any period in which the child was looked after in a series of short term placements, none of which individually exceeded four weeks, where at the end of each such placement the child returned to the care of his parent, or a person who is not a parent but who has parental responsibility for him: Children (Leaving Care) (Wales) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/2189, reg 4(2A) (added by SI 2004/1732).

TEXT AND NOTES 8-10--Children Act 1989 s 23A(3), (5) amended: Children and Young Persons Act 2008 Sch 3 para 8.

Halsbury's Laws of England/CHILDREN AND YOUNG PERSONS (VOLUME 5(3) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 1-742; VOLUME 5(4) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 743-1433)/11. SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(5) ADVICE AND ASSISTANCE/(ii) Additional Functions of Local Authorities in respect of Children Leaving Care/929. Functions of the responsible authority in respect of relevant children.

929. Functions of the responsible authority in respect of relevant children.

It is the duty of each local authority<sup>1</sup>:

- 1918 (1) to take reasonable steps to keep in touch with a relevant child<sup>2</sup> for whom it is the responsible authority<sup>3</sup>, whether he is within its area or not<sup>4</sup>;
- 1919 (2) to appoint a personal adviser for each relevant child, if it has not already done so<sup>5</sup>;
- 1920 (3) in relation to any relevant child who does not already have a pathway plan prepared<sup>6</sup> to carry out an assessment of his needs with a view to determining what advice, assistance and support it would be appropriate for it to provide him under Part III of the Children Act 1989<sup>7</sup> and to prepare a pathway plan for him<sup>8</sup>.

The authority must keep the pathway plan under regular review<sup>9</sup>. The Secretary of State or the Welsh Ministers may by regulations make provision as to assessments for the purposes of head (3) above<sup>10</sup>. The regulations may in particular make provision about:

- 1921 (a) who is to be consulted in relation to an assessment<sup>11</sup>;
- 1922 (b) the way in which an assessment is to be carried out, by whom and when<sup>12</sup>;
- 1923 (c) the recording of the results of an assessment<sup>13</sup>; and
- 1924 (d) the considerations to which the local authority is to have regard in carrying out an assessment<sup>14</sup>.

The responsible local authority must safeguard and promote the child's welfare and, unless it is satisfied that his welfare does not require it, support him by<sup>15</sup>:

- 1925 (i) maintaining him<sup>16</sup>;
- 1926 (ii) providing him with or maintaining him in suitable accommodation<sup>17</sup>; and
- 1927 (iii) providing support of such other descriptions as may be prescribed<sup>18</sup>.

Such support may be in cash<sup>19</sup>. The Secretary of State or the Welsh Ministers may by regulations make provision about the meaning of 'suitable accommodation' and in particular about the suitability of landlords or other providers of accommodation<sup>20</sup>.

If the local authority has lost touch with a relevant child, despite taking reasonable steps to keep in touch, it must without delay consider how to re-establish contact, and take reasonable steps to do so, and while the child is still a relevant child it must continue to take such steps until it succeeds<sup>21</sup>.

Provisions relating to assistance<sup>22</sup> also apply in relation to support given under the above provisions<sup>23</sup>. The factors that must be considered by a local authority before making any decision with respect to a child it is looking after<sup>24</sup> must also be considered in relation to any decision by a local authority for the purposes of the above provisions<sup>25</sup>.

702 (2) in the case of a plan prepared under s 23B (as added), the advice, assistance and support which the local authority intends to provide under Pt III (as amended), and dealing with such other matters (if any) as may be prescribed (s 23E(1) (s 23E added by the Children (Leaving Care) Act 2000 s 3)).

The Secretary of State or the Welsh Ministers may by regulations make provision about pathway plans and their review: Children Act 1989 s 23E(2) (as so added). NOTE 8--The Secretary of State or the Welsh Ministers may by regulations make provision as to assessments under the Children Act 1989 s 23B(3): see s 23E(1B), (1C) (added by Children and Young Persons Act 2008 s 22(5)).

SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(5) ADVICE AND ASSISTANCE/(ii) Additional Functions of Local Authorities in respect of Children Leaving Care/930. Continuing functions in respect of former relevant children.

930. Continuing functions in respect of former relevant children.

Each local authority<sup>1</sup> has the duties listed in heads (a) to (c) below towards:

- 1928 (1) a person who has been a relevant child<sup>2</sup> (and would be one if he were under 18), and in relation to whom it was the last responsible authority<sup>3</sup>; and
- 1929 (2) a person who was being looked after by it<sup>4</sup> when he attained the age of 18, and immediately before ceasing to be looked after was an eligible child<sup>5</sup>.

Such a person is referred to as a 'former relevant child'<sup>6</sup>.

It is the duty of the local authority:

- 1930 (a) to take reasonable steps: (i) to keep in touch with a former relevant child whether he is within its area or not<sup>7</sup>; and (ii) if it loses touch with him, to re-establish contact<sup>8</sup>;
- 1931 (b) to continue: (i) the appointment of a personal adviser for a former relevant child<sup>9</sup>; (ii) to continue to keep his pathway plan under regular review<sup>10</sup>;
- 1932 (c) to give a former relevant child assistance<sup>11</sup>.

The duties set out in heads (a), (b) and (c) above subsist until the former relevant child reaches the age of 21<sup>12</sup>.

If the former relevant child's pathway plan sets out a programme of education or training which extends beyond his twenty-first birthday:

- 1933 (A) the duty of assistance<sup>13</sup> continues to subsist for so long as the former relevant child continues to pursue that programme<sup>14</sup>; and
- 1934 (B) the duties set out in heads (a) and (b) above continue to subsist concurrently with that duty<sup>15</sup>.

For the purposes of head (A) above there must be disregarded any interruption in a former relevant child's pursuance of a programme of education or training if the local authority is satisfied that he will resume it as soon as is reasonably practicable<sup>16</sup>.

Provisions relating to assistance<sup>17</sup> also apply in relation to support given under the above provisions<sup>18</sup>.

(6) HELP TO BE GIVEN TO LOCAL AUTHORITIES

932. Power to request help.

If a local authority<sup>1</sup> considers that any of a number of specified authorities<sup>2</sup> could by taking any specified action help in the exercise of certain of the requesting authority's statutory functions<sup>3</sup>, it may request the help of that other authority, specifying the action in question<sup>4</sup>. The authority whose help is so requested must comply with the request if it is compatible with its own statutory or other duties and obligations and does not unduly prejudice the discharge of any of its functions<sup>5</sup>.

The authorities which may be so requested are<sup>6</sup>:

- 1938 (1) any local authority<sup>7</sup>;
- 1939 (2) any local education authority<sup>8</sup>;
- 1940 (3) any local housing authority<sup>9</sup>;

SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(6) HELP TO BE GIVEN TO LOCAL AUTHORITIES/933. Assistance to and consultation with local education authorities.

933. Assistance to and consultation with local education authorities.

Where a child<sup>1</sup> is being looked after<sup>2</sup> by a local authority<sup>3</sup>, and the authority proposes to find accommodation for him in an establishment in which education is provided for children who are accommodated there, it must, so far as is reasonably practicable, consult the appropriate local education authority<sup>4</sup> before doing so<sup>5</sup>. Where any such proposal is carried out, the local authority must, as soon as is reasonably practicable, inform the appropriate local education authority of the arrangements that have been made for the child's accommodation<sup>6</sup>. Where the child ceases to be accommodated the local authority must inform the appropriate local education authority<sup>7</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'child' see para 3 ante.

2 As to the meaning of 'look after' where a local authority looks after a child see para 867 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'local authority' see para 248 note 10 ante.

4 'Appropriate local education authority' means the local education authority within whose area the local authority's area falls, or where the child has special educational needs and a statement of those needs is maintained under the Education Act 1996 Pt IV (ss 312-349) (as amended) (see EDUCATION vol 15(2) (2006 Reissue) para 984 et seq), the local education authority which maintains the statement: Children Act 1989 s 28(4) (amended by the Education Act 1996 s 582(1), Sch 37 para 84). For the meaning of 'special educational needs' see para 296 note 7 ante. As to local education authorities see EDUCATION vol 15(1) (2006 Reissue) para 20 et seq.

934. Recoupment of cost of providing services.

A local authority<sup>1</sup> may recover<sup>2</sup> from certain persons such charges as it considers reasonable in respect of the provision of services for children in need, their families and others<sup>3</sup> or the provision of day care for pre-school and other children<sup>4</sup>, other than the provision of advice, guidance or counselling<sup>5</sup>. The persons from whom such payment may be recovered are:

- 1943 (1) where the service is provided for a child under 16, each of his parents<sup>6</sup>;
- 1944 (2) where it is provided for a child who has reached the age of 16, the child himself<sup>7</sup>; and
- 1945 (3) where it is provided for a member of the child's family, that member<sup>8</sup>.

However, where the authority is satisfied that the means of the person in question are insufficient for it to be reasonably practicable for him to pay the charge, the authority must not require him to pay more than he can reasonably be expected to pay<sup>9</sup>. No person is liable to pay any such charge<sup>10</sup> at any time when he is in receipt of income support<sup>11</sup>, of any element of child tax credit other than the family element, of working tax credit or of an income-based jobseeker's allowance<sup>12</sup>.

Where a local authority provides any accommodation<sup>13</sup> for a child who, immediately before the authority began to look after<sup>14</sup> him, was ordinarily resident<sup>15</sup> in the area of another local authority, the former authority may recover from the latter any reasonable expenses incurred in providing the accommodation and maintaining him<sup>16</sup>.

Where an authority provides accommodation for a child who is ordinarily resident in the area of another authority and who<sup>17</sup>:

- 1946 (a) has been removed or kept away from home<sup>18</sup>; or
- 1947 (b) is in police protection<sup>19</sup>; or
- 1948 (c) is in custody after being charged with an offence<sup>20</sup>, and the authority is not maintaining him in a community home<sup>21</sup> provided by the authority, in a controlled community home or in a hospital<sup>22</sup> vested in the Secretary of State or Welsh Ministers or a primary care trust<sup>23</sup>, or any other hospital made available pursuant to arrangements made by a strategic health authority, a local health board or a primary care trust<sup>24</sup>, it may recover from that other authority any reasonable expenses incurred in providing the accommodation and maintaining him<sup>25</sup>.

Where a local authority ('authority A') complies with any request for help from another local authority ('authority B')<sup>26</sup> in relation to a child or other person whose responsible authority is authority B for the purposes of certain authority functions<sup>27</sup> or whom authority B are advising or befriending or to whom they are giving assistance by virtue of certain provisions<sup>28</sup>, authority A may recover from authority B any reasonable expenses incurred by them in respect of that person<sup>29</sup>. However, where this does not apply<sup>30</sup>, an authority may recover its reasonable expenses incurred in responding to a request for help by another local authority in relation to a person not ordinarily resident in the former authority's area<sup>31</sup>.

- 1 For the meaning of 'local authority' see para 248 note 10 ante.

At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed. SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(6) HELP TO BE GIVEN TO LOCAL AUTHORITIES/935. Contribution orders where children are looked after by local authorities.

935. Contribution orders where children are looked after by local authorities.

Where a local authority<sup>1</sup> is looking after<sup>2</sup> a child<sup>3</sup>, the authority must consider whether it should recover contributions towards the child's maintenance from any person liable to contribute<sup>4</sup>. The collection of such contributions, the making of contribution agreements, and the making and enforcement of contribution orders are governed by statute<sup>5</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'local authority' see para 248 note 10 ante.

2 As to the meaning of 'look after' where a local authority looks after a child see para 867 ante.

3 This does not apply in cases where the child is being looked after under the Children Act 1989 s 21 (child in police protection, etc: see para 863 text and notes 14-16 ante) or under an interim care order (see para 288 et seq ante) or under the Powers of Criminal Courts (Sentencing) Act 2000 s 92) (see para 1404 post): Children Act 1989 s 29(6), Sch 2 para 21(7) (amended by the Powers of Criminal Courts (Sentencing) Act 2000 s 165(1), Sch 9 para 130). 4 Children Act 1989 Sch 2 para 21(1). However, where a local authority is authorised to place a child for adoption or a child who has been placed for adoption by a local authority is less than six weeks old Sch 2 para 21 does not apply: see the Adoption and Children Act 2002 s 53; and the Adoption Agencies Regulations 2005, SI 2005/389, reg 45(1), (2)(d).

(7) REVIEW OF CASES

936. Requirement to review cases.

The Secretary of State or the Welsh Ministers<sup>1</sup> may make regulations requiring the case of each child<sup>2</sup> who is being looked after<sup>3</sup> by a local authority<sup>4</sup> to be reviewed in accordance with the provisions of the regulations<sup>5</sup>. Regulations have accordingly been made requiring each responsible authority<sup>6</sup> to review the case of each child while he is being looked after or provided with accommodation<sup>7</sup> by that authority, in accordance with the regulations<sup>8</sup>.

Each responsible authority must monitor the arrangements which it has made with a view to ensuring that it complies with the regulations<sup>9</sup>. Essentially, each responsible authority must appoint an independent reviewing officer in connection with the review of the case of each child who is looked after or for whom accommodation is provided<sup>10</sup>.

Regulations may be made which make provision for a local authority to appoint a person in respect of each case to carry out in the prescribed manner any prescribed function<sup>11</sup> and the following specified functions:

- 1949 (1) participating in the review of the case in question<sup>12</sup>;
- 1950 (2) monitoring the performance of the authority's functions in respect of the review<sup>13</sup>;
- 1951 (3) referring the case to an officer of the Children and Family Court Advisory and Support Service ('CAFCASS') or a Welsh family proceedings officer, if the person appointed considers it appropriate to do so<sup>14</sup>.

The person appointed must be a person of a prescribed description<sup>15</sup>.

In relation to children whose cases are referred to officers of CAFCASS or a Welsh family proceedings officer, regulations may:

- 1952 (a) extend any functions of the officers in respect of family proceedings<sup>16</sup> to other proceedings<sup>17</sup>;
- 1953 (b) require any functions of the officers to be performed in the manner prescribed by the regulations<sup>18</sup>.

1 As to the Secretary of State and the Welsh Ministers see para 155 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'child' see para 3 ante.

6 'Responsible authority' in England means: (1) in relation to a child who is being looked after by a local authority, that authority; (2) in relation to a child who is being provided with accommodation by a voluntary organisation otherwise than on behalf of a local authority, that voluntary organisation; and (3) in relation to a child who is being provided with accommodation in a private children's home otherwise than on behalf of a local authority, that private children's home.

authority or voluntary organisation, the person carrying on that home: Review of Children's Cases Regulations 1991, SI 1991/895, reg 1(2) (revoked in relation to Wales by SI 2007/307). 'Responsible authority' in Wales means: (a) in relation to a placement by a local authority (including one in which the child is accommodated and maintained in a voluntary home or private children's home), the local authority which places the child; (b) in relation to a placement by a voluntary organisation of a child who is not looked after by a local authority, the voluntary organisation which places the child; and (c) in relation to a placement in a private children's home of a child who is neither looked after by a local authority nor accommodated in such a home by a voluntary organisation, the person carrying on the home: Review of Children's Cases (Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/307, reg 1(2). For the meaning of 'voluntary organisation' see para 248 note 10 ante. As to the provision of accommodation by a voluntary organisation see para 975 post. As to accommodation in a registered children's home see para 983 et seq post.

7 As to the provision of accommodation by local authorities see the Children Act 1989 ss 20-22 (as amended); and paras 863-868 ante.

8 Review of Children's Cases Regulations 1991, SI 1991/895, reg 2; Review of Children's Cases (Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/307, reg 2. The regulations do not apply in the case of a child:

- 713 (1) who is being provided with accommodation, otherwise than by a local authority or voluntary organisation in a school which is a children's home within the meaning of the Care Standards Act 2000 s 1(6) (see para 983 post) (Review of Children's Cases Regulations 1991, SI 1991/895, reg 13 (added by SI 1993/3969; renumbered by virtue of SI 1997/649; amended by SI 2002/546; and revoked in relation to Wales by SI 2007/307); Review of Children's Cases (Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/307, reg 14(1)); or
- 714 (2) who is placed for adoption (although in England this only applies to those placed for adoption under the Adoption Act 1976) (Review of Children's Cases Regulations 1991, SI 1991/895, reg 13A (added by SI 1997/649; revoked in relation to Wales by SI 2007/307); Review of Children's Cases (Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/307, reg 14(2)).

Nothing in the Review of Children's Cases Regulations 1991, SI 1991/895 (as amended) or, as the case may be, the Review of Children's Cases (Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/307, reg 5(5) prevents the carrying out of any review under the regulations and any other review, assessment or consideration under any other provision at the same time: Review of Children's Cases Regulations 1991, SI 1991/895, reg 4(5) (revoked in relation to Wales by SI 2007/307); Review of Children's Cases (Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/307, reg 5(5).

The Department of Health publication The Children Act 1989: Guidance and Regulations Volume 3 Family Placements (HMSO, 1991) gives guidance about the implementation of the regulations and about how local authorities may give effect to the principle that reviews form part of a continuous planning process, reviewing decisions to date and planning future work. The purpose of the review is to ensure that the child's welfare is safeguarded and promoted in the most effective way throughout the period the child is looked after or accommodated: see para 8.1. As to the guidance and regulations generally see para 163 ante.

12 Children Act 1989 s 26(2A)(a) (s 26(2A) added by the Adoption and Children Act 2002 s 118(2)). An adoption agency which is a local authority, or a registered adoption society which is a voluntary organisation providing accommodation for a child, must appoint a person ('the independent reviewing officer') in respect of the case of each child authorised to be placed for adoption by the agency to carry out the functions mentioned in the Children Act 1989 s 26(2A) (as added): Adoption Agencies Regulations 2005, SI 2005/389, reg 37(1); Adoption Agencies (Wales) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1313, reg 38(1). In England, the independent reviewing officer must be registered as a social worker in a register maintained by the General Social Care Council or by the Care Council for Wales under the Care Standards Act 2000 s 56 (see SOCIAL SERVICES AND COMMUNITY CARE) or in a corresponding register maintained under the law of Scotland or Northern Ireland and must, in the opinion of the adoption agency, have sufficient relevant social work experience to undertake the functions in relation to the case: Adoption Agencies Regulations 2005, SI 2005/389, reg 37(2), (3). In Wales, the independent reviewing officer must have significant experience in social work and hold a diploma in social work or a social work degree or an equivalent qualification recognised by the Care Council for Wales: Adoption Agencies (Wales) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1313, reg 38(2). A person who is an employee of the adoption agency may not be appointed as an independent reviewing officer in a case if he is involved in the management of the case or is under the direct management of: (1) a person involved in the management of the case; (2) a person with management responsibilities in relation to a person mentioned in head (1) above; or (3) a person with control over the resources allocated to the case: Adoption Agencies Regulations 2005, SI 2005/389, reg 37(4); Adoption Agencies (Wales) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1313, reg 38(3).

The independent reviewing officer must as far as is reasonably practicable attend any meeting held in connection with the review of the child's case and chair any such meeting that he attends: Adoption Agencies Regulations 2005, SI 2005/389, reg 37(5); Adoption Agencies (Wales) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1313, reg 38(4). He must also, as far as is reasonably practicable, take steps to ensure that the review is conducted in accordance with the Adoption Agencies Regulations 2005, SI 2005/389, reg 36 or, as the case may be, the Adoption Agencies (Wales) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1313, reg 36 (see para 445 ante) and in particular to ensure: (a) that the child's views are understood and taken into account; (b) that the persons responsible for implementing any decision taken in consequence of the review are identified; and (c) that any failure to review the case in accordance with the Adoption Agencies Regulations 2005, SI 2005/389, reg 36 or, as the case may be, the Adoption Agencies (Wales) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1313, reg 36 (see para 445 ante) or to take proper steps to make the arrangements agreed at the review is brought to the attention of persons at an appropriate level of seniority within the adoption agency: Adoption Agencies Regulations 2005, SI 2005/389, reg 37(6); Adoption Agencies (Wales) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1313, reg 38(5).

If the child whose case is reviewed wishes to take proceedings on his own account (eg to apply to the court for revocation of a placement order), it is the function of the independent reviewing officer to assist the child to obtain legal advice or to establish whether an appropriate adult is able and willing to provide such assistance or bring the proceedings on the child's behalf: Adoption Agencies Regulations 2005, SI 2005/389, reg 37(7); Adoption Agencies (Wales) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1313, reg 38(6). The adoption agency must inform the independent reviewing officer of any significant failure to make the arrangements agreed at a review and any significant change in the child's circumstances after a review: Adoption Agencies Regulations 2005, SI 2005/389, reg 37(8); Adoption Agencies (Wales) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1313, reg 38(7).

In relation to children whose cases are referred to officers under s 26(2A)(c) (as added) regulations may: (1) extend any functions of the officers in respect of family proceedings (within the meaning of the Criminal Justice and Court Services Act 2000 s 12: see para 239 ante), or (as the case may be) of Welsh family proceedings officers, to other proceedings; (2) require any functions of the officers to be performed in the manner prescribed by the regulations: see the Children Act 1989 s 26(2C), (2D) (s 26(2C) added by the Adoption and Children Act 2002 s 118(2); and the Children Act 1989 s 26(2D) added by the Children Act 2004 s 40, Sch 3 paras 5, 8(1), (3).

UPDATE

936 Requirement to review cases

TEXT AND NOTES 5, 14--Children Act 1989 ss 26(1), (2)(d) amended: Children and Young Persons Act 2008 Sch 3 para 16.

TEXT AND NOTES 11-18--Replaced. Children Act 1989 ss 25A-25C added, s 26(2)(k), (2A)-(2D) repealed: Children and Young Persons Act 2008 s 10 (not yet in force except as stated below).

If a local authority is looking after a child, it must appoint an individual as the independent reviewing officer for that child's case: Children Act 1989 s 25A(1). The initial appointment must be made before the child's case is first reviewed in accordance with regulations made under s 26, and if a vacancy arises in respect of a child's case, the authority must make another appointment as soon as is practicable: s 25A(2), (3). An appointee must be of a description prescribed in regulations made by the appropriate national authority: s 25A(4) (in force for the purpose of making regulations: SI 2009/2273 (England), SI 2010/1329 (Wales)). 'The appropriate national authority' means, in relation to England, the Secretary of State and, in relation to Wales, the Welsh Ministers: Children Act 1989 s 30A (added by Children and Young Persons Act 2008 Sch 3 para 22).

The independent reviewing officer must (1) monitor the performance by the local authority of its functions in relation to the child's case; (2) participate, in accordance with regulations made by the appropriate national authority, in any review of the child's case; (3) ensure that any ascertained wishes and feelings of the child concerning the case are given due consideration by the authority; (4) perform any other function prescribed in regulations made by the appropriate national authority: Children Act 1989 s 25B(1) (heads (2), (4) in force for the purpose of making regulations: SI 2009/2273 (England), SI 2010/1329 (Wales)). An independent reviewing officer's functions must be performed (a) in such manner, if any, as may be prescribed in regulations made by the appropriate national authority (in force for the purpose of making regulations: SI 2009/2273 (England), SI 2010/1329 (Wales); and (b) having regard to such guidance as the appropriate national authority may issue in relation to the discharge of those functions: Children Act 1989 s 25B(2). If the independent reviewing officer considers it appropriate to do so, the child's case may be referred by that officer to an officer of the Children and Family Court Advisory and Support Service (see generally PARA 230 et seq), or to a Welsh family proceedings officer: s 25B(3). If the independent reviewing officer is not an officer of the local authority, it is the duty of the authority to co-operate with that individual and to take all such reasonable steps as that individual may require of the authority to enable that individual's functions under s 25B to be performed satisfactorily: s 25B(4).

In relation to children whose cases are referred to officers under s 25B(3), the Lord Chancellor may by regulations (i) extend any functions of the officers in respect of family proceedings (within the meaning of the Criminal Justice and Court Services Act 2000 s 12: see PARA 239) to other proceedings; (ii) require any functions of the officers to be performed in the manner prescribed by the regulations: s 25C(1). The power to make regulations in s 25C is exercisable in relation to functions of Welsh family proceedings officers only with the consent of the Welsh Ministers: s 25C(2).

937. Time for review.

Each case must first be reviewed within four weeks of the date on which a child<sup>1</sup> begins to be looked after<sup>2</sup> or provided with accommodation<sup>3</sup> by a responsible authority<sup>4</sup>. The second review must be carried out not more than three months after the first<sup>5</sup>. Thereafter, subsequent reviews must be carried out not more than six months after the date of the previous review<sup>6</sup>. Transitional provision is made relating to the time at which the cases of certain children accommodated before certain dates<sup>7</sup> are to be reviewed<sup>8</sup>.

Halsbury's Laws of England/CHILDREN AND YOUNG PERSONS (VOLUME 5(3) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 1-742; VOLUME 5(4) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 743-1433)/11. SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(7) REVIEW OF CASES/938. Conduct of reviews.

938. Conduct of reviews.

Each responsible authority<sup>1</sup> must set out in writing its arrangements governing the manner in which the case of each child<sup>2</sup> is to be reviewed<sup>3</sup>. It must draw those arrangements to the attention of specified persons<sup>4</sup>, and must, unless it is not reasonably practicable to do so, before conducting any review seek and take into account the views<sup>5</sup> of those persons<sup>6</sup>. The persons so specified are:

- 1954 (1) the child<sup>7</sup>;
- 1955 (2) his parents<sup>8</sup>;
- 1956 (3) any person who is not a parent but has parental responsibility for him<sup>9</sup>; and
- 1957 (4) any other person whose views the authority considers to be relevant<sup>10</sup>.

In relation to Wales, where a child is placed in a children's home, the child's link worker is also a person so specified<sup>11</sup>.

The responsible authority looking after<sup>12</sup> or providing accommodation<sup>13</sup> for a child must make arrangements to co-ordinate the carrying out of all aspects of the review of that child's case<sup>14</sup>, and it must appoint one of its officers to assist the authority in the co-ordination of all aspects of the review<sup>15</sup>. As far as practicable the manner in which a case is reviewed must include the following elements<sup>16</sup>:

- 1958 (a) keeping informed of the arrangements for looking after the child and any relevant change in his circumstances<sup>17</sup>;
- 1959 (b) keeping informed of the name and address of any person whose views should be taken into account in the course of the review<sup>18</sup>;
- 1960 (c) making necessary preparations and providing any relevant information to the participants in any meeting of the responsible authority which considers the child's case in connection with any aspect of the review<sup>19</sup>;
- 1961 (d) initiating meetings of relevant personnel of the authority and other relevant persons to consider the review<sup>20</sup>;
- 1962 (e) explaining to the child any steps which he may take under the Children Act 1989<sup>21</sup>;
- 1963 (f) making decisions or taking steps following review decisions arising out of or resulting from the review<sup>22</sup>.

So far as is reasonably practicable the responsible authority must involve the persons whose views have been sought in the review including, where it considers appropriate, the attendance of those persons at part or all of any meeting which is to consider the child's case in connection with any aspect of the review of that case<sup>23</sup>.

The regulations seek to give effect to the policy that the review system should provide for the full participation of both children and parents in the decision-making process; a structured, co-ordinated approach to the planning of child care work in individual cases; and a monitoring system for checking the operation of the review process: see the Department of Health publication The Children Act 1989: Guidance and Regulations Volume 3 Family Placements (HMSO, 1991) para 8.8. 2007/307, Sch 1 para 5. This includes, where appropriate, his right to apply with leave for a contact order, prohibited steps order, residence order or specific issue order (see para 247 et seq ante), and (where he is in care) his right to apply for the discharge of the care order (see para 293 ante), and also the availability to him of the procedure for considering representations (see para 944 et seq post): Children Act 1989 s 26(2)(g); Review of Children's Cases Regulations 1991, SI 1991/895, Sch 1 para 5 (revoked in relation to Wales by SI 2007/307); Review of Children's Cases (Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/307, Sch 1 para 5. The authority should also work in suitable cases towards bringing a care order to an end through rehabilitation of the child under the Children Act 1989 s 23(6) (see para 869 ante); the authority should prepare for his rehabilitation by advising, assisting and befriending him (see s 24 (as substituted and amended); and 922 ante) and, if appropriate, by encouraging increased contact with the person or persons concerned (applying if necessary for variation of an order made under s 34 (as amended): see para 279 ante). The court does not have power to postpone discharge of a care order to allow for a gradual return of the child to his family over a period of time. However, it can encourage the process of rehabilitation by varying the contact provisions consistent with a plan for return. It can also make a residence order with appropriate directions and conditions under s 11(7) (see para 250 ante) coupled with a supervision order: see the Department of Health publication The Children Act 1989: Guidance and Regulations Volume 1 Court Orders (HMSO, 1991) para 3.57.

939. General considerations on review.

A responsible authority<sup>1</sup>, so far as is reasonably practicable in reviewing each case, must have regard to the following general considerations<sup>2</sup>:

- 1964 (1) in the case of a child<sup>3</sup> who is in care<sup>4</sup>: (a) to keep the care plan for the future care of the child<sup>5</sup> under review and, if it is of the opinion that some change is required, to revise the plan or make a new plan accordingly; and (b) to consider whether an application should be made to discharge the care order<sup>6</sup>;
- 1965 (2) where the responsible authority is a local authority<sup>7</sup>, whether it should seek a change in the child's legal status<sup>8</sup>;
- 1966 (3) arrangements for contact, and whether there is any need for changes in the arrangements in order to promote contact with the child's family and others so far as it is consistent with his welfare<sup>9</sup>;
- 1967 (4) any special arrangements that have been made or need to be made for the child, including the carrying out of assessments either by a local authority or by other persons, such as those in respect of special educational needs<sup>10</sup>;
- 1968 (5) the responsible authority's immediate and long term arrangements for looking after the child or providing him with accommodation<sup>11</sup>, whether a change in those arrangements is needed and consideration of alternative courses of action<sup>12</sup>;
- 1969 (6) where the responsible authority is a local authority, whether an independent visitor<sup>13</sup> should be appointed if one has not already been appointed<sup>14</sup>;
- 1970 (7) the child's educational needs, progress and development<sup>15</sup>;
- 1971 (8) whether arrangements need to be made for the time when the child will no longer be looked after or provided with accommodation by the responsible authority<sup>16</sup>;
- 1972 (9) whether plans need to be made to find a permanent substitute family for the child<sup>17</sup>;
- 1973 (10) in the case of a child in accommodation provided by the authority: (a) if there is no plan for the future care of the child, to prepare one; (b) if there is such a plan for the child, to keep it under review and, if it is of the opinion that some change is required, to revise the plan or make a new plan, accordingly; (c) to consider whether the accommodation accords with the relevant requirements<sup>18</sup>;
- 1974 (11) in relation to Wales, whether the responsible authority has complied with the requirements of the Placement of Children (Wales) Regulations 2007<sup>19</sup>;
- 1975 (12) in relation to Wales, where a child is placed outside the area in which he is normally resident, whether the child's case should be referred to a panel<sup>20</sup>.

940. Health considerations on review; health reviews.

A responsible authority<sup>1</sup>, so far as is reasonably practicable in reviewing each case, must have regard to the following health considerations<sup>2</sup>:

- 1976 (1) the child's<sup>3</sup> state of health including his physical (and, in Wales, oral), emotional and mental health<sup>4</sup>;
- 1977 (2) his health history, including, as far as practicable, his family health history<sup>5</sup>;
- 1978 (3) the effect of his health and health history on his development<sup>6</sup>;
- 1979 (4) existing arrangements for the child's medical and dental care and treatment and health and dental surveillance (and in particular, in Wales, where a child has been assessed as requiring mental health services, whether the child receives those services)<sup>7</sup>;
- 1980 (5) the possible need for an appropriate course of action which should be identified to assist necessary change of such care, treatment or surveillance<sup>8</sup>;
- 1981 (6) the possible need for preventive measures such as vaccination and immunisation and screening for vision and hearing, including the possible need for advice and guidance on health (which, in Wales, includes mental health and oral health), personal care and health promotion issues appropriate to the child's needs<sup>9</sup>;
- 1982 (7) in Wales, whether the responsible authority has complied with particular requirements of the Placement of Children (Wales) Regulations 2007<sup>10</sup>;
- 1983 (8) in Wales, whether the transfer of relevant medical records has, where applicable, taken place<sup>11</sup>.

A responsible authority is also required to make arrangements for a child who continues to be looked after<sup>12</sup> or provided with accommodation<sup>13</sup> by it to be examined by a registered medical practitioner<sup>14</sup> or registered nurse (or, in England, a registered midwife acting under the supervision of a registered medical practitioner) and for a written assessment on the state of health of the child and his need for health care to be made at least once in every period of six months before his second birthday, and at least once in every period of 12 months after his second birthday unless he is of sufficient understanding and he refuses to submit to the examination<sup>15</sup>.

941. Results of the review.

A responsible authority<sup>1</sup>, so far as is reasonably practicable, must notify<sup>2</sup> details of the results of a review and of any decision taken by it in consequence of the review to<sup>3</sup>:

- 1984 (1) the child<sup>4</sup>;
- 1985 (2) his parents<sup>5</sup>;

- 1988 (5) in relation to Wales, where the child is placed in a children's home, the child's link worker<sup>8</sup>.

The authority must also make arrangements itself or with other persons to implement any decision which it proposes to make in the course, or as a result, of the review of a child's case<sup>9</sup>. The responsible authority must inform the independent reviewing officer<sup>10</sup> of any significant failure to make such arrangements<sup>11</sup> or any significant change of circumstances occurring after the review that affects those arrangements<sup>12</sup>.

943. Application of provisions to short periods.

Specific provision is made by the Review of Children's Cases Regulations 1991 and the Review of Children's Cases (Wales) Regulations 2007<sup>1</sup>, for cases in which a responsible authority<sup>2</sup> has arranged that a child<sup>3</sup> should be looked after<sup>4</sup> or provided with accommodation<sup>5</sup> for a series of short periods at the same place and the arrangement is such that no single period is to last for more than four weeks and the total duration of the periods is not to exceed 120 days in any period of 12 months<sup>6</sup>. Each such case is first to be reviewed within three months of the beginning of the first of the short periods<sup>7</sup>. If the case continues, the second review must be carried out not more than six months after the first<sup>8</sup>. Thereafter, if the case continues, subsequent reviews must be carried out not more than six months after the date of the previous review<sup>9</sup>.

Requirement to establish procedures.

(8) REPRESENTATIONS PROCEDURES

(i) In general

944. Requirement to establish procedures.

Every local authority<sup>1</sup> must establish a procedure for considering any representations (including any complaint) about the discharge by the authority<sup>2</sup> of any of its qualifying functions in relation to a child<sup>3</sup>, made by<sup>4</sup>:

- 1989 (1) any child<sup>5</sup> who is being looked after<sup>6</sup> by it or who is not being looked after by it but is in need<sup>7</sup>;
- 1990 (2) a parent of his<sup>8</sup>;
- 1991 (3) any person who is not a parent of his but who has parental responsibility<sup>9</sup> for him<sup>10</sup>;
- 1992 (4) any local authority foster parent<sup>11</sup>; and
- 1993 (5) such other person as it considers has a sufficient interest in the child's welfare to warrant the consideration of his representations<sup>12</sup>.

The above duty<sup>13</sup> extends to representations (including complaints):

- 1994 (a) about the discharge by the authority of such functions under the Adoption and Children Act 2002 as are specified in regulations<sup>14</sup>, made by:
  - .35
  - 44. (i) any person mentioned in the provisions relating to meeting the needs of specified persons in relation to adoption<sup>15</sup> and any other person to whom arrangements for the provisions of adoption support services extend<sup>16</sup>;
  - 45. (ii) such other person as the authority considers has sufficient interest in a child who is or may be adopted to warrant his representations being considered by it<sup>17</sup>;
- .36
- 1995 (b) about the discharge by the authority of such functions under the Children Act 1989 regarding special guardianship support services<sup>18</sup> as are specified in regulations<sup>19</sup>, made by:
  - .37
  - 46. (i) a child with respect to whom a special guardianship order is in force<sup>20</sup>;
  - 47. (ii) a special guardian or a parent of such a child<sup>21</sup>;
  - 48. (iii) any other person the authority considers has a sufficient interest in the welfare of such a child to warrant his representations being considered by it<sup>22</sup>;
  - 49. (iv) any person who has applied for an assessment for special guardianship support services<sup>23</sup>.
- .38

In carrying out any consideration of representations a local authority must comply with regulations<sup>24</sup> made for the purpose of regulating the procedures to be followed<sup>25</sup>.

The Children Act 1989 contains provisions empowering the Secretary of State and the Welsh Ministers to make regulations:

- 1996 (A) requiring any voluntary organisation which is providing accommodation for a child to consider representations (including complaints)<sup>26</sup>;
- 1997 (B) making provision similar to that made<sup>27</sup> in respect of private children's homes<sup>28</sup>; and
- 1998 (C) requiring local authorities to consider representations (including complaints) about the discharge of their functions in respect of exempting persons from the usual fostering limit for certain purposes<sup>29</sup>.

Representations procedures are also required by direction made under the Local Authority Social Services Act 1970<sup>30</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'local authority' see para 248 note 10 ante.

2 As to the application of these provisions to voluntary organisations and private children's homes see the text and notes 26-30 infra.

3 The following are qualifying functions for the purposes of the Children Act 1989 s 26(3) (as amended): (1) functions under Pt III (ss 17-30) (as amended); (2) such functions under Pt IV (ss 31-42) (as amended) or Pt V (ss 43-52) (as amended) as are specified in regulations: s 26(3A) (added by the Adoption and Children Act 2002 s 117(2), (3)). The following functions have been so specified by regulations as qualifying functions for the purposes of the Children Act 1989 s 26(3) (as amended):

715 (a) in relation to England, functions under ss 31(1), 33(3), (4), (6)-(9), 34(6), (8), 35(1), (2), 43(1), 44(1), (10), (11) (see the Children Act 1989 Representations Procedure (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1738, reg 3); and 716 (b) in relation to Wales, functions under the Children Act 1989 ss 31, 33, 34, 35, 43, 44, 47 (see the Representations Procedure (Children) (Wales) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/3365, reg 7).

It is intended that local authorities may be able to use common structures for handling representations, but an important feature of the procedure under the Children Act 1989 is that it involves an independent person at each stage of consideration of a representation or complaint: see the Department of Health publication The Children Act 1989: Guidance and Regulations Volume 3 Family Placements (HMSO, 1991) para 10.2. 13 Ie the duty under the Children Act 1989 s 26(3) (as amended).

14 For the purposes of ibid s 26(3B) (as added), the Children Act 1989 Representations Procedure (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1738, reg 4 specifies the following functions in relation to England:

- 717 (1) the provision of adoption support services as prescribed in the Adoption Support Services Regulations 2005, SI 2005/691, reg 3 (see para 394 ante) (but the provision of services prescribed in reg 3(1)(b) is only a specified function for these purposes in so far as it is to enable groups of adoptive children to discuss matters relating to adoption and for these purposes 'adoptive child' has the meaning given in reg 2 (see para 394 note 9 ante));
- 718 (2) functions under Pt 4 (regs 13-18) (assessment and plans) (see paras 411-422 ante) and Pt 5 (regs 19-20) (reviews) (see paras 410-413, 424-426 ante) in so far as they relate to the adoption support services referred to in head (1) supra;
- 719 (3) functions under the Adoption and Children Act 2002 ss 18-29 (placement of children by adoption agency for adoption: see para 329 et seq ante);
- 720 (4) functions under ss 30-35 (removal of children who are or may be placed by adoption agencies: see paras 342-351 ante);
- 721 (5) functions under ss 36-40 (removal of children in non-agency cases) (see paras 352-356 ante);
- 722 (6) functions under the Adoption Agencies Regulations 2005, SI 2005/389, Pt 3 (regs 12-20A) (as amended) (duties of adoption agency where the agency is considering adoption for a child: see paras 371, 432-434, 447 ante), Pt 5 (reg 31-34) (duties of adoption agency in respect of a proposed placement of child with prospective adopter: see paras 442-444, 447 ante), Pt 6 (regs 35-38) (placement and reviews: see paras 331, 332, 371, 937 ante), Pt 7 (regs 39-44) (case records: see paras 449-450 ante) in so far as those functions relate to a child's case record as defined in regs 12, 46 and 47 (see paras 477, 340, 339 ante);
- 723 (7) functions under the Adoptions with a Foreign Element Regulations 2005, SI 2005/392, reg 10 (requirements applicable in respect of giving parental responsibility prior to adoption abroad: see para 502 ante) and Pt 3 Ch 3 (regs 52-59) (miscellaneous provisions).

These regulations regulate the procedure which local authorities are to follow in the consideration of representations made to them about the discharge of certain functions under the Children Act 1989 and under the Adoption and Children Act 2002. The regulations specify some of the matters about which a person may make representations using this procedure. They also apply the procedure, with modifications, to representations made to voluntary organisations providing accommodation for children and about fostering limits.

25 Children Act 1989 s 26(5). Regulations made under s 26(5) may provide that s 26(4) (see para 946 post) does not apply in relation to any consideration or discussion which takes place as part of a procedure for which provision is made by the regulations for the purpose of resolving informally the matters raised in the representations: s 26(5A) (added by the Adoption and Children Act 2002 s 117(2), (7)). The Secretary of State or the Welsh Ministers may make regulations requiring local authorities to monitor the arrangements that they have made with a view to ensuring that they comply with any regulations made for the purposes of the Children Act 1989 s 26(5): s 26(6). Where any representation has been considered under the procedure established by a local authority under s 26 (as amended), the authority must: (1) have due regard to the findings of those considering the representation; and (2) take such steps as are reasonably practicable to notify (in writing) the person making the representation, the child (if the authority considers that he has sufficient understanding) and such other persons (if any) as appear to the authority to be likely to be affected, of the authority's decision in the matter and its reasons for taking that decision and of any action which it has taken, or proposes to take: s 26(7). As to such regulations see the Representations Procedure (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1738 (see para 949 et seq post); and the Representations Procedure (Children) (Wales) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/3365 (see para 956 et seq post). 29 See the Children Act 1989 s 63(12), Sch 7 para 6; and para 966 post. ### 944 Requirement to establish procedures

TEXT AND NOTES 3, 14, 20-25--Children Act 1989 s 26(3A), (3B), (3C), (5), (6) amended: Children and Young Persons Act 2008 Sch 3 para 16(4).

945. Subject matter of complaints.

Representations and complaints may relate to the discharge of any of the functions dealt with under Part III of the Children Act 1989<sup>1</sup> including, for example, complaints about:

- 1999 (1) day care<sup>2</sup>;
- 2000 (2) services to support a children within his family home<sup>3</sup>;
- 2001 (3) the accommodation of a child<sup>4</sup>;
- 2002 (4) after-care<sup>5</sup>, and decisions relating to the placement of a child<sup>6</sup> or the handling of a child's case<sup>7</sup>.

Although local authority and private foster parents<sup>8</sup> are not entitled to use the representations procedures on their own behalf except in connection with the decisions about the usual fostering limit<sup>9</sup>, the local authority<sup>10</sup> may wish to consider allowing foster parents to make complaints on their own behalf about other matters; an authority should allow representations made about matters which affect a group of children rather than an individual child to be dealt with under its complaints procedure<sup>11</sup>.

1 See para 945 et seq ante. The text refers to the Children Act 1989 Pt III (ss 17-30) (as amended).

2 As to day care see para 860 ante.

11 Department of Health publication The Children Act 1989: Guidance and Regulations Volume 3 Family Placements (HMSO, 1991) para 10.9. An example given by the guidance is inappropriate restrictions on the lives of children in foster care or residential care, such as preventing children's activities for the convenience of staff, fixing meal times to suit staff rather than to fit in with the normal needs of children, or preventing children's normal activities outside the home: para 10.9.

Requirement for independent person.

946. Requirement for independent person.

The representations procedure established by a local authority<sup>1</sup> must ensure that at least one person who is not a member or officer of the authority takes part in the consideration and in any discussions which are held by the authority about the action (if any) to be taken in relation to the child<sup>2</sup> in the light of the consideration<sup>3</sup>.

1 As to the requirement to establish such a procedure see para 944 ante. For the meaning of 'local authority' see para 248 note 10 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'child' see para 3 ante.

As to the appointment of an independent person for initial consideration of a representation see the Representations Procedure (Children) (Wales) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/3365, reg 17 (see para 953 post); and the Children Act 1989 Representations Procedure (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1738, reg 17 (see para 963 post).

947. Publicity.

1 For the meaning of 'local authority' see para 248 note 10 ante.

2 As to the representations procedure see para 949 et seq ante.

3 Children Act 1989 s 26(8). This information should be available in the form of leaflets and posters; and it would be good practice to ensure that the information on the representations procedure forms part of an information pack made available prior to a first review of the child's case or at the time a decision is issued in respect of approval of a foster parent. It is said that all material should present a positive view of the use of the procedure and seek to diminish fears that invoking the procedure will cause problems for a complainant in day to day contact with the authority's staff: see the Department of Health publication The Children Act 1989: Guidance and Regulations Volume 3 Family Placements (HMSO, 1991) para 10.16. #### 948. Time limits.

TEXT AND NOTES--Children Act 1989 s 26(4A) amended: Children and Young Persons Act 2008 Sch 3 para 16(4).

Halsbury's Laws of England/CHILDREN AND YOUNG PERSONS (VOLUME 5(3) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 1-742; VOLUME 5(4) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 743-1433)/11. SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(8) REPRESENTATIONS PROCEDURES/(ii) Representations Procedure in England/949. Representations not to be considered.

(ii) Representations Procedure in England

949. Representations not to be considered.

A local authority<sup>1</sup> must not consider, or further consider, representations<sup>2</sup> to the extent that the representations concern any matter in relation to which:

- 2003 (1) the complainant<sup>3</sup> has stated in writing to the local authority that he is taking, or intends to take, proceedings in any court or tribunal<sup>4</sup>;
- 2004 (2) the local authority is taking or proposing to take disciplinary proceedings against any person<sup>5</sup>;
- 2005 (3) the local authority has been notified that any person is conducting an investigation in contemplation of criminal proceedings<sup>6</sup>; or
- 2006 (4) the local authority has been notified that criminal proceedings are pending<sup>7</sup>, and the local authority decides that consideration, or further consideration, of the representations would prejudice the conduct of any proceedings or investigation falling under heads (1) to (4) above<sup>8</sup> (referred to for these purposes as a 'concurrent consideration'<sup>9</sup>).

Where a local authority decides that it should not consider, or further consider, representations, the local authority must, as soon as possible, give notice in writing to the complainant explaining the reasons for its decision and specifying the relevant concurrent consideration<sup>10</sup>.

Where the concurrent consideration specified in such a notice has been discontinued or completed, the complainant to whom the notice was given may resubmit to the local authority the representations to which the notice relates and, subject to the relevant time limit<sup>11</sup>, the local authority must consider them in accordance with the relevant provisions<sup>12</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'local authority' see para 248 note 10 ante.

2 Representations may be made in writing or orally: Children Act 1989 Representations Procedure (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1738, reg 6.

3 For these purposes, 'complainant' means a person making representations to a local authority under the Children Act 1989 s 24D (as added) (see para 926 ante) or s 26 (as amended) (see para 936 et seq ante): Children Act 1989 Representations Procedure (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1738, reg 2(1).

8 Ibid reg 8(1).

11 Where a complainant resubmits representations in accordance with ibid reg 8(4), he must do so no later than one year after the concurrent consideration is discontinued or completed; and accordingly reg 9(1) (time limit on making representations) (see para 950 post) does not apply: reg 8(5).

12 Ibid reg 8(4). The relevant provisions are regs 9-20 (see paras 950-954 post).

Halsbury's Laws of England/CHILDREN AND YOUNG PERSONS (VOLUME 5(3) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 1-742; VOLUME 5(4) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 743-1433)/11. SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(8) REPRESENTATIONS PROCEDURES/(ii) Representations Procedure in England/950. Time limit on making representations.

950. Time limit on making representations.

A complainant<sup>1</sup> must make his representations<sup>2</sup> about a matter no later than one year after the grounds to make the representations arose<sup>3</sup>. However, a local authority<sup>4</sup> may consider any representations which have been made outside the time limit if, having regard to all the circumstances, it concludes that it would not be reasonable to expect the complainant to have made the representations within the time limit and notwithstanding the time that has passed it is still possible to consider the representations effectively and fairly<sup>5</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'complainant' see para 949 note 3 ante.

2 Representations may be made in writing or orally: Children Act 1989 Representations Procedure (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1738, reg 6.

3 Ibid reg 9(1).

4 For the meaning of 'local authority' see para 248 note 10 ante.

Halsbury's Laws of England/CHILDREN AND YOUNG PERSONS (VOLUME 5(3) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 1-742; VOLUME 5(4) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 743-1433)/11. SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(8) REPRESENTATIONS PROCEDURES/(ii) Representations Procedure in England/951. Local authority action.

951. Local authority action.

A local authority<sup>1</sup> must:

- 2007 (1) appoint one of its officers as a complaints manager to assist the authority in the co-ordination of all aspects of its consideration of representations<sup>2</sup>;
- 2008 (2) take all reasonable steps to see that everyone involved in the handling and consideration of representations is familiar with the procedure set out in the Children Act 1989 Representations Procedure (England) Regulations 2006<sup>3</sup>; and
- 2009 (3) deal expeditiously in the handling and consideration of representations under those regulations<sup>4</sup>.

As soon as possible after having received representations a local authority must: (a) provide the complainant<sup>5</sup> with details of its procedure for considering representations and where relevant, information about advocacy services<sup>6</sup>; and (b) offer to the complainant assistance and guidance on following the representations procedure or advice on where he may obtain such assistance and guidance and, where relevant, help in obtaining an advocate<sup>7</sup>.

Where a local authority receives representations from a person falling within certain provisions of the Children Act 1989<sup>8</sup>, it must as soon as possible decide whether that person has a sufficient interest in the welfare of the child concerned to warrant his representations being considered by it<sup>9</sup>. In reaching such a decision the local authority must take into account the views of the child if it considers it appropriate to do so<sup>10</sup>. If the local authority decides that the person does have sufficient interest then it must consider the representations<sup>11</sup>. However, if it decides that the person does not have sufficient interest, then it must notify him of its decision and tell him no further action will be taken in respect of his representations<sup>12</sup>. The local authority must tell the child concerned of its decision if it considers it appropriate to do so<sup>13</sup>.

Every local authority must monitor the arrangements that it has made with a view to ensuring compliance with the Children Act 1989 Representations Procedure (England) Regulations 2006<sup>14</sup> in so far as they regulate the procedure for the consideration of representations relating to the requirement to review cases<sup>15</sup>. Local authorities must monitor those arrangements by keeping a record of each representation received<sup>16</sup>, the outcome of each such representation and whether there was compliance with the time limits specified in the regulations<sup>17</sup>. For the purposes of such monitoring, every local authority must as soon as possible after the end of each financial year<sup>18</sup> compile a report on the operation in that year of the procedure set out in the regulations<sup>19</sup>.

952. Local resolution.

Where a local authority<sup>1</sup> has received representations<sup>2</sup> from a complainant<sup>3</sup> then unless the complainant and the local authority agree that the representations should not be considered in accordance with these provisions<sup>4</sup>, the local authority must consider and try to resolve the representations as soon as is reasonably practicable and in any event within 10 working days of the start date<sup>5</sup>. The procedure followed by the local authority in considering such representations need not include the appointment of an independent person<sup>6</sup>.

Where the local authority and the complainant have resolved matters then the local authority must as soon as possible provide the complainant and, where one has been appointed, his advocate<sup>7</sup> with written details of the terms of the resolution<sup>8</sup>.

Where the local authority and the complainant have not resolved matters under the above provisions then the complainant or, where one has been appointed, his advocate may request orally or in writing that the representations be considered under provisions involving the appointment of an independent person<sup>9</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'local authority' see para 248 note 10 ante.

2 Representations may be made in writing or orally: Children Act 1989 Representations Procedure (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1738, reg 6.

4 Ie under the Children Act 1989 Representations Procedure (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1738, reg 14.

5 Ibid reg 14(1). For these purposes, the 'start date' means: (1) in the case where representations are received from a person falling within the Children Act 1989 s 26(3)(e), (3B)(b) or (3C)(c) (s 26(3B), (3C) as added) (see para 944 ante), the date on which the local authority decides that the person making the representations has a sufficient interest to warrant his representations being considered by it; (2) in the case where the complainant has asked for an advocate but as at the date on which the representations were received by the local authority an advocate had not been appointed for him, the date on which an advocate is appointed; (3) in any other case, the date on which the representations were received by the local authority: reg 14(3). However, the start date may, at the request of the complainant, be a date after that defined in heads (1)-(3) supra that the complainant agrees with the local authority: reg 14(4). The local authority may extend the period for considering representations under reg 14 by a maximum of 10 working days where it considers the representations to be complex: reg 14(5).

6 Ibid reg 14(2). For the meaning of 'independent person' see para 953 note 7 post.

7 'Advocate' means a person who provides assistance under arrangements made by a local authority under the Children Act 1989 s 26A(1) (as added) (see para 927 ante); and 'advocacy services' means assistance provided under such arrangements: see the Children Act 1989 Representations Procedure (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1738, reg 2(1).

SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(8) REPRESENTATIONS PROCEDURES/(ii) Representations Procedure in England/953. Investigation of representations.

953. Investigation of representations.

Where the complainant<sup>1</sup> and the local authority<sup>2</sup> have agreed that the representations<sup>3</sup> should not be considered in accordance with the provisions relating to local resolution<sup>4</sup> or where matters have failed to be resolved under those provisions and the complainant has made a request that representations be considered under the provisions set out below<sup>5</sup>, then the local authority must consider the representations in accordance with those provisions<sup>6</sup>.

The procedure followed by the local authority in considering representations must include the appointment of an independent person<sup>7</sup>. The local authority must consider the representations with the independent person and send notice<sup>8</sup> of its response to the complainant and, where one has been appointed, to his advocate within 25 working days of the start date<sup>9</sup>. The independent person must take part in any discussions which are held by the local authority about the action that the local authority will take in light of the matters which have been found in the consideration of the representations and the conclusions that the local authority draws from them<sup>10</sup>.

Representations may be withdrawn orally or in writing at any time by the complainant or, where one has been appointed, by his advocate<sup>11</sup>. The local authority must write to the complainant and, where one has been appointed, to his advocate to confirm the withdrawal of the representations<sup>12</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'complainant' see para 949 note 3 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'local authority' see para 248 note 10 ante.

3 Where the complainant has made his representations orally and he has agreed with the local authority that his representations should not be considered in accordance with the Children Act 1989 Representations Procedure (England) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/1738, reg 14 or made a request in accordance with reg 15(2) (see para 952 ante), the local authority must as soon as possible after reaching an agreement with the complainant or receiving a request from him prepare a written record of the representations, invite the complainant's comments on it and amend it as it considers necessary in light of the complainant's comments on its accuracy: reg 16(1), (2). The final written record prepared is treated as the representations for the purpose of regs 17-24: reg 16(3).

4 Ie in accordance with ibid reg 14 (see para 952 ante).

5 Ie the complainant has made a request under ibid reg 15(2) (see para 952 ante).

6 Ibid reg 17(1).

7 Ibid reg 17(2). 'Independent person' means a person who is neither a member nor an officer of the local authority to which the representations have been made, nor the spouse or civil partner or such a person: reg 2(1). As to the review panel see para 954 post.

8 The notice of the local authority's response sent in accordance with ibid reg 17(3) (see the text to note 9 infra) must include information about the complainant's right under reg 18 (see para 954 post) to request that the representations be further considered by a panel in accordance with reg 19 (see para 954 post) and the procedure for making such a request: reg 17(8).

9 Ibid reg 17(3). For these purposes, the 'start date' means the date on which: (1) the local authority and the complainant agreed in accordance with reg 14(1) (see para 952 ante) that the representations should not be considered under that regulation; or (2) the local authority received the complainant's request under reg 15(2) (see para 952 ante): reg 17(4). However, where the complainant made his representations orally then the 'start date' means the date on which the local authority produces the final written record of the representations in accordance with reg 16 (see note 3 supra): reg 17(5). If the local authority is not able to comply with the time limit provided for in reg 17(3) then it must, before that time limit has passed, tell the complainant in writing the reason for its failure to comply with the time limit, and the date, being no later than 65 working days from the start date, by which it will have concluded its consideration and sent notice of its response: reg 17(6).

954. Review panel.

Where the local authority<sup>6</sup> has received such a request it must appoint a review panel to consider the representations<sup>7</sup>. The panel must consist of three independent persons<sup>8</sup>, one of whom will chair the panel<sup>9</sup>. The panel must meet within 30 working days of the local authority receiving a request<sup>10</sup>. At its meeting the panel must consider any oral or written submissions made by the complainant or, where one has been appointed, by his advocate on his behalf, the local authority and such other person as the panel considers has sufficient interest in the representations to warrant his submissions being considered by it<sup>11</sup>. It must also consider any oral or written submissions which the independent person<sup>12</sup> wishes to make<sup>13</sup>.

If the complainant attends the meeting of the panel he may be accompanied throughout the meeting by his advocate, where one has been appointed, and by another person of his choice, and may nominate the advocate or that other person to speak on his behalf<sup>14</sup>.

After the meeting the panel must decide on its recommendations and compile a written report which must set out a brief summary of the representations and the panel's recommendations for the resolution of the issues raised in the representations<sup>15</sup>. Within five working days of the meeting the panel must send its report to the local authority, the complainant and, where one has been appointed, his advocate, the independent person and any other person whom the panel considers has sufficient interest in the case to warrant receiving such a notice<sup>16</sup>. Within 15 working days of receiving the panel's recommendations the local authority must, together with the independent person, consider the recommendations and determine how the authority will respond to them and what it proposes to do in the light of them, and send to the complainant its response and proposals, along with information about making a complaint to a Local Commissioner<sup>17</sup>.

3 For the meaning of 'advocate' see para 952 note 7 ante.

Every voluntary organisation who is providing accommodation for a child is required to consider any representations<sup>1</sup> (including any complaint) made to it by:

- 2010 (1) any child, other than one who is looked after by a local authority, who is being provided with accommodation by it<sup>2</sup>;

(iii) Representations Procedure in Wales

956. General principles.

Any representations procedure set up under the Children Act 1989 must be operated in accordance with the principle that where representations<sup>1</sup> are made by a person to whom certain provisions of the Children Act 1989 apply<sup>2</sup> the welfare of the complainant<sup>3</sup> should be safeguarded and promoted<sup>4</sup>. Account should be taken of the ascertainable wishes and feelings of the complainant<sup>5</sup>.

1 'Representations' means representations under the Children Act 1989 s 24D (as added) (see para 926 ante) or s 26 (as amended) (see para 936 et seq ante) or Sch 7 para 6(2) (see para 944 ante): Representations Procedure (Children) (Wales) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/3365, reg 2(1).

2 Ie the Children Act 1989 s 24D (as added) (see para 926 ante) or s 26(3)(a) (see para 944 ante).

3 'Complainant' means a person making representations under ibid s 24D (as added) (see para 926 ante) or a person falling within s 26(3)(a)-(e) (see para 944 ante) or a person making representations under Sch 7 para 6 (see para 944 ante): Representations Procedure (Children) (Wales) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/3365, reg 2(1). This provision refers to the Children Act 1989 s 26(a)-(e), but it is submitted it should be a reference to s 26(3)(a)-(e).

957. Setting up and monitoring of representations procedure.

Each local authority<sup>1</sup> must designate a senior officer to be responsible for seeking to ensure compliance with the arrangements made<sup>2</sup> by the local authority<sup>3</sup>.

Each local authority must appoint a complaints officer, to manage the procedures for handling and considering representations<sup>4</sup> and in particular:

- 2014 (1) to perform the functions of the complaints officer under the Representations Procedure (Children) (Wales) Regulations 2005<sup>5</sup>;
- 2015 (2) to perform such other functions in relation to representations as the local authority may require; and
- 2016 (3) to co-operate with such other persons or bodies as may be necessary in order to investigate representations<sup>6</sup>.

The functions of the complaints officer may be performed by any person authorised by the local authority to act on behalf of the complaints officer<sup>7</sup>. A complaints officer may be a person who is not an employee of the local authority and may be appointed as complaints officer for more than one body<sup>8</sup>.

Each local authority must ensure that its staff are informed about and appropriately trained in the operation of the representations procedure<sup>9</sup>.

Each local authority must monitor the arrangements that it has made with a view to ensuring that the local authority complies with the Representations Procedure (Children) (Wales) Regulations 2005<sup>10</sup> by keeping a record of each representation received, the outcome of each representation, and whether there was compliance with the time limits<sup>11</sup>.

Each local authority must prepare an annual report on its performance in handling and consideration of representations for the purposes of:

- 2017 (a) monitoring compliance with the Representations Procedure (Children) (Wales) Regulations 2005<sup>12</sup>; and
- 2018 (b) improving the handling and consideration of representations<sup>13</sup>.

1 'Local authority' means a county council or county borough council: Representations Procedure (Children) (Wales) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/3365, reg 2(1). as to local government areas and authorities in Wales see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 37 et seq.

958. Representations subject to concurrent consideration.

Where representations<sup>1</sup> relate to any matter:

- 2019 (1) about which the complainant<sup>2</sup> has stated in writing that he intends to take proceedings in any court or tribunal<sup>3</sup>; or
- 2020 (2) about which the local authority<sup>4</sup> is taking or is proposing to take disciplinary proceedings<sup>5</sup>; or
- 2021 (3) about which the local authority has been notified that an investigation is being conducted by any person or body in contemplation of criminal proceedings<sup>6</sup>; or
- 2022 (4) about which a meeting involving other bodies including the police has been convened to discuss issues relating to the protection of children<sup>7</sup>; or
- 2023 (5) about which the local authority has been notified that there are current investigations in contemplation of proceedings in relation to removal from the register<sup>8</sup>, the local authority must consider, in consultation with the complainant and any other person or body which it considers appropriate to consult, how the representations should be handled<sup>9</sup>. Such representations are for these purposes known as 'representations subject to concurrent consideration'<sup>10</sup>.

The consideration of representations subject to concurrent consideration may be discontinued if at any time it appears to the local authority that to continue would compromise or prejudice the other consideration<sup>11</sup>. However, where the local authority discontinues the consideration of any representations, it may at any time resume consideration of them<sup>12</sup>. Where the consideration of a complaint has been discontinued the local authority must ascertain the progress of the concurrent consideration and notify the complainant when it has been concluded<sup>13</sup>.

The local authority must resume consideration of any representations where the concurrent consideration is discontinued or completed and the complainant requests that the representations be considered<sup>14</sup>.

In any case<sup>1</sup> where representations<sup>2</sup> relate wholly or partly to services provided by an establishment or agency in respect of which a person is registered<sup>3</sup>, the local authority<sup>4</sup> receiving such representations must, within two working days of receipt:

- 2026 (1) send details of the whole of the representations or that part of any representation which relates to the registered service to the person registered as provider in respect of that establishment or agency<sup>5</sup>;
- 2027 (2) request the person to whom details are sent under head (1) above to notify the authority within 10 working days of receipt of the outcome of its consideration of the representations<sup>6</sup>; and
- 2028 (3) inform the complainant of the action taken under heads (1) and (2) above<sup>7</sup>.

However, heads (1) to (3) above do not apply where:

- 2029 (a) representations have already been considered by the registered person<sup>8</sup>; or
- 2030 (b) the local authority is of the opinion that to proceed under heads (1) to (3) above would be likely to compromise or prejudice an investigation of the representations<sup>9</sup>.

961. Handling and consideration of representations.

Representations<sup>1</sup> may be made orally or in writing (including electronically)<sup>2</sup>. As soon as possible after receiving the representations the local authority<sup>3</sup> must:

- 2031 (1) provide the complainant with details of the procedure set out in the Representations Procedure (Children) (Wales) Regulations 2005<sup>4</sup> and, where appropriate, information about advocacy services<sup>5</sup>;
- 2032 (2) offer the complainant assistance and guidance on following the procedure or advice on where he may obtain it and, where appropriate, help in obtaining an advocate<sup>6</sup>.

Where a local authority receives representations from a complainant falling within certain provisions of the Children Act 1989<sup>7</sup>, it must as soon as possible decide whether that person has a sufficient interest in the welfare of the child concerned to warrant the representations being considered by the local authority<sup>8</sup>. In reaching such a decision the local authority must take into account the ascertainable views of the child concerned<sup>9</sup>. If the local authority decides that the complainant does have sufficient interest then it must consider the representations<sup>10</sup>. However, if the local authority decides that the complainant does not have sufficient interest then it must notify the complainant of the decision and that no further action will be taken to consider the representations<sup>11</sup>.

Representations may be withdrawn orally or in writing at any time by the complainant or by an advocate<sup>12</sup>. The local authority must as soon as possible write to the complainant and any advocate to confirm the withdrawal of the representation<sup>13</sup>.

962. Local resolution.

The local authority<sup>1</sup> must take all reasonable steps to resolve the representations<sup>2</sup> as soon as is reasonably practicable and within 10 working days<sup>3</sup> beginning:

- 2033 (1) in the case of representations falling within certain provisions of the Children Act 1989<sup>4</sup>, on the date on which the local authority decides the complainant has a sufficient interest to warrant the representations being considered<sup>5</sup>;
- 2034 (2) in any other case, on the date on which the representations were received by the local authority<sup>6</sup>.

The procedure followed by the local authority in trying to resolve matters need not involve an independent person<sup>7</sup>. The local authority may in any case where it would be appropriate to do so, and with the agreement of the complainant, make arrangements for conciliation, mediation or other assistance for the purposes of resolving the representation<sup>8</sup>.

Where the representation is resolved the local authority must confirm in writing to the complainant the agreed resolution<sup>9</sup>. Where the representations have not been resolved within 20 working days, the local authority must, as soon as practicable, notify the complainant in writing of:

- 2035 (a) the complaint's right to request that the representations be formally considered<sup>10</sup>;
- 2036 (b) the procedure for requesting such further consideration<sup>11</sup>; and
- 2037 (c) the date by which such a request must be made having regard to the fact that the complainant may request orally or in writing that the representations be formally considered<sup>12</sup> at any time within 30 working days of the date on which the representations were first made<sup>13</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'local authority' see para 957 note 1 ante.

For the meaning of 'complainant' see para 956 note 3 ante. ### 963. Formal consideration.

Where the complainant<sup>1</sup> has requested formal consideration of the representations<sup>2</sup>, the local authority<sup>3</sup> must investigate the representations to the extent necessary and in the manner which appears to the authority most appropriate to resolve the representations speedily and efficiently<sup>4</sup>.

The local authority must compile a formal written record of the representations as soon as is reasonably practicable and send it to the complainant with an invitation to the complainant to comment on its accuracy<sup>5</sup>. The local authority must consider any comments made by the complainant and in the light of those comments make any amendments to the record which are necessary to ensure it is, in the opinion of the authority, an accurate record of the representations<sup>6</sup>.

Except where such arrangements have already been made<sup>7</sup>, the local authority may in any case where it would be appropriate to do so, and with the agreement of the complainant, make arrangements for conciliation, mediation or other assistance for the purposes of resolving the representations<sup>8</sup>.

The local authority must:

- 2038 (1) explain to the complainant how the representations will be investigated<sup>9</sup>;
and
- 2039 (2) send a copy of the representations to any person who is the subject of the representations unless this has already been done or notification at that time would prejudice the consideration of the representations<sup>10</sup>.

The local authority may invite the complainant and any other person whom the authority considers may be able to assist with the resolution of the representations to be interviewed<sup>11</sup> and take such advice as appears to the complaints officer to be required<sup>12</sup>.

The local authority must take all reasonable steps to keep the complainant informed about the progress of its formal consideration of the representations<sup>13</sup>.

An independent person must be appointed who must take part in any consideration of the representations by the local authority<sup>14</sup> and any discussions which are held by the local authority about the action to be taken in light of its findings in relation to the representations and conclusions it draws from them<sup>15</sup>.

964. Response.

The local authority<sup>1</sup> must prepare a written response to the representations<sup>2</sup> which:

- 2040 (1) summarises the nature and substance of the representations<sup>3</sup>;
- 2041 (2) describes the investigation for formal consideration<sup>4</sup> and summarises the conclusions<sup>5</sup>;
- 2042 (3) explains what action will be taken to resolve the representations<sup>6</sup>;
- 2043 (4) where appropriate, contains an apology to the complainant<sup>7</sup>; and
- 2044 (5) identifies what other action, if any, will be taken in the light of the representations<sup>8</sup>.

The response must be sent to the complainant within 25 working days beginning on the date on which the local authority received the request from the complainant for formal consideration<sup>9</sup>.

However, if, in the case of:

- 2045 (a) any representations where there has been difficulty in the determination of their nature or substance<sup>10</sup>;
- 2046 (b) representations which have been treated as subject to concurrent consideration<sup>11</sup>; or
- 2047 (c) any other representations where the complainant has agreed to a later response<sup>12</sup>, it is not possible for the response to be sent within 25 working days, the local authority must notify the complainant of the reason for the delay and the date by which it expects to send the response; and it must send that response as soon as reasonably practicable<sup>13</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'local authority' see para 957 note 1 ante. The response must include information about: (1) the complainant's right to request that the representations be further considered by an independent panel in accordance with provisions in regulations made under the Children Act 1989 s 26ZB (as added) (see para 927 ante); (2) the procedure for requesting such further consideration; and (3) the time within which such request must be made: Representations Procedure (Children) (Wales) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/3365, reg 18(4).

(i) Introduction to the Legislation

965. The provision of homes under the Children Act 1989 and the Care Standards Act 2000.

The registration and regulation of children's homes is now governed largely by the Care Standards Act 2000, although certain provisions of the Children Act 1989 relevant to such homes remain in force<sup>1</sup>.

There are three categories of children's home:

- 2048 (1) community homes, including controlled and assisted community homes<sup>2</sup>;
- 2049 (2) voluntary homes, provided by non-profit making organisations<sup>3</sup>; and
- 2050 (3) private children's homes<sup>4</sup>.

The regulation of these homes is governed by the Care Standards Act 2000, as part of a wider system of regulation of residential establishments and agencies<sup>5</sup>. The Act also governs care homes and residential family centres<sup>6</sup>.

966. The usual fostering limit.

The Children Act 1989 makes provision limiting the number of foster children that foster parents may have before being deemed to be running a children's home<sup>1</sup>. In general, a person may not foster<sup>2</sup> more than three children, and this is known as the usual fostering limit<sup>3</sup>. A person ceases to be treated as fostering and is treated<sup>4</sup> as carrying on a children's home if<sup>5</sup>:

- 2051 (1) he exceeds the usual fostering limit<sup>6</sup>; or
- 2052 (2) where he is exempted by a local authority<sup>7</sup> he fosters any child not named in the exemption, and in so doing, he exceeds the usual fostering limit<sup>8</sup>.

However, a person may exceed the usual fostering limit if:

- 2053 (a) the children concerned are all siblings with respect to each other<sup>9</sup>; or
- 2054 (b) the local authority within whose area he lives exempts him from the limit<sup>10</sup>.

In considering whether to exempt a person, a local authority must have regard, in particular, to<sup>11</sup>:

- 2055 (i) the number of children whom he proposes to foster<sup>12</sup>;
- 2056 (ii) the arrangements which he proposes for the care and accommodation of the fostered children<sup>13</sup>;
- 2057 (iii) the intended and likely relationship between the person and the fostered children<sup>14</sup>;
- 2058 (iv) the period of time for which he proposes to foster the children<sup>15</sup>; and
- 2059 (v) whether the welfare of the fostered children (and of any other children who are or will be living in the accommodation) will be safeguarded and promoted<sup>16</sup>.

Where a local authority does exempt a person from the usual fostering limit, it must inform him by notice in writing that he is so exempted, of the children, described by name, whom he may foster<sup>17</sup>, and of any condition to which the exemption is subject<sup>18</sup>. A local authority may at any time by notice in writing vary or cancel an exemption, or impose, vary or cancel a condition; and, in considering whether to do so, it must have regard in particular to heads (i) to (v) above<sup>19</sup>.

The Secretary of State or the Welsh Ministers<sup>20</sup> may make regulations amplifying or modifying these provisions in order to provide for cases where children need to be placed with foster parents as a matter of urgency<sup>21</sup>.

Every local authority must establish procedures for considering representations (including complaints) about the discharge of its functions in relation to exemptions from the usual fostering limit<sup>22</sup>.

1 See the Children Act 1989 s 63(12), Sch 7 (amended).

2 A person fosters a child if: (1) he is a local authority foster parent (see paras 249 note 13, 900 et seq ante) in relation to the child; (2) he is a foster parent with whom the child has been placed by a voluntary organisation (see paras 900 et seq ante, 975 post); or (3) he fosters the child privately (see para 1049 post): ibid Sch 7 para 1. ## (ii) Community Homes

967. Provision of community homes.

A local authority<sup>1</sup> may provide accommodation and maintenance for any child whom it is looking after<sup>2</sup> by maintaining him in an appropriate children's home<sup>3</sup>. A voluntary organisation<sup>4</sup> may provide accommodation for a child by maintaining him in an appropriate children's home<sup>5</sup>. Such a home may be a community home<sup>6</sup>.

Every local authority must make such arrangements as it considers appropriate for securing that community homes are available<sup>7</sup>:

- 2060 (1) for the care and accommodation of children looked after by it<sup>8</sup>; and
- 2061 (2) for purposes connected with the welfare of children (whether or not looked after by it)<sup>9</sup>, and may do so jointly with one or more other local authorities<sup>10</sup>. In making arrangements for securing that community homes are available, a local authority must have regard to the need for ensuring the availability of accommodation of different descriptions and which is suitable for different purposes and the requirements of different descriptions of children<sup>11</sup>.

A community home may be a home<sup>12</sup>:

- 2062 (a) provided, equipped, maintained<sup>13</sup> and managed by a local authority<sup>14</sup>; or
- 2063 (b) provided by a voluntary organisation<sup>15</sup>.

A local authority may make arrangements for the management by another person of accommodation provided by the local authority for the purpose of restricting the liberty of children<sup>16</sup>. In the case of head (b) above the local authority and the organisation may propose that:

- 2064 (i) in accordance with an instrument of management the equipment, maintenance and<sup>17</sup> management of the home are the responsibility of the local authority<sup>18</sup>; or
- 2065 (ii) the management, equipment and maintenance of the home are the responsibility of the voluntary organisation<sup>19</sup>.

Where a local authority is to be responsible for the management of a community home provided by a voluntary organisation, the local authority may, with the consent of the body of managers constituted by the instrument of management for the home, make arrangements for the management by another person of accommodation provided for the purpose of restricting the liberty of children<sup>20</sup>.

Where a local authority is to be responsible for the management of a community home provided by a voluntary organisation, the authority must designate the home as a controlled community home<sup>21</sup>. Where a voluntary organisation is to be responsible for the management of a community home provided by the organisation, the local authority must designate the home as an assisted community home<sup>22</sup>.

However, this does not apply to the function of managing a community home, or any part of a community home, which is provided for the purpose of restricting the liberty of children under the age of 18: art 2(2). SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(9) CHILDREN'S HOMES/(ii) Community Homes/968. Management and conduct of community homes: the instrument of management.

968. Management and conduct of community homes: the instrument of management.

The Secretary of State and the Welsh Ministers<sup>1</sup> may make by order an instrument of management providing for the constitution of a body of managers for any home which is designated as a controlled or assisted community home<sup>2</sup>. A single instrument of management may be made constituting one body of managers for two or more homes<sup>3</sup> designated as controlled community homes or as assisted community homes<sup>4</sup>, provided that those homes are, or are to be, provided by the same voluntary organisation<sup>5</sup> and the same local authority<sup>6</sup> is to be represented on the body of managers for those homes<sup>7</sup>.

The number of persons who in accordance with an instrument of management constitute the body of managers for a home must be such a number, being a multiple of three, as may be specified in the instrument<sup>8</sup>. The instrument must provide that the local authority specified in the instrument is to appoint, in the case of a controlled community home, two-thirds of the managers, and in the case of an assisted community home, one-third of them<sup>9</sup>. It must also provide that the foundation managers<sup>10</sup> are to be appointed in such manner and by such persons as may be specified in the instrument<sup>11</sup>:

- 2066 (1) so as to represent the interests of the voluntary organisation by which the home is, or is to be, provided<sup>12</sup>; and
- 2067 (2) for the purpose of securing, so far as is practicable, that the character of the home will be preserved<sup>13</sup> and that the terms of any trust deed relating to the home are observed<sup>14</sup>.

The instrument of management may contain such provisions as the Secretary of State considers or the Welsh Ministers consider appropriate<sup>15</sup>, but nothing in it affects the purposes for which the premises comprising the home are held<sup>16</sup>. It may contain provisions<sup>17</sup>:

- 2068 (a) specifying the nature and purpose of the home or each of the homes to which it relates<sup>18</sup>;
- 2069 (b) requiring a specified number or proportion of the places in that home or those homes to be made available to local authorities and to any other body specified in the instrument<sup>19</sup>; and
- 2070 (c) relating to the management of that home or those homes and the charging of fees with respect to children placed there or places made available to any local authority or other body<sup>20</sup>.

In the event of any inconsistency between the provisions of any trust deed and an instrument of management, the instrument of management prevails over the provisions of the trust deed in so far as they relate to the home concerned<sup>21</sup>.

The Secretary of State or the Welsh Ministers, after consultation with the voluntary organisation concerned and with the local authority specified in the instrument of management, may by order vary or revoke any provisions of the instrument of management<sup>22</sup>.

An instrument of management comes into force on such date as it may specify<sup>23</sup>, and when an instrument is in force the home is known as a 'controlled community home' or 'assisted community home', according to its designation<sup>24</sup>.

969. Management of controlled and assisted community homes.

The management, equipment and maintenance of a controlled community home<sup>1</sup> is the responsibility of the local authority<sup>2</sup> specified in its instrument of management<sup>3</sup>, whereas the management, equipment and maintenance of an assisted community home<sup>4</sup> is the responsibility of the voluntary organisation<sup>5</sup> by which the home is provided<sup>6</sup>.

The functions of the home's responsible body<sup>7</sup> are exercised through the managers, except in so far as any of the accommodation is to be managed by another person<sup>8</sup>. Anything done, liability incurred or property acquired by a home's managers is done, incurred or acquired by them as agents of the responsible body<sup>9</sup>; but matters may be reserved for the decision of a home's responsible body<sup>10</sup> by the instrument of management or by the service by the responsible body on the managers or any of them of a notice reserving any matter<sup>11</sup>. In such a case, the matter must be dealt with by the responsible body and not by the managers<sup>12</sup>.

Where the instrument of management of a controlled community home so provides, the responsible body may enter into arrangements with the voluntary organisation by which the home is provided whereby, in accordance with such terms as may be agreed, persons who are not in the employment of the responsible body will undertake duties at that home<sup>13</sup>.

Where the responsible body for an assisted community home proposes to engage any person to work at that home or to terminate without notice the employment of any person at that home, it must consult the local authority specified in the instrument of management and, if that authority so directs, the responsible body must not carry out its proposal without the authority's consent<sup>14</sup>. Furthermore, the local authority may after consultation with the responsible body require the body to terminate the employment of any person at that home<sup>15</sup>. These provisions do not apply, however, in such cases or circumstances as may be specified by notice in writing given by the local authority to the responsible body or in relation to the employment of any persons or class of persons specified in the home's instrument of management<sup>16</sup>.

The accounting year of the managers is such as may be specified by the responsible body<sup>17</sup>. Before such date in each accounting year as may be so specified, the managers must submit to the responsible body estimates, in such form as the responsible body may require, of expenditure and receipts in respect of the next accounting year<sup>18</sup>. The managers of a home must keep proper accounts with respect to the home and proper records in relation to the accounts<sup>19</sup>. Expenses incurred by the managers of a home with the approval of the responsible body must be defrayed by that body<sup>20</sup>.

970. Regulations.

The Secretary of State and the Welsh Ministers<sup>1</sup> may make regulations as to the placing of children<sup>2</sup> in community children's homes<sup>3</sup>. Regulations have been made in pursuance of this power<sup>4</sup>.

1 As to the Secretary of State and the Welsh Ministers see para 155 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'child' see para 3 ante.

3 Children Act 1989 s 53(6), Sch 4 para 4(1)(a). As to the meaning of 'community home' see para 967 ante.

SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(9) CHILDREN'S HOMES/(ii) Community Homes/971. Determination of disputes relating to controlled and assisted community homes.

971. Determination of disputes relating to controlled and assisted community homes.

Where there is a dispute relating to a controlled community home<sup>1</sup> between the local authority<sup>2</sup> specified in the home's instrument of management<sup>3</sup> and the voluntary organisation<sup>4</sup> by which the home is provided or any other local authority which has placed or desires to place or is required to place in the home a child who is looked after<sup>5</sup> by it, the dispute may be referred by either party to the Secretary of State or the Welsh Ministers<sup>6</sup> for his or their determination<sup>7</sup>. There is similar provision where a dispute arises relating to an assisted community home<sup>8</sup> between the voluntary organisation by which the home is provided and a local authority<sup>9</sup>.

Where a dispute is referred to the Secretary of State or the Welsh Ministers he or they may give such directions as he thinks or they think fit to the local authority or voluntary organisation concerned in order to give effect to the determination<sup>10</sup>. These provisions apply even though the matter in dispute may be one which is reserved for the decision of, or is the responsibility of, the local authority specified in the instrument of management or the voluntary organisation by which the home is provided<sup>11</sup>. However, where any trust deed<sup>12</sup> relating to a controlled or assisted community home contains provision whereby a bishop or any other ecclesiastical or denominational authority has power to decide questions relating to religious instruction given in the home, no dispute which is capable of being dealt with in accordance with that provision may be referred to the Secretary of State or Welsh Ministers<sup>13</sup>.

SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(9) CHILDREN'S HOMES/(ii) Community Homes/972. Discontinuance by voluntary organisation of controlled or assisted community home.

972. Discontinuance by voluntary organisation of controlled or assisted community home.

A voluntary organisation<sup>1</sup> which provides a controlled or assisted community home<sup>2</sup> must not cease to provide the home except after giving to the Secretary of State or the Welsh Ministers<sup>3</sup> and the local authority<sup>4</sup> specified in the home's instrument of management<sup>5</sup> not less than two years' notice in writing of its intention to do so<sup>6</sup>. Where such a notice is given and not withdrawn before the specified date, the instrument of management ceases to have effect on that date, and the home then ceases to be a controlled or assisted community home<sup>7</sup>. Where such notice is given and the home's managers give notice in writing to the Secretary of State or the Welsh Ministers that they are unable or unwilling to continue as its managers until the date specified in the notice, the Secretary of State or the Welsh Ministers may by order<sup>8</sup>:

- 2071 (1) revoke the instrument of management<sup>9</sup>; and
- 2072 (2) require the local authority which was specified in that instrument to conduct the home until that date, or such earlier date as may be specified for the purpose in the order, as if it were a community home provided by the local authority<sup>10</sup>.

Where a local authority is required to conduct the home under these provisions:

- 2073 (a) nothing in the trust deed<sup>11</sup> for the home affects the conduct of the home by the local authority<sup>12</sup>;
- 2074 (b) the Secretary of State or the Welsh Ministers may by order direct that for the purposes of any provision specified in the direction and made by or under any enactment relating to community homes<sup>13</sup> the home, until the date or earlier date specified as mentioned above, must be treated as a controlled or assisted community home<sup>14</sup>;
- 2075 (c) except in so far as the Secretary of State or the Welsh Ministers may direct to the contrary, the home must until that date be treated for the purposes of any such enactment as a community home provided by the local authority<sup>15</sup>; and
- 2076 (d) on that date or the earlier date specified as mentioned above the home will cease to be a community home<sup>16</sup>.

973. Closure by local authority of controlled or assisted community home.

The local authority<sup>1</sup> specified in the instrument of management<sup>2</sup> for a controlled or assisted community home<sup>3</sup> may give the Secretary of State or the Welsh Ministers<sup>4</sup> and the voluntary organisation<sup>5</sup> by which the home is provided not less than two years' notice in writing of its intention to withdraw the designation of the home as a controlled or assisted community home<sup>6</sup> from a specified date<sup>7</sup>. If the home's managers<sup>8</sup> give notice in writing to the Secretary of State or the Welsh Ministers that they are unable or unwilling to continue as managers until that date and the managers' notice is not withdrawn, the Secretary of State or the Welsh Ministers may by order revoke the home's instrument of management from such date earlier than the specified date as may be specified in the order<sup>9</sup>, but before doing so he or they must consult the local authority and the voluntary organisation<sup>10</sup>. Where a notice of withdrawal of designation has been given and is not withdrawn, the instrument of management ceases to have effect on<sup>11</sup>:

- 2077 (1) the specified date<sup>12</sup>; or
- 2078 (2) where an earlier date has been specified in accordance with the provisions set out above<sup>13</sup>, that earlier date<sup>14</sup>,

SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(9) CHILDREN'S HOMES/(ii) Community Homes/974. Financial provisions on cessation of controlled or assisted community home.

974. Financial provisions on cessation of controlled or assisted community home.

- 2079 (1) where the instrument of management<sup>4</sup> for the home is revoked or ceases to have effect<sup>5</sup>; and 2080 (2) where any premises<sup>6</sup> used for the purposes of such a home are at any time after 13 January 1987 disposed of<sup>7</sup> or put to use otherwise than for those purposes<sup>8</sup>.

Where the instrument of management in force at the relevant time related to a controlled community home, or to an assisted community home which at any time before the instrument came into force was a controlled community home, the appropriate compensation is a sum equal to that part of the value of the premises attributable to expenditure incurred by the authority which was then the responsible authority<sup>9</sup> in relation to the premises while the home was a controlled community home<sup>10</sup>. Where the instrument of management in force at the relevant time relates to an assisted community home or to a controlled community home which at any time before the instrument came into force was an assisted community home, the appropriate compensation is a sum equal to that part of the value of the premises attributable to the expenditure of money provided by way of grant under certain statutory provisions<sup>11</sup>.

Where the home is conducted in premises which formerly were used as an approved school or were an approved probation hostel or home, the appropriate compensation is a sum equal to that part of the value of the premises attributable to the expenditure of sums paid under statutory provisions relating to approved schools and probation hostels<sup>12</sup>.

The compensation is payable:

- 2081 (a) where the instrument of management related to a controlled community home, or to an assisted community home which at any time before the instrument came into force was a controlled community home, to the authority which was the responsible authority<sup>13</sup>; and 2082 (b) in any other case, to the Secretary of State or the Welsh Ministers<sup>14</sup>.

The amount of sums payable by way of compensation must be determined in accordance with arrangements agreed between the voluntary organisation by which the home is provided at the relevant time and the responsible authority or, as the case may be, the Secretary of State or the Welsh Ministers; or in default of agreement it must be as may be determined in accordance with arrangements made by the Secretary of State or the Welsh Ministers<sup>15</sup>.

Liability to pay compensation may be discharged, with the agreement of the responsible authority or, as the case may be, the Secretary of State or the Welsh Ministers, in whole or in part by the transfer of any premises<sup>16</sup>.

1 'Proprietor' means the voluntary organisation by which the home is at the relevant time provided, or if the premises are not at the relevant time vested in that organisation, the persons in whom they are vested: Children Act 1989 s 58(6). For the meaning of 'voluntary organisation' see para 248 note 10 ante. 'Relevant time' means the time immediately before the liability to pay compensation arises: s 58(6).

- 2 As to the designation of controlled or assisted community homes see para 967 ante.
- 3 Children Act 1989 s 58(1). - 6 'Premises' means any premises or part of premises, including land, used for purposes of the home and belonging to the proprietor: Children Act 1989 s 58(6).
- 7 'Disposal' includes the grant of a tenancy and any other conveyance, assignment, transfer, grant, variation or extinguishment of an interest in or right over land, whether made by instrument or otherwise: ibid s 58(6).
- 8 Ibid s 58(1)(b). An event of this kind is taken to have occurred, in the case of a disposal, on the date on which the disposal was completed (or in the case of a disposal which is effected by a series of transactions, the date on which the last of those transactions was completed); and, in the case of premises which are put to different use, on the date on which they first began to be put to their new use: s 58(7).

(iii) Voluntary Organisations and Voluntary Homes

975. Provision of accommodation by voluntary organisations.

Where a voluntary organisation<sup>4</sup> provides accommodation for a child it must do so by<sup>5</sup>:

- 2083 (1) placing him<sup>6</sup> with a family, a relative<sup>7</sup> of his, or any other suitable person on such terms as to payment by the organisation and otherwise as the organisation may determine<sup>8</sup>;
- 2084 (2) maintaining him in an appropriate children's home<sup>9</sup>; or
- 2085 (3) making such other arrangements<sup>10</sup> as seem appropriate<sup>11</sup>.

The Secretary of State or the Welsh Ministers may make regulations requiring any voluntary organisation who is providing accommodation for a while to review his case and to consider any representations (including any complaint) made by any person falling within a prescribed class of person, in accordance with the provisions of the regulations<sup>12</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'local authority' see para 248 note 10 ante.

2 As to the meaning of 'look after' where a local authority looks after a child see para 867 ante. For the meaning of 'child' see para 3 ante.

6 This is subject to ibid s 59(2), whereby the Secretary of State has or the Welsh Ministers have the power to make regulations as to the placing of children with foster parents by voluntary organisations. Such regulations may, in particular, make provision which (with any necessary modifications) is similar to the provision that may be made under s 23(2)(a) (see paras 877-878 ante): s 59(2). As to such regulations see the Arrangements for Placement of Children (General) Regulations 1991, SI 1991/890 (as amended; revoked in relation to Wales) (see para 879 et seq ante), the Fostering Services Regulations 2002, SI 2002/57 (as amended) (see para 900 et seq ante), the Fostering Services (Wales) Regulations 2003, SI 2003/237 (as amended) (see para 900 et seq ante) and the Placement of Children (Wales) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/310 (see para 879 et seq ante). As to the Secretary of State and the Welsh Ministers see para 155 ante.

As to the standard scale see para 132 note 2 ante. As to offences under the Children Act 1989 committed by bodies corporate see para 551 note 3 ante.

7 For the meaning of 'relative' see para 249 note 15 ante.

to any person with whom any child is placed by that organisation under the Children Act 1989 s 59(1)(a): see the Children Act 2004 s 49(1)(b), (2). As to placements generally see para 878 et seq ante.

9 Children Act 1989 s 59(1)(aa) (added by the Care Standards Act 2000 Sch 4 para 14(8)). Where, under the Children Act 1989 s 59(1)(aa) (as added), a local authority maintains a child in a home provided, equipped and maintained by the Secretary of State or the Welsh Ministers under s 82(5) (see para 158 ante), it must do so on such terms as the Secretary of State or the Welsh Ministers may from time to time determine: s 59(1A) (added by the Care Standards Act 2000 Sch 4 para 14(1), (8)(b)).

10 This is subject to the Children Act 1989 s 59(3), whereby the Secretary of State or the Welsh Ministers may make regulations as to the arrangements which may be made under s 59(1)(f): s 59(3). Such regulations may, in particular, make provision which (with any necessary modifications) is similar to the provision that may be made under s 23(2)(f) (see paras 877-878 ante): s 59(3). Regulations made under the Children Act 1989 s 59(2)-(4) may provide that any person who, without reasonable excuse, contravenes or fails to comply with a regulation is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 4 on the standard scale: s 59(6).

11 Ibid s 59(1)(f).

12 Ibid s 59(4). Such regulations may in particular make provision which (with any necessary modifications) is similar to the provision that may be made under s 26 (see para 936 ante): s 59(5). As to such regulations see the Adoption Agencies Regulations 2005, SI 2005/389 (as amended) (see para 427 et seq ante), the Adoption Agencies Regulations 2005, SI 2005/1313 (as amended) (see para 427 ante) and the Representations Procedure (Children) (Wales) Regulations 2005, SI 2007/307 (see para 936 et seq ante).

977. Duties of voluntary organisation concerning accommodation of children.

Where a child<sup>1</sup> is accommodated by or on behalf of a voluntary organisation<sup>2</sup>, it is the duty of the organisation to<sup>3</sup>:

- 2086 (1) safeguard and promote his welfare<sup>4</sup>;
- 2087 (2) make such use of the services and facilities available for children cared for by their own parents as appears to the organisation reasonable in his case<sup>5</sup>; and
- 2088 (3) advise, assist and befriend him with a view to promoting his welfare when he ceases to be so accommodated<sup>6</sup>.

Before making any decision with respect to any such child, the organisation must so far as is reasonably practicable ascertain the wishes and feelings, regarding the matter to be decided, of the child, his parents, any person who is not a parent of his but who has parental responsibility<sup>7</sup> for him, and any other person whose wishes and feelings the organisation considers to be relevant<sup>8</sup>. In making any such decision the organisation must give due consideration:

- 2089 (a) having regard to the child's age and understanding, to such wishes and feelings of his<sup>9</sup>;
- 2090 (b) to such other wishes and feelings of those other persons, as it has been able to ascertain<sup>10</sup>; and
- 2091 (c) to the child's religious persuasion, racial origin and cultural and linguistic background<sup>11</sup>.

SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(9) CHILDREN'S HOMES/(iii) Voluntary Organisations and Voluntary Homes/978. Disqualification in relation to voluntary homes.

978. Disqualification in relation to voluntary homes.

A person who is disqualified from fostering a child privately<sup>1</sup> must not carry on, or be otherwise concerned in the management of, or have any financial interest in, any children's home<sup>2</sup> unless he has disclosed to the appropriate authority<sup>3</sup> the fact that he is so disqualified, and obtained its written consent<sup>4</sup>. No person may employ a person so disqualified in a voluntary home unless he has disclosed to the appropriate authority the fact that that person is so disqualified, and obtained its written consent<sup>5</sup>.

Where the appropriate authority refuses to give its consent in either case, it must inform the person carrying on or intending to carry on the voluntary home by a written notice which states the reason for the refusal, the right to appeal against the refusal<sup>6</sup>, and the time within which he may do so<sup>7</sup>.

Contravention of either of the above prohibitions is an offence, punishable on summary conviction with imprisonment or a fine or both<sup>8</sup>.

As to the grounds for disqualification see the Disqualification from Caring for Children Regulations 2002, SI 2002/635, reg 2; and the Disqualification from Caring for Children (Wales) Regulations 2004, SI 2004/2695, reg 4.

2    For the meaning of 'children's home' see para 983 post.

3    'Appropriate authority' means, in relation to England, Her Majesty's Chief Inspector of Education, Children's Services and Skills: Children Act 1989 s 65(6)(a) (s 65(6) added by the Care Standards Act 2000 s 116, Sch 4 para 14(1), (13)(d); and amended by the Education and Inspections Act 2006 s 157, Sch 14 paras 9, 12). As to Her Majesty's Chief Inspector of Education, Children's Services and Skills see para 196 ante; and EDUCATION. The Children Act 1989 s 65(6)(b) (as so added) provides that, in relation to Wales, the 'appropriate authority' means the National Assembly for Wales; by virtue of the Government of Wales Act 2006 such powers are now conferred on the Welsh Ministers (see para 155 ante). However, in practice the body dealing with matters relating to children's services in Wales is the Care and Social Services Inspectorate Wales: see para 198 ante.

6    An appeal against a decision of an appropriate authority under ibid s 65 (as amended) lies to the Tribunal established under the Protection of Children Act 1999 s 9 (as amended) (see para 708 ante): Children Act 1989 s 65A(1) (s 65A added by the Care Standards Act 2000 Sch 4 para 14(1), (14)). 7    Ibid s 65(3) (amended by the Care Standards Act 2000 Sch 4 para 14).

8    See the Children Act 1989 s 65(4). A person guilty of such an offence is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months or to a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale or to both: see s 65(4). As to the standard scale see para 132 note 2 ante.

SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(9) CHILDREN'S HOMES/(iii) Voluntary Organisations and Voluntary Homes/979. Local authority duties in respect of children accommodated by voluntary organisations.

979. Local authority duties in respect of children accommodated by voluntary organisations.

Every local authority<sup>1</sup> must satisfy itself that any voluntary organisation<sup>2</sup> providing accommodation within the authority's area for any child<sup>3</sup>, or outside that area for any child on behalf of the authority, is satisfactorily safeguarding and promoting the welfare of such children<sup>4</sup>. The authority must arrange for children who are accommodated within its area by or on behalf of voluntary organisations to be visited, from time to time, in the interests of their welfare<sup>5</sup>. Regulations may be made requiring every child who is accommodated within a local authority's area, by or on behalf of a voluntary organisation, to be visited by an officer of the authority in prescribed circumstances and on specified occasions or within specified periods<sup>6</sup>.

If a local authority is not satisfied that the welfare of any child who is accommodated by or on behalf of a voluntary organisation is being satisfactorily safeguarded or promoted, it must<sup>7</sup>:

- 2092 (1) unless it considers that it would not be in the best interests of the child to do so, take such steps as are reasonably practicable to secure that the care and accommodation of the child is undertaken by a parent of his, any person who is not a parent of his but who has parental responsibility<sup>8</sup> for him, or a relative<sup>9</sup> of his<sup>10</sup>; and
- 2093 (2) consider the extent to which, if at all it should exercise any of its functions with respect to the child<sup>11</sup>.

Any person authorised by the local authority may: (a) enter and inspect premises in which children are being accommodated<sup>12</sup>; (b) inspect any children there<sup>13</sup>; and (c) require any person to furnish him with records of a kind required to be kept<sup>14</sup> (in whatever form they are held), or allow him to inspect such records, as he may at any time direct<sup>15</sup>. Any person exercising such a power must on request produce some duly authenticated document showing his authority to do so<sup>16</sup>. Any person authorised to exercise the power to inspect records is entitled at any reasonable time to have access to and inspect and check the operation of any computer and any associated apparatus or material which is or has been used in connection with the records in question, and may require persons connected with the operation of the computer to assist him<sup>17</sup>. Intentional obstruction of a person authorised to enter premises or inspect records is an offence punishable on summary conviction with a fine<sup>18</sup>.

The Secretary of State or the Welsh Ministers may make regulations imposing requirements to be met by any local authority or its officer carrying out functions under the provisions described above<sup>19</sup>.

(iv) Private Homes for Children

980. Welfare of children.

Where a child<sup>1</sup> is accommodated in a private children's home<sup>2</sup> it is the duty of the person carrying on the home to<sup>3</sup>:

- 2094 (1) safeguard and promote the child's welfare<sup>4</sup>;
- 2095 (2) make such use of the services and facilities available for children cared for by their own parents as appears to that person reasonable in the case of the child<sup>5</sup>; and
- 2096 (3) advise, assist and befriend him with a view to promoting his welfare when he ceases to be so accommodated<sup>6</sup>.

Before making any decision with respect to any such child, the person carrying on the home must, so far as is reasonably practicable, ascertain the wishes and feelings, regarding the matter to be decided, of<sup>7</sup>: (a) the child<sup>8</sup>; (b) his parents<sup>9</sup>; (c) any other person who is not a parent of his but who has parental responsibility for him<sup>10</sup>; and (d) any person whose wishes and feelings the person carrying on the home considers to be relevant<sup>11</sup>. In making any such decision the person concerned must give due consideration<sup>12</sup>:

- 2097 (i) having regard to the child's age and understanding, to such wishes and feelings of his as he has been able to ascertain<sup>13</sup>;
- 2098 (ii) to such other wishes and feelings of the other persons mentioned in heads (a) to (d) above as he has been able to ascertain<sup>14</sup>; and
- 2099 (iii) to the child's religious persuasion, racial origin and cultural and linguistic background<sup>15</sup>.

981. Duty of local authority to supervise children's homes.

SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(9) CHILDREN'S HOMES/(iv) Private Homes for Children/982. Disqualification from carrying on or being employed in children's homes.

982. Disqualification from carrying on or being employed in children's homes.

A person who is disqualified from fostering a child privately<sup>1</sup> may not carry on, or be otherwise concerned in the management of, or have any financial interest in, a private children's home<sup>2</sup> unless he has disclosed to the appropriate authority<sup>3</sup> the fact that he is disqualified, and obtained its written consent<sup>4</sup>. Furthermore, no person may employ a person who is so disqualified in a private children's home unless he has disclosed to the responsible authority the fact that that person is so disqualified, and obtained its written consent<sup>5</sup>. Where an authority refuses consent under these provisions, it must inform the applicant by a written notice which states the reason for the refusal, the applicant's right of appeal against the refusal<sup>6</sup> and the time within which such an appeal may be made<sup>7</sup>.

It is an offence to contravene these provisions<sup>8</sup>.

6    An appeal against a decision of an appropriate authority under ibid s 65 (as amended) lies to the Tribunal established under the Protection of Children Act 1999 s 9 (as amended) (see para 708 ante); and on such an appeal the Tribunal may confirm the authority's decision or direct it to give the consent in question: Children Act 1989 s 65A(1), (2) (added by the Care Standards Act 2000 Sch 4 para 14(1), (14)).

SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(9) CHILDREN'S HOMES/(v) Registered Children's Homes under the Care Standards Act 2000/983. Meaning of 'children's home'.

(v) Registered Children's Homes under the Care Standards Act 2000

983. Meaning of 'children's home'.

An establishment is a children's home if it provides care and accommodation wholly or mainly for children<sup>1</sup>. However, an establishment is not a children's home:

- 2100 (1) merely because a child is cared for and accommodated there by a parent<sup>2</sup> or relative<sup>3</sup> of his or by a foster parent<sup>4</sup>;
- 2101 (2) if it is a health service hospital<sup>5</sup>, an independent hospital<sup>6</sup>, an independent clinic<sup>7</sup>, a residential family centre<sup>8</sup> or of a description excepted by regulations<sup>9</sup>;
- 2102 (3) if it is a school<sup>10</sup>.

However, a school is a children's home at any time if at that time accommodation is provided for children at the school and either:

- 2103 (a) in each year<sup>11</sup> that fell within the period of two years ending at that time, accommodation was provided for children, either at the school or under arrangements made by the proprietor<sup>12</sup> of the school, for more than 295 days<sup>13</sup>; or
- 2104 (b) it is intended to provide accommodation for children, either at the school or under arrangements made by the proprietor of the school, for more than 295 days in any year<sup>14</sup>.

1 Care Standards Act 2000 s 1(1), (2). 'Child' means a person under the age of 18: s 121(1).

2 'Parent', in relation to a child, includes any person who is not a parent of his but who has parental responsibility for him: ibid s 121(1). For the meaning of 'parental responsibility' see para 134 ante; definition applied by s 121(1).

3 For the meaning of 'relative' see para 249 note 15 ante; definition applied by ibid s 121(1).

4 Ibid s 1(3). For this purpose, a person is a foster parent in relation to a child if: (1) he is a local authority foster parent in relation to the child; (2) he is a foster parent with whom a child has been placed by a voluntary organisation under the Children Act 1989 s 59(1)(a) (see para 975 ante); or (3) he fosters the child privately: Care Standards Act 2000 s 1(7). As to the meaning of 'local authority foster parent' see para 249 note 13 ante; definition applied by s 121(1). For the meaning of 'voluntary organisation' see para 395 note 3 ante; definition applied by the Care Standards Act 2000 s 121(1) (amended by Adoption and Children Act 2002 s 104). For the meaning of 'foster a child privately' see para 1049 ante; definition applied by the Care Standards Act 2000 s 121(1).

5 Ibid s 1(4)(a). For these purposes, 'health service hospital' has the same meaning as in the National Health Service Act 2006 or the National Health Service (Wales) Act 2006 (see HEALTH SERVICES vol 54 (2008) PARA 21): Care Standards Act 2000 s 121(1) (definition amended by the National Health Service (Consequential Provisions) Act 2006 s 2, Sch 1 paras 198, 200).

6 A hospital which is not a health service hospital is an 'independent hospital': Care Standards Act 2000 s 2(1), (2). 'Hospital' (except in the expression 'health service hospital') means:

- 724 (1) an establishment, the main purpose of which is to provide medical or psychiatric treatment for illness or mental disorder or palliative care, or in which (whether or not other services are also provided) any of the following listed services are provided (s 2(3)(a)):

22. (a) medical treatment under anaesthesia or sedation (s 2(7)(a));
23. (b) dental treatment under general anaesthesia (s 2(7)(b));
24. (c) obstetric services and, in connection with childbirth, medical services (s 2(7)(c));
25. (d) termination of pregnancies (s 2(7)(d));
26. (e) cosmetic surgery (other than ear and body piercing, tattooing, the subcutaneous injection of a substance or substances into the skin for cosmetic purposes and the removal of hair roots or small blemishes on the skin by the application of heat using an electric current) (s 2(7)(e) (amended by the Private and Voluntary Health Care (England) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3968, reg 3(4); and the Private and Voluntary Health Care (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/325, reg 3(4)));
27. (f) treatment using prescribed techniques or prescribed technology (Care Standards Act 2000 s 2(7)(f)); and
- 725 (2) any other establishment in which treatment or nursing (or both) are provided for persons liable to be detained under the Mental Health Act 1983 (see MENTAL HEALTH) (Care Standards Act 2000 s 2(3)(b)).

References to a person liable to be detained under the Mental Health Act do not include a person absent in pursuance of leave granted under s 17 (see MENTAL HEALTH vol 30(2) (Reissue) para 506); Care Standards Act 2000 s 2(6). 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations: s 121(1). As to techniques and technology prescribed for the purposes of s 2 see the Private and Voluntary Health Care (England) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3968, reg 3(1) and the Private and Voluntary Health Care (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/325, reg 3(1). As to techniques and technology not included as 'listed services' for the purposes of the Care Standards Act 2000 s 2 (as amended) see the Private and Voluntary Health Care (England) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3968, reg 3(2) and the Private and Voluntary Health Care (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/325, reg 3(2). As to establishments excepted for the purposes of the Care Standards Act 2000 s 2 (as amended) from being independent hospitals: see s 2(8)(a); the Private and Voluntary Health Care (England) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3968, reg 3(3) (amended by SI 2004/865); and the Private and Voluntary Health Care (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/325, reg 3(3).

7 Care Standards Act 2000 s 1(4)(b). 'Independent clinic' means an establishment of a prescribed kind (not being a hospital) in which services are provided by medical practitioners (whether or not any services are also provided for the purposes of the establishment elsewhere): s 2(4). As to establishments that have been prescribed for the purposes of s 2(4) see the Private and Voluntary Health Care (England) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3968, reg 4 (amended by SI 2004/865); and the Private and Voluntary Health Care (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/325, reg 4. An establishment in which, or for the purposes of which, services are provided by medical practitioners in pursuance of the National Health Service Act 2006 or the National Health Service (Wales) Act 2006 is not an independent clinic: Care Standards Act 2000 s 2(4) (amended by the National Health Service (Consequential Provisions) Act 2006 s 2, Sch 1 paras 198, 199).

8 Care Standards Act 2000 s 1(4)(c). 'Residential family centre' means, subject to s 4(6), any establishment at which: (1) accommodation is provided for children and their parents; (2) the parents' capacity to respond to the children's needs and to safeguard their welfare is monitored or assessed; and (3) the parents are given such advice, guidance or counselling as is considered necessary (s 4(1), (2)), but does not include any description of establishment, undertaking or organisation excepted from the definition by regulations (s 4(6)). At the date at which this volume states the law no such regulations had been made. For the purposes of s 4(2), 'parent', in relation to a child, includes any person who is looking after him: s 4(2).

9 Ibid s 1(4). Establishments of the following descriptions are excepted from being a children's home:

- 726 (1) any institution within the further education sector as defined by the Further and Higher Education Act 1992 s 91(3) (see EDUCATION vol 15(2) (2006 Reissue) para 579) (Children's Homes Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3967, reg 3(1)(a); Children's Homes (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/327, reg 3(1)(a));
- 727 (2) any establishment providing accommodation to children for less than 28 days in any 12 month period for the purposes of a holiday or recreational, sporting, cultural or educational activities, subject to certain exceptions set out in the regulations (Children's Homes Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3967, reg 3(1)(b); Children's Homes (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/327, reg 3(1)(b));

SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(9) CHILDREN'S HOMES/(v) Registered Children's Homes under the Care Standards Act 2000/984. Registration authorities.

984. Registration authorities.

For the purposes of the Care Standards Act 2000, the registration authority in England, in the case of children's homes, residential family centres, fostering agencies, voluntary adoption agencies<sup>1</sup> and adoption agencies, is Her Majesty's Chief Inspector of Education, Children's Services and Skills<sup>2</sup>.

<sup>2</sup> Care Standards Act 2000 s 5(1)(a)(iii) (s 5(1) renumbered by the Adoption and Children Act 2002 Sch 3 paras 103, 105; and the Care Standards Act 2000 s 5(1)(a)(iii) added by the Education and Inspections Act 2006 s 157, Sch 14 paras 38, 39). As to Her Majesty's Chief Inspector of Education, Children's Services and Skills see para 196 ante; and EDUCATION. As to the duty of the Office for Standards in Education, Children's Services and Skills to have regard to the need to safeguard and promote the rights and welfare of children while performing its functions see the Education and Inspections Act 2006 s 117; and EDUCATION. The previous registration authority under the Care Standards Act 2000 s 5 (as amended) was the Commission for Social Care Inspection, which continues to have a duty when exercising its functions under that Act to have particular regard to the need to safeguard and promote the rights and welfare of children: see s 5B(6) (as added); and SOCIAL SERVICES AND COMMUNITY CARE. As to transitional provisions for the preparation of the exercise of the functions by the Chief Inspector of Education, Children's Services and Skills see the Office for Standards in Education, Children's Services and Skills (Transitional Provisions) Regulations 2006, SI 2006/2991.

The Care Standards Act 2000 s 5(1)(b) (as so renumbered) provides that, in relation to Wales, 'registration authority' means the National Assembly for Wales; by virtue of the Government of Wales Act 2006 such powers are now conferred on the Welsh Ministers (see para 155 ante). However, in practice the body dealing with matters relating to children's services in Wales is the Care and Social Services Inspectorate Wales: see para 198 ante.

Halsbury's Laws of England/CHILDREN AND YOUNG PERSONS (VOLUME 5(3) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 1-742; VOLUME 5(4) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 743-1433)/11. SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(9) CHILDREN'S HOMES/(v) Registered Children's Homes under the Care Standards Act 2000/985. Requirement to register under the Care Standards Act 2000.

985. Requirement to register under the Care Standards Act 2000.

Any person who carries on or manages an establishment (including a children's home)<sup>1</sup> or agency<sup>2</sup> of any description<sup>3</sup> without being registered under Part II of the Care Standards Act 2000<sup>4</sup> in respect of it (as an establishment or, as the case may be, agency of that description) is guilty of an offence<sup>5</sup>. A person guilty of such an offence is liable on summary conviction<sup>6</sup> to a fine<sup>7</sup>. If:

- 2105 (1) the person was registered in respect of the establishment or agency at a time before the commission of the offence but the registration was cancelled before the offence was committed<sup>8</sup>; or
- 2106 (2) the conviction is a second or subsequent conviction of the offence and the earlier conviction, or one of the earlier convictions, was of an offence in relation to an establishment or agency of the same description<sup>9</sup>, the person guilty of the offence is liable on summary conviction to imprisonment or to a fine or to both<sup>10</sup>.

Registration may be granted, refused or granted subject to conditions<sup>11</sup>.

The registration authority may cancel the registration on the ground that the registered person or any other relevant person has been convicted of a relevant offence; or that the conduct of the home is being, or has at any time been, carried on otherwise than in accordance with regulations; or on any ground specified in regulations<sup>12</sup>.

The registration authority must give the applicant written notice of the proposal to grant or refuse registration, and of any proposed conditions<sup>13</sup>. Any notice must inform the recipient of his right of appeal<sup>14</sup>. A decision of which notice must be served, takes effect at the end of 28 days after service of the notice or after the determination or abandonment of any appeal<sup>15</sup>.

1 For the purposes of the Care Standards Act 2000, any reference to a description of establishment is a reference to a children's home, a children's home providing accommodation for the purpose of restricting liberty, an independent hospital, an independent hospital in which treatment or nursing (or both) are provided for persons liable to be detained under the Mental Health Act 1983 (see MENTAL HEALTH), an independent clinic, a care home or a residential family centre; and a reference to any establishment is a reference to an establishment of any of those descriptions: Care Standards Act 2000 s 4(8) (amended by the Health and Social Care (Community Health and Standards) Act 2003 s 107(1)). For the meaning of 'children's home' see para 983 ante; for the meaning of 'independent hospital' see para 983 note 6 ante; and for the meaning of 'independent clinic' see para 983 note 7 ante. For the meaning of 'hospital' see para 983 note 6 ante. An establishment is a care home if it provides accommodation, together with nursing or personal care, for: (1) persons who are or have been ill; (2) persons who have or have had a mental disorder; (3) persons who are disabled or infirm; (4) persons who are or have been dependent on alcohol or drugs (Care Standards Act 2000 s 3(1), (2)). However, an establishment is not a care home if it is: (a) a hospital; (b) an independent clinic; (c) a children's home; or (d) of a description excepted by regulations: s 3(3). As to excepted establishments see the Care Homes Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3965, reg 3 (amended by SI 2003/1845; SI 2004/696; SI 2004/2071); and the Care Homes (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/324, reg 3 (amended by SI 2004/1756; SI 2006/3251). An establishment is not a care home for the purposes of the Care Standards Act 2000 unless the care which it provides includes assistance with bodily functions where such assistance is required: s 121(9). 'Personal care' does not include any prescribed activity: s 121(3). 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations: s 121(1). 'Illness' includes any injury: s 121(1). Until a day to be appointed, 'mental disorder' means mental illness, arrested or incomplete development of mind, psychopathic disorder, and any other disorder or disability of mind (s 121(1)); however, as from a day to be appointed, 'mental disorder' has the same meaning as in the Mental Health Act 1983 (see MENTAL HEALTH) (Care Standards Act 2000 s 121(1) (prospectively substituted by the Mental Health Act 2007 s 1(4), Sch 1 Pt 2 para 22)). A person is disabled if: (i) his sight, hearing or speech is substantially impaired; (ii) he has a mental disorder; or (iii) he is physically substantially disabled by any illness, any impairment present since birth, or otherwise: Care Standards Act 2000 s 121(2). As to residential family centres see para 1202 et seq post.

2 Where the activities of an agency are carried on from two or more branches, each of those branches must be treated as a separate agency for the purposes of ibid Pt II (ss 11-42) (as amended): s 11(2). For the purposes of the Care Standards Act 2000 generally, any reference to a description of agency is a reference to an independent medical agency, a domiciliary care agency, a nurses agency, a fostering agency, a voluntary adoption agency or an adoption support agency; and a reference to any agency is a reference to an agency of any of those descriptions: s 4(9) (amended by the Adoption and Children Act 2002 s 8(3)(b)). However, the reference in the Care Standards Act 2000 s 11(1), (2) to an agency does not include a reference to a voluntary adoption agency: s 11(3) (amended by the Adoption and Children Act 2002 s 139(1), Sch 3 paras 103, 106).

'Voluntary adoption agency' means an adoption society within the meaning of the Adoption and Children Act 2002, which is a voluntary organisation within the meaning of the Adoption and Children Act 2002 (see para 395 note 3 ante): Care Standards Act 2000 s 4(7) (amended by the Adoption and Children Act 2002 Sch 3 paras 103, 104).

For the meaning of 'adoption support agency' see para 385 note 12 ante; definition applied by virtue of the Care Standards Act 2000 s 4(7A) (added by the Adoption and Children Act 2002 s 8(3)(a)).

'Independent medical agency' means an undertaking (not being an independent clinic or an independent hospital) which consists of or includes the provision of services by medical practitioners: Care Standards Act 2000 s 2(5) (amended by the Health and Social Care (Community Health and Standards) Act 2003 s 106). However, if any of the services are provided for the purposes of an independent clinic, or by medical practitioners in pursuance of the National Health Service Act 2006 or the National Health Service (Wales) Act 2006 (see HEALTH SERVICES), it is not an independent medical agency: Care Standards Act 2000 s 2(5) (amended by the National Health Service (Consequential Provisions) Act 2006 s 8(2)). Regulations may except any description of undertaking from the definition 'independent medical agency': Care Standards Act 2000 s 2(8)(b). As to such exceptions see the Private and Voluntary Health Care (England) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3968, reg 5; and the Private and Voluntary Health Care (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/325, reg 4A (added by SI 2006/1703). References in the Care Standards Act 2000 to a person who carries on an establishment or agency include references to a person who carries it on otherwise than for profit: s 121(5).

'Domiciliary care agency' means an undertaking which consists of or includes arranging the provision of personal care in their own homes for persons who by reason of illness, infirmity or disability are unable to provide it for themselves without assistance, but does not include any description of establishment, undertaking or organisation excepted from this definition by regulations: s 4(3), (6).

'Nurses agency' means an employment agency or employment business, being (in either case) a business which consists of or includes supplying, or providing services for the purpose of supplying, registered nurses or registered midwives, but does not include any description of establishment, undertaking or organisation excepted from this definition by regulations: s 4(5), (6) (s 4(5) amended by the Health Act 1999 (Consequential Amendments) (Nursing and Midwifery) Order 2004, SI 2004/1771, art 3, Schedule Pt 1 para 2(a)).

'Fostering agency' means an undertaking which consists of or includes discharging functions of local authorities in connection with the placing of children with foster parents, or a voluntary organisation which places children with foster parents under the Children Act 1989 s 59(1) (as amended) (see para 975 ante), but does not include any description of establishment, undertaking or organisation excepted from this definition by regulations: Care Standards Act 2000 s 4(4), (6).

3 Regulations may be made imposing any requirements in relation to establishments and agencies which the appropriate minister thinks fit (see ibid s 22(1); and SOCIAL SERVICES AND COMMUNITY CARE), and the minister may prepare and publish statements of national minimum standards applicable to establishments or agencies (see s 23; and SOCIAL SERVICES AND COMMUNITY CARE). As to the default powers of the appropriate minister see s 113; and SOCIAL SERVICES AND COMMUNITY CARE. The appropriate minister has power to make such additional provision as he considers necessary to give full effect to the provisions of the Care Standards Act 2000: see s 119; and SOCIAL SERVICES AND COMMUNITY CARE. For general provision regarding the making of subordinate legislation see s 118.

Regulations may also require the person carrying on an establishment or agency to make an annual return to the registration authority, may require certain persons to give notice of their appointment to the registration authority, and may make provision in respect of the death of registered persons: see ss 33-35; and SOCIAL SERVICES AND COMMUNITY CARE.

4 le ibid Pt II (as amended); and SOCIAL SERVICES AND COMMUNITY CARE. As to the registration of children's homes under the Care Standards Act 2000 see ss 12-21; and SOCIAL SERVICES AND COMMUNITY CARE. As to the registration authorities see s 5 (as amended); and para 984 ante. The Secretary of State may by regulations make provision about the keeping of registers by the Commission for Healthcare Audit and Inspection, the Commission for Social Care Inspection or the Chief Inspector of Education, Children's Services and Skills for the purposes of Pt II (as amended): s 11(4) (amended by the Health and Social Care (Community Health and Standards) Act 2003 s 147, Sch 9 paras 16, 20; and the Education and Inspections Act 2006 s 157, Sch 4 paras 38, 42). As to the Commission for Healthcare Audit and Inspection see Health and Social Care (Community Health and Standards) Act 2003 s 41; and SOCIAL SERVICES AND COMMUNITY CARE. As to the Commission for Social Care Inspection see SOCIAL SERVICES AND COMMUNITY CARE. As to Her Majesty's Chief Inspector of Education, Children's Services and Skills see para 196 ante; and EDUCATION.

The appropriate minister may cause an inquiry to be held into any matter connected with a service provided in or by an establishment or agency: Care Standards Act 2000 s 10(2). Before an inquiry is begun, the person causing the inquiry to be held may direct that it must be held in private: s 10(3). Where no direction has been given, the person holding the inquiry may if he thinks fit hold it, or any part of it, in private: s 10(4). The provisions of the Local Government Act 1972 s 250(2)-(5) (powers in relation to local inquiries: see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARA 105) apply in relation to an inquiry under the Care Standards Act 2000 s 10 (as amended) as they apply in relation to a local inquiry under the Local Government Act 1972 s 250 (as amended): see the Care Standards Act 2000 s 10(5). As to the application of the provisions of s 10(3), (4) in relation to an inquiry under the Government of Wales Act 1998 s 35 (repealed) see the Care Standards Act 2000 s 10(6) (amended by the Education and Inspections Act 2006 s 157, Sch 14 paras 38, 41)).

The report of the person who held the inquiry must, unless the minister who caused the inquiry to be held considers that there are exceptional circumstances which make it inappropriate to publish it, be published in a manner which that minister considers appropriate: Care Standards Act 2000 s 10(7).

5 Ibid s 11(1). For the offences under Pt II (as amended) see ss 24-30; and SOCIAL SERVICES AND COMMUNITY CARE. Inspections of premises used as an establishment or an agency may be carried out by persons authorised by the registration authority: see ss 31, 32 (both as amended); and SOCIAL SERVICES AND COMMUNITY CARE. As to the information to be contained in the register see the National Care Standards Commission (Registration) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3969, reg 8 (amended by SI 2002/865; SI 2003/369; SI 2004/2071; SI 2007/603); National Care Standards Commission (Registration) Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3969, Sch 7 (amended by SI 2003/369; SI 2004/2071; SI 2005/2720).

1008. Control and discipline.

No measure of control, restraint or discipline which is excessive or unreasonable may be used at any time on children accommodated in a children's home<sup>1</sup>. The following must not be used as disciplinary measures:

- 2242 (1) any form of corporal punishment<sup>2</sup>;
- 2243 (2) any punishment relating to the consumption or deprivation of food or drink<sup>3</sup>;
- 2244 (3) any restriction on a child's contact<sup>4</sup> with his parents, relatives and family<sup>5</sup>; visits by him to his parents, relatives or friends<sup>6</sup>; his communications with specified persons<sup>7</sup>; or his access to any telephone helpline providing counselling for children<sup>8</sup>;
- 2245 (4) any requirement to wear distinctive or inappropriate clothes<sup>9</sup>;
- 2246 (5) the use or withholding of medication or medical or dental treatment<sup>10</sup>;
- 2247 (6) the intentional deprivation of sleep<sup>11</sup>;
- 2248 (7) the imposition of fines, except by way of reparation<sup>12</sup>;
- 2249 (8) any intimate physical examination of the child<sup>13</sup>;
- 2250 (9) the withholding of any aids or equipment needed by a disabled child<sup>14</sup>;
- 2251 (10) any measure which involves a child in the imposition of any measure against any other child or the punishment of a group of children for the behaviour of an individual child<sup>15</sup>.

However, this does not prevent:

- 2252 (a) the taking of any action by, or in accordance with the instructions of, a registered medical or dental practitioner which is necessary to protect the health of a child<sup>16</sup>; or
- 2253 (b) the imposition of requirements that a child wear distinctive clothing for sporting purposes or for purposes connected with his education or with any organisation the members of which customarily wear uniform in connection with its activities<sup>17</sup>.

Nor does it prevent, in England, the taking of any action immediately necessary to prevent injury to any person or serious damage to property<sup>18</sup>.

The registered person must prepare and implement a written policy ('the behaviour management policy') which sets out:

- 2254 (i) the measures of control, restraint and discipline which may be used in the children's home<sup>19</sup>; and
- 2255 (ii) the means whereby appropriate behaviour is to be promoted in the home<sup>20</sup>.

The registered person must keep under review and revise where appropriate the behaviour management policy<sup>21</sup>.

The registered person must ensure that, within 24 hours of the use of any measure of control, restraint or discipline in a children's home, a written record is made in a book kept for that purpose<sup>22</sup>.

1030. Death of registered person.

If more than one person is registered in respect of a children's home, and a registered person dies, the other registered person must without delay notify the Commission for Social Care Inspection<sup>1</sup> or, as the case may be, the appropriate office of the National Assembly of the death in writing<sup>2</sup>.

The personal representatives of the deceased registered provider<sup>4</sup> may carry on the home without being registered in respect of it for a period not exceeding 28 days<sup>5</sup>. However, the Commission may extend this period by such further period, not exceeding one year, as the Commission may determine; and it must notify any such determination to the personal representatives in writing<sup>6</sup>.

SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(9) CHILDREN'S HOMES/(vi) Conduct and Administration of Children's Homes/1031. Complaints procedure in England.

1031. Complaints procedure in England.

In England, the registered person<sup>1</sup> must establish a written procedure for considering complaints made by or on behalf of children accommodated in the children's home<sup>2</sup>. The procedure must, in particular, provide:

- 2410 (1) for an opportunity for informal resolution of the complaint at an early stage<sup>3</sup>;
- 2411 (2) that no person who is the subject of a complaint is to take any part in its consideration other than, if the registered person considers it appropriate, at the informal resolution stage<sup>4</sup>;
- 2412 (3) for dealing with complaints about the registered person<sup>5</sup>;
- 2413 (4) for complaints to be made by a person acting on behalf of a child<sup>6</sup>;
- 2414 (5) for arrangements for the procedure to be made known to children accommodated in the home, their parents, placing authorities and persons working in the home<sup>7</sup>.

The registered person must ensure that children accommodated in the home are enabled to make a complaint or representation and no child is subject to any reprisal for making a complaint or representation<sup>8</sup>.

The registered person must ensure that a written record is made of any complaint, the action taken in response, and the outcome of the investigation<sup>9</sup>. The registered person must supply to the Commission for Social Care Inspection at its request a statement containing a summary of any complaints made during the preceding 12 months and the action that was taken<sup>10</sup>.

1032. Complaints procedure in Wales.

The registered person<sup>1</sup> must prepare and follow a written procedure ('the complaints procedure') for considering complaints made to the registered person by or on behalf of children accommodated in the children's home<sup>2</sup>. The complaints procedure must be appropriate to the needs of children accommodated in the home<sup>3</sup>. The complaints procedure must include provision for the consideration of complaints made about the registered person<sup>4</sup>. The registered person must ensure that the following persons are aware of the existence of the complaints procedure and take all reasonable steps to give a copy of the complaints procedure in an appropriate format or such format as may be requested to children accommodated in the home, their parents and the placing authority<sup>5</sup> of any child accommodated in the children's home<sup>6</sup>. The registered person must ensure that the staff employed at the children's home are informed about, given a copy of, and appropriately trained in the operation of the complaints procedure<sup>7</sup>.

The complaints procedure must include the name, address and telephone number of the appropriate office of the National Assembly and the procedure, if any, that has been notified to the registered person by the National Assembly for the making of complaints to the National Assembly<sup>8</sup>. The complaints procedure must include provision for the local resolution of complaints at an early stage where appropriate<sup>9</sup>. Where the complaints procedure includes provision for a formal consideration, this provision must be approved by the National Assembly<sup>10</sup>.

The complaints procedure must be operated in accordance with the principle that the welfare of the child is safeguarded and promoted and account must be taken of the ascertainable wishes and feelings of the child<sup>11</sup>.

When a complaint is made, the registered person must advise the complainant of his right to at any time complain to the National Assembly or, where relevant, to the placing authority<sup>12</sup>. The registered person must inform the complainant of the availability of any advocacy services which the registered person believes may be of assistance to the complainant; and, where relevant and the complainant is a child, the registered person must advise the complainant that a local authority receiving a complaint must provide information and assistance for complainants, and must in particular offer help in obtaining an advocate<sup>13</sup>.

The registered person can in any case where it is appropriate to do so, and with the agreement of the complainant, make arrangements for conciliation, mediation or other assistance for the purposes of resolving the complaint<sup>14</sup>.

The registered person must keep a written record of any complaint, the outcome of the investigation and any action taken in response; and it must supply to the appropriate office of the National Assembly at its request a statement containing a summary of the complaints made during the preceding 12 months and the action taken in response to each complaint<sup>15</sup>.

1033. Local resolution procedure in Wales.

Complaints that are dealt with locally must be resolved by the registered person<sup>1</sup> as soon as reasonably practicable and in any event within 14 days<sup>2</sup>. Where the complaint is resolved under these provisions the registered person must confirm in writing to the complainant the agreed resolution<sup>3</sup>.

The registered person must, at the request of the National Assembly or any authority who has arranged for the accommodation of a child at the children's home<sup>4</sup>, confirm the local resolution of a complaint<sup>5</sup>.

1034. Procedure for formal consideration of complaints in Wales.

Complaints that are dealt with by way of formal consideration must be resolved as soon as reasonably practicable and in any event within 35 days of the request for formal consideration<sup>1</sup>. The registered person<sup>2</sup> must appoint an independent person who must take part in any consideration of the complaint by the registered person<sup>3</sup>. The outcome of a formal consideration must be confirmed in writing by the registered person to the complainant and must summarise the nature and substance of the complaint, the conclusions, and the action to be taken as a result<sup>4</sup>. The registered person must send a copy of the written response to a complaint to the appropriate office of the National Assembly and any placing authority of any child accommodated in the children's home<sup>5</sup>.

If the complaint has not been resolved within 35 days of the request for formal consideration, the registered person must notify the appropriate office of the National Assembly of the complaint and the reasons for the delay in resolution<sup>6</sup>.

SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(9) CHILDREN'S HOMES/(vi) Conduct and Administration of Children's Homes/1035. Procedure for concurrent consideration of complaints in Wales.

1035. Procedure for concurrent consideration of complaints in Wales.

Where a complaint relates to any matter:

- 2415 (1) about which the complainant has stated in writing that he intends to take proceedings in any court or tribunal<sup>1</sup>; or
- 2416 (2) about which the registered person<sup>2</sup> is taking or is proposing to take disciplinary proceedings<sup>3</sup>; or
- 2417 (3) about which the registered person has been notified that an investigation is being conducted by any person or body in contemplation of criminal proceedings<sup>4</sup>; or
- 2418 (4) about which a meeting involving other bodies including the police has been convened to discuss issues relating to the protection of children or vulnerable adults<sup>5</sup>; or
- 2419 (5) about which the registered person has been notified that there are current investigations in contemplation of proceedings under the Care Standards Act 2000<sup>6</sup>, the registered person must consider, in consultation with the complainant and any other person or body which it considers it appropriate to consult, how the complaint should be handled; and such complaints are referred to for these purposes as 'complaints subject to concurrent consideration'<sup>7</sup>.

The consideration of complaints subject to concurrent consideration may be discontinued if at any time it appears to the registered person that to continue would compromise or prejudice the other consideration<sup>8</sup>. Where the registered person decides to discontinue the consideration of a complaint, the registered person must give notice of that decision to the complainant<sup>9</sup>. Consideration can be resumed at any time, and the registered person must resume consideration of any complaint where the concurrent consideration is discontinued or completed and the complainant requests that the complaint be considered<sup>10</sup>.

Where the consideration of a complaint has been discontinued<sup>11</sup> the registered person must ascertain the progress of the concurrent consideration and notify the complainant when it has been concluded<sup>12</sup>.

1036. Offences.

1 In the Children's Homes Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3976, regs 4-38 (as amended): see para 999 et seq ante.

2 In the Children's Homes (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/327, regs 4-37 (as amended): see para 999 et seq ante.

3 Children's Homes Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3967, reg 41(1); Children's Homes (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/327, reg 40(1). Proceedings may be brought against a person who once was, but is no longer, a registered person in respect of a children's home: see the Children's Homes Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3967, reg 41(4); and the Children's Homes (Wales) Regulations 2002, SI 2002/327, reg 40(2). For the meaning of 'registered person' see para 999 note 1 ante. For the meaning of 'children's home' see para 983 ante.

In relation to England, the Commission for Social Care Inspection must serve notice in respect of contravention or failure to comply with the Children's Homes Regulations 2001, SI 2001/3967 (as amended): reg 41(2), (3). ## (10) SECURE ACCOMMODATION

1037. Use of secure accommodation.

A child<sup>1</sup> who is being looked after<sup>2</sup> by a local authority<sup>3</sup> may not be placed, and, if placed, may not be kept, in accommodation provided for the purpose of restricting liberty<sup>4</sup> (secure accommodation)<sup>5</sup> unless certain conditions are satisfied<sup>6</sup>. Those conditions are that:

- 2420 (1) the child has a history of absconding and is likely to abscond from any other description of accommodation, and that if he absconds, he is likely to suffer significant harm<sup>7</sup>; or
- 2421 (2) if he is kept in any other description of accommodation he is likely to injure himself or other persons<sup>8</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'child' see para 3 ante. The Secretary of State or the Welsh Ministers are empowered to make regulations applying or disapplying the Children Act 1989 s 25 (as amended) in relation to specified descriptions of children, and applying the provisions subject to modifications in specified cases: see s 25(7); and para 1045 post. As to regulations made under s 25(7) see the Children (Secure Accommodation) Regulations 1991, SI 1991/1505, regs 5-7 (as amended); and paras 1045-1047 post. As to the Secretary of State and the Welsh Ministers see para 155 ante.

2 As to the meaning of 'look after' where a local authority looks after a child see para 867 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'local authority' see para 248 note 10 ante.

4 The interpretation of the term 'accommodation provided for the restriction of liberty' is ultimately a matter to be determined by the courts; but it is important to recognise that any practice or measure which prevents a child from leaving a room or building of his own free will may be deemed by the courts to constitute 'restriction of liberty'. For example, while it is clear that the locking of a child in a room, or part of a building, to prevent him leaving voluntarily is caught by the statutory definition, other practices which place restrictions on freedom of mobility (eg creating a human barrier) are not so clear cut: see the Department of Health of publication The Children Act 1989: Guidance and Regulations Volume 4 Residential Care (HMSO, 1991) para 8.10. As to the guidance and regulations generally see para 163 ante. See also Re C (a minor) (detention: medical treatment) [1997] 3 FCR 49, [1997] 2 FLR 180.

Although a secure accommodation order is a deprivation of liberty, it is not incompatible with the Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms (Rome, 4 November 1950; TS 71 (1953); Cmd 8969): Re K (a child) (secure accommodation order: right to liberty) [2001] Fam 377, [2001] 2 All ER 719, CA; and see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW AND HUMAN RIGHTS vol 8(2) (Reissue) para 131. See Re M (a child) (secure accommodation) [2001] EWCA Civ 458, [2001] 1 FCR 692, [2001] All ER (D) 11 (Apr), CA.

5 Children Act 1989 s 25(1). Premises do not have to be specifically designated as such: Wolverhampton Metropolitan Borough Council v DB (a minor) (1996) 37 BMLR 172, sub nom A Metropolitan Borough Council v DB (a minor) [1997] 1 FLR 767 (hospital maternity ward where pass or key system restricted entry and exit and nursing staff were instructed to prevent child in question leaving ward held to be secure accommodation).

6 Children Act 1989 s 25(1). The local authority need only prove that one of the conditions is satisfied: Re D (a minor) (secure accommodation order) [1996] 2 FCR 452, [1997] 1 FLR 197 (erroneous approach by magistrates on application by local authority under the Children Act 1989 s 25(1)(a)). If one of the conditions is satisfied, the court must make the order (it does not have a discretion): Re M (a minor) (secure accommodation order) [1995] Fam 108, [1995] 3 All ER 407, CA (although welfare of child is very important, as long as relevant criteria for placing a child in secure accommodation are met, the court is obliged to authorise placement). See also LM v Essex County Council [1999] 1 FCR 673, [1999] 1 FLR 988 (where criteria no longer exist, local authority must cease holding child in secure accommodation; correct procedure while order is still in force is to apply for a writ of habeas corpus, and court had power under RSC Ord 54 r 4 to order immediate release of child).

without formally issuing the writ). See also Hereford and Worcester County Council v S [1993] 1 FCR 653, [1993] 2 FLR 360. In proceedings under the Children Act 1989 s 25 (as amended) the court must if practicable arrange for copies of all written reports before it to be made available before the hearing to specified parties: see the Family Proceedings Rules 1991, SI 1991/1247, r 4.25 (amended by SI 2001/821).

7 Children Act 1989 s 25(1)(a). As to the meaning of 'significant harm' see para 274 text and note 4 ante. As to the meaning of 'likely' see s 31; and para 274 note 3 ante.

8 Ibid s 25(1)(b). Before making a decision, the court must make findings of fact which relate to the issues before the court, and apply the statutory criteria laid down by this provision: R v Oxfordshire County Council (secure accommodation order) [1992] Fam 150, [1992] 3 All ER 660. Sworn evidence should be given on an application for such an order and the court should make a clear record of the findings that it makes: Re AS (secure accommodation order) [1999] 2 FCR 749, [1999] 1 FLR 103. See note 4 supra.

Halsbury's Laws of England/CHILDREN AND YOUNG PERSONS (VOLUME 5(3) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 1-742; VOLUME 5(4) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 743-1433)/11. SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(10) SECURE ACCOMMODATION/1038. Maximum periods of secure accommodation.

1038. Maximum periods of secure accommodation.

The maximum period beyond which a child<sup>1</sup> may not be kept in secure accommodation<sup>2</sup> without the authority of a court is an aggregate of 72 hours (whether or not consecutive) in any period of 28 consecutive days<sup>3</sup>.

Applications to a court in respect of a child for authorisation to keep him in secure accommodation beyond this period may be made only by the local authority<sup>4</sup> which is looking after<sup>5</sup> that child<sup>6</sup>. It is the duty of a court hearing an application to determine whether any relevant criteria for keeping a child in secure accommodation are satisfied in his case<sup>7</sup>; and if a court determines that any such criteria are satisfied it must make an order authorising the child to be kept in secure accommodation and specifying the maximum period for which he may be so kept<sup>8</sup>.

The maximum period for which a court may authorise a child to be kept in secure accommodation is three months<sup>9</sup>; but a court may from time to time authorise the child to be kept in secure accommodation for a further period not exceeding six months at any one time<sup>10</sup>.

If an application to the court is adjourned, the court may make an interim order permitting the child to be kept during the period of the adjournment in secure accommodation<sup>11</sup>.

1 le a child to whom the Children Act 1989 s 25 (as amended) applies. For the meaning of 'child' see para 3 ante. As to the children to whom the Children Act 1989 s 25 (as amended) applies, with or without modifications, see Re W (a minor) (secure accommodation order) [1993] 1 FLR 692 at 696-697 per Booth J.

2 'Secure accommodation' means accommodation which is provided for the purpose of restricting the liberty of children to whom the Children Act 1989 s 25 (as amended) (use of accommodation for restricting liberty) applies: Children (Secure Accommodation) Regulations 1991, SI 1991/1505, reg 2(1).

3 Children Act 1989 s 25(2)(a)(i); Children (Secure Accommodation) Regulations 1991, SI 1991/1505, reg 10(1). However, where authority of a court to keep a child in secure accommodation has been given, any period during which the child has been kept in such accommodation before the giving of that authority is to be disregarded for the purposes of calculating the maximum period in relation to any subsequent occasion on which the child is placed in such accommodation after the period authorised by the court has expired: reg 10(2). Moreover, where a child is in secure accommodation at any time between 12 midday on the day before and 12 midday on the day after a public holiday or a Sunday, and during that period the maximum period of 72 hours expires, and the child had, in the 27 days before the day on which he was placed in secure accommodation, been placed and kept in such accommodation for an aggregate of more than 48 hours, the maximum period does not expire until 12 midday on the first day, which is not itself a public holiday or a Sunday, after the public holiday or Sunday: reg 10(3).

4 For the meaning of 'local authority' see para 248 note 10 ante.

5 As to the meaning of 'look after' where a local authority looks after a child see para 867 ante.

6 Children Act 1989 s 25(2)(c); Children (Secure Accommodation) Regulations 1991, SI 1991/1505, reg 8 (amended by SI 2001/2237; SI 2002/808). This is expressed to be subject to the Local Government Act 1972 s 101 (as amended), which makes provision enabling local authorities to delegate their functions to committees and sub-committees and other local authorities (see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARAS 370, 380) or to provisions in or under the Local Government Act 2000 ss 14-20 (see LOCAL GOVERNMENT vol 69 (2009) PARAS 357-362). Applications to a court under the Children Act 1989 s 25 (as amended) in respect of a child provided with accommodation by a health authority, a primary care trust, a national health service trust established under the National Health Service and Community Care Act 1990 s 5, an NHS foundation trust or a local education authority must, unless the child is looked after by a local authority, be made only by the health authority, primary care trust, national health service trust, NHS foundation trust or local education authority providing accommodation for the child: Children (Secure Accommodation) (No 2) Regulations 1991, SI 1991/2034, reg 2(1) (amended by SI 2002/546; SI 2002/2935; SI 2004/696). Applications to a court under the Children Act 1989 s 25 (as amended) in respect of a child provided with accommodation in a care home or independent hospital must, unless the child is looked after by a local authority, be made only by the person carrying on the home in which accommodation is provided for the child: Children (Secure Accommodation) (No 2) Regulations 1991, SI 1991/2034, reg 2(2).

7 Children Act 1989 s 25(3). Hearsay evidence may be admitted on an application for secure accommodation: R v Stratford Youth Court, ex p S [1998] 1 WLR 1758, DC. As to hearsay evidence see CIVIL PROCEDURE VOL 11 (2009) PARA 806 et seq.

8 Children Act 1989 s 25(4). See Re W (a minor) (secure accommodation order) [1993] 1 FLR 692. The giving of such an authorisation does not prejudice any power of any court in England and Wales or Scotland to give directions relating to the child to whom the authorisation relates: Children Act 1989 s 25(8). The presumption against making an order should be taken into account: see the Department of Health publication The Children Act 1989: Guidance and Regulations Volume 4 Residential Care (HMSO, 1991) para 8.8. As to the guidance and regulations generally see para 163 ante. See also Re W (a minor) (secure accommodation order) [1993] 1 FLR 345. As to the presumption against making an order and the circumstances in which it applies see the Children Act 1989 s 1(5); and para 302 ante.

Justices may not make a secure accommodation order for a period which totals more than three months. Where proceedings are adjourned under s 25(5) (see the text to note 11 infra), the period of an interim secure accommodation order must be taken into account in determining the period of the full order: C v Humberside County Council [1995] 1 FCR 110, [1994] 2 FLR 759. The authorised period runs from the date of the making of the order, not from the date when the child is actually placed in secure accommodation: Re B (a minor) (secure accommodation order) [1995] 1 WLR 232, [1994] 2 FLR 707, CA.

9 Children Act 1989 s 25(2)(a)(ii); Children (Secure Accommodation) Regulations 1991, SI 1991/1505, reg 11. However, an order should be for no longer than is necessary and unavoidable; and this requires full consideration by the court, which must give its reasons: Re W (a minor) (secure accommodation order) [1993] 1 FLR 692. The relevant period begins on the date that the order is made by the court and not from the date on which the child is first placed in secure accommodation: Re B (a minor) (secure accommodation order) [1995] 1 WLR 232, [1994] 2 FLR 707, CA.

10 Children Act 1989 s 25(2)(b); Children (Secure Accommodation) Regulations 1991, SI 1991/1505, reg 12. Where a child has been remanded to local authority accommodation under the provisions of the Children and Young Persons Act 1969 s 23 (as substituted and amended; prospectively further amended) (see para 1247 post), the maximum period for which a court may from time to time authorise his accommodation in secure accommodation is the period of the remand, but any period of authorisation in respect of such a child must not exceed 28 days on any one occasion without further court authorisation: Children (Secure Accommodation) Regulations 1991, SI 1991/1505, reg 13.

11 Children Act 1989 s 25(5). The interim order should not be longer than the most that is permitted for a full order: see C v Humberside County Council [1995] 1 FCR 110, [1994] 2 FLR 759. Any appeal against the making of a secure accommodation order must be heard without delay; and, if need be, an application for directions should be made to a High Court judge: Re W (a minor) (secure accommodation order) [1993] 1 FLR 345.

1039. Representation of child.

No court may exercise its powers relating to secure accommodation<sup>1</sup> in respect of a child<sup>2</sup> who is not legally represented<sup>3</sup> in that court unless, having been informed of his right to apply for representation funded by the Legal Services Commission as part of the Community Legal Service or Criminal Defence Service and having had the opportunity to do so, he refused or failed to apply<sup>4</sup>.

1 le its powers under the Children Act 1989 s 25 (as amended).

2 For the meaning of 'child' see para 3 ante.

3 Proceedings under the Children Act 1989 s 25 (as amended) are 'specified proceedings', and it is accordingly necessary for the court to appoint a children's guardian for the child concerned unless satisfied that it is not necessary to do so in order to safeguard his interests: see para 319 ante. A children's guardian must appoint a solicitor to represent the child unless such a solicitor has already been appointed: see para 321 ante. If justices depart from the children's guardian's recommendation they must give a full explanation of their reasons for so doing: S v Oxfordshire County Council [1993] 2 FCR 676, [1993] 1 FLR 452; Re W (a minor) (secure accommodation order) [1993] 1 FLR 345. Proceedings under the Children Act 1989 s 25 (as amended) are family proceedings in relation to magistrates' courts (see para 209 ante) and, accordingly, hearsay evidence is admissible (see para 228 ante). See R v Oxfordshire County Council (secure accommodation order) [1992] Fam 150, [1992] 3 All ER 660. As to children's guardians (formerly known as guardians ad litem) see para 230 ante. #### 1040. Notification to parents.

Where a child<sup>1</sup> is kept in secure accommodation<sup>2</sup> in a children's home<sup>3</sup> and it is intended that an application should be made to a court to keep the child in that accommodation, the local authority looking after<sup>4</sup> the child must if practicable inform the child's parent, any person who is not a parent but who has parental responsibility<sup>5</sup> for him, the child's independent visitor<sup>6</sup> if one has been appointed, and any other person that the authority considers should be informed, of that intention as soon as possible<sup>7</sup>.

1   le a child to whom the Children Act 1989 s 25 (as amended) applies. For the meaning of 'child' see para 3 ante. As to the children to whom s 25 (as amended) applies, with or without modifications, see paras 1037 ante, 1045 post.

2   For the meaning of 'secure accommodation' see para 1038 note 2 ante.

3   For these purposes, 'children's home' means a private children's home, a community home or a voluntary home: Children (Secure Accommodation) Regulations 1991, SI 1991/1505, reg 2(1) (amended by SI 2002/546; SI 2002/2935). Where a child is placed in secure accommodation in a children's home which is managed by a person, organisation or authority other than the local authority which is looking after him, the person who, or the organisation or the authority which manages that accommodation must inform the authority which is looking after him that he has been placed there, within 12 hours of his being placed there, with a view to obtaining its authority to continue to keep him there if necessary: Children (Secure Accommodation) Regulations 1991, SI 1991/1505, reg 9 (amended by SI 1995/1398).

5   For the meaning of 'parental responsibility' see para 134 ante.

6   'Independent visitor' means a person appointed under the Children Act 1989 Sch 2 para 17 (see para 871 ante): Children (Secure Accommodation) Regulations 1991, SI 1991/1505, reg 2(1). As to the appointment of independent visitors see para 871 ante.

1041. Right of parent to remove child.

The general principle laid down in the Children Act 1989<sup>1</sup> that any person who has parental responsibility<sup>2</sup> for a child<sup>3</sup> may at any time remove the child from accommodation which is provided by or on behalf of the local authority<sup>4</sup>, applies equally to a child whom the local authority wishes to accommodate in secure accommodation<sup>5</sup>.

1 See the Children Act 1989 s 20(8); and para 866 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'parental responsibility' see para 134 ante.

3 For the meaning of 'child' see para 3 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'local authority' see para 248 note 10 ante.

5 Children Act 1989 s 25(9). For the meaning of 'secure accommodation' see para 1038 note 2 ante.

1042. Review of placement in secure accommodation in a community home.

Each local authority looking after<sup>1</sup> a child in secure accommodation<sup>2</sup> in a children's home<sup>3</sup> must appoint at least three persons, at least one of whom is neither a member nor an officer of the local authority by or on behalf of which the child is being looked after, to review the keeping of the child in that accommodation for the purposes of securing his welfare, within one month of the inception of the placement, and then at intervals not exceeding three months where the child continues to be kept in such accommodation<sup>4</sup>. The persons so appointed must satisfy themselves as to whether or not:

- 2422 (1) the criteria for keeping the child in secure accommodation<sup>5</sup> continue to apply<sup>6</sup>;
- 2423 (2) the placement in such accommodation in a children's home continues to be necessary<sup>7</sup>; and
- 2424 (3) any other description of accommodation would be appropriate for him<sup>8</sup>, and in doing so they must have regard to the welfare of the child whose case is being reviewed<sup>9</sup>.

In undertaking the review, the persons appointed must, if practicable, ascertain and take into account the wishes and feelings of<sup>10</sup>:

- 2425 (a) the child<sup>11</sup>;
- 2426 (b) any parent of his<sup>12</sup>;
- 2427 (c) any person not being a parent of his but who has parental responsibility<sup>13</sup> for him<sup>14</sup>;
- 2428 (d) any other person who has had the care of the child, whose views the persons appointed considers should be taken into account<sup>15</sup>;
- 2429 (e) the child's independent visitor<sup>16</sup> if one has been appointed<sup>17</sup>; and
- 2430 (f) the person, organisation or local authority managing the secure accommodation in which the child is placed if that accommodation is not managed by the authority which is looking after that child<sup>18</sup>.

The local authority must, if practicable, inform all those whose views are required under this provision to be taken into account of the outcome of the review and what action, if any, the authority proposes to take in relation to the child in the light of the review, and its reasons for taking or not taking such action<sup>19</sup>.

- 5 As to those criteria see para 1037 ante. If the local authority fails to remove a child from secure accommodation after the persons appointed under the Children (Secure Accommodation) Regulations 1991, SI 1991/1505, regs 15, 16 (both as amended) recommend that he should be removed, an application for a writ of habeas corpus may be an appropriate remedy: see LM v Essex County Council [1999] 1 FCR 673, [1999] 1 FLR 988. As to the writ of habeas corpus see ADMINISTRATIVE LAW vol 1(1) (2001 Reissue) para 222 et seq. Judicial review would be the appropriate remedy to challenge the discharge by a local authority of its duties under the statute, including its duty to review the legality of a placement under the order: see S v Knowsley Borough Council [2004] EWHC 491 (Fam), [2004] 2 FLR 716.

1043. Approval of secure accommodation in a children's home in England.

In England, accommodation in a children's home<sup>1</sup> must not be used as secure accommodation<sup>2</sup> unless it has been approved by the Secretary of State<sup>3</sup> for such use, and such approval is subject to such terms and conditions as the Secretary of State sees fit<sup>4</sup>.

1046. Modification in respect of detained and remanded children.

2434 (1) detained under a certain provision of the Police and Criminal Evidence Act 1984<sup>5</sup>; or 2435 (2) remanded to local authority accommodation<sup>6</sup>, but only if he has been charged with or convicted of a violent or sexual offence, or of an offence punishable in the case of an adult with imprisonment for 14 years or more, or he has a recent history of absconding while remanded to local authority accommodation and has been charged with or convicted of an imprisonable offence alleged or found to have been committed while he was so remanded<sup>7</sup>.

In these cases the child may not be placed or kept in secure accommodation unless it appears that accommodation other than that provided for the purpose of restricting liberty is inappropriate because: (a) he is likely to abscond from such other accommodation; or (b) he is likely to injure himself or other people if he is kept in any such other accommodation<sup>8</sup>. Where a child or young person has been remanded or committed to local authority accommodation by a youth court<sup>9</sup> or magistrates' court, it is to that court that the application to accommodate him in secure accommodation should be made<sup>10</sup>.

(11) PRIVATE ARRANGEMENTS FOR FOSTERING CHILDREN

1049. Meaning of 'privately fostered child'.

A privately fostered child<sup>1</sup> is a child who is under the age of 16 and who is cared for, and provided with accommodation in his own home by, someone other than<sup>2</sup>:

- 2446 (1) a parent of his<sup>3</sup>;
- 2447 (2) a person who is not a parent of his but who has parental responsibility<sup>4</sup> for him<sup>5</sup>; or
- 2448 (3) a relative<sup>6</sup> of his<sup>7</sup>.

In the case of a child who is disabled<sup>8</sup> this definition extends to a child who is under the age of 18<sup>9</sup>. However, a child is not a privately fostered child:

- 2449 (a) if the person caring for and accommodating him has done so for a period of less than 28 days, and does not intend to do so for any longer period<sup>10</sup>;
- 2450 (b) while he is being looked after<sup>11</sup> by a local authority<sup>12</sup>;
- 2451 (c) while he is in the care of any person in premises in which any parent of his, any other person having parental responsibility for him, or any relative of his who has assumed responsibility for his care, is for the time being living<sup>13</sup>;
- 2452 (d) while he is in the care of any person, in accommodation provided by or on behalf of any voluntary organisation<sup>14</sup>, in any school in which he is receiving full time education<sup>15</sup>, in any health service hospital<sup>16</sup>, in any care home or independent hospital<sup>17</sup>, or in any home or institution not specified above but provided, equipped and maintained by the Secretary of State or the Welsh Ministers<sup>18</sup>;
- 2453 (e) while he is in the care of any person in compliance with certain court orders<sup>19</sup>;
- 2454 (f) while he is liable to be detained or subject to guardianship under the Mental Health Act 1983<sup>20</sup>;
- 2455 (g) while he is placed in the care of a person who proposes to adopt him under arrangements made by an adoption agency within the meaning of the Adoption and Children Act 2002<sup>21</sup>; or
- 2456 (h) while he is a child in respect of whom a local authority has functions by virtue of regulations under the Adoption and Children Act 2002<sup>22</sup> or corresponding functions by virtue of regulations under the Adoption (Intercountry Aspects) Act 1999<sup>23</sup>.

SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(11) PRIVATE ARRANGEMENTS FOR FOSTERING CHILDREN/1053. Regulations requiring registration for private fostering in England.

1053. Regulations requiring registration for private fostering in England.

The Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> may by regulations require any person who fosters a child<sup>2</sup> privately in the area of a children's services authority in England<sup>3</sup> to be registered for private fostering by that authority in accordance with the regulations<sup>4</sup>.

Regulations may make supplementary provision relating to the registration of persons for private fostering, including provision as to:

- 2467 (1) how a person applies for registration and the procedure to be followed in considering an application<sup>5</sup>;
- 2468 (2) the requirements to be satisfied before a person may be registered<sup>6</sup>;
- 2469 (3) the circumstances in which a person is disqualified from being registered<sup>7</sup>;
- 2470 (4) the circumstances in which an application for registration may or must be granted or refused;
- 2471 (5) the payment of a fee on the making or granting of an application for registration;
- 2472 (6) the imposition of conditions on registration and the variation or cancellation of such conditions<sup>8</sup>;
- 2473 (7) the circumstances in which a person's registration may be, or be regarded as, cancelled;
- 2474 (8) the making of appeals against any determination of a children's services authority in England in relation to a person's registration;
- 2475 (9) temporary registration, or circumstances in which a person may be regarded as registered;
- 2476 (10) requirements to be complied with by a children's services authority in England or a person registered under the regulations<sup>9</sup>.

Regulations may authorise a children's services authority in England to issue a notice to any person whom it believes to be fostering a child privately in its area without being registered in accordance with the regulations, and provide that a person who, without reasonable excuse, fosters a child privately without being registered in accordance with the regulations while such a notice is issued in respect of him is guilty of an offence<sup>10</sup>.

Regulations may also provide that a person registered under the regulations who without reasonable excuse contravenes or otherwise fails to comply with any requirement imposed on him in the regulations is guilty of an offence<sup>11</sup>.

Regulations may provide that a person who fosters a child privately while he is disqualified from being registered is guilty of an offence unless he is disqualified by virtue of the fact that he lives in the same household as a person who is himself disqualified from being registered or in a household in which such a person is employed, and he did not know, and had no reasonable grounds for believing, that that person was so disqualified<sup>12</sup>.

1 As to the Secretary of State see para 155 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'child' see para 3 ante.

3 See para 187 ante.

4 Children Act 2004 s 45(1). Similar provision is made in relation to Wales: see para 1054 post.

5 This includes provision that any person who, in an application for registration under the regulations, knowingly makes a statement which is false or misleading in a material particular is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale: ibid s 45(3). As to the standard scale see para 132 note 2 ante.

6 These include requirements relating to the suitability of the applicant to foster children privately and the suitability of the premises in which it is proposed to foster children privately, including their suitability by reference to any other person living there: ibid s 45(4).

7 This includes provision that a person may be disqualified where: (1) an order of a kind specified in the regulations has been made at any time with respect to him; (2) an order of a kind so specified has been made at any time with respect to any child who has been in his care; (3) a requirement of a kind so specified has been imposed at any time with respect to any such child, under or by virtue of any enactment; (4) he has been convicted of a criminal offence of a kind so specified, or a probation order has been made in respect of him for any such offence or he has been discharged absolutely or conditionally for any such offence; (5) a prohibition has been imposed on him under any specified enactment; (6) his rights and powers with respect to a child have at any time been vested in a specified authority under a specified enactment; (7) he lives in the same household as a person who is himself disqualified from being registered or in a household in which such a person is employed: ibid s 45(5).

The provision which may be made under head (3) in the text also includes provision for a children's services authority in England to determine whether a person is or is not to be disqualified: s 45(6).

8 These include conditions relating to the maintenance of premises in which children are, or are proposed to be, privately fostered and any other persons living at such premises: ibid s 45(7).

9 Ibid s 45(2). The provision which may be made under head (10) in the text includes a requirement that a person registered under the regulations obtain the consent of the children's services authority in England by whom he is registered before privately fostering a child, and provision relating to the giving of such consent, including provision as to the circumstances in which, or conditions subject to which, it may or must be given: s 45(8). It is the duty of every local authority<sup>1</sup> to satisfy itself that the welfare of children who are or are proposed to be privately fostered<sup>2</sup> within its area is being, or will be, satisfactorily safeguarded and promoted, and to secure that such advice is given to those concerned with the children as appears to the authority to be needed<sup>3</sup>. In carrying out functions under this provision the local authority must, on being notified of a proposal to foster a child privately, arrange for an officer of the local authority within seven days to:

- 2496 (1) visit the premises where it is proposed the child will be cared for and accommodated<sup>4</sup>;
  - 2497 (2) visit and speak to the proposed private foster carer and to all members of his household<sup>5</sup>;
  - 2498 (3) visit and speak to the child, alone unless the officer considers it inappropriate<sup>6</sup>;
  - 2499 (4) speak to and, if practicable, visit, every parent or other person with parental responsibility for the child<sup>7</sup>;
  - 2500 (5) establish the following matters that appear to the officer to be relevant<sup>8</sup>:

  - 76. (e) the suitability of other members of the proposed private foster carer's household<sup>13</sup>;
  - 77. (f) that arrangements for contact between the child and the child's parents, any other persons with parental responsibility for the child, and other persons who are significant to the child, have been agreed and understood and that those arrangements will be satisfactory for the child<sup>14</sup>;
  - 78. (g) that the parents of the child or any other person with parental responsibility for him and the proposed private foster carer have agreed financial arrangement for the care and maintenance of the child<sup>15</sup>;
  - 79. (h) that consideration has been given to and necessary steps taken to make arrangements for care of the child's health<sup>16</sup>;
  - 80. (i) that consideration has been given to and necessary steps taken to arrange for the child's education<sup>17</sup>;
  - 81. (j) how decisions about the care of the child will be taken<sup>18</sup>;
  - 82. (k) whether the proposed private foster career, the parents of the child and any other person with parental responsibility for the child, or any other person concerned with the child are being given such advice as seems to the local authority to be needed<sup>19</sup>.

Having completed the above functions, the officer must make a written report to the local authority<sup>20</sup>.

Where a local authority has been notified that a child is being fostered privately<sup>21</sup>, it must arrange for an officer within seven working days to:

- 2501 (i) perform all the functions listed in heads (1) to (4) above<sup>22</sup>; and
  - 2502 (ii) establish the following matters that appear to the officer to be relevant<sup>23</sup>:

- 83. (A) that the intended duration of the fostering arrangement is understood and agreed between the parents of the child or any other person with parental responsibility for him and the private foster carer<sup>24</sup>;
  - 84. (B) the wishes and feelings of the child about the arrangement (considered in the light of the child's age and understanding)<sup>25</sup>;
  - 85. (C) that the child's physical, intellectual, emotional, social and behavioural development is appropriate and satisfactory<sup>26</sup>;
  - 86. (D) that the child's needs arising from his religious persuasion, racial origin, cultural and linguistic background are being met<sup>27</sup>;
  - 87. (E) that the financial arrangements for the care and maintenance of the child are working<sup>28</sup>;

1059. Regular visits to children.

Each local authority<sup>1</sup> must arrange for an officer to visit every child who is being privately fostered<sup>2</sup> within its area:

2503 (1) in the first year of the private fostering arrangement, at intervals of not more than six weeks<sup>3</sup>; and 2504 (2) in any second or subsequent year, at intervals of not more than 12 weeks<sup>4</sup>.

The local authority must also arrange a visit when reasonably requested to do so by the child, foster parent, a parent of the child or any other person with parental responsibility for the child<sup>5</sup>.

The officer must, if he considers it appropriate, arrange to speak to the child alone<sup>6</sup>, and he must make a written report to the local authority after each visit<sup>7</sup>.

When carrying out the visit, the officer must establish such of the following matters as appear to the officer to be relevant<sup>8</sup>:

2505 (a) that the intended duration of the fostering arrangement is understood and agreed between the parents of the child or any other person with parental responsibility for him and the private foster carer<sup>9</sup>;

2506 (b) the wishes and feelings of the child about the arrangement (considered in the light of the child's age and understanding)<sup>10</sup>;

2507 (c) that the child's physical, intellectual, emotional, social and behavioural development is appropriate and satisfactory<sup>11</sup>;

2508 (d) that the child's needs arising from his religious persuasion, racial origin, cultural and linguistic background are being met<sup>12</sup>;

2509 (e) that the financial arrangements for the care and maintenance of the child are working<sup>13</sup>;

2510 (f) the capacity of the private foster carer to look after the child<sup>14</sup>;

2511 (g) the suitability of the accommodation<sup>15</sup>;

2513 (i) the arrangements for the child's education<sup>18</sup>;

2514 (j) the standard of care which the child is being given<sup>19</sup>;

2515 (k) the suitability of members of the private foster carer's family<sup>20</sup>;

2516 (l) whether the contact between the child and his parents, or any other person with whom contact has been arranged, is satisfactory for the child<sup>21</sup>;

2517 (m) how decisions about the child's care are being taken<sup>22</sup>;

2518 (n) whether the private foster carer, the parents of the child, any other person with parental responsibility for the child, or any other person concerned with the child are being given such advice as appears to the authority to be needed<sup>23</sup>.

NOTE 5--Appointed day is 12 October 2009: SI 2009/2611.

Halsbury's Laws of England/CHILDREN AND YOUNG PERSONS (VOLUME 5(3) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 1-742; VOLUME 5(4) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 743-1433)/11. SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(11) PRIVATE ARRANGEMENTS FOR FOSTERING CHILDREN/1065. Power of local authority to impose requirements.

1065. Power of local authority to impose requirements.

Where a person is fostering any child privately<sup>1</sup>, or proposes to do so, the appropriate local authority<sup>2</sup> may impose on him requirements as to<sup>3</sup>:

- 2544 (1) the number, age and sex of the children who may be privately fostered by him<sup>4</sup>;
- 2545 (2) the standard of accommodation and equipment to be provided for them<sup>5</sup>;
- 2546 (3) the arrangements to be made with respect to their health and safety<sup>6</sup>; and
- 2547 (4) particular arrangements which must be made with respect to the provision of care for them<sup>7</sup>.

It is the duty of the foster parent (or intending foster parent) to comply<sup>8</sup> with any such requirement before the end of such period as the authority may specify<sup>9</sup>. A requirement may be limited to a particular child or class of child<sup>10</sup>. A requirement may be limited by the authority so as to apply only when the number of children fostered by the person exceeds a specified number<sup>11</sup>. Such a requirement must be imposed by notice in writing and addressed to the person on whom it is imposed; and the notice must inform him of the reason for imposing the requirement, his right to appeal against it and the time within which he may do so<sup>12</sup>. A local authority may at any time vary any requirement, impose any additional requirement or remove any requirement<sup>13</sup>.

1066. Power of local authority to prohibit private fostering.

Where the local authority<sup>1</sup> for the area within which a child<sup>2</sup> is proposed to be, or is being, fostered is of the opinion that the person who proposes to foster the child privately<sup>3</sup> or is doing so is not a suitable person to foster a child, or that the premises in which the child will be, or is being, accommodated are not suitable, or that it would be prejudicial to the welfare of the child for him to be, or continue to be, accommodated by that person in those premises, the authority may impose a prohibition on him<sup>4</sup>. Such a prohibition may prohibit the person concerned from fostering privately:

- 2548 (1) any child in any premises within the authority's area<sup>5</sup>;
- 2549 (2) any child in premises specified in the prohibition<sup>6</sup>; or
- 2550 (3) a child identified in the prohibition, in premises specified in the prohibition<sup>7</sup>.

A prohibition may also be imposed on a person in respect of whom a local authority has imposed a requirement under the statutory provisions<sup>8</sup> in that behalf<sup>9</sup>.

A prohibition must be imposed by notice in writing addressed to the person on whom it is imposed and informing him of the reasons for imposing the prohibition, his right to appeal against the prohibition<sup>10</sup> and the time within which he may do so<sup>11</sup>.

A local authority which has imposed a prohibition may if it thinks fit cancel the prohibition of its own motion or on an application made by the person prohibited, if it is satisfied that the prohibition is no longer justified<sup>12</sup>.

1068. Appeals.

- 2558 (1) a requirement imposed by a local authority<sup>2</sup>;
- 2559 (2) a prohibition imposed by a local authority<sup>3</sup>;
- 2560 (3) a refusal to cancel a prohibition<sup>4</sup>;

- 2562 (5) a refusal to exempt a person from the usual fostering limit<sup>6</sup>;
- 2563 (6) a condition imposed in such an exemption<sup>7</sup>; or
- 2564 (7) a variation or cancellation of such an exemption<sup>8</sup>, may appeal to the court<sup>9</sup>.

The appeal must be made within 14 days from the date on which the person is notified of the matter by which he is aggrieved<sup>10</sup>. Where the appeal falls within head (1), head (6) or head (7) above, the requirement, condition, cancellation or variation in question does not have effect while the appeal is pending<sup>11</sup>.

Where the court allows an appeal against a requirement or prohibition, it may, instead of cancelling the requirement or prohibition, vary it, or allow more time for compliance with it; if an absolute prohibition was imposed, the court may substitute for it a prohibition on using the premises after such time as the court may specify unless such requirements as the local authority had power to impose are complied with<sup>12</sup>. Any requirement or prohibition specified or substituted by a court is deemed for the purposes of Part IX of the Children Act 1989<sup>13</sup> to have been imposed by the local authority<sup>14</sup>. Where it allows an appeal against a refusal to make an exemption, a condition imposed in such an exemption, or a variation or cancellation of such an exemption, the court may make an exemption, impose a condition or vary the exemption<sup>15</sup>.

1069. Application of provisions to school children during holidays.

- 2565 (1) while living at the school he were a privately fostered child<sup>5</sup>; and
- 2566 (2) certain provisions were omitted<sup>6</sup>.

Where a person proposes to care for and accommodate children at a school in which some or all of them will be treated as private foster children by virtue of this provision<sup>7</sup>, he must, not less than two weeks before the first of those children is so treated during the holiday in question, give written notice of his proposal to the local authority<sup>8</sup> for the area within which the child is ordinarily resident<sup>9</sup>, stating the estimated number of children<sup>10</sup>. However, the local authority may exempt any person from the duty of giving such a notice<sup>11</sup>.

Where a child who is treated as a private foster child by virtue of the above provisions dies, the person caring for him at the school must give written notice of the death within 48 hours to the appropriate local authority<sup>12</sup> and (where reasonably practicable) to each parent of the child and to every person who is not a parent of his but who has parental responsibility<sup>13</sup> for him<sup>14</sup>. Where a child who is treated as a foster child by virtue of these provisions ceases for any other reason to be such a child, the person caring for him at the school must give written notice of the fact to the appropriate local authority<sup>15</sup>.

(12) CHILD MINDING, CHILD CARE AND DAY CARE

(i) Introduction

1070. The legislation.

The law regulating child minding and day care for young children in relation to England, Wales and Scotland was formerly governed by Part X of the Children Act 1989<sup>1</sup>. Part X was repealed in relation to England and Wales by the Care Standards Act 2000<sup>2</sup> and in relation to Scotland by the Regulation of Care (Scotland) Act 2001<sup>3</sup>.

In relation to England and Wales, Part X of the Children Act 1989 was replaced by Part XA of that Act<sup>4</sup>. However, as from a day to be appointed, Part XA is amended by the Childcare Act 2006 so as to apply to Wales only<sup>5</sup>. As from that appointed day, the law regulating child care in England will be mainly governed by the Childcare Act 2006<sup>6</sup>.

1 The Children Act 1989 Pt X (ss 71-79) was repealed by the Care Standards Act 2000 s 79(5) as from 2 July 2001 in relation to England (see the Care Standards Act 2000 (Commencement No 7 (England) and Transitional, Transitory and Savings Provisions) Order 2001, SI 2001/2041, art 2(1)(c)), and as from 1 April 2002 in relation to Wales (see the Care Standards Act 2000 (Commencement No 8 (Wales) and Transitional, Savings and Consequential Provisions) Order 2002, SI 2002/920, art 3(3)(b)).

2 See the Care Standards Act 2000 s 79(5).

3 See the Regulation of Care (Scotland) Act 2001 s 80(1), Sch 4.

4 The Children Act 1989 Pt XA (ss 79A-79X) was added by the Care Standards Act 2000 s 79(1), (2), Sch 3. As to these provisions as they apply in relation to England see paras 1072-1104 post. As to these provisions as they apply in relation to Wales see paras 1163-1187 post.

5 The Children Act 1989 Pt XA (as added) is amended, as from a day to be appointed, by the Childcare Act 2006 s 103(1), Sch 2 paras 4-18. At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed. As to the Children Act 1989 Pt XA (as added and amended) as it applies in relation to Wales see paras 1163-1187 post.

The Childcare Act 2006 also introduces certain new substantive provisions which will apply to Wales: see Pt 2 (ss 22-30); and paras 1188-1194 post.

1071. Additional powers of inspection.

The Secretary of State<sup>1</sup> may by order<sup>2</sup> confer on Her Majesty's Chief Inspector of Education, Children's Services and Skills<sup>3</sup> such additional functions specified in the order as the Secretary of State considers necessary or expedient to enable Her Majesty's Chief Inspector to approve persons in accordance with criteria determined by or under a scheme made under the Tax Credits Act 2002<sup>4</sup> for the approval of persons who are to be regarded as providing child care for the purposes of working tax credit<sup>5</sup>.

The Welsh Ministers<sup>6</sup> have any additional function specified in an order made by them which they consider necessary or expedient to enable them to approve persons as mentioned above but the order may only specify a function corresponding to a function which, by virtue of the above provisions, is exercisable by Her Majesty's Chief Inspector of Education, Children's Services and Skills<sup>7</sup>.

A. CHILD MINDING, CHILD CARE AND DAY CARE UNDER THE CHILDREN ACT 1989

(A) CHILD MINDERS AND DAY CARE PROVIDERS

1072. Definition of child minder.

Until a day to be appointed the following provisions apply<sup>1</sup>. A child minder is someone who looks after one or more children under the age of eight on domestic premises<sup>2</sup> for reward<sup>3</sup>. However, the following people do not act as a child minder when looking after a child:

- 2567 (1) the parent, or a relative, of the child<sup>4</sup>;
- 2568 (2) someone who has parental responsibility for the child<sup>5</sup>;
- 2569 (3) is a local authority foster parent in relation to the child<sup>6</sup>;
- 2570 (4) is a foster parent with whom the child has been placed by a voluntary organisation<sup>7</sup>; or
- 2571 (5) fosters the child privately<sup>8</sup>.

Where a person: (a) looks after a child for the parents ('P1')<sup>9</sup>; or (b) in addition to that work, looks after another child for different parents ('P2')<sup>10</sup>, and the work consists (in a case within head (a) above) of looking after the child wholly or mainly in P1's home or (in a case within head (b) above) of looking after the children wholly or mainly in P1's home or P2's home or both, the work is not to be treated as child minding<sup>11</sup>.

1 As from a day to be appointed the Children Act 1989 Pt XA (ss 79A-79X) (as added) is amended by the Childcare Act 2006 s 103(1), Sch 2 paras 5-16 so as to apply to Wales only: see para 1070 ante, 1163 et seq post. At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed. As to the provisions that will then apply in relation to England see para 1105 et seq post.

2 'Domestic premises' means any premises which are wholly or mainly used as a private dwelling and 'premises' includes any area and any vehicle: Children Act 1989 s 79B(6) (ss 79A-79X added by the Care Standards Act 2000 s 79(1)).

3 See the Children Act 1989 s 79A(2) (as added: see note 2 supra). However, the provisions of the Children Act 1989 Pt XA (as added) do not apply in relation to a person who acts as a child minder or provides day care on any premises, unless the period, or the total of the periods, in any day which he spends looking after children or (as the case may be) during which the children are looked after on the premises exceeds two hours: s 79A(7) (as so added). 'Day care' means care provided at any time for children under the age of eight on premises other than domestic premises: s 79A(6) (as so added). In determining whether a person is required to register under Pt XA (as added) for child minding, any day on which he does not act as a child minder at any time between 2 am and 6 pm is to be disregarded: s 79A(8) (as so added).

4 Ibid s 79A(3)(a) (as added: see note 2 supra). For the meaning of 'child' see para 3 ante.

5 Ibid s 79A(3)(b) (as added: see note 2 supra). For the meaning of 'parental responsibility' see para 134 ante.

6 Ibid s 79A(3)(c) (as added: see note 2 supra). For the meaning of 'local authority foster parent' see para 249 note 13 ante. For the meaning of 'local authority' see para 248 note 10 ante.

7 Ibid s 79A(3)(d) (as added: see note 2 supra). For the meaning of 'voluntary organisation' see para 248 note 10 ante.

8 Ibid s 79A(3)(e) (as added: see note 2 supra).

9 Ibid s 79A(4)(a) (as added: see note 2 supra). For the purposes of s 79A(4) (as added), 'parent', in relation to a child includes: (1) a person who is not a parent of the child but has parental responsibility for the child; (2) a person who is a relative of the child: s 79A(5) (as so added).

10 Ibid s 79A(4)(b) (as added: see note 2 supra).

      - .62
      - 2636 (4) on or after 28 February 2007 he has been found to have done an act which constituted an offence<sup>22</sup> under the law in force in a country outside the United Kingdom and would constitute an offence requiring disqualification under the Day Care and Child Minding (Disqualification) (England) Regulations 2005 if it had been done in any part of the United Kingdom<sup>23</sup>;
      - 2637 (5) he is a person who is included in the list of persons kept under the Protection of Children Act 1999<sup>24</sup> (that is, the list of those considered by the Secretary of State unsuitable to work with children)<sup>25</sup>; 2639 (7) he is a person who lives in the same household as a person who is himself disqualified or in a household at which any such person is employed<sup>29</sup>.

A person is not disqualified under head (1) and head (2) above<sup>30</sup> in respect of any order, determination or offence if he has successfully appealed against the order, determination or conviction, a caution in respect of that offence has been withdrawn or set aside or a direction based wholly or in part on that offence has been revoked<sup>31</sup>. A person is not disqualified under head (4) above in respect of any finding if, under the law in force in the country concerned, such a finding has been reversed<sup>34</sup>.

Where a person would be disqualified by virtue of heads (1) to (4), (6) and (7) above<sup>35</sup> but has disclosed to Her Majesty's Chief Inspector of Education, Children's Services and Skills<sup>36</sup> the facts that would give rise to the disqualification and the Chief Inspector has given consent in writing to waive the disqualification, that person may not be regarded as disqualified for these purposes<sup>37</sup>.

1 As from a day to be appointed the Children Act 1989 Pt XA (ss 79A-79X) (as added) is amended by the Childcare Act 2006 s 103(1), Sch 2 paras 5-16 so as to apply to Wales only: see para 1070 ante. Consequently on that day the Day Care and Child Minding (Disqualification) (England) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/2296 (which were made under the Children Act 1989 ss 79C, 79M (both as added) and apply to England only) will lapse. At the date at which this volume states the law no such day had been appointed.

2 'Disqualified' means disqualified for registration under the Children Act 1989 Pt XA (ss 79A-79X) for child minding or providing day care: Child Minding and Day Care (Disqualification) (England) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/2296, reg 3.

3 As to the meaning of 'child minder' see para 1072 ante.

4 For the meaning of 'day care' see para 1072 note 3 ante.

5 As to the list of orders and determinations see the Child Minding and Day Care (Disqualification) (England) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/2296, Sch 1.

9 Ibid reg 4(1), (2)(d).

10 For these purposes, a person has been 'found to have committed' an offence if he has been convicted of an offence or on or after 28 February 2007 he has been: (1) given a caution in respect of an offence by a police officer after he has admitted that offence; (2) found not guilty of an offence by reason of insanity; or (3) found to be under a disability and to have done the act charged against him in respect of such an offence (ibid reg 3(2)(a) (reg 3(2) added by SI 2007/197)). A person has been found to have committed an offence that is 'related to' an offence if on or after 28 February 2007 he has been found to have committed an offence of attempting, conspiring or incitement to commit that offence or aiding, abetting, counselling or procuring the commission of that offence: Day Care and Child Minding (Disqualification) (England) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/2296, reg 3(2) (b) (as so added).

11 Ibid reg 4(3) (amended by SI 2007/197). An offence against a child mentioned in the text refers to an offence against a child within the meaning of the Criminal Justice and Court Services Act 2000 s 26(1) (see para 667 ante).

- 16    le an offence specified in Day Care and Child Minding (Disqualification) (England) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/2296, Sch 3.
- 17    Ibid reg 4(6) (amended by SI 2007/197).
- 18    le an offence mentioned in the Criminal Justice and Court Services Act 2000 Sch 4 para 2 (see para 667 ante). A person convicted before 28 February 2007 of any offence, committed against a person aged 18 or over, mentioned in Sch 4 para 2 is not disqualified under the Day Care and Child Minding (Disqualification) (England) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/2296 (as amended) unless a qualifying sentence has been imposed by a senior court in respect of that offence and ceases to be disqualified where the rehabilitation period applicable to the conviction under the Rehabilitation of Offenders Act 1974 has expired: Day Care and Child Minding (Disqualification) (England) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/2296, reg 5(3) (added by SI 2007/197). - 21    Day Care and Child Minding (Disqualification) (England) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/2296, reg 5(1)(b) (amended by SI 2007/197).
- 22    For these purposes, a person has been 'found to have done an act which constituted an offence' if, under the law in force in a country outside the United Kingdom he has been convicted of an offence (whether or not he has been punished for it), he has been cautioned in respect of an offence, a court exercising jurisdiction under that law has made in respect of an offence a finding equivalent to a finding that he is not guilty by reason of insanity or such a court has made in respect of an offence a finding equivalent to a finding that he is under a disability and did the act charged against him: Day Care and Child Minding (Disqualification) (England) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/2296, reg 5A(2) (reg 5A added by SI 2007/197). An act punishable under the law in force in a country outside the United Kingdom constitutes an offence under that law for these purposes however it is described in that law: Day Care and Child Minding (Disqualification) (England) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/2296, reg 5A(4) (as so added).
- 23    Ibid reg 5A(1) (as added: see note 22 supra). The text refers to the Day Care and Child Minding (Disqualification) (England) Regulations 2005, SI 2005/2296 (as amended).

1105. Duties imposed by the Childcare Act 2006.

<sup>2</sup> The Childcare Act 2006 applies to England and Wales only, except in relation to any amendments or repeals made by the Act which apply to the same extent as the provision amended or repealed: see s 111(2), (3). Part 1 (ss 1-21), Pt 3 (ss 31-98) (as amended), and Pt 4 (ss 99-111) in their application to the Isles of Scilly, have effect subject to such exceptions, adaptations and modifications as the Secretary of State may by order prescribe: s 108. At the date at which this volume states the law no such order had been made. As to the Secretary of State see para 155 ante.

There must be paid out of money provided by Parliament any expenses incurred by a Minister of the Crown or government department under or by virtue of the Childcare Act 2006 and any increase attributable to the Childcare Act 2006 in the sums which under any other Act are payable out of money so provided: s 107.

CHILD CARE UNDER THE CHILDCARE ACT 2006/(A) General Functions and Provision of Child Care/1106. General duties of English local authorities.

1106. General duties of English local authorities.

As from a day to be appointed the following provisions have effect<sup>1</sup>. An English local authority must improve the well-being of young children<sup>2</sup> in its area and reduce inequalities between young children in its area in relation to matters relating to their well-being<sup>3</sup>.

'Well-being', in relation to children, means their well-being so far as relating to:

- 2696 (1) physical and mental health and emotional well-being<sup>4</sup>;
- 2697 (2) protection from harm and neglect<sup>5</sup>;
- 2698 (3) education, training and recreation<sup>6</sup>;
- 2699 (4) the contribution made by them to society<sup>7</sup>;
- 2700 (5) social and economic well-being<sup>8</sup>.

The Secretary of State may, in accordance with regulations<sup>9</sup>, set targets<sup>10</sup> for: (a) the improvement of the well-being of young children in the area of an English local authority<sup>11</sup>; (b) the reduction of inequalities between young children in the area of an English local authority in relation to the matters relating to their well-being<sup>12</sup>.

In exercising their functions, an English local authority must act in the manner that is best calculated to secure that any targets set by the regulations (so far as relating to the area of the local authority) are met<sup>13</sup>.

1 The Childcare Act 2006 Pt 1 (ss 1-21) is mainly to be brought into force as from a day to be appointed by order made under ss 109(2), 110(1), (2). At the date at which this volume states the law s 1 had only been brought into force for the purpose of making regulations: see the Childcare Act 2006 (Commencement No 1) Order 2006, SI 2006/3360, art 2(a).

2 For these purposes and the purposes of the Childcare Act 2006 Pt 3 (ss 31-98) (as amended), a child is a 'young child' during the period beginning with his birth and ending immediately before 1 September next following the date on which he attains the age of five: ss 19, 21. 'Child' means a person under the age of 18: s 106.

3 Ibid s 1(1). The text refers to the matters mentioned in s 1(2): see heads (1)-(5) in the text. In performing their duties under s 1, an English local authority must have regard to any guidance given from time to time by the Secretary of State: s 1(5). For the meaning of 'English local authority' see para 1105 note 4 ante. As to the Secretary of State see para 155 ante.

7 Ibid s 1(2)(d).

8 Ibid s 1(2)(e).

9 Any power to make an order or regulations under the Childcare Act 2006 is exercisable by statutory instrument (s 104(1)) and includes power to make different provision for different cases or areas, to make provision generally or in relation to specific cases, and to make incidental, supplementary, saving or transitional provision (s 104(2)). A statutory instrument containing an order or regulations made by the Secretary of State is subject to annulment in pursuance of a resolution of either House of Parliament but not in relation to an order under s 109(2) or to which s 109(3) applies: s 105(1), (2). A statutory instrument which contains (whether alone or with other provisions) an order under s 5 (see para 1107 post), s 41(4) (see para 1122 post) or s 94 (see para 1130 post) may not be made unless a draft of the instrument has been laid before, and approved by a resolution of, each House of Parliament: s 105(3).

10 The Secretary of State may not set targets under ibid s 1(3) in respect of a particular English local authority more frequently than once in each calendar year: Local Authority Targets (Well-being of Young Children) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/1415, reg 2. A target must be set by reference to one or more of the foundation stage assessment scales: reg 3. 'Foundation stage assessment scales' means the assessment scales described in the Foundation Stage Profile Handbook (January 2003) published by the Qualifications and Curriculum Authority: reg 1. Prior to setting a target in relation to an English local authority, the Secretary of State must:

786 (1) notify the authority that he is proposing to set the target by a date specified in the notification, such date not to be less than two months from the date of notification and of a date, such date not to be less than one month from the date of notification, by which the authority's proposed target and any representations in respect of the target may be submitted (reg 4(a)); and 787 (2) have regard to any target proposed by the authority and any representations submitted (reg 4(b)).

Where the Secretary of State proposes to set a target which is different from a target which has been proposed by an English local authority, he must give the authority an account of his reasons and specify a date by which further representations may be submitted: reg 5.

1106-1109 General duties of English local authorities ... Duty to secure sufficient child care for working parents

These provisions are in force by 1 April 2008 for all purposes: SI 2008/785.

1107 Duty to provide early childhood services

TEXT AND NOTES--English local authorities and others also have duties in relation to children's centres: see PARA 1107A.

NOTE 11--In deciding what arrangements to make under s 3(4), an English local authority must in particular have regard to (1) the quantity and quality of early childhood services that are provided, or that the authority expects to be provided, in its area; and (2) where in that area those services are provided or expected to be provided: Childcare Act 2006 s 3(4A) (added by Apprenticeships, Skills, Children and Learning Act 2009 s 201).

Halsbury's Laws of England/CHILDREN AND YOUNG PERSONS (VOLUME 5(3) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 1-742; VOLUME 5(4) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 743-1433)/11. SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES ETC/(12) CHILD MINDING, CHILD CARE AND DAY CARE/(ii) Child Minding, Child Care and Day Care in England/B. CHILD CARE UNDER THE CHILDCARE ACT 2006/(A) General Functions and Provision of Child Care/1107A. Duty to provide children's centres.

1107A. Duty to provide children's centres.

Arrangements made by an English local authority under Childcare Act 2006 s 3(2) (see PARA 1107) must, so far as is reasonably practicable, include arrangements for sufficient provision of children's centres to meet local need: Childcare Act 2006 s 5A(1) (ss 5A-5G added by Apprenticeships, Skills, Children and Learning Act 2009 s 198). A 'children's centre' is a place, or a group of places, (1) which is managed by or on behalf of, or under arrangements made with, an English local authority, with a view to securing that early childhood services in its area are made available in an integrated manner; (2) through which each of the early childhood services is made available; and (3) at which activities for young children are provided, whether by way of early years provision or otherwise: Childcare Act 2006 s 5A(4), 5G. A service is made available by providing the service or by providing advice and assistance to parents and prospective parents on gaining access to the service: Childcare Act 2006 s 5A(5). 'Local need' is the need of parents, prospective parents, and young children in the authority's area: Childcare Act 2006 s 5A(2). In determining what provision of children's centres is sufficient to meet local need, an authority may have regard to any children's centres that are provided outside its area or that it expects to be provided outside its area: Childcare Act 2006 s 5A(3). A children's centre provided by virtue of the above provisions is to be known as a Sure Start Children's Centre: Childcare Act 2006 s 5A(7). As to the use of guidance issued under Childcare Act 2006 s 3(6) (see PARA 1107) in relation to the provision of early childhood services see Childcare Act 2006 s 5A(6).

Regulations may make provision about the staffing, organisation and operation of children's centres: see Childcare Act 2006 s 5B. A local authority must ensure that each children's centre for which it is responsible has an advisory board: see Childcare Act 2006 s 5C. A local authority must secure that appropriate consultation is carried out before establishing or closing a children's centre, or making a significant change in the services provided through a centre: see Childcare Act 2006 s 5D. A local authority and its relevant partners must also consider whether early childhood services to be provided by them should be provided through a children's centre: see Childcare Act 2006 s 5E.

Her Majesty's Chief Inspector of Education, Children's Services and Skills ('the Chief Inspector') must inspect a children's centre at prescribed intervals or at any time when the Secretary of State requires him to do so: see Childcare Act 2006 ss 98A, 98G (ss 98A-98G added by Apprenticeships, Skills, Children and Learning Act 2009 s 199). The Chief Inspector has the power of entry and related powers for the purpose of conducting an inspection (see Childcare Act 2006 s 98D), and it is an offence punishable on summary conviction by a fine not exceeding level 4 on the standard scale to intentionally obstruct the exercise of those powers (see Childcare Act 2006 s 98E). The court may, on an application by the Chief Inspector, authorise a police constable to assist him in the exercise of his powers: see Childcare Act 2006 s 98F. After conducting an inspection the Chief Inspector must make a written report, and regulations may make provision about the matters required and not required to be dealt with in it: see Childcare Act 2006 s 98B. A local authority must take specified action on receiving the report: see Childcare Act 2006 s 98C.

TEXT AND NOTES--These provisions in force for all purposes by 1 September 2008: SI 2008/785, SI 2008/2261. The Local Authority (Duty to Secure Early Years Provision Free of Charge) Regulations 2008, SI 2008/1724, prescribe various matters for the purposes of the Childcare Act 2006 s 7.

Halsbury's Laws of England/CHILDREN AND YOUNG PERSONS (VOLUME 5(3) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 1-742; VOLUME 5(4) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 743-1433)/11. CHILD CARE UNDER THE CHILDCARE ACT 2006/(A) General Functions and Provision of Child Care/1111. Powers to assist or make arrangements for those providing child care.

1111. Powers to assist or make arrangements for those providing child care.

An English local authority may<sup>1</sup> assist any person who provides or proposes to provide child care<sup>2</sup>. It may also make arrangements with any other person for the provision of child care<sup>3</sup>. The assistance which may be provided by the authority includes financial assistance and the arrangements that may be provided include arrangements involving the provision of financial assistance by the authority<sup>4</sup>.

Where an English local authority makes arrangements with a person (other than the governing body of a maintained school<sup>5</sup>) for the provision by that person of child care in consideration of financial assistance provided by the local authority under the arrangements, the local authority must exercise its functions with a view to securing that the provider of the child care meets any requirements imposed on him by the arrangements<sup>6</sup>. The requirements imposed by the arrangements may, in particular, if any specified conditions are not satisfied, require the repayment of the whole or any part of any financial assistance provided by the local authority under the arrangements<sup>7</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'English local authority' see para 1105 note 4 ante. In exercising its functions under the Childcare Act 2006 s 8, an English local authority must have regard to any guidance given from time to time by the Secretary of State: s 8(6). As to the Secretary of State see para 155 ante.

2 Ibid s 8(1)(a). For the meaning of 'child care' see para 1109 note 3 ante.

3 Ibid s 8(1)(b).

4 Ibid s 8(2).

5 'Maintained school' means a community, foundation or voluntary school, a community or foundation special school or a maintained nursery school: ibid s 106. See EDUCATION vol 15(1) (2006 Reissue) para 94 et seq.

6 Ibid s 9(1), (2).

CHILD CARE UNDER THE CHILDCARE ACT 2006/(A) General Functions and Provision of Child Care/1112. Power to provide child care.

1112. Power to provide child care.

An English local authority may<sup>1</sup> provide child care<sup>2</sup>. However, the authority may not provide child care for a particular child or group of children unless satisfied that no other person is willing to provide the child care (whether in pursuance of arrangements made with the authority or otherwise) or, if another person is willing to do so, that in the circumstances it is appropriate for the local authority to provide the child care<sup>3</sup>. This does not affect the provision of child care by the governing body of a maintained school<sup>4</sup>.

The authority may enter into an agreement under which payments are made to the authority for the provision by the authority of child care for a child<sup>5</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'English local authority' see para 1105 note 4 ante. In exercising its functions under the Childcare Act 2006 s 8, an English local authority must have regard to any guidance given from time to time by the Secretary of State: s 8(6). As to the Secretary of State see para 155 ante.

2 Ibid s 8(1)(c). For the meaning of 'child care' see para 1109 note 3 ante.

3 Ibid s 8(3). Section 8(3) does not apply in relation to the provision of child care under the Children Act 1989 s 18(1) or s 18(5) (day care for children in need: see para 860 ante): Childcare Act 2006 s 8(5).

4 Ibid s 8(4). For the meaning of 'maintained school' see para 1111 note 5 ante.

5 Ibid s 10(1). Section 10(1) does not apply to child care provided in pursuance of the duty imposed by s 7 (see para 1110 ante), or to child care provided under the Children Act 1989 s 18(1) or s 18(5) (day care for children in need: see para 860 ante), provision as to charges for such care being made by s 29 (as amended; prospectively amended) (see para 934 ante): Childcare Act 2006 s 10(2).

Halsbury's Laws of England/CHILDREN AND YOUNG PERSONS (VOLUME 5(3) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 1-742; VOLUME 5(4) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 743-1433)/11. CHILD CARE UNDER THE CHILDCARE ACT 2006/(A) General Functions and Provision of Child Care/1113. Duty to assess child care.

1113. Duty to assess child care.

An English local authority<sup>1</sup> must prepare assessments of the sufficiency of the provision of child care<sup>2</sup> (whether or not by it) in its area ('child care assessments')<sup>3</sup>. The authority must keep a child care assessment prepared by it under review until the child care assessment is superseded by a further child care assessment<sup>4</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'English local authority' see para 1105 note 4 ante.

2 For the meaning of 'child care' see para 1109 note 3 ante. The Childcare Act 2006 s 6(5) (see para 1109 note 5 ante) applies for the purposes of s 11 as it applies for the purposes of s 6: s 11(7).

3 Ibid s 11(1). The first child care assessment must be prepared before the end of the period of one year beginning with the commencement of s 11 and subsequent child care assessments must be prepared at intervals not exceeding three years: s 11(2), (3). Regulations may make provision requiring a child care assessment to deal with prescribed matters or to be prepared according to prescribed criteria, to be in the prescribed form, and to be published in the prescribed manner: s 11(5). As to the prescribed criteria, the matters which a child care assessment must deal with, and its publication see the Childcare Act 2006 (Child care Assessments) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/463, regs 3-5. In preparing a child care assessment and keeping it under review, an English local authority must consult such persons, or persons of such a description, as may be prescribed, and have regard to any guidance given from time to time by the Secretary of State: Childcare Act 2006 s 11(6). As to the persons that are prescribed for the purposes of consultation under s 11(6) see the Childcare Act 2006 (Child care Assessments) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/463, reg 2. For the meaning of 'prescribed' see para 1110 note 3 ante. As to the making of regulations generally under the Childcare Act 2006 see para 1106 note 9 ante.

1114. Duty to provide information, advice and assistance to parents or prospective parents.

As from a day to be appointed the following provisions have effect<sup>1</sup>. An English local authority<sup>2</sup> must establish and maintain a service providing information, advice and assistance in accordance with the following provisions<sup>3</sup>.

The service must provide to parents or prospective parents<sup>4</sup> information which is of a prescribed description<sup>5</sup> and relates to any of the following:

- 2709 (1) the provision of child care in the area of the local authority<sup>6</sup>;
- 2710 (2) any other services or facilities, or any publications, which may be of benefit to parents or prospective parents in its area<sup>7</sup>;
- 2711 (3) any other services or facilities, or any publications, which may be of benefit to children or young persons in its area<sup>8</sup>.

The service must provide advice and assistance to parents or prospective parents who use, or propose to use, child care provided in the area of the local authority<sup>9</sup>. The service must be established and maintained in the manner which is best calculated to facilitate access to the service by persons in the local authority's area who may benefit from it including in particular persons who might otherwise have difficulty in taking advantage of the service<sup>10</sup>.

(B) REGULATION OF CHILD CARE PROVISION

(a) In general

1117. Regulation under the Childcare Act 2006.

As from a day to be appointed<sup>1</sup>, provisions are made by Part 3 of the Childcare Act 2006<sup>2</sup> for the regulation of the provision of child care in England<sup>3</sup>.

Her Majesty's Chief Inspector of Education, Children's Services and Skills<sup>4</sup> must maintain two registers<sup>5</sup>. The first register ('the early years register') is to be a register of all persons who are registered as early years child minders or other early years providers<sup>6</sup>. The second register ('the general child care register') is to be divided into two parts<sup>7</sup>: the first part ('Part A') is to be a register of all persons who are required to be registered as later years child minders or other later years providers<sup>8</sup>; and the second part ('Part B') is to be a register of all persons who are voluntarily registered as child minders or other child care providers providing early years provision or later years provision in respect of which they are not required to be registered<sup>9</sup>.

1 The Childcare Act 2006 Pt 3 (ss 31-98) is mainly to be brought into force by order made by the Secretary of State as from a day to be appointed under ss 109(2), 110(1), (2). At the date at which this volume states the law ss 96, 98, 104, 105, 111 had been brought into force; but s 32 had only been brought into force so far as it requires Her Majesty's Chief Inspector of Education, Children's Services and Skills to maintain Part B of the second register (see the text and note 9 infra): see s 109(1); the Childcare Act 2006 (Commencement No 2 and Savings and Transitional Provisions) Order 2007, SI 2007/1019, art 4; and the Childcare Act 2006 (Commencement No 1) Order 2006, SI 2006/3360, art 2(d). At the date at which this volume states the law no further order had been made bringing the Childcare Act 2006 s 32 into force in so far as it requires the Chief Inspector to maintain the first register or Part A of the second register. As to the Secretary of State see para 155 ante. As to Her Majesty's Chief Inspector of Education, Children's Services and Skills see para 196 ante; and EDUCATION.

2 Ibid Pt 3: see para 1118 et seq post.

3 The Childcare Act 2006 applies to England and Wales, except in relation to any amendments or repeals made by the Act which apply to the same extent as the provision amended or repealed: see s 111(2), (3). However, Pt 3 applies to the regulation of child care in England only. The amended provisions of the Children Act 1989 continue to apply in relation to the regulation of child care in Wales: see paras 1070 ante, 1163 et seq post.

4 Regulations may require persons under ibid Pt 3 Chs 2-4 (ss 33-67) to pay to the Chief Inspector, at or by prescribed times, fees of the prescribed amounts in respect of the discharge by the Chief Inspector of his functions: s 89(1). Regulations under s 89(1) may prescribe circumstances in which: (1) the amount of a fee payable under the regulations may be varied in accordance with the regulations; (2) a fee payable under the regulations may be waived: s 89(2). At the date at which this volume states the law no such regulations had been made.

5 Ibid s 32(1).

6 Ibid s 32(2). The text refers to early year child minders or other early year providers registered under Pt 3 Ch 2 (ss 33-51) (which provides for the compulsory registration of persons providing early years provision: see paras 1116 ante, 1118-1126 post). For the purposes of Pt 3, 'early years provision' means the provision of child care for a young child; and 'early years provider' means a person who provides early years provision: s 96(1)-

(3). 'Early years child minding' means early years provision on domestic premises for reward; and 'early years child minder' is to be read accordingly: s 96(1), (4). Early years provision on domestic premises for reward is not early years child minding if at any time the number of persons providing the early years provision on the premises or assisting with the provision exceeds three: s 96(1), (5). 'Premises' includes any area and any vehicle; and 'domestic premises' means premises which are used wholly or mainly as a private dwelling: s 98(1). For the meaning of 'young child' see para 1106 note 2 ante. For the purposes of Pt 3, where an individual ('the employee') is employed to care for a child by a person who provides early years provision or later years provision for the child, the employee is not to be regarded as providing early years provision or (as the case may be) later years provision by virtue of anything done by him in the course of that employment: s 97.

7 Ibid s 32(3).

8 Ibid s 32(4). The text refers to persons registered as later years child minders or other later years providers under Pt 3 Ch 3 (ss 52-61) (which provides for the compulsory registration of persons providing later years provision for children under the age of eight: see paras 1127-1133 post). For the purposes of Pt 3, 'later years child minding' means later years provision on domestic premises for reward; and 'later years child minder' is to be read accordingly: s 96(1), (8). Later years provision on domestic premises for reward is not later years child minding if at any time the number of persons providing the later years provision on the premises or assisting with the provision exceeds three: s 96(1), (9). 'Later years provider' means a person who provides later years provision: s 96(1), (7). 'Later years provision', in relation to a child, means the provision of child care at any time during the period beginning with 1 September next following the date on which he attains the age of five and ending with such day as may be prescribed: s 96(1), (6). 'Prescribed' means prescribed by regulations (s 98(1)); and the date so prescribed for the purpose of s 96(6) is the date on which the child attains the age of 18 (Childcare (Voluntary Registration) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/730, reg 3). As to the power to make orders and regulations under the Childcare Act 2006 see para 1106 note 9 ante.

9 Ibid s 32(5). The text refers to persons voluntarily registered as child minders under Pt 3 Ch 4 (ss 62-67) (see para 1134 et seq post).

Halsbury's Laws of England/CHILDREN AND YOUNG PERSONS (VOLUME 5(3) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 1-742; VOLUME 5(4) (2008 REISSUE) PARAS 743-1433)/11. ### 1122. Learning and development requirements.

For the purpose of promoting the well-being of young children<sup>1</sup> for whom early years provision is provided by early years providers<sup>2</sup>, the Secretary of State<sup>3</sup> must by order specify<sup>4</sup> such requirements as he considers appropriate relating to learning by, and the development of, such children ('learning and development requirements')<sup>5</sup>.

The learning and development requirements must cover the following areas of learning and development:

- 2746 (1) personal, social and emotional development<sup>6</sup>;
- 2747 (2) communication, language and literacy<sup>7</sup>;
- 2748 (3) problem solving, reasoning and numeracy<sup>8</sup>;
- 2749 (4) knowledge and understanding of the world<sup>9</sup>;
- 2750 (5) physical development<sup>10</sup>; and
- 2751 (6) creative development<sup>11</sup>.

The learning and development requirements may specify in relation to each of the areas of learning and development:

- 2752 (a) the knowledge, skills and understanding which young children of different abilities and maturities are expected to have before 1 September next following the day on which they attain the age of five ('early learning goals')<sup>12</sup>;
- 2753 (b) the matters, skills and processes which are required to be taught to young children of different abilities and maturities ('educational programmes')<sup>13</sup>; and
- 2754 (c) the arrangements which are required for assessing children for the purpose of ascertaining what they have achieved in relation to the early learning goals ('assessment arrangements')<sup>14</sup>.

A learning and development order may specify such assessment arrangements as may for the time being be made by a person specified in the order<sup>15</sup> and may confer or impose on any of the following:

- 2755 (i) an early years provider<sup>16</sup>;
- 2756 (ii) the governing body or head teacher of a maintained school in England<sup>17</sup>;
- and
- 2757 (ii) an English local authority<sup>18</sup>, such functions as appear to the Secretary of State to be required<sup>19</sup>.

2 le early years providers to whom the Childcare Act 2006 s 40 applies (see para 1125 post). For the meanings of 'early years provision' and 'early years provider' see para 1117 note 6 ante.

3 As to the Secretary of State see para 155 ante.

4 le in accordance with the Childcare Act 2006 s 41.

5 Ibid s 39(1)(a). An order under s 39(1)(a) ('a learning and development order') may not require:

794 (1) the allocation of any particular period or periods of time to the teaching of any educational programme or any matter, skill or process forming part of it (s 41(5)(a)); or 795 (2) the making in the timetables of any early years provider of provision of any particular kind for the periods to be allocated to such teaching (s 41(5)(b)).

Where the Secretary of State proposes to make an order under s 39(1)(a) specifying early learning goals or educational programmes, he must give notice of the proposal to such bodies representing the interests of early years providers as the Secretary of State considers appropriate, and to any other persons with whom consultation appears to the Secretary of State to be desirable; and he must give them a reasonable opportunity of submitting evidence and representations as to the issues arising: s 45(1), (2). When the Secretary of State has considered any evidence and representations submitted to him he must publish in such manner as, in his opinion, is likely to bring them to the notice of persons having a special interest in early years provision a draft of the proposed order and any associated document, and a summary of the views expressed during the consultation: s 45(3). The Secretary of State must allow a period of not less than one month beginning with the publication of the draft of the proposed order for the submission of any further evidence and representations as to the issues arising; and when the period so allowed has expired, the Secretary of State may make the order, with or without modifications: s 45(4), (5).

An order under s 39(1)(a) may, instead of containing the provisions to be made, refer to provisions in a document published as specified in the instrument and direct that those provisions are to have effect or, as the case may be, are to have effect as specified in the instrument: s 44(1), (5). The power to make an order under s 39(1)(a) may be exercised so as to confer powers or impose duties on Her Majesty's Chief Inspector of Education, Children's Services and Skills in the exercise of his functions under Pt 3 (ss 31-98) (as amended) (s 44(2), (5)); and, in particular, that power may be exercised so as to require or authorise the Chief Inspector, in exercising those functions, to have regard to factors, standards and other matters prescribed by or referred to in the order (s 44(3), (5)). If the order requires any person (other than the Chief Inspector) to have regard to or to meet factors, standards and other matters prescribed by or referred to in the order, the order may also provide for any allegation that the person has failed to do so to be taken into account by the Chief Inspector in the exercise of his functions under Pt 3, or in any proceedings under Pt 3: s 44(4), (5). As to Her Majesty's Chief Inspector of Education, Children's Services and Skills see para 196 ante; and EDUCATION.

As from 1 September 2008, for the purpose of specifying the learning and development requirements under s 39(1)(a), the Department for Education and Skills publication the Statutory Framework for the Early Years Foundation Stage (2007) s 2 has effect and the Chief Inspector must have regard to the requirements and guidance given in s 2 of that document when exercising functions under the Childcare Act 2006 Pt 3: see the Early Years Foundation Stage (Learning and Development Requirements) Order 2007, SI 2007/1772, arts 3(1), 5. Any allegation that an early years provider has failed to have regard to the guidance or learning and development requirements prescribed in the Statutory Framework for the Early Years Foundation Stage (2007) s 2 may be taken into account by the Chief Inspector in the exercise of functions under the Childcare Act 2006 Pt 3 and may be taken into account in any proceedings under Pt 3: see the Early Years Foundation Stage (Learning and Development Requirements) Order 2007, SI 2007/1772, arts 6, 7.

11 Ibid s 41(1), (3)(f). The Secretary of State may order amend s 41(3): s 41(4). At the date at which this volume states the law no such orders had been made.

12 Ibid s 41(2)(a).

13 Ibid s 41(2)(b).

14 Ibid s 41(2)(c).

15 Ibid s 42(3). Provision must be made for determining the extent to which any assessment arrangements, and the implementation of the arrangements, achieve the purpose for which the arrangements were made; and any such provision may be made by or under the learning and development order specifying the arrangements or (where the order specifies the person making the arrangements) in the arrangements themselves: s 42(4). The duties that may be imposed by virtue of s 41(1) include, in relation to persons exercising any power in pursuance of provision made by virtue of s 42(4), the duty to permit them to enter premises on which the early years provision is provided, to observe implementation of the arrangements, and to inspect, and take copies of, documents and other articles: s 42(5). A learning and development order under s 39(1)(a) (see the text and note 5 supra) specifying assessment arrangements may authorise the making of such provisions giving full effect to or otherwise supplementing the provisions made by the order (other than provision conferring or imposing functions as mentioned in s 42(1): see the text and note 19 infra) as appear to the Secretary of State to be expedient; and any provisions made under such an order, on being published as specified in the order, are to have effect as if made by the order: s 42(6), (7).

17 Ibid s 42(2)(b).

18 Ibid s 42(2)(c). For the meaning of 'English local authority' see para 1105 note 4 ante.

19 Ibid s 42(1). Where a person ('the authorised person') proposes to enter domestic premises in pursuance of provision made by virtue of s 42(1), (4) in a learning development order specifying assessment arrangements in relation to early years provision and that person has reasonable cause to believe that the premises are not the home of the person providing the early years or later years provision or that the premises are the home of a child for whom the early years or later years provision is provided, the authorised person may not enter the premises without the consent of an adult who is an occupier of the premises: s 78(1), (2). However, this does not prevent the imposition under s 38 (see para 1121 ante), s 58 (see para 1130 post) or s 66 (see para 1134 post) of a condition requiring a person registered under Pt 3 Ch 2 (ss 33-51), Pt 3 Ch 3 (ss 52-61) or Pt 3 Ch 4 (ss 62-67) to secure that the occupier of any premises on which the registered person provides early years provision or later years provision gives any consent required by s 78(2): s 78(3). 'Occupier' does not include the person providing the early years or later years provision: s 78(4). For these purposes, a 'learning and development order' means an order under s 39(1)(a) (see the text and note 5 supra): s 78(4).

As from 1 September 2008, an English local authority must:

796 (1) make provision to ensure the accuracy and consistency of the assessments made by early years providers in their area (Early Years Foundation Stage (Learning and Development Requirements) Order 2007, SI 2007/1772, art 4(1));

797 (2) have regard to any guidance given by the Qualifications and Curriculum Authority in exercising its function under head (1) supra (art 4(2)).

An early years provider must permit any person authorised by an English local authority for the purposes of exercising its function under head (1) supra to enter the premises on which the early years provision is provided, to observe the implementation of the assessment arrangements, and to inspect, and take copies of, documents and other articles relating to early years foundation stage profiles and assessment arrangements: art 4(3), (4). For the meaning of 'English local authority' see para 1105 note 4 ante.

CHILD CARE UNDER THE CHILDCARE ACT 2006/(B) Regulation of Child Care Provision/ (b) Early Years Child Minders/1124. Welfare requirements.

1124. Welfare requirements.

The matters that may be dealt with by welfare regulations include:

- 2758 (1) the welfare of the children concerned<sup>7</sup>;
- 2759 (2) the arrangements for safeguarding the children concerned<sup>8</sup>;
- 2760 (3) suitability of persons to care for, or be in regular contact with, the children concerned<sup>9</sup>;
- 2761 (4) qualifications and training<sup>10</sup>;
- 2762 (5) the suitability of premises and equipment<sup>11</sup>;
- 2763 (6) the manner in which the early years provision is organised<sup>12</sup>;
- 2764 (7) procedures for dealing with complaints<sup>13</sup>;
- 2765 (8) the keeping of records<sup>14</sup>;
- 2766 (9) the provision of information<sup>15</sup>.

The learning and development requirements and the welfare requirements are together to be known as 'the early years foundation stage'<sup>16</sup>.

1 For the meaning of 'well-being' see para 1106 ante. For the meaning of 'young children' see para 1106 note 2 ante.

2 Ie early years providers to whom the Childcare Act 2006 s 40 applies (see para 1125 post). For the meanings of 'early years provision' and 'early years providers' see para 1117 note 6 ante.

3 As to the Secretary of State see para 155 ante.

4 Ie in accordance with the Childcare Act 2006 s 43.

5 Ie early years providers to whom ibid s 40 applies (see para 1125 post).

6 Ibid s 39(1)(b). Before making welfare regulations, the Secretary of State must consult Her Majesty's Chief Inspector of Education, Children's Services and Skills and any other persons he considers appropriate: s 43(2). As to Her Majesty's Chief Inspector of Education, Children's Services and Skills see para 196 ante; and EDUCATION. Welfare regulations may provide that a person who without reasonable excuse fails to comply with any requirement of the regulations is guilty of an offence; and that a person guilty of the offence is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale: s 43(3). As to the standard scale see para 132 note 2 ante.

Regulations under s 39(1)(b) may, instead of containing the provisions to be made, refer to provisions in a document published as specified in the instrument and direct that those provisions are to have effect or, as the case may be, are to have effect as specified in the instrument: s 44(1), (5). The power to make regulations under s 39(1)(b) may be exercised so as to confer powers or impose duties on the Chief Inspector in the exercise of his functions under Pt 3 (ss 31-98) (as amended) (s 44(2), (5)); and, in particular, that power may be exercised so as to require or authorise the Chief Inspector, in exercising those functions, to have regard to factors, standards and other matters prescribed by or referred to in the regulations (s 44(3), (5)). If the regulations require any person (other than the Chief Inspector) to have regard to or to meet factors, standards and other matters prescribed by or referred to in the regulations, the regulations may also provide for any allegation that the person has failed to do so to be taken into account by the Chief Inspector in the exercise of his functions under Pt 3, or in any proceedings under Pt 3: s 44(4), (5).

As from 1 September 2008 for the purpose of specifying the welfare requirements under s 39(1)(b), the Department for Education and Skills publication the Statutory Framework for the Early Years Foundation Stage (2007) s 3 has effect; and the Chief Inspector must have regard to the requirements and guidance given in s 3 of that document when exercising functions under the Childcare Act 2006 Pt 3: see the Early Years Foundation Stage (Welfare Requirements) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/1771, regs 3(1), 4. Any allegation that an early years provider has failed to meet the welfare requirements and to have regard to the guidance prescribed in the Statutory Framework for the Early Years Foundation Stage (2007) s 3 may be taken into account by the Chief Inspector in the exercise of functions under the Childcare Act 2006 Pt 3, and may be taken into account in any proceedings under Pt 3: see the Early Years Foundation Stage (Welfare Requirements) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/1771, regs 5, 6.

7 Childcare Act 2006 s 43(1)(a). As from 1 September 2008 an early years provider must not use corporal punishment on a child for whom he provides early years provision; and, so far as is reasonably practicable, he must ensure that corporal punishment is not used on any such child by any person who cares for, or is in regular contact with, children or by any person living or working on the premises on which the early years provision is provided: Early Years Foundation Stage (Welfare Requirements) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/1771, regs 3(1), 7(1). However, a person will not be taken to have used corporal punishment for the purposes of art 7(1) if the action was taken for reasons that include averting an immediate danger of personal injury to, or an immediate danger of death of, any person (including the child himself): regs 3(1), 7(2). For these purposes, 'corporal punishment' means anything done for the purpose of punishing the child (whether or not there are other reasons for doing it) which, without any justification, would constitute battery: regs 3(1), 7(3). An early years provider who fails to comply with the requirements of reg 7(1) is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale: see reg 11(1).

10 Ibid s 43(1)(d).

12 Ibid s 43(1)(f).

13 Ibid s 43(1)(g).

14 Ibid s 43(1)(h).

15 Ibid s 43(1)(i). As from 1 September 2008, an early years provider must notify the Chief Inspector of the occurrence of any of the events set out in the Early Years Foundation Stage (Welfare Requirements) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/1771, Schedule; and he must at the same time provide the Chief Inspector with the information specified in that Schedule in respect of that event: regs 3(1), 8(1). Notification must be made, where it is reasonably practicable to do so, in advance of the event occurring; and in all other cases, as soon as reasonably practicable, but in any event within 14 days of the event occurring: regs 3(1), 8(2). An early years provider who fails to comply with the requirements of reg 8 is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale: see reg 11(1). The events to be notified are as follows:

798 (1) any change to the address of the premises on which child care is provided (Schedule para 1);

799 (2) particulars of any change to the premises on which child care is provided that may affect the space available to children and the quality of child care available to them (Schedule para 2);

800 (3) particulars of any proposal to change the hours during which child care is to be provided which will entail the provision of overnight child care (Schedule para 3);

801 (4) particulars of any allegation of serious harm to or abuse of a child committed by any person living, working or caring for children at the premises on which child care is provided (whether that allegation relates to harm or abuse committed on those premises or elsewhere), and any other abuse which is alleged to have taken place on those premises, and of the action taken in respect of the allegation (Schedule para 4);

802 (5) particulars of any serious accident, serious illness, injury to, or death of, any child whilst in the care of the early years provider, and of the action taken in respect of the serious accident, serious illness, injury, or death (Schedule para 5);

- 803 (6) particulars of any incident of food poisoning affecting two or more children cared for on the premises on which child care is provided (Schedule para 6);
- 804 (7) particulars of any other significant event which is likely to affect the suitability of the early years provider or any person who cares for, or is in regular contact with, children on the premises on which child care is provided to look after children (Schedule para 7);
- 805 (8) where child care is provided by a body corporate, any change in the name or registered number or registered address of the company (Schedule para 8);
- 806 (9) where child care is provided by a registered charity, any change in the name or registration number or registered address of the charity (Schedule para 9);
- 807 (10) in the case of an early years provider who is not an early years child minder, any change in the name or address of the provider, and any change of the person who is managing the early years provision (Schedule para 10);
- 808 (11) in the case of an early years child minder:
46. (a) any change of the persons of 16 years or older living or working on the premises on which child care is provided (providing that persons are not to be treated as working on the premises for these purposes if none of their work is done in the part of the premises in which children are cared for or if they do not work on the premises at times when children are there) (Schedule para 11(a));
47. (b) any change in the name or address of the child minder (Schedule para 11(b)).

1125-1133 Duty to implement the early years foundation stage ... Inspection of later years providers

These provisions have effect for all purposes from 1 September 2008: SI 2008/2261. See also the Childcare (General Childcare Register) Regulations 2008, SI 2008/975 (amended by SI 2009/1545).

1133 Inspection of later years providers

TEXT AND NOTES--See the Childcare (Inspections) Regulations 2008, SI 2008/1729, which make provision as to notification of inspection in relation to later years childminders and other later years providers (regs 12, 13); the copy of the report to be sent by the Chief Inspector (reg 14); the copy of the report to be provided by a later years childminder and other later years providers (regs 15, 16); and the fee for providing the copy of the report (reg 17).

1134. Voluntary registration process for child minding.

A person who provides or proposes to provide in England later years child minding<sup>1</sup> for a child<sup>2</sup> who has attained the age of eight<sup>3</sup> may make an application to Her Majesty's Chief Inspector of Education, Children's Services and Skills<sup>4</sup> for registration in Part B of the general child care register as a child minder<sup>5</sup>.

The application must give any prescribed information about prescribed matters<sup>6</sup>, give any other information which the Chief Inspector reasonably requires the applicant to give, and be accompanied by any prescribed fee<sup>7</sup>. The Chief Inspector must grant an application if the applicant is not disqualified from registration by regulations<sup>8</sup> and it appears to the Chief Inspector that any requirements prescribed for the purposes of registration<sup>9</sup> are satisfied and are likely to continue to be satisfied<sup>10</sup>; however, the Chief Inspector must refuse any application which he is not so required to grant<sup>11</sup>.

The prescribed requirements for registration may include requirements relating to:

- 2816 (1) the applicant<sup>12</sup>;
- 2817 (2) the premises on which the child minding is being (or is to be) provided<sup>13</sup>;
- 2818 (3) the arrangements for child minding on those premises<sup>14</sup>;
- 2819 (4) any person who may be caring for children on those premises<sup>15</sup>;
- 2820 (5) any other person who may be on those premises<sup>16</sup>.

If an application is granted, the Chief Inspector must register the applicant in Part B of the general child care register as a child minder and give the applicant a certificate of registration stating that he is so registered<sup>21</sup>. The Chief Inspector may impose such conditions as he thinks fit on the above registration of a person<sup>22</sup>; and that person commits an offence if, without reasonable excuse, he fails to comply with any conditions so imposed<sup>23</sup>.

CHILD CARE UNDER THE CHILDCARE ACT 2006/(B) Regulation of Child Care Provision/(e) Common Provisions/1150. Suspension of registration.

1150. Suspension of registration.

Regulations may provide for the registration of a person registered as an early years child minder or provider<sup>1</sup>, as a later years child minder or provider<sup>2</sup>, or under the provisions for voluntary registration<sup>3</sup>, to be suspended for a prescribed period in prescribed circumstances<sup>4</sup>. Such regulations must include provision conferring on the registered person a right of appeal against suspension to the Tribunal<sup>5</sup>.

A person registered as an early years child minder<sup>6</sup> may not provide early years child minding in England at any time when his registration is suspended in accordance with the regulations<sup>7</sup>. A person registered as a later years child minder<sup>8</sup> may not provide later years child minding in England, for a child who has not attained the age of eight, at any time when his registration is suspended in accordance with the regulations<sup>9</sup>. However, these provisions<sup>10</sup> do not apply in relation to early years child minding or (as the case may be) later years child minding which the person may provide without being registered under the relevant provisions<sup>11</sup>.

A person registered as an early years provider (other than an early years child minder)<sup>12</sup> may not provide early years provision on premises<sup>13</sup> in England at any time when his registration in respect of the premises is suspended in accordance with the regulations<sup>14</sup>. A person registered as a later years provider (other than a later years child minder)<sup>15</sup> may not provide later years provision on premises in England, for a child who has not attained the age of eight, at any time when his registration in respect of the premises is suspended in accordance with the regulations<sup>16</sup>. However, these provisions<sup>17</sup> do not apply in relation to early years provision or (as the case may be) later years provision which the person may provide without being registered under the relevant provisions<sup>18</sup>.

1    Ie under the Childcare Act 2006 Pt 3 Ch 2 (ss 31-51) (see para 1117 et seq ante).

3    Ie under ibid Pt 3 Ch 4 (ss 62-67) (see para 1134 et seq ante).

4    Ibid s 69(1). The registration of a registered person may be suspended by Her Majesty's Chief Inspector of Education, Children's Services and Skills by notice in certain circumstances: see the Childcare (Voluntary Registration) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/730, reg 13. The circumstance prescribed for the purposes of the Childcare Act 2006 s 69(1) are that the Chief Inspector has reasonable cause to believe that the continued provision of child care by the registered person exposes or may expose any relevant child to the risk of harm: Childcare (Voluntary Registration) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/730, reg 14(1). 'Relevant child' means a child for whom child care is or may be provided by the registered person: reg 14(2). A notice under reg 13 may be given to the person in question by delivering it to him, by sending it by post, or by transmitting it electronically: reg 15(4). If the notice is transmitted electronically, it is to be treated as given only if the person to whom the notice was given indicated to the Chief Inspector his willingness to receive notices transmitted by electronic means and provided an address suitable for that purpose, and the notice was sent to the address provided by him: reg 15(5), (6). The period for which the registration of a registered person may be suspended is six weeks beginning with the date specified in the notice of suspension given: reg 15(1). In a case in which a further period of suspension is based on the same circumstances as the period of suspension immediately preceding that further period of suspension, the Chief Inspector's power to suspend registration may only be exercised so as to give rise to a continuous period of suspension of 12 weeks: reg 15(2). Where, however, it is not reasonably practicable (for reasons beyond the control of the Chief Inspector):

859 (1) to complete any investigation as to the circumstances giving rise to the Chief Inspector's belief referred to in reg 14; or within a period of 12 weeks, the period of suspension may continue until the end of the investigation referred to in head (1) supra or until the steps referred to in head (2) supra have been taken: reg 15(3). If, at any time during a period of suspension under reg 13, it appears to the Chief Inspector that the circumstances prescribed in reg 14(1) no longer exist, the Chief Inspector must lift the suspension: reg 16.

860 (2) for any necessary steps to be taken to reduce or eliminate the risk of harm referred to in reg 14,

As to Her Majesty's Chief Inspector of Education, Children's Services and Skills see para 196 ante; and EDUCATION.

5 Childcare Act 2006 s 69(2). 'The Tribunal' means the Tribunal established by the Protection of Children Act 1999 s 9 (see para 708 ante): Childcare Act 2006 s 69(11). A person whose registration has been suspended under the Childcare (Voluntary Registration) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/730, reg 13 (see note 4 supra) may appeal to the Tribunal against suspension: reg 17(1). On an appeal, the Tribunal must either confirm the Chief Inspector's decision to suspend registration or direct that the suspension is to cease to have effect: reg 17(2). However, if the suspension of a person's registration against which an appeal has been made no longer has effect, the Tribunal must dismiss the appeal: reg 17(3).

6 Ie under the Childcare Act 2006 Pt 3 Ch 2 (ss 31-51) (see para 1117 et seq ante).

7 Ibid s 69(3). A person commits an offence if, without reasonable excuse, he contravenes s 69(3); and a person guilty of such an offence is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale: s 69(9), (10). As to the standard scale see para 132 note 2 ante.

8 Ie under ibid Pt 3 Ch 3 (ss 52-61) (see para 1127 et seq ante).

9 Ibid s 69(4). A person commits an offence if, without reasonable excuse, he contravenes s 69(4); and a person guilty of such an offence is liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding level 5 on the standard scale: s 69(9), (10).

9 For these purposes, 'harm' has the same meaning as in the Children Act 1989 and the question of whether harm is significant is to be determined in accordance with s 31(10) (see para 274 ante): Childcare Act 2006 s 72(7).

10 Ibid s 72(2). An order under s 72(2) must be made in writing and has effect from the time when it is made: s 72(4). If an order is made, the Chief Inspector must serve on the registered person as soon as is reasonably practicable after the making of the order a copy of the order, a copy of any written statement in support of the application for the order and notice of any right of appeal conferred by s 74 (see para 1155 post): s 72(5). #### 1154. Procedural steps.

Her Majesty's Chief Inspector of Education, Children's Services and Skills<sup>1</sup> must give to the applicant or (as the case may be) the registered person notice<sup>2</sup> of his intention to take any of the following steps, namely:

- 2889 (2) to impose a new condition on a person's registration<sup>4</sup>;
- 2890 (3) to vary or remove any condition imposed on a person's registration<sup>5</sup>;
- 2891 (4) to refuse to grant an application for the variation or removal of any such condition<sup>6</sup>;
- 2892 (5) to cancel a person's registration<sup>7</sup>.

The notice must give the Chief Inspector's reasons for proposing to take the step and inform the person concerned of his rights<sup>8</sup>.

The Chief Inspector may not take the step until the end of the period of 14 days beginning with the day on which he gives notice unless the applicant or (as the case may be) the registered person notifies the Chief Inspector that he does not wish to object to the step being taken<sup>9</sup>. If the recipient of a notice gives notice to the Chief Inspector that he wishes to object to the step being taken, the Chief Inspector must give him an opportunity to object before deciding whether to take the step<sup>10</sup>.

If the Chief Inspector decides to take the step, he must give the recipient notice of his decision (whether or not the recipient informed the Chief Inspector that he wished to object to the step being taken)<sup>11</sup>.

1 As to Her Majesty's Chief Inspector of Education, Children's Services and Skills see para 196 ante; and EDUCATION.

2 The notice given under the Childcare Act 2006 s 73(2), (4), (5), (7), (9) may be given to the person in question by delivering it to him, by sending it by post, or by transmitting it electronically: s 93(1), (2). However, if the notice is transmitted electronically, it is to be treated as given only if the following requirements are met: s 93(3). If the person required or authorised to give the notice is the Chief Inspector, the person to whom the notice is required or authorised to be given must have indicated to the Chief Inspector his willingness to receive notices transmitted by electronic means and must have provided an address suitable for that purpose, and the notice must be sent to the address provided by him: s 93(4). An indication given for the purposes of s 93(4) may be given generally for the purposes of notices required or authorised to be given by the Chief Inspector or may be limited to notices of a particular description: s 93(6). If the person required or authorised to give the notice is not the Chief Inspector, the notice must be transmitted in such manner as the Chief Inspector may require: s 93(5). A requirement imposed by the Chief Inspector under s 93(5) must be published in such manner as the Chief Inspector thinks appropriate for the purpose of bringing it to the attention of persons who are likely to be affected by it: s 93(7). In relation to the taking of a step mentioned in s 73(1)(b) or (c) (see the text and notes 4, 5 infra), notification authorised to be given to the Chief Inspector under s 73(4) (see the text and note 9 infra) or s 73(9) (see note 4 infra) may be given orally to a person authorised by the Chief Inspector to receive such notification (as well as by any of the methods mentioned in s 93(2)): s 93(8).

3 Ibid s 73(1)(a), (2). If the Chief Inspector gives notice to an applicant for registration under Pt 3 Ch 2 (ss 31-51) (see para 1117 et seq ante) or Pt 3 Ch 3 (ss 52-61) (see para 1127 et seq ante) that he intends to refuse his application, the application may not be withdrawn without the consent of the Chief Inspector: s 73(10).

4 Ibid s 73(1)(b), (2). 'A new condition' means a condition imposed otherwise than at the time of the person's registration: s 73(11). The taking of a step mentioned in head (2), head (3) or head (5) in the text does not have effect until the expiry of the time within which an appeal may be brought under s 74 (see para 1155 post) or, if such an appeal is brought, the time when the appeal is determined (and the taking of the step is confirmed): s 73(8). However, this does not prevent such a step having effect before the expiry of the time within which an appeal may be brought if the person concerned notifies the Chief Inspector that he does not intend to appeal: s 73(9).

5 Ibid s 73(1)(c), (2).

6 Ibid s 73(1)(d), (2).

7 Ibid s 73(1)(e), (2).

8 Ibid s 73(3).

1156. Disqualification from registration.

Regulations may provide for a person to be disqualified from registration<sup>1</sup>. The regulations may, in particular, provide for a person to be disqualified from registration if:

- 2898 (1) he is included in the list of persons unsuitable to work with children kept by the Secretary of State<sup>2</sup>;
- 2899 (2) he is subject to a direction under the Education Act 2002<sup>3</sup> on the grounds that he is unsuitable to work with children or on grounds relating to his health<sup>4</sup>;
- 2900 (3) an order of a prescribed kind has been made at any time with respect to him<sup>5</sup>;

- 2907 (10) a prohibition has been imposed on him at any time under certain provisions of the Children Act 1989 or the Foster Children (Scotland) Act 1984<sup>17</sup> or any prescribed enactment<sup>18</sup>;
- 2908 (11) his rights and powers with respect to a child have at any time been vested in a prescribed authority under a prescribed enactment<sup>19</sup>;
- 2909 (12) if he lives in the same household as another person who is disqualified from registration or he lives in a household in which any such person is employed<sup>20</sup>.

As from a day to be appointed<sup>21</sup> the above list also includes where a person is barred from regulated activity relating to children<sup>22</sup>.

Regulations may provide for a person not to be disqualified from registration<sup>23</sup> by reason of any fact which would otherwise cause him to be disqualified if he has disclosed the fact to Her Majesty's Chief Inspector of Education, Children's Services and Skills<sup>24</sup> and the Chief Inspector has consented in writing to the person's not being disqualified from registration and has not withdrawn his consent<sup>25</sup>.

As from a day to be appointed the following provisions apply<sup>26</sup>. A person who is disqualified from registration by the regulations must not provide early years or later years provision or be directly concerned in the management of early years or later years provision<sup>27</sup>. No person may employ, in connection with the provision of early years or later years provision, a person who is disqualified from registration by the regulations<sup>28</sup>. A person who contravenes these provisions<sup>29</sup> commits an offence and is liable on summary conviction to imprisonment or a fine or both<sup>30</sup>.

1 Childcare Act 2006 s 75(2). 'Registration' means registration under Pt 3 Ch 2 (ss 31-51) (see para 1117 et seq ante), Pt 3 Ch 3 (ss 52-61) (see para 1127 et seq ante) and Pt 3 Ch 4 (ss 62-67) (see para 1134 et seq ante): s 75(1). A person is disqualified from registration if any of the following apply to him:

- 863 (1) any of the orders or other determinations specified in the Childcare (Disqualification) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/723, Sch 1 has been made with respect to him, which prevents him from being registered in relation to any facility in which children are looked after or from being involved in the management of or otherwise concerned with the provision of any such facility or with respect to a child who has been in his care (reg 3(1), (2));
- 864 (2) an order has been made with respect to him under the Sexual Offences Act 2003 s 104 (see SENTENCING AND DISPOSITION OF OFFENDERS vol 92 (2010) PARAS 360 et seq, 600) (Childcare (Disqualification) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/723, reg 3(1), (3));
- 865 (3) he has been found to have committed an offence against a child within the meaning of the Criminal Justice and Court Services Act 2000 s 26(1) (see para 667 ante) (Childcare (Disqualification) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/723, reg 3(4));
- 866 (4) he has been found to have committed any offence specified in Sch 2 para 1 or an offence that is related to such an offence or falls within Sch 2 para 2, despite the fact that the statutory offences in Sch 2 have been repealed (reg 3(5));
- 867 (5) he has been found to have committed any offence other than an offence referred to in head (3) or head (4) supra involving bodily injury to, or death of, a child (reg 3(6));
- 868 (6) he has been found to have committed any offence specified in Sch 3 or an offence that is related to such an offence (reg 3(7));
- 869 (7) he has been: (a) found to have committed any offence, committed against a person aged 18 or over, mentioned in the Criminal Justice and Court Services Act 2000 Sch 4 para 2 or an offence that is related to such an offence; or (b) charged with any offence, committed against a person aged 18 or over, mentioned in Sch 4 para 2 or an offence that is related to such an offence in respect of which a relevant order has been imposed by a senior court (Childcare (Disqualification) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/723, reg 3(8));
- 870 (8) he has been found to have done an act which constituted an offence under the law in force in a country outside the United Kingdom and would constitute an offence requiring disqualification from registration under the Childcare (Disqualification) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/723, if it had been done in any part of the United Kingdom (reg 4(1)).

A person must not be disqualified from registration under heads (1)-(7) supra in respect of any order, determination or offence if he has successfully appealed against the order, determination or conviction, a caution in respect of that offence has been withdrawn or set aside or a direction based wholly or in part on the offence has been revoked: reg 3(9).

For these purposes a person has been 'found to have committed' an offence if he has been convicted of an offence, he has been found not guilty of an offence by reason of insanity, he has been found to be under a disability and to have done the act charged against him in respect of such an offence or on or after 6 April 2007 he has been given a caution in respect of an offence by a police officer after he has admitted that offence: reg 2(2). A person has been found to have committed an offence that is 'related to' an offence if he has been found to have committed an offence of attempting, conspiring or incitement to commit that offence or aiding, abetting, counselling or procuring the commission of that offence: reg 2(3).

In head (8) supra a person has been 'found to have done an act which constituted an offence' if, under the law in force in a country outside the United Kingdom he has been convicted of an offence (whether or not he has been punished for it), he has been cautioned in respect of an offence, a court exercising jurisdiction under that law has made in respect of an offence a finding equivalent to a finding that he is not guilty by reason of insanity or such a court has made in respect of an offence a finding equivalent to a finding that he is under a disability and did the act charged against him: reg 4(2). A person must not be disqualified from registration under head (8) supra in respect of any finding if, under the law in force in the country concerned, such finding has been reversed: reg 4(3). An act punishable under the law in force in a country outside the United Kingdom constitutes an offence under that law for the purposes of this regulation however it is described in that law: reg 4(4). There is continuing duty on a person registered under the Childcare Act 2006 Pt 3 Ch 4 to disclose information relating to any order, determination or conviction or disqualification under the Childcare (Disqualification) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/723: see para 1147 ante.

Where a person would be disqualified from registration by virtue of the Childcare (Disqualification) Regulations 2007, SI 2007/723, reg 3, 4, 6(1), (3) or 7 but that person has disclosed to the Chief Inspector the facts which would otherwise cause him to be disqualified, the Chief Inspector may give his consent to waive the disqualification and that person must not, in respect of the facts so disclosed, be regarded as disqualified from registration for the purposes of reg 3, 4, 6(1), (3) or 7: reg 8(1). Any such consent given by the Chief Inspector must be in writing and specify the extent to which the disqualification from registration is waived: reg 8(2).
